New Delhi, the 15th September 1964

- Q. S. R. 1352.—In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) of section 3 of the All India Services Act, 1951 (61 of 1951), the Central Government after consultation with the Governments of the States concerned, hereby makes the following rules to amend the Indian Administrative Service (Pay) Rules, 1954, namely:—
- These rules may be called the Indian Administrative Service (Pay) Amendment Rules, 1964.
- 2. In the Indian Administrative Service (Pay) Rules, 1954, (heroinafter referred to as the said rules) for rule 3, the following rule shall be substituted, namely:—
  - "3. Time scales of pay: (1) The time-scales of pay admissible to a member of the Service and the dates with effect from which the said time-scales shall be deemed to have come into force shall be as follows:

Junior Scale-

Rs. 400-400-500-40-700-E.B.-30-1,000 (18 years)- with offect from the first day of April, 1960.

Senior Scale-

- (a) Time-scale: Rs. 900 (6th year or under) 50-1,000-60-1,600-50-1,800 (22 years)—with effect from the first day of April, 1960.
- (b) Selection Grade: Rs. 1,800—100—2,000 with effect from the first day of March 1962.

Provided that a member of the Service to whom any other time-scale of pay was admissible under any order in force immediately before the commencement of these rules shall continue to draw pay in that scale.

- (2) A member of the Service shall be entitled to draw pay in the Selection Grade only on appointment to that grade.
- (3) The pay of an officer, who was a member of the Service on the first day of April, 1960, shall be refixed, as from that date, separately in respect of his pay drawn in a substantive or officiating capacity, at the stage arrived at after adding the same number of stages to the minimum of the scale specified in sub-rule (1) as were necessary to arrive at the basic pay in the time-scale of pay applicable to him immediately before the first day of April, 1960, from its minimum.".
- 3. In rule 5 of the said rules, after sub-rule (3) the following sub-rule shall be inserted,
  - "(3A) The next increment of a member of the Service whose pay has been re-fixed under sub-fule (3) of rule 3 shall accrue on the date on which it would have accrued in the timescale of pay applicable to him immediately before the first day of April, 1960°.

- 4. In the said rules, for rule 7, the following rule shall be substituted and shall be deemed to have been so substituted with effect from the first day of April, 1960, namely :-
  - "7. Grant of advance increments: Notwithstanding anything contained in rule 13 of the Indian Administrative Service (Probation) Rules, 1954, the State Government shall sanction the first and second increments due to a direct recruit as soon as he passes the prescribed departmental examination or examinations irrespective of his length of service, after which he shall be entitled to draw pay at the rate corresponding to his position in the time-scale.
  - Provided that the second increment under this sub-rule shall be granted only when a direct recruit has passed the prescribed departmental examination or, as the case may be, the last of the prescribed departmental examinations:
  - Provided further that a direct recruit who was in receipt of Rs. 450 (second stage) on the first day of April, 1960, in the jumor scale of pay applicable to him immediately before that date and whose pay on that date has been refixed under sub-rule (3) of rule 3 at Rs. 540 shall be entitled to have the advance increment raising his pay to Rs. 580 from the date on which he has passed the prescribed departmental examination or, as the case may be, the last of the prescribed departmental examinations after the first day of April, 1960.

Explanation.—For purposes of this rule, the term 'increment' denotes actual increase in pay, and not the actual stages in the time-scale.

For the Workman: Shri Arun Sen.

Award

This application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act was filed by Shri Ramlakshan against Messrs, Kesoram Industries & Cotton Mills Ltd., 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta, during the pendency of an industrial dispute between the aforesaid parties covered by reference No. 1884-I.R., dated 29th April 1960.

The grievances of Shri Ramlakshan as adumberated in the aforesiad application in short is that he was a permanent worker of the Printing Department of the said Company, that he had put in more than 9 years' service with a clean and good record, that all on a sudden for the best reasons known to the Company he was not allowed to resume his duties after the expiry of his leave, nor he was issued any attendance card by the time-keeper till 21st March 1963, and that he was ultimately dismissed by the Company without any rhyme or reason whatsoever. Hence the present application with a prayer for an award directing the Company to reinstate him to his job with full compensation.

The Company entered appearance and filed a written statement stating in clear terms that there was no contravention whatsoever of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act as alleged by the applicant.

It now transpires from the materials on record that the applicant has filed a petition stating in unanbiguous terms that his grievances have been redressed, that the Company has taken him back and that he is working there as before. He has accordingly prayed for withdrawal of his application under section 33A of the Act. I have heard Shri Arun Sen appearing for the applicant as also Shri K. P. Mukherjee the learned Advocate appearing for the Company. The learned Advocate has no objection if the applicant is allowed to withdraw his application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act.

In the result, I dispose of the case as withdrawn by the worker and award accordingly.

Dictated and corrected by me.

G. C. Chatterjee, Judge.

G. C. CHATTERJEE, Judge, Second Labour Court. 17-12-1964.

By order of the Governor, S. C. MUKHERIEE, Asst. Secy. No. 6634-I.R./IR/9L-2/64.—17th December 1964.

—Whereas an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. The Nedeem Tea Company Limited, Dalgaon Tea Estate, P.O. Birpara, Jalpaiguri, and their workmen represented by Duars Cha Bagan Workers' Union, P.O. Kalchini, Jalpaiguri, relating to the matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred by the employer and the workmen to arbitration of the Arbitrator named in the Arbitration Agreement published under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department Order No. 4430-I.R./IR/9L-30/62, dated the 21st October 1963;

And whereas the arbitration award on the said industrial dispute given by the said Arbitrator was received by the State Government on the 12th December 1964;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Ncdeem Tea Company Ltd., Dalgaon T.E., P.O. Birpara, Jalpaiguri, and their workmen represented by Duars Cha Bagan Workers' Union, P.O. Kalchini, Jalpaiguri, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, vide order No. 4430-I.R., dated 21st October 1963, referred the dispute for arbitration in pursuance of the agreement between the parties in compliance with sub-section 3 of section 10A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

Facts of the case.—Anoo Mali was the President of the Garden Committee of the Union. A worker by the name of Paniwala was alleged to have been dismissed without chargesheet. The President of the Garden Committee Anoo Mali resented such an act of the management. Anoo Mali arranged a meeting of the workers and it was alleged by the management that Anoo Mali used filthy language against the Assistant Manager who it was further alleged, was in the habit of taking women workers in his house at night. On receiving this information management chargesheeted Anoo Mali and dismissed him.

The case was referred to me by the Union and the management and was fixed for hearing on 27th October 1964 at Darjeeling at the request of both the parties. At the time of argument the Union preferred not to pursue this case. I accordingly give "No Award" judgment in this case.

In the matter of an industrial dispute exist between Messrs. Nedeem Tea Company Is Dalgaon Tea Estate, P.O. Birpara, Jalpaga and their workmen represented by Duars (Bagan Workers' Union, P.O. Kalchini, Jalpaga Government of West Bengal, Labour Depi ment, vide Order No. 4431-I.R./IR/91-30/dated the 21st October 1963, referred dispute for arbitration in pursuance of agreement between the parties in complia with sub-section 3 of section 10A of Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

The hearing of the case took place at Darjee on 27th, 28th and 29th of October 1964. Shri Das Chowdhury represented the Union and Shri C. Ghosh represented the management.

Facts of the case.—Gandra, a chowkidar beke to Messrs. Dalgao Tea Estate was alleged to stolen two pieces of logs measuring 7 ft. from garden in his house on 16th September! Another chowkidar, viz., Ghuran was alleged have seen Gandra on 16th September 1962 at able 2 p.m. taking the logs in his (Gandra's) house. I matter was reported by Ghuran to the Managar the garden. The news that Ghuran reported matter to the Managar became known to Gandwho, it is alleged, threatened to assault chowking Ghuran on the next day, i.e., 17th September

On being reported by Ghuran the manager a preliminary enquiry and subsequently chi sheeted Gandra. The charges were (i) stealing shade tree from the tea area, and (ii) threatening assault chowkidar Ghuran. After conducting enquiry garden manager on 11th of October missed Gandra chowkidar. The Union challer this dismissal.

Case for the management.—The charges leve against Gandra chowkider, according to man-ment, violated the Standing Order, section 13(CM)

C)(viii). The whole enquity was conducted management taking evidences and also by opportunity to the chowlediar Gandra for and management came to the conclusion ismissal was the right punishment as the were proved and Gandra was dismissed on ctober 1962.

for the Union.—On 16th of September 1962, eng a Sunday Gandra admitted that he i the shade tree from the tea area to his nd wanted to deposit the same on the next unfortunately in the morning the manager on after the roll call and he had no nity to speak to him about the log of wood pleaded not guilty of the charges levelled him.

edings.—The case was taken up by me and nts of both sides were obtained and each s supplied with the statement of the other it the request of both the management and he hearing was done on 27th, 28th and 29th ber 1964 at Darjeeling for the convenience parties.

management side produced as their witness by Chowdhury, Assistant Manager, Ghuarn lar, Sukra, a worker and Sandna, Line lar. While the defence produced Gandra m. All the witnesses were examined and amination was allowed.

ination of witnesses for management.—The lawyer for the management Shri P. C. produced Shri Roy Chowdhury, Assistant r, as the principal witness, Ghuran the eyeand Sukra and Sandna, other independent es. These witnesses were examined by the lawyer for the Company side and crossed by the Union's representative Shri A. Das tury.

Roy Chowdhury in his statement mentioned e eyewitness Ghuran verbally reported to but the theft of logs of wood by Gandra. He inhtioned that cutting of these shade trees egal and therefore he took necessary action. Gandra. In his cross-examintion he admitted thumb impression was taken after the nary enquiry held by the manager. He was the sure whether Gandra had any previous of bad conduct. He also denied having the defence witness when Anoo Mali was ed by the accused person. From the sum of his evidence it could be found that on the of Ghuran that some logs of woods were away by Gandra illegally and that Gandra reported anything about the logs to him either the day of occurrence or on the next day.

ran the eyewitness in this case who in his lation stated that on the 16th September at he saw Gandra taking away two pieces of om Section Three to his house and that he own went to his house to enquire about the g of these logs. He also reported that after nort to the Assistant Manager about the steal-these logs he went to the liquor shop where he found Sandna and Sukra sitting with Gandra who had a stick in his hand and the same Gandra tried to assault him with the stick which was subsequently snatched away by these two persons. In his cross-examination he admitted that he was not in the service and getting a pension. He also admitted that he was charge-sheeted for stealing two cartloads of logs but the Company did not dismiss him but gave him pension instead. He also admitted that although he along with others were in the liquor shop but did not take any liquor and also admitted that the attempt of assault on him by Gandra was not reported either to the manager or to the police. He also admitted that he did not catch Gandra taking the logs but saw from a distance that Gandra was carrying the logs.

The other independent witnesses Sukra and Sandna were most unimpressive witnesses. They only admitted that they were not drunk and also suggested that chowkidars sometimes carry lathis with them.

Witness for the defence.—The learned lawyer of defence produced the accused Gandra and another independent witness by the name of Ram. Statement of Gandra was more or less the same as the Union's case. He admitted that he took a cut log for the purpose of cooking as he had exhausted all his fire wood in his house and wanted to report the matter next day. It was a fact that he stated he wanted to produce witness Anoo Mali but the same was refused by the management. In his crossexamination some controversial questions regarding rivalry of R.S.P. Union and P.S.P. Union was stated. He admitted that refusal by the management to allow Anoo Mali as witness was not complained by him to the Union. Another independent workman by the name of Cyril was allowed to depose in his favour but the same witness could not be brought to Darjeeling. He denied having taken two logs but admitted that he took one log only. He also denied that the deposition at the time of domestic enquiry was read out to him. He further denied the existence of any rivalry between the Unions. The other witness produced by the defence was Ram. Ram admitted that after his duty hours in the mornning he saw Ghuran, Sandna, etc., making hullah near the houses of one Iswar and the nurse. He said that it was the practice that men take the domestic purpose. In the crosslogs for exaimanation he admitted that he was dismissed in 1963 as he pushed Assistant Manager while he was drunk. He corroborated the statement of Gandra that Gandra never tried to assault Ghuran.

Summing up of the case.—In order to sum up the case I have taken into consideration the statements filed by both the management and the Union, also the evidence before me together with the preliminary and other domestic enquiries held by the management.

Gandra the chowkidar was charged with two offences, viz., (i) stealing of a shade tree from the tea gardens on 16th of September 1962 and (il) threatening to assault Ghuran the chowkidar. Management finding guilty of these two charges after their domestic enquiry dismissed Gandra on 13th October 1962. Management made a preliminary enquiry on 17th September 1962 when Ghuran reported stealing of the logwood. I have seen the report of the preliminary enquiry held on 17th September 1962 wherein it was stated that Gandra chowkidar had cut shade trees from the garden on the 16th September without permission and taken them to his house. No report, however, was made about the inciednt of an attempt to assault Ghuran to the police and also no signature of Gandra chowkidar was taken at the time of preliminary enquiry but it was noted that the statement was read out to Gandra chowkidar in a language which he understood but Gandra refused to put his thumb impression. In the domestic enquiry was concluded on the 25th of September it was admitted that Gandra put his thumb impression. Looking into this domestic enquiry I find the principal witness Ghuran was not called for to make a statement about the offence committed by Gandra. Questions were put to Gandra first in a suggestive way about the stealing of the logs. In my opinion it should have been otherwise. The principal witness Ghuran should have been brought first and charges should have been made after prima facie enquiry. Ghuran in his statement declared that he saw Gandra on 16th of September taking firewood from the garden. Questions that were put to him by the enquiring officer, to my opinion, were all leading questions. Hence the charges brought against Gandra were framed earlier rather than subsequently after making enquiries in the preliminary stage. I was not convinced about the refusal of Gandra to put his thumb impression at the time of preliminary enquiry held on 17th September 1962 as he made no objection to put his thumb impression at the time of domestic enquiry.

About the theft of the shade tree or logs, management made confusion quite a number of times. In the chargesheet, it has mentioned the stealing of a shade tree while the preilminary report said that Gandra had cut shade trees and brought the logs to his house. It was admitted by Gandra in his evidence that while he was moving round the garden on Sunday the 16th September he found 4/5 persons were carrying a log of wood and when he shouted the men fled away. He also admitted in his statement that he took one log of wood but the evidence which the management obtained were two logs of wood measuring 7 ft. each. There has been at least one corroboration between management and the Union that a log of wood was admitted to have been found in the house of Gandra. While the intention to commit the theft was debatable, Gandra himself admitted that he wanted to report the matter next day but as the manager was in a hurry he could not do so. I am inclined to believe this as it is difficult for illiterate persons to make quick statement. The definition of theft as far as we could get from the Indian Penal Code "must consist of several elements like intention to take dishonestly any movable property out of the possession of any person without that person's consent". In this connection it has not been proved that Gandra dishonestly removed the log to his house as he has explained his inability to report it immediately after the occurrence as it was a Sunday. Similarly, Ghuran, the complainant who was alleged to have seen Gandra stealing the log of wood failed to do so because that was a Sunday. The next morning, i.e., on the 17th September the fact of stealing was made known to the manager by Q and hence all these actions were taken subsequation, in this connection, of opinion that suftime was not given to detect if it were committed. The admission of Gandra that i not report about the logs even in the afternor arise as the alleged incident was made known manager in the morning.

In case of dismissal it has been an accepte to find out whether the principle of natural has been followed. The principle of natural if followed, the order of dismissal cannot be not represent to elucidate the principle of natural justice, been explained by eminent Judges that the aperson must be given full opportunity to defect case. Whether such opportunity was given in the evidence recorded by the opposing lawyer, the evidence recorded by the Company I could that the opposing lawyer was correct to a extent as the accused person when examined questioned in a suggestive way.

I have taken into consideration of the reliab of the witness basing on whose statement charges were drawn, and if the charges were base false or misstatement, the whole proceeding, u opinion has been vitiated. This could be a tained from the behaviour of the eyewitness, Ghuran. The argument whether Standing 0 were followed in respect of clause 13(e) regaretime for passing order beyond ten days did not good as it could be increased by the manager stating reasons. I do not think there has! anything done by the management which o violate this particular clause. Now I elucidate behaviour of Ghuran and drawing of chargeshee the report of Ghuran and also how much rel witness he was has to be considered in this cor Ghuran in his statement said that he found pieces of logs were being carried by Gandra Section Three to his house on 16th Septer Sunday, at 7 a.m. He went to his house enquired about it. He stated that Gandra dic come but he threatened him. Anyway threatening has been mentioned only at the shop and nowhere. In the cross-examination admitted that he was not in the service and h a chargesheet for stealing two cartloads of log long ago but he was drawing a pension from Company. It has been argued by the Comp lawyer that generally management ignored st of small logs by workers but in the case of G he being a chowkidar the theft was consider be serious and discliplinary action was taken a him. The Company's lawyer, however, coul enlighten me why Ghuran who was senior in than Gandra was excused for stealing not c two logs but two cartloads of logs and still rec a pension. It therefore could not conclu prove that the charges were genuine rather depending much on the rivalry between P.S.I R.S.P. Union. As Gandra being a man of it was not unlikely that Ghuran who belong P.S.P. had some grudge although an enmity be Gandra and Ghuran was completely deni

Management's lawyer, however, tried to it that since Gandra had stolen the logs and ad by him the proceedings in this connection management's lawyer, however, tried to it that since Gandra had stolen the logs and ad gement should be taken at correct and the of the management regarding dismissal of se upheld.

AWARD

stated the facts of the case and also at incident that followed after the domestic I have tried to analyse the arguments of its for the prosecution as well as for the I have also made my opinion clear on the enquiry. In my opinion, therefore, the witness Ghuran basing on whose statement was dismissed was not a reliable witness estic enquiry has not been properly done and ustice has not been shown to its correct ve. Before the prima facie case was id, Gandra was charged with the offence in way. I, therefore, conclude that after prough the whole proceedings and after the witnesses of both sides and also arguments by different lawyers I find the dismissal to be unjustified.

I, therefore, award that Gandra be reinstated with effect from the date he was dismissed. i.e., with effect from 13th October 1962 with full wages during this period of unemployment. I award the payment of wages because it has not been shown by the management in course of their arguments or statements that Gandra was employed elsewhere and carned his living.

AWARD

These two connected applications — one under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act (Case No. 4 of 1962) and the other under section 33(2)(b) of the said Act (case No. 16 of 1962)—related to the dismissal of the self-same workman, namely, Shri N. K. Nath, the applicant in case No. 4/1962, under section 33A and the O.P. in case No. 16/62, under section 33(2)(b) during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workman referred to this /Tribunal by Government Reference No. 4519-I.R./IR/11L-91(b)/61, dated 21st July 1961. Both these applications have been heard analogously and the following award will govern both the cases.

The said two applications or cases centre round an incident which occurred on 2nd February 1962. The nature of that occurrence however has been differently depicted by the two parties before me to suit their respective purposes. According to the Company or better the applicant of case No. 16 of 1962 under section 33(2)(b) what happened on that date was that Shri N. K. Nath was dogmatically insisting for some donation towards election fund from Shri N. K. Mittra, clerk of the tool room department, that Mr. Mittra expressed his inability to pay the same to which Shri Nath grew highly excited and threatened him to assault outside the factory using all the time dirty and abusing terms. According to Shri N. K. Nath the labourer of the self-same tool department, Shri N. K. Mittra was indebted to him to the extent of Rs. 5 and that on the said date he had simply requested him to pay off the debt to which Mr. Mittra grew furious and used rough and unparliamentary language. Be that as it may, the events which followed thereafter are admitted by both sides before me. On 3rd February 1962 Shri Nath was charge-sheeted on the ground of committing very major misconduct, within the meaning of the Standing Orders of the Company and he was kept under suspension from that date. A domestic enquiry followed wherein he was found guilty and he was accordingly dismissed by the Company by a letter, dated 17th April | retrospective effect from 5th Febru According to Shri N. K. Nath the applied No. 4/62 under section 33A the said of missal is absolutely illegal and mala ide ing to the Company however the same duly passed in accordance with law. The however wants that this court should pur of its legal sanctity upon that order then ing the order of dismissal within the section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Dispute point for my decision in this connected will be whether the impugned order of should be adjudged as legal and fair a the dismissal of the worker was justifi facts and circumstances of the cases. of dismissal is adjudged as legal then c Company is entitled to succeed in the n application under section 33(2)(b) of the Disputes Act. If the order of dismis other hand is denounced as bad in h course the applicant of the case No. section 33A is entitled to succeed and to order of reinstatement as prayed for.

For the sake of convenience of m I shall first of all address myself to the of the cases. It has been first of all before me by the learned lawyer appea labourer that the Company's applicate long two months after the order of d passed and that therefore the applicate tive in law. This contention in my of prevail. From the case law cited and by the learned advocate appearing for t it appears that only one month's dijudged to be unreasonable by his L Justice D. N. Sinha in connection reported in A.I.R. 1962, Calcuttalinstant case there was delay to the ext than 60 days.

Next it has been urged before me by lawyer appearing for the labourer that order is inherently bad in law in as Company seeks to establish that order pective effect. It would transpire materials on record that the labourer Nath was dismissed by the Company t dated 17th April 1962 [vide Ext. 6(b)], pective effect from 5th February 1962. lawyer appearing for the labourer has attention to a Division Bench Ruling c Court of ours wherein it has been c such an order of dismissal with retrosp must be held to be an illegal order L.L.J. Volume I page 585). The learn appearing for the Company admits tha pective part of an order of dismissal is The order of dismissal in the instal passed by the Company with retrosp from 5th February 1962. That on being basically defective cannot be appr court in connection with an application section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial whereby the Company wants to get i purified by a process of statutory law. lawyer appearing for the Company has attention to a recent Ruling pronounce D. N. Sinha in connection with Matter

33 wherein it has been held that the prospective nt of an order of dismissal with retrospective ect is legal and valid and can be given due effect law (vide I.F.L.R. Volume 9 page 295). I would, wever, like to distinguish that reported case from instant one by stating that in that reported case s Lordship Mr. Justice D. N. Sinha was not at dealing with an application under section 33(2) of Industrial Disputes Act and consequently re was no question there for approving an order dismissal with retrospective effect. Where an ler is inherently weak and unsustainable no urt of law in my judgment should approve that ier when specially the approval is sought for by party with intend to undo the effect of a statutory v and regulation.

The Company knew quite well that Shri N. K. ith was a protected workman such that he could t be dismissed from service without a prior rmission of this Labour Court. That is why the impany addressed a letter to Shri Nath to the ect that the permission in that respect was being ught for. The relevant portion of that letter ich is dated 5th March 1962 is as follows: ince an industrial dispute is pending adjudication, eps are being taken to apply to the said Tribunal permission in writing to dismiss you." Strangely, wever, the Company turned round subsequently d took recourse to a different step altogether in matter of the removal of the worker concerned. le Company dismissed the worker straightaway d then filed the instant application under ction 33(2)(b) for an approval thereof. This nduct of the Company is highly deplorable and rtainly in my judgment it stands self-condemned. would transpire from the materials on record that a letter, dated 21st September 1961, the Company s requested by the Union concerned to consider ri Nath as a protected workman along with others. per West Bengal Industrial Dispute Rules No. 71 was the bounden duty of the Company to recognise s workman as protected and also to communicate th recognition to the Union within 15 days of receipt of that aforesaid letter. This industrial was given a go-bye and the worker concerned s not subsequently recognised as a protected orkman on the vague and unintelligible ground it the aforesaid letter of the Union was not in ordance with the rules. It has been represented me by the learned Advocate of the Company that ri Nath was not recognised as a protected workin inasmuch as the address of the worker in the d letter was not given by the Union. Unfortutely, for the Company it would appear from Ext. 2) a letter, dated 18th December 1961, that the evant address of Shri Nath as also of all other rkers were duly supplied to the Company. It uld also transpire from the Company's letter, ted 9th January 1962 [vide Ext. A(3)], that the itter was thereafter placed under consideration of : Company. No reason has been ascribed before as to why even thereafter Shri Nath was not ognised as a protected workman. This hide and k policy of the Company fits in with the peculiar ts. circumstances and the background of the case which now I shall presently turn.

n the charge-sheet supplied to the worker it was ressly mentioned that one Niajuddin was the only ness on the spot to be well acquanited with the incident which occurred on 2nd February 1962 This Niajuddin deposed amongst others in the domestic enquiry which was conducted by the Company's officer Shri A. Bandopadhyay. From the statements recorded by Shri A. Bandopadhyay it would appear that Niajuddin was supporting Shri Nath's case from beginning to end. Niajuddin's deposition will disclose that on 2nd February 1963 Shri Nath was pressing for his dues. Shri N. K. Mittra, I find was indebted to Shri Nath to the extent of Rs. 5. It was quite natural for Shri Nath to press for his money on that date, when especially as the evidence of Niajuddin would further disclose, Shri Mittra was in the habit of avoiding such payment for months together. Niajuddin never says that Shri Nath was asking for any donation for the Union on that date. Shri Bandopadhyay's finding therefore cannot be accepted inasmuch as these findings are not at all based on the evidence of the only witness who admittedly saw the occurrence in question. In that sense I would even characterise the report and finding of the enquiry officer as perverse. Before this court Niazuddin therefore was not produced lest the truth would come out from his statement in a more glaring manner. Instead, only one witness was produced before my predecessor in office. That witness was Shri A. Bandopadhyay who evidently had no firsthand knowledge regarding the point at issue. He was merely an enquiry officer. The reason why the false charge-sheet was issued against Shri Nath is not far to seek. The materials on record properly scrutinised would show that formerly on a previous occasion an unhealthy incident almost of the nature of a dual fight had occurred between Shri Nath on one hand and the departmental head Mr. Dey on the other. It is before this Mr. Dey that the false complaint was lodged by Shri N. K. Mittra. Shri Mittra did so because he knew that Shri Dey was the sworn enemy of Shri Nath. Shri Dey the departmental head being enthusiastic about the action would be too glad to issue the charge-sheet. A sham domestic enquiry was made thereafter and Shri Nath was found guilty of the charge and he was condemned accordingly. But the enquiry officer, as I have already said, did not pay any heed whatsoever to the statement adduced by Niajuddin. Evidently, Shri A. Bandopadhyay was swayed by the statement made before him by Mr. Dev against whom a complaint was previously lodged by Shri Nath before the General Manager of the Company. Considering all these legal and factual aspects of the case I therefore hold that the order of dismissal in question cannot be approved by this court. The application made by Shri Nath under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act will accordingly succeed.

In the result, the application in case No. 4/62 under section 33A succeeds and that in case No. 16 of 1962 under section 33(2)(b) fails. The dismissal of the concerned workman Shri Nath is hereby held to be illegal and unjustified.

As to the reliefs to be granted to the workman, he must get the normal relief of reinstatement with some back wages. As to the quantum of back wages, I would allow 50 per cent. of the same having regard to the overall facts and circumstances, particularly the long pendency of the cases. The Company is accordingly directed to reinstate the workman on his reporting for duty within: 15: days from the publication of the award and to pay him 50 per cent. of the back wages at the rate last drawn within a month from his reporting for duty.

This is my award.

VE.

Messrs. Martin Burn Ltd., 12 Mission Ro. Calcutta-1, Opposite party.

For the Complainant: Shri Satyendra Nath Baner, Advocate.

AWARD

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, lodged by a working Shri Haradhan Sen alleging contravention of the previsions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by his employer Messrs. Martin Burn Ltd. (herein after be referred to as the company or the opposition party).

The applicant's case is that he served under the Company for about 10 years but all on a sudden he was dismissed from service with effect from 21st April 1963 without compliance with the proviso the section 33(2)(b), i.e., without offering one month wage to the applicant and without making any application before this tribunal for approval of the action taken. Hence this complaint.

The company-opposite party has opposed this application by filing a written objection. It has contended that the application is misconceived an not maintainable in asmuch as the applicant was neither dismissed nor discharged for any misconduct and that there has been no contravention of the provision of section 33 of the Industrial Disputs Act.

Besides the preliminary objection the Company had denied the allegation of victimisation of the applicast because of his trade union activities, if any. The Company has contended that the applicant was a casual or temporary employee for a specific period only and his services came to an end automatically on the expiry of the said period and on completion of the particular job for which he was employed. It was not a case of dismissal or discharge for any misconduct and as such the Company is under no obligation to comply with the provisions contained in the proviso to section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act: So, the Company's prayer is for rejection of the worker's application.

use like this only two points generally arise deration, viz., (1) the fact of contravention rovisions of section 33; and (2) The merits t or order of the employer. In the instant employer has further raised a prahiminary estioning the tribunal's jurisdiction to enterpresent application. So at the outset I prodeal with the preliminary question regarding ability of the present application. party Company has contended that the appliing been neither dismissed nor discharged misconduct the provisions of section 33(2)(b) attracted to the case and the employer is obligation to comply with the provisions i in the proviso to section 33(2)(b). Therere being no contravention of the provisions n 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the the applicant (workman) is not entitled to th an application of complaint like the pre-It is, of course, well-settled that contrais the condition precedent to the exercise of itional jurisdiction and powers by a tribunal. dicant has stated in the application that he reatened several times for his trade union and at last was dismissed on 21st April en there was a proceeding under section 10 industrial Disputes Act, pending before this It is not disputed that a proceeding in of an industrial dispute has been pending is tribunal. But the Company has seriously d the alleged dismissal or discharge of the 1 for any misconduct. The Company's case here was automatic termination of his service expiry of the period for which he was in a particular building construction job. slicant's story of receiving threatenings on occasions from his employer for trade union and ultimately his dismissal on 21st April rdly finds favour even in his own evidence he tribunal. According to him union was about the middle of the year 1960. His was terminated on 21st April 1963. During e years of the existence of the union there action whatsoever against him by the emplocould not say a word against the company not allege any action against him by the during this period. On being asked by the if he had anything to say against the Com-ause of his becoming a member of the union participating in the activities of the trade is had to admit that he had nothing to say point against the Company. So, this allegainst the Company that he was threatened on occasions by the employer because of his ion activities and ultimately his service was employer because of his ed is without any substance. It seems to be typed and baseless allegation. D.W.2 Shri is Roy was a job-in-charge under whom the t worked as a Mixture Machine Driver and Shri Madan Mohan Bhattacharji is the Resi-gineer in charge of building construction apany. There is nothing in their cross-examito show that the applicant was ever taken to his becoming a member of the Union or for e union activities if there was any. Thereapplicant's story as stated in his application legs to stand upon.

Admittedly there was no charge sheet issued against the workman. There was no order of dismissal or discharge for any proved misconduct. It is also admitted that the workman was not a permanent staff. He admits in his evidence that the question of permanency of the Mixture Machine Drivers, he being one of them, having been raised as an industrial dispute by them has been referred to this tribunal for adjudication, and no award has been made. He further admits in his evidence that there is no continuity of his service but there had been breaks. In 1954 there was no work for him for 7 months and again in 1956 for several months. So, the fact remains he is not a permanent staff but used to get temporary periodical appointments at job-site when there was building construction work for the Company. He admits that Mixture Machine Drivers are appointed at job-site. That is also the case of the Company in the written objection, that the Mixture Machine Drivers are purely temporary workers ture Machine Drivers are purely temporary workers given employments at the job-sites for periods they are required to work for construction of a particular building. They are not the only job-site workmen but there are other categories like Mistries, Masons, Majdoors, Carpenters, Vystys, etc., who are given employments at the job-site by the Job-in-charge for the expected period of construction of a particular building. Therefore, it is quite clear from the evidence before this tribunal that the applicant who was working as a Mixture Machine Driver was a temporary staff used to have been employed at the temporary staff used to have been employed at the job-sites by the Job-in-charge of the Company for a specified period required for completion of that building. The workman was never charge sheeted nor there was any complaint against him. The applicant's allegation that he has been penalised because of his becoming a member of the Union and taking active part to organise the Union is found to be absolutely untrue. He himself does not support the allegation. Therefore, there is no truth in the applicant's story that his service was terminated because of his trade union activities. He admits because of his trade union activities. He admits that lastly he was employed by the Job-in-charge for the construction of Aspirin Factory building at Konnagar. For this job he was at first employed for a period of six months with effect from 7th June Then again for a further period of four months from 7th December 1962 as apparent from the engagement Form Exts. A and A/1 which he admittedly signed on acceptance of the job. The work not having been completed within that period the period of his employment was further extended for another fortnight as will appear from the endorsement of the Resident Engineer on the Engagement Form Ext. A. This fact has been fully corroborated not only by the Job-in-charge D.W.2 Shri Debi Das Roy and the Resident Engineer D.W.1 Shri Madan Mohan Bhattacharji but also by the applicant himself. He, of course, does not admit that the period of his employment was extended for another fort-night. But I find no reason to disbelieve the two witnesses of the opposite party and there is no endorsement to that effect appearing on Ext. A. The work of construction of the building for which the applicant was specifically engaged having been completed there was automatic termination of his service. These applicant might: have been engaged for some other work, of construction of building, but that was at the discretion of the employer and provided there was work' of construction of building to be commenced by the Company at that point of time. The applicant's evidence is that when the work of construction of the Aspirin Factory building at Konnagar was completed, some other works were going on but has land to admit that the work of construction was already, in progress and the workers were going on but has building had already been engaged. So the applicant cannot expect to get that job. Moreover, regard being had to the nature of his job and the made of his engagements he cannot expect to get that job. Moreover, regard being had to the nature of his job. He having accepted employment for a particular job. He having accepted employment for a particular job. He having accepted employment for a specified period naturally have a constituted on the employer for which he was employed. So, by any stretch of inagination of that particular job of the employer for which he was employed. So, by any stretch of inagination the automatic termination of his service cannot be termed as a dismissal or discharge for any misconduct. That being, so, provisions of section 33 have been clearly discussed by His Lordship D. N. Sinha, J., of the Calcutta High Court reported in 1952 II L.L.J. 447: It has been observed by His Lordship as foilows:—

"Fieviously permission of the tribunal was necessary whenever an employer wanted to discharge or dismiss a workman or alter his condition of service to his prejudice, pending the adjudication of a dispute referred to a tribunal. The law now is that we have to classify the cases into three heads.

The first is, whether the discharge, dismissal or purishment is in respect of any misconduct connected with the main dispute. In such a case, neither can the condition of service be altered or discharged or dismissal made, or punishment given except with express permission before whom the dispute is pending.

The second is where there is misconduct but it is not connected with the dispute. In such a case the workman can be discharged or dismissed or punished, provided that the workman has been paid wages for one month and an application is made to the authority before whom the dispute is pending, for approval of the action taken by the employer.

The third case is not expressly mentioned in subsection. (2) but must follow therefrom. Where a workman is not discharged for any misconduct at all' or is not so discharged, or dismissed by way of punishment, then there seems to be nothing against such discharge or dismissal in the Act. For example, where no misconduct is alleged, but the employer is not satisfied with the performance of his work by that workman, or has lost confidence in him, there does not seem to be any impediment in the way of discharge or dismissal."

Therefore, in the oppositations of the passent case authors the light of the above, suthoutable decision: Limmanne heatation to conclude that the application of the workman is not maintainable. So, a

For the Union: Shri Nikhil Ranjan Roy, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 452-I.R./IR/11L-454/62, dated 5th February 1964, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Jenson & Nicholson (I) Ltd., P.O. Garifa, 24-Parganas (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Jenson & Nicholson Staff Association, P.O. Garifa, 24-Parganas (hereinafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The following issues have been framed in this case for adjudication:

- 1. Dearness allowance.
- 2. Pay scale of chemists.
- 3. Special grade for senior staff (assistants).
- 4. Retiring age.
- 5. Revision of existing gratuity scheme.
- 6. Overtime allowance.

AWARD

The case of the Union in its written statement is that the Company has a factory at Garifa in 24-Parganas and it manufactures paints. It is a reputed Company employing 900 workmen. The Union alleges that the Company is financially prosperous and has a prospective future. The present dispute is raised by the Staff Association on behalf of the Factory Staff, who are monthly-rated workers. A charter of demands was submitted on 20th August 1962. There had been attempts of conciliation, but it proved abortive. The disputes are accordingly referred to the Tribunal, as the Government was satisfied about the existence of the same.

The first dispute relates to dearness; The Union claims dearness allowance aco the Bengal Chamber of Commerce rate as in paragraph 9 of its written statem Company revised dearness allowance irom 1st September 1962, but the Union accept this revision, and the dispute that he been raised was pursued.

The second dispute is with regard to of Chemists. The Union incorporated showing the comparative table of the pay the laboratory assistants and the chem laboratory assistants are getting higher; than the chemists under whom they a scale claimed for the chemists is Rs. 170 -25-375-30-525-35-700.

The third dispute is with regard to spe for the senior assistants. There is no we ture for the senior staff popularly "assistants". The assistants are appead approached the basis on different rates. The are renewed usually after every three young union claims that the assistants should regular grade and scale of pay and it Rs. 250—20—370—25—520—EB—550—30

The fourth dispute is with regard to age. The retirement age was at 55 an agreement in September 1960 it was rars under certain conditions. The main cor that all employees on reaching the age of be examined by the Company's medical o would decide whether the workman would continuance of service after attaining the An objection is taken by the Union to pulsory medical examination after attaining of 55, and claims that the retiring age raised to 60.

The fifth dispute is with regard to scheme introduced by the Company. The introduced had been on an ad hoc basis. It is one month's wages for every completed service up to a maximum of 30 years, a qualifying period shall be 10 years of sempresent, the Company is paying gratuity at to 15 days' basic pay for each year of a service.

The sixth dispute is with regard to of allowance. The present rate of overtime all is Re. 1 per hour on week days, and Rs. 2 p on Sundays and holidays. The claim prefet the Union is just the double the present Rs. 2 per hour on week days and Rs. 4 pt on Sundays and holidays.

In answer to the Union's claims, the C submitted two written statements, one of who been described as additional written statements that the Company contends that the dispute point of dearness allowance cannot be permitted be raised in view of the fact that there had tripartite agreement as embodied in Ext. I was entered into on 23rd October 1962 and up to 31st August 1964. This agreement been abrogated by the Union by a notice templated in section 13(3), clause (d), respection 19, sub-section (2) of the Industrial Act. The claim of dearness allowance according to the section 19, sub-section (2) of the Industrial Act. The claim of dearness allowance according to the section 19 also the commerce rate is also the section 19.

th regard to issue No. 2, the Company submits pay scale for the chemists should not be introduced in a contemplated in a tripartite ment, dated 17th May 1961 (Ext. B), which is up to 31st March 1966. It is contended by Company that the Union is not competent to any dispute in this respect in view of the said ment. #### No. 1-Dearness allowance paragraph 9 of its written statement, the Union the existing rate of dearness allowance at nt admissible to the workmen and it came into with effect from 1st September 1962 on on. The present scheme of dearness allowis quoted by the Union as follows:

Dearness allowance per month.

	_	Rs.
Salaries up to Rs. 99	:	70 .
salaries from Rs. 100-174	:	88.
Salaries from Rs. 175-299	:	105.
Salaries from Rs. 300-499	:	132.75
Salaries over Rs. 500	:	188.75

c Union in the instant case claims dearness unce according to Bengal Chamber of Comerate, which is higher than the rate now ssible to the workmen. This claim is embodied tragraph 10 of the Union's written statement. Union further adds that Messrs. British Paints Shalimar Paints pay dearness allowance to workmen according to the scheme of Bengal abort of Cambarca.

A preliminary objection is raised on behalf of the Company that revision of dearness allowance is madmissible in view of the fact that a tripartite agreement on the subject was entered into on 23rd October 1962 (Ext. A). The agreement (Ext. A) accordingly calls for perusal. It is signed by the Conciliation Officer as well as by the Company's representative, and the signatory to this agreement on behalf of the Union was the Robbialac Works Employees' Union. The Union which is representing the workmen before this Tribunal in this reference is Jenson & Nicholson Staff Association. It is a different Union. Reliance is placed on behalf of the Company upon a decision reported in F.L.R. 1960, Supreme Court, page 411. In that decision section 18 of the Industrial Disputes Act was analysed. Section 12, sub-section (3), provides as follows:

- A settlement arrived at in the course of conciliation proceedings under this Act or an award of a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal which has become enforceable shall be binding on—
- (a) all parties to the industrial dispute;
- (b) all other parties summoned to appear in the proceedings as parties to the dispute, unless the Board (Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal), as the case may be, records the opinion that they were so summoned without proper cause;
- (c) where a party referred to in clause (a) or clause (b) is an employer, his heirs, successors or assigns in respect of the establishment to which the dispute relates;
- (d) where a party referred to in clause (a) or clause (b) is composed of workmen, all persons who were employed in the establishment or part of the establishment, as the case may be, to which the dispute relates on the date of the dispute and all persons who subsequently become employed in that establishment or part.

At page 413 of the reported judgment, Gajendra Gadkar J. discussed the scope and effect of operation of section 18. In the reported case, there was a settlement through conciliation of a dispute with the Employees' Union and in that connection his lordship observed as follows:—

"In other words, there can be no doubt that the settlement arrived at between the appellant and the Employees' Union during the course of conciliation proceedings on 25th February 1954 would bind not only the members of the said Union, but all workmen employed in the establishment of the appellant on that date. That inevitably means that the respondent will be bound by the said settlement, even though they may belong to the rival Union."

In the instant case, it is argued on the side of the Company that as there had been a settlement duly entered into and signed by the Rabbiallac Works Employees' Union, all the workmen of the Company are bound by that settlement, and under the terms of the settlement, the question of decreases allowance.

cannot be raised before 31st August 1964, or unless the settlement is cancelled in the manner as provided in section 19, sub-section (2), of the Act by service of a notice. The learned advocate for the union repeals this argument by saying that Rabbiallac Works Employees' Union represented the dailyrated workers, while the present dispute espoused by the staff association for the monthly-rated workers. It is the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Benoy Krishna Bhattacharya on behalf of the Union that Rabbiallac Works Employees' Union represented the daily-rated workers of the factory. The daily-rated workers form a different category from the monthly-rated workers who are represented in this reference by the Staff Association. The Staff Association is admittedly a union for the monthly-rated workers who constitute a different category, altogether. The Rabbiallac Works Employees' Union did not represent the monthly-rated workers of the factory. It is significant to note that both the Unions were in existence at the time the said agreement (Ext. A) was arrived at. The Staff Association was formed in July 1961 and on 20th August 1962 it placed a charter of demands before the Company. The present reference arose out of that charter of demands, as conciliation failed in this respect. The case that is cited before me on behalf of the Company has no bearing upon the facts of the instant The agreement that was entered into was on behalf of the daily-rated workers by the Rabbiallac Works Employees' Union, which admittedly did not represent the case of the monthly-rated workers. The monthly-rated workers accordingly are not bound by that agreement. The provisions of section 18 cf the Act cannot be attracted in support of the plea of bar in the instant case. The learned Advocate for the Union has placed before me a case reported in 1961 L.L.J. II page 124 where this question was in a way gone into and discussed in the judgment of Gajchdra Gadkar, I. There were two categories of employees in the Oil Companies of the reported case, namely, clerical staff and operators. The two categories of workmen used to be represented by two different Unions, and the Company used to enter into settlement separately with the two Unions. There was a reference by the operatives only. There into settlement separately with the two Unions. There was a reference by the operatives only. The Industrial Tribunal allowed the representation of the clerical staff also. It was held that the Industrial Tribunal could not widen the scope of reference by extending it to the clerical staff. The indication in the judgment is obviously that since the reference was at the instance of the operatives through their Union, the case of the clerical staff represented by another Union could not be considered by the Tribunal. So, there is no reason to say that the agree-ment which was entered into by the Rabbiallac Union for the daily-rated workers would also bind the monthly-rated workers who are separately represented by a different Union, namely, Staff represented by a different Union, namely, Staff Association. So, the present reference with regard to dearness allowance cannot be held to be bad, and the preliminary objection raised by the Company on this score stands rejected.

Now I will consider the claim of dearness allowance on merits. The Union claims Bengal Chamber of Commerce rate. The Bengal Chamber of Commerce rate in respect of dearness allowance is admissible to the workman employed in almost all important offices in Dalhousie Square area. The category of workmen whose dispute is raised in this reference are employed at Carifa in 24-Parginas which is in the industrial belt in the sub-Calcutta. On the side of the Company it is that since the region in which this industry is I is at a long distance from Calcutta, the Chamber of Commerce rate should not be ex to the category of workmen employed there. Union submits that the industry located in being in the suburbs of Calcutta and in the trial belt of greater Calcutta should be considered in the Calcutta and in the considered in the Calcutta and in the considered in the Calcutta and in the C located in the Calcutta region. This argum not impressive. I am unable to say that Gan be called a part of Calcutta. The Bengal Ch of Commerce scheme intended for the C region, particularly Dalhousie Square area, be extended to a factory in Garifa on the view Garifa is to be considered as a part of Calcutt Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme envis liberal scheme of dearness allowance, and the nal should be reluctant to extend the scheme plea advanced by the Union that Garifa should be union to considered a part of greater Calcutta. The r dearness allowance that is being given by the pany cannot be said to be unfair as such onus is upon the Union to prove that inc dearness allowance is admissible to the wor If the Tribunal is to decide the adequacy of ness allowance, the extent of rise in the cost of index should be placed before the Tribunal a as the financial capacity of the concern an rates of dearness allowance which other factor the region are paying. On determination ( above aspect, revision of dearness allowance c resorted to. The financial capacity of this co does not need any consideration, in view of th that it is not pleaded on the side of the Col that as a unit of the industry it is not capa allowance according to lammerce Scheme. The fin paying dearness Chamber of Commerce Scheme. The fin incapacity is not pleaded. But in considering question of dearness allowance, the capacity individual unit to pay is not the only consider The capacity of the industry to pay does not the capacity of a particular unit only in a s region. The capacity of the industry to pay s be considered in respect of the paint industry i region as a whole. The industry-cum-region to should be given due consideration in revising ness allowance. A fair cross-section of the incis to be taken. The principle has been discuss several cases including the case reported in L.L.J. I page 431. The Union, however, has I before me the following evidence on this Exhibit 65 is a document showing that the I Paint factory located in Botanical Gardens, Cal pays Bengal Chamber of Commerce rate of de allowance to all its categories of workmen. bit 64 is a document showing that Shalimar I factory located in Howrah, which is another in ant paint industry, pays Bengal Chamber of merce rate of dearness allowance. The I Oxygen which is located in Calcutta also pays ness allowance according to Bengal Chamb Commerce rate. This is also the case in resp Gramophone Company and Jessop Factory (an needing concern) which are located in Dum

It may be mentioned here that none of these cerns are located in Garifa or in close prox thereof. The union wants me to rely upon documents in support of their claim for dea allowance at Bengal Chamber of Commerce rate is significant to note that Garifa is far away the factory of Shalimar Paint or British Paint.

Court laid particular emphasis on the ind I am unable to say that Garifa and constitute the same region for the purpose ess allowance in this case. In Greaves ase reported in 1964 L.L.J. I, page 342, the Court laid particular emphasis on the ide of the industry-cum-region formula. It duty of the union to produce evidence as te of dearness allowance which is admissible forkmen employed in other industries in gion. Garifa is close to Naihati and it is trial area. There are numerous industries gion. In the absence of any evidence as to of dearness allowance admissible to the employed in other industries in that am unable to pronounce that the dearness which is being paid by the present Comits workmen is particularly low and unfair ires revision.

rned Advocate for the Union has criticised or system of dearness allowance now given tompany to its workmen as set forth above. The found in paragraph 9 of the written tof the Union. It is Rs. 70 up to a salary 9, Rs. 88 up to a salary ranging from 174 and so on. Over salaries of Rs. 500 or dearness allowance is Rs. 188.75 P. per I cannot say at once that this ad hoc paydearness allowance is low or unfair. It may reded that dearness allowance should be the cost of living index, but in the absence vidence on this score, I am unable to revise en' system of dearness allowance in the Claimed by the Union. In the result, the Chamber of Commerce rate of dearness e is not admissible to the workmen I in the factory of the Company at Garifa.

. 3—Special grade for senior staff

regard to special grade for senior staff, the laims the following grade: Rs. 250-20-370-B-550-30-760. This can be found in paraof the written statement of the Union. On the Union it is urged that there is no wage for this category of workmen, and the arbitrarily fixes their salary varying from o person without paying any consideration rinciple of wage fixation. The result of this he wages of this category of workmen vary n to man. The Union claims that the wages category of workmen (senior staff) should ardised with an adequate grade and scale of ac learned representative for the Company. the introduction of any wage structure for or assistants, on the ground that they are reement every three yeas after, and under agreement their pay is fixed on individual ssment with particular regard to efficiency.

Apany placed before me some cases of senior its appearing in Ext. G. After serving severs as ordinary clerks, all employees are proto the rank of agreement assistants, and at me they are given contract of service for ears. In one case, I find that the contract rted at Rs. 300 and in another case at Rs. 245. third case, it was at Rs. 200. The starting of the senior assistants obviously varies from man to man. They constitute a special category, and their work is more or less the same. remains that the junior clerks get the rank of senior stan not after any specified years of service, and the starting salary of the senior staff is accordingly bound to vary. So, to regularise all these anomalies, I am inclined to introduce scale and grade of pay for the senior staff. The minimum which I will fix for tne senior assistant would be the minimum for him independent of the stage at which he entered service as such. In other words, it would be independent of nis promotion to the rank of senior assistant from the position of a junior clerk. There is one case of Shri R. K. Sen before me who was appointed in 1955 and got contract in 1960 on promotion to the rank ot senior assistant after having served for five years in a junior position. In his case, the starting salary as senior assistant was Rs. 200.

I think, the starting salary of the senior assistant should be Rs. 200. Increment is allowed usually at the rate of Rs. 25 and in some cases at Rs. 15. There should be uniformity in cases at Rs. 15. There should be uniformity in increment and in my opinion it should be Rs. 25 per year till the maximum is reached. On the point what should be the maximum, the Company stated that the maximum should not exceed Rs. 400. The Union submitted a statement showing that assistants are paid Rs. 500 and above in several cases. The maximum of he senior assistants, in my opinion, should be Rs. 600 and it would be reached in 16 years. In fixing the pay scale for the senior assistants, I have taken into consideration the fact that they are mostly appointed on promotion as I find from the chart (Ext. G-1), and the maximum should be reached in course of 15/16 years. The scale of pay which I introduce for the senior assistants will accordingly be Rs. 200-25-600.

In fixing the wage structure for the senior staff, I have taken into consideration the existing wages which are given by the Company under agreement, and I am of opinion that the Company would be in a position to bear the financial burden on this account. The Union could not place before me any comparable concerns of Naihati region where the present factory is located. It is well settled that wages including wage scales are fixed on regioncum-industry basis. There is no other paint industry in this region, and the wage structures of other industries in the region are not also placed before me. In the Greaves Cotton case reported in 1964 L.L.J. I, page 342, emphasis has been given to the region part of the industry-cum-region formula. Where the number of industries of the same kind in a particular region is small, it is the region part of the industry-cum-region fomula which assumes importance. In the present case, the Union could not place before me any other comparable concern of other industries in that region. Under the existing arrangement the increment that is given to senior assistants is Rs. 25, and it is at least in the case of Shri R. K. Sen and Shri J. L. Das as appearing in Ext. G. Now the question is how the persons already under agreement would be fitted to the new wage structure which I have introduced and on what point of time the wage structure would come into operation. In my considered opinion, the exist-ing agreement would be binding upon the parties until the terms of the agreements come to an end. As soon as the terms of agreement expires, each individual would be fitted to the new scale at the next higher stage on the date on which his term of contract expires. The new wage structure is to be implemented on and from the 30th day of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

Issue No. 2-Pay scale of chemists

Now I will take up issue No. 2. The Union complains that the pay of the chemists is particularly low. The chemists play a responsible part in the manufacture of paints. The scale of pay claimed for the chemists is: Rs. 170-20-250-25-375-30-525-35-700. Their present pay structure can be found in paragraph 11 at page 6 of the Union's written statement and it is as follows:

Rs. 82—1st 6 months.

Rs. 94—2nd 6 months.

Rs. 105-2nd year.

Rs. 131-3rd year.

Rs. 146-4th year.

On agreement increment at the rate of Rs. 15 per year (agreement sometimes at Rs. 176 in a very few cases).

On the side of the Company, it is urged that the Union is not entitled to raise the dispute in respect of the chemists in view of the agreement, dated 17th May 1961 (Ext. B). I will now turn to Ext. B. By that agreement, the wage scale of the daily-rated workmen and staff at Naihati factory was revised. It was an agreement, dated 17th May 1961, and at that time the Rabbiallac Works Employees' Union was the sole Union in existence, and it was representing all the workmen including the category of workmen who have raised the present dispute. The Union in the instant case would be debarred from raising the dispute, if the Company can show by that agreement (Ext. B) that the wage scale of the chemists was revised. The agreement itself speaks to the contrary. The relevant portion of the agreement may be quoted here:

"The junior chemists have been omitted as they will in future be treated as assistants."

This appears at page 4 of the agreement. By the use of the word "omitted", it is argued on the side of the Union that the case of the junior chemists did not find place in the agreement, and the chemists' case was considered or embodied not in mere fact agreement. The future the chemists would be treated as assistants cannot be construed as revision of the wage scale of the chemists embodied in the document. only conclusion would be that the case of the chemists do not form any part of the agreement. It was mere a promise to treat the chemists on the footing of assistants, and that also does not connote introduction of any particular grade or scale of pay for the chemists. The Company argues that it was an agreement that the chemists would be treated as assistants, and in view of the agreement no scale of pay was prescribed for the junior chemists. I cannot accept this contention of the Company. By the use of the word "omitted," the dispute regarding the junior chemists stood outside the scope of the settlement arrived at by Ext. B. The Union is, therefore, entitled to raise the dispute in respect of the chemists, and the agreement (Ext. B) cannot be pleaded to the same.

It is on records that the chemists are appoi six months' probation and then confirmed continue to be in service on the basis of agn executed from time to time usually at an int three years. The Union is opposed to the agbasis which obviously varies from chem chemist. There is no uniformity in those ments. Some chemists get favourable sta liberal rate of increment, while others do no Union canvases introduction of a regular pay for the chemists with minimum and m and the stages for reaching the maximum. objected to by the Company on the plea that opposed to the prevailing practice and we detrimental to the efficiency of the staff. T ment seems to be that efficient men are given able terms in the agreement, while the less people get unfavouable terms. I am not in with this argument of the Company. E depends more upon a regular scale than discriminatory agreement, which are liable influenced by considerations, other than e alone. Regular scale and grade leading to and prospect provides a guarantee for more r and efficiency in service. There is no before me to prove that individual job assess made in respect of the chemists for the pur agreements. The evidence of O.P.W. 1 Shi Krishna, Administration Officer of the Compai not anywhere show that favourable terms o ment are offered on the basis of individual job ment to support each term of agreemnt. It is n ever, impracticable, but there are no records port the argument that individual job assess made strictly in terms of efficiency. Industr pute and discontentment obviously come i field as a result of disparity in the terms of ments. If a senior and equally efficient in gets lower emolument than his junior, dissatu is inevitable, and the result would be an in dispute. The Industrial Tribunal should inte order to eliminate the industrial dispute as practicable, and introduce a system which bring harmony and peace in the industrial am therefore in favour of introducing a gra scale of pay for the chemists, not leaving the entirely at the sweet will of the management terms of pay on agreement basis.

The next question is what should be the and scale of pay. The industry-cum-region comes into the picture in the fixation of wage It is reported in several decisions includin L.L.J. I, page 431, that the capacity of the indi pay is to be considered, i.e., the capacity of the industry in a particular region. It is not the facapacity of the instant Company to bear the of wage scale which alone falls to be considered financial capacity which requires consideration be in reference to the whole industry that is no for industrial harmony and peace. If, howe the same region no other paint industry is other industry of that region are to be conside comparison, and a fair cross-section of the il should be taken. The Union could not submit me that any other paint industry in that region other industry of that region pays a grade an which would serve as a comparison for the would propose to introduce in this Company. ides and scales of pay of British Paints, Paints, Jessop and other factories which are ited in the Garifa region cannot be taken into ration for the purpose of comparison. I would, e, prefer introduction of a grade and scale of the chemists in the present case on a scruthe agreements which are being given by the 1y to different chemists, taking into con-on both favourable and unfavourable terms loyment. The present practice of continuance ice under terms of employment varying from to person should be discontinued, and a of uniformity should be introduced in order ity the legitimate aspirations of all the s. A few cases of agreements in respect of K. Mullick, Sunil Kumar Chatterjee, Suresh a Dalul, P. K. Mitra, R. N. Banerjee and Kumar Das, who are chemists, have been y the Company. On a scrutiny of their con-ay, it can be gathered that contract is given at Rs. 146, and sometimes at Rs. 150 at the evel. Before contract, the chemists get a very y -the starting salary varying from Rs. 80 to Usually, it is Rs. 82. The Union quoted the ım salary of the laboratory assistants as Rs. 95 May 1961. The chemists are superior to ory assistants, and as such they must get a initial pay, at least they should get above. The starting salary of the chemists should

The starting salary of the chemists should my judgment, Rs. 110. It is quite reasonable e chemists should get Rs. 15 more at the start ie laboratory assistants who are junior to them. vill be on probation for six months only. Constant of the standard of efficiency which is d by the Company. On being confirmed, the ts will get an initial salary of Rs. 155 in all next question is what should be the maximum the chemists and the manner of reaching the I find from the quotations filed by the Comhat at the start, the increment is Rs. 15 annu-At the time of renewal of contract after three service, the chemist is given an increment of almost in all cases and the salary starts at 0 in the fourth year of his service. In conwith this practice, the initial increment of emist should be Rs. 15 for the first three years, t he would draw Rs. 200 at the end of first years' service after confirmation. In order te chemist would get Rs. 200 at the beginning rth year service, I have fixed the initial salary 155 and have given annual increment of a figure of Rs. 15 so that at the end of the service, the chemist would reach Rs. 200 in anner under the agreement. Thereafter, the ent should be Rs. 20. I have taken into conion the fact that the Company after three of service under contract grants a start at 0 and thereafter allows increment at Rs. 20 This increment of Rs. 20 will continue years until the chemist reaches Rs. 400. ifter, the increment would be Rs. 25 per year. ompany has not produced any evidence as to te of increment of chemists who have put in ears of service. The Union submitted a stateshowing that a good number of chemists are Rs. 400 and some are getting Rs. 500 and ipwards. Considering all the circumstances, I am in favour of fixing the maximum at Rs. 550 for the junior chemists. The rate of increment would the junior chemists. The rate of increment would be Rs. 25 per year after Rs. 400 is reached. The scale of pay for the chemists should accordingly be as follows: Appointment on probation at Rs. 110 and confirmation after six months in the scale of Rs. 155-15-200-20-400-25-550. The maximum would be reached within a period of 19½ years after appointment. This, in my opinion, would be a fair scale for the junior chemists, and there would be no bar to the Company's allowing any special pay to any particular chemist. In fixing the wage scale for the chemists, I have taken into consideration the Company's existing pay scale under agreement system, and have given due consideration to the fact that it would not involve any particular Company. financial burden upon the

Now I will come to the question as to how the scale is to be given effect to. In my considered opinion, the agreements are binding on the parties so long as they are in force. An individual chemist would come under the new scale which I am framing on the day following the date of expiry of his existing contract, and he would be fitted to the stage next higher to the actual pay he would be drawing on that day. This part of my award will have effect on and from the 30th day of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette".

Issue No. 4-Retiring age

With regard to retiring age, the Union complains that the Company has no age of retirement, and that with effect from 1st September 1960 all employees on attaining the age of 55 were asked to subject themselves to medical examination for continuance in service. Extension thereafter would be for one year, and in the same manner one would continue in service till he reaches the age of 58. The Union objects to this clause and claims that the age of retirement should be raised to 58 years without any restriction, and that if any employee is found unfit after 55 it was open to the Company to ask him to appear before a medical board for testing his fitness. Compulsory medical examination after attaining the age of 55 as at present should be discontinued. Moreover, the Union claims that the age of retirement should be raised to 60. The Supreme Court considered the question of retiring age in Balmer Lawrie's case reported in 1964, 8 F.L.R., page 112, and also in the case of Guest Keen Williams reported in 1960 S. C. R., page 348. In the case of Balmer Lawrie which followed the case of Guest Keen Williams, the Supreme Court felt that the time had come for increasing the age of retirement in the case of clerical staff and the subordinate staff from 55 to 58. The Supreme Court, however, had no occasion to consider the case of operatives in that case. There is no reason why the operatives should stand on a different footing. Considering the fact that the general life of the people as well as longivity had increased mainly as a result of welfare measures taken by the State and also because more scientific medicine is being made available to the people in our country, the age of retirement should be raised, as a matter of principle, to 58. If, however, a particular employee becomes unfit or loses efficiency for any physical or mental retardation, it is open to the Company to ask him to appear before the medical board for obtaining a certificate of fitness. In case the medical board finds that a particular employee is unfit, it is open to the Company to terminate his service or take any other appropriate action which is permitted under the standing orders. The retiring age is accordingly raised to 58, and the workmen would not be required to appear for medical test on attaining the age of 55 as a matter of rule and compulsion. The standing orders of the Company stand modified accordingly.

Issue No. 5

The Company has in force a scheme of gratuity, and it has been revised on 21st March 1960. The gratuity scheme which has been introduced by the Company is on ad hoc basis. The claim is that for all categories of workmen gratuity should be paid at the rate of one month's wages for every completed year of service up to a maximum of 30 years. The present scheme of gratuity is embodied in Ext. F. The present system of gratuity is 15 days' wages for every year of completed service, and it is payable after minimum service of 15 years. Payment of gratuity is made up to a maximum service of 30 years. I am told that in the maximum 15 months' wages at the rate last drawn are paid as gratuity. The Union claims that one month's wages for every year of completed service should be paid as gratuity, and the employees would be entitled to it on completion of 10 years' service. The learned Advocate for the Union quoted the case of Balmer Lawrie wherein the Supreme Court recommended payment of one month's wages as gratuity per year of completed service. That was with regard to an individual unit. For the purpose of gratuity also, the region-cumindustry formula should apply. There is no other industry in the region, as stated by the Union, giving gratuity at a rate higher than that of the present Company. In the absence of any evidence, I should accept the gratuity scheme now in force in the Company as fair and reasonable. This issue is decided accordingly.

Issue No. 6

With regard to overtime allowance, the present rate is Re. 1 per hour on week days and Rs. 2 per hour on Sundays and holidays. The Union claims that this rate should be doubled. The Company's learned representative submits that the Company would have no objection if the rates are enhanced by 50 per cent. I accept this view and raise the overtime allowance in the following manner. Rs. 1/8 per hour on week days and Rs. 3 per hour on Sundays and holidays should be paid as overtime allowance by the Company, and this will come into operation with effect from the date of the award.

This is my award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute ben Messrs. Shri Sri Lakenath Cotton Mills Ltd Radha Bazar Street, Calcutta-1 (Mills at Bapur, 24-Parganas), and their work represented by Shri Sri Lokenath Cotton Workers' Union, P.O. Baruipur, dis 24-Parganas. (Case No. VIII-62/64.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present:

Shri A. P. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Seco Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri N. K. Mukherjee, Advo For the Union: Shri Patit Paban Pathak.

The Government of West Bengal by its La Department Order No. 898-I.R./IR/8L-56/63, d 29th February 1964, referred to this Tribuna industrial dispute between Messrs. Shri Sri I nath Cotton Mills Ltd., 63 Radha Bazar St Calcutta-1 (Mills at Baruipur, 24-Parganas) (he after referred to as the Company), and their workers' Union, P.O. Baruipur, district 24-Parg (hereinafter referred to as the Union), for adjuttion under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes

The following issues have been framed in case for adjudication:

- 1. Grades and scales of pay.
- 2. Dearness allowance.

AWARD

The written statement of the Union disclose following facts. The Company is a cotton it unit which does processing alone, i.e., dyeing, bk ing and finishing of cotton textiles. There is spinning or weaving department and it is is edged cotton textile mill. The total number of oyees are 114. The minimum total emolument a worker is Rs. 1.62 P. per day, which works to Rs. 42.25 P. per month of 26 working days. workmen, according to the Union, are not geteven the minimum subsistence wages. A ter of demand was submitted on 2nd April 1963 ing grades and scales of pay as well as dearness sance.

the Company filed a written statement in answer the Union's claims. It is contended that the is a processing mill having no spinning and ing departments. The only work that is done is mill is bleaching and dyeing. The Company at all prosperous, and to show the financial ition of the Company balance-sheets were used. The Company is not a unit of the Cotton ile Industry in West Bengal, and as such the ibus Cotton Textile Award has no application. The charter of demands could not be met the Company as its financial condition did not

Decision

ro issues have been referred to this Tribunal, grades and scales of pay as well as dearness rance. The Union alleges, inter alia, that there is grade and scale of pay nor separate dearness rance in this Company and that the minimum is naid are Rs. 42.25 nP. per month of 26 days. Present wage chart of the Company is Annexure of the Union's written statement. The claim is Company is embodied in the Charter of ads, copy of which is Annexure "C" to the en statement of the Union. The Annexure "A" a detailed list of 114 workmen showing their int emoluments. The chart of claim Annexure describes 51 categories and gives details of n's scales of pay separately. It is a long chart I need not repeat the same. The Union comsthat at present there is no separate dearness rance, and wages are paid arbitrarily at various te Company's main plea is that the burden of ide and scale and of dearness allowance cannot nosed upon the Company whose financial posias appearing from the balance-sheets, is far satisfactory. There have been loss in several up to 1960. In 1961 the Company earned at of roughly Rs. 24,000. In 1960 and 1962, at of roughly Rs. 11,000 had been earned. The years did not yield any profit. The Company started in 1957. Against this background, the pany cannot bear the burden of any wage ture which may be imposed by the Tribunal.

to the nature of work done in this mill, there controversy. It is not a textile mill though known as Lokenath Cotton Mills. The only which is undertaken in this concern is that ceives bales of textiles from outside for the ose of processing. The work that is done is ig, bleaching and finishing which is known as saing. There is no spinning or weaving runent. I cannot, therefore, characterise the as a cotton textile mill. The first claim need on the side of the Union is that the wage scale of Cotton Textile Awards should be used upon this Company. The Cotton Textile Award has been filed and it shows a minimum wage of Rs. 92.75 nP. According to the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Paresh Ch. Nandi, this Company pays total wages of Rs. 2 per diem, that is, Rs. 52 per month or 26 days. I am unable to accept this contention put forth on the side of the Union. The Cotton Textile Awards do not apply to this industry which is of a peculiar nature.

The Learned Representative for the Union has also placed before me the Omnibus Awards of Engineering Industries and Jute Industries. In the Engineering Awards the minimum wage has been fixed at Rs. 102.80 nP. per month of 26 days. In Jute, it is Rs. 86.50 nP. for the same. Now, the Engineering Awards or the Jute Awards cannot be made applicable to this industry as it is of a different nature altogether. I cannot, therefore, entertain this part of the Union's argument.

The issues raised are of introduction of a new scale of wages and dearness allowance. There is no scale of wages or dearness allowance prevailing in the Company. It is, therefore, a case of introduction of a scale of wages as well as a scheme of dearness allowance. The principles of introduction of a wage structure in a Company are, more or less, well-settled. The Hon'ble Supreme Court has laid down the principles in various cases. The capacity of a industry to pay is to be considered. By the said expression it is not the financial capacity of this particular concern which alone should be considered. The capacity of an industry as a whole in the region has to be received consi-The wage structure of comparable concerns in that region should be taken into consideration for the purpose of fixation of wage scales. The present concern is a mill which does processing of textiles alone and it is located at Baruipur area. It is, therefore, the duty of the Union to produce before the Tribunal, the wage structures of this type of industries in the said region. If the Union contends that no such industry exists in that area, the wage structures of other industries of that region are to be produced before the Tribunal for the purpose of comparison in order that the capacity of the industry to pay may be determined. The region-cum-industry formula should be applied. The Union has not produced any evidence whatsoever to prove the prevailing wage structures of similar industry in that region. The question as to which concerns are comparable concerns has been answered in the Balmer Lawrie's case reported in 1964 L.L.J., Vol. I, page 380. The Hon'ble Supreme Court has further observed that fixation of wage scales should not be made on the oral interested testimony of parties. It should be determined on the basis of documentary evidence. The principles have also been laid down in Jessop case reported in 1964 L.L.J., Vol. I, page 451. In Greaves Cotton case, the Hon'ble Supreme Court gave emphasis to the region part of the region-cum-industry formula. A fair cross-section of the industry is to be taken into consideration. In the absence of any evidence, as to comparable concerns in that region, I am unable to introduce any wage structure in this Company, or any dearness allowance which is also governed by the same principles.

Next, the learned representative for the Union raises the question of minimum waters before me. The issue is not specifically of minimum wages, but

I cannot but concede that the question of minifum wages is involved in the issues referred to the Tribunal. The Union is, therefore, entitled to urge the claim of minimum wages in this very reference. The Union contends that a minimum wage of Rs. 82.60P. per month should at least be introduced, and this is embodied in paragraph 5 of the Union's written statement. The awards and recommendations, etc., quoted by the Union in paragraph 4 of its written statement cannot exactly form the basis of minimum wages for this Company, which is of a different nature. The Minimum Wages Act does not coven this particular industry. But the learned representative for the Union argues that the need-based minimum should be given as wages to the workmen. He relies upon the recommendations of various Wage Boards under the Minimum Wages Act, 1948. This industry does not come within the Min mum Wag s Act. The statutory minimum wages fixed for the industries covered by Minimum Wages Act cannot be taken as basis for concluding that the said minimum wages should be introduced in this Company. The statutory minimum wages have no application to this industry. Shri Pathak, the learned representative of the Union, urges that a family should be considered as consisting of three units and the several items of expenditure including food should be calculated on that basis and the food value is to be calculated on the basis provided in the Health Bulletin by Dr. Aykroyd. I am unable to accept this contention. On a calculation on the basis of Dr. Aykroyd's formula, the minimum wages would go above Rs. 100 per month. Minimum wages have not been defined anywhere nor there is any conclusive data on which it can be arrived at. Still, however, the wages paid by the Company, i.e., Rs. 52 per month, must be held to be below the subsistence level of minimum wages according to any standard. The 3-unit family must be accepted. The minimum requirement of food, i.e., rice, dal, oil, vegetables would at least entail an expenditure of Rs. 30 to Rs. 40 for a family. All other expenditures cannot be covered within the compass of Rs. 12. There has been rise in the cost of living index, and the rise is simply alarming. It is, however, expected that the rise in price would be checked in due course, and circumstances wou'd be created for a downward trend. In considering the question of minimum subsistence level of wages, the financial capacity of the unit is not of importance. The industry has no right to exist unless it pays to its workmen the subsistence level of minimum wages. The Company's financial position still, however, requires probing. The balance-sheets of the Company have been filed and exhibited in this case. A summary of the balance-sheets can be found in Ext. B. It shows that the Company was started in 1957. It had no profit for three years. Then it earned a profit of Rs. 10 000 in 1960. In 1961 the profit was about Rs. 24,000. In the next year, i.e., in 1962 the profit of Rs. 10.000 was earned. In 1963 there was no profit. No dividend has been declared by the Company. The work of the Company solely depends upon the supply of textiles. P.W. 1 Shri Paresh Nandi himself admits that the supply of textiles fluctuates, and at the time of short supply, the production goes down. He further adm to that in November 1964 the production went down. Still, however, the Company entered into an agreement on 26th September 1964 (Ext. A) for payment of incentive bonus on the basis of production, T having considered the financial capacity of the C pany and having regard to the fact that some pro were earned in some years and also giving due on deration to the fact that the minimum wage Rs. 52 per month appears to be below the subsiste level by any standard or measure of subsistence am inclined to hold that the minimum wage in a industry should at least be Rs. 2.25P. per day, there should not be any wage below this sum day. According to minimum wage of Rs. 2.25P. day, the total minimum wage per month for 26 wo ing days would be Rs. 58.50P. I fix this amount the minimum wages per month in respect of t Company. No separate allowance or grade and st of pay can be allowed in view of the present fin cial condition of the Company or on a conspec of the financial capacity of the industry to pay region-cum-industry basis. The only relief to wh the workmen are entitled in this reference is that it will get minimum wages of Rs. 58.50P. per month 26 working days. The workmen who are gett less than this amount would be entitled to get from 1st of January 1965. The workmen who wages exceed the above minimum would not entitled to any relief. The financial burden on t Company on this account would not be very mu as there are only a few workmen who are getti wages below the minimum wages fixed by me, a this will be appearent from the Union's chi (Annexure A to its written statement). This chi is, however, modified by the evidence of O.P.W. Shri Chatterjee inasmuch as he stated that present new hands were being recruited at the n of Rs. 2 per diem. This is my award which is to implemented within 30 days of its publication in t "Calcutta Gazette".

This industrial dispute between Messrs. Nedeem Tea Company Ltd. in respect of their Dalgaon Tea Estate, and their workmen, was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 5369-I.R./IR/9L-30/62, dated the 20th December 1963, for adjudication upon the issue mentioned below.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Mangra Daffadar is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

On receipt of the reference from the Government on 3rd January 1964, usual notices were issued to the parties fixing 28th January 1964 for their appear-ance and for filing of the written statement by the Union. After several adjournments the Union filed its written statement on 7th April 1964, and the Company filed its written statement on 21st April 1964. No documents were filed by the parties though they were directed to do so by 21st May 1964. The case was fixed for hearing at Darjeeling on 3rd October 1964, but the hearing uas adjourned on the prayer of the Union. The case was fixed for hearing at Calcutta on 8th December 1964. But it was again adjourned on a joint petition filed by the parties on the ground stated in the said petition. The case was again fixed on 28th January 1965 for fixing a date of hearing. On 17th December 1964 a petition was received from the workman concerned in the dispute stating that he did not want to proceed with the case, and that he had also no dispute with his employers Nedeem Tea Company Ltd., Dalgaon Division, on the question of his dismissal. He also did not want to press his claim for reinstatement. The petition bears the thumb mark of the workman concerned, and also the signatures of three witnesses. A copy of this petition appears to have been sent to the Union mentioned in the reference, but no objection has been raised by it. There is thus no reason to suspect the genuineness of the petition, and in view of the petition, it is clear that there is no subsisting dispute between the parties for adjudication. accordingly make a "no dispute" award in the case. The petition of the workmen concerned received on 17th December 1964 does form part of the award.

- 26. Shri Santosh Kumar Mullick.

This reference under section 10 of the Indian Disputes Act, 1947, came from the Government West Bengal for adjudication of an industrial dexisting between Messrs. ESSCO Private 25 Ganesh Chunder Avenue, Calcutta-13 (here be referred to as the Company), and their wor represented by Press Employees' Association, Bowbazar Street (first floor), Calcutta-12 (here be referred to as the union).

As usual, immediately after receipt of the relinotices were issued to both the parties under tered post with acknowledgment due. It was served upon the Union but unfortunately the pany refused to accept it as appears from endorsement of the Postal Authorities on the tered cover containing the notice. The Union written statements. The Company did not take step. But before the hearing of the case and opportunity was given to the Company by issue second notice under certificate of posting. But after the second notice the Company made appearance. In the circumstances, the case had taken up ex parte.

The Union's case, in short, is that the Com is a reputed House of Printers, Publishers and I sellers. But unfortunately it had troubles with landlords of the premises in which the press an business were located and ultimately the ma ment took a decision to dispose of some of assets of the Company to Messrs. Ajit Kumar and others. Thereafter the Company all sudden terminated the services of 24 wor by letters of termination with a back date ( April 1964 although the termination was effect 18th June 1964 when the workmen approache cashier to receive their wages. All these 24 men were paid wages up to 18th June 1964 their services were terminated. Only one of was given a notice of termination bearing date of June 1964 and the rest were served with dated notices (1st April 1964). Thereupon workmen lodged protest with the Managing Di and some of them also lodged a diary at the thana. All attemps to settle up the matter am through the Labour Directorate having failed reference has been made for adjudication of dispute.

The Company in spite of proper notices di enter appearance nor did take any step whats

The Union has examined as many as 12 wit to establish the case of the concerned workmen are 24 in number. Union's contention is the Company without justification retrenched all 24 workmen after the day's work on 18th 1964 when they were also paid their wages date. There is no material to show justificat the retrenchment of these workmen by Company but one fact is clear from the v statement of the Union that the business ( Company was not running smoothly since management had experienced troubles from landlord of the premises in which the busin located. Therefore, I am not inclined to re these workmen. These workmen in their ev also did not claim reinstatements. They press retrenchment compensation only to which the legally entitled to under the provisions of Ind Disputes Act.

v of the admitted declining position of the of the Company I also do not consider any ief will be appropriate. Exhibit 1 is the termination of service issued to workman K. Bhattacharji. He was given notice of on of service on the exact date, i.e., on ne 1964. But the other workmen were ever notice of termination of service, dated April 1964, and purported to have taken er 1st May 1964 [vide Exts. 1, 1(d) to 1(g)]. evidence to show that on the 18th of June en the workmen actually approached the o receive their wages up-to-date, he at the le handed over to each of them a notice of on of service bearing an old date 1st April which the workmen took exception. This ipparent from the correspondence Ext. 1(b) he workmen addressed to the Managing on the 26th June 1964 stating the entire happened on 18th June 1964. Some of the d workmen also simultaneously addressed to the Officer-in-charge of Bowbazar police-n the very next date, i.e., 19th June 1964, ereof Ext. 1(c). The Company maintained nd gave no reply to the workmen's corres-: Ext. 1(b) or complied with the request of our Directorate for conciliation. Therefore, reason to disbelieve the case of the Union rted by the evidence of the workmen and documents I have just mentioned. Thereconsideration of the evidence available to me ibsence of any other circumstances to prove rary I am inclined to hold that the Company assigning sufficient and reasonable cause ed the services of these workmen abruptly a drastic fashion without paying them the ment compensation and wages for one o which they are entitled in lieu of proper I have already found that the Company was in its dealings to hand over post-dated the workmen on 18th June 1964 purported retrenchment after 1st May 1964 although vas taken by the Company long after that lowever, I have already stated that although no material to justify the termination of of these 24 workmen still I am not inclined t their reinstatements in view of the finaningency of the Company which fact is lly admitted in the Union's written state-But I feel no hesitation to direct the concern payment of the retrenchment compensation h the workmen are legally entitled to under 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act which the Company is further directed to make wo months of the publication of this award "Calcutta Gazette", failing which the work-Union representing them will be at liberty immediate action for recovery thereof in nce with law.

Union has placed before me sufficient to show the length of service of each of workmen involved in the present dispute and ses they were lastly drawing. Besides the dence, most of the workmen have examined ves to prove the period of their services d to the Company and the wages they were rawing.

P.W. 1 Shri Sudhangshu Kumar Bhattacharji was serving as a typist under the Company from October 1947 and he worked up to 18th June 1964 when his service was terminated by a written notice, Ext. 1, which is dated 18th June 1964. According to him he was drawing a monthly salary of Rs. 143 at the time of termination of his service. So, he was entitled to retrenchment compensation equivalent to 15 days' average pay for every completed year of service or any part thereof in excess of six months. He will further be entitled to receive one month's wages in lieu of notice. He will thus get Rs. 1,358.50P. from the Company.

P.W. 4 Shri Sailendra Nath Khan has deposed that he entered service of the Company in July 1948 and continuously served up to 18th of June 1964. He was drawing a monthly salary of Rs. 184 at the time of his retrenchment. He was also not given proper notice of termination of service. So, he is further entitled to one month's wages in lieu of notice besides compensation at the rate prescribed. He is to get Rs. 1,656 from the Company on account of compensation and wages in lieu of notice.

P.W. 9 Sambhu Chakravarti has deposed that Jyotish Chakrabarty was his co-worker and he entered service in December 1954 and worked up to 18th June 1964. He was later drawing Rs. 80 per month as his wages. So, he is to get Rs. 440 as his compensation and one month's wages in lieu of notice.

P.W. 2 Niranjan Das has stated on oath that he entered into the service of the Company in April 1940 and served up to 18th June 1964 and lastly he was drawing a monthly salary of Rs. 110. So he is to receive from the Company Rs. 1,430 as retrenchment compensation and one month's wages in lieu of notice.

P.W. 9 Sambhu Chakravarti has deposed that he was appointed by the Company in August 1953 and since then he worked up to 18th June 1964 when he was receiving a monthly wage of Rs. 87 per month. So he is to get Rs. 565 as compensation and one month's wages in lieu of notice.

P.W. 10 Khiti Ranjan Dutta entered service of the Company in October 1959 and worked without break up to 18th of June 1964. He was lastly drawing Rs. 76 per month as his wages. He is, therefore, entitled to receive Rs. 266 from the Company on account of compensation and wages in lieu of notice.

The same witness has stated that he knew Gour Mohan Paul being appointed by the Company in October 1959. He served the Company up to 18th June 1964 and he was also drawing the same 1969, i.e., Rs. 76 per month. He is, therefore, entitled to receive from the Company a sum of Rs. 266 as his compensation and wages in lieu of notice.

p.W. 12 Hari Jiban Rai Chaudhury was appointed by the Company in June 1958. Since then he worked up to 18th June 1964. He was getting Rs. 73 as his wages. He is to receive Rs. 292 as his compensation and notice pay from the Company. P.W. 5 Mannan Hossain has deposed that he was given appointment by the Company in April 1951. Since then he worked up to 18th June 1964 and lastly he was drawing Rs. 96 as his monthly wages. He is to get Rs. 720 as his compensation and one month's pay in lieu of notice.

P.W. 8 Syed Ali was given employment by the Company in July 1946. He worked up to 18th of June 1964 and thus rendered 18 years' services. He was getting Rs. 104 as his wages at the time of termination of his service. He is, therefore, to get Rs. 1.040 as compensation and one month's pay in lieu of notice from the Company.

P.W. 7 Atar Ali Mullick was employed by the Company in September 1961. His service was terminated on 18th of June 1964. He was drawing Rs. 93 as his monthly wages. He is to get Rs. 232.50 P. as compensation and wages in lieu of notice.

P.W. 8 Syed Ali has stated that he knew Amjed Ali entering into service of the Company in 1960. He rendered services up to 18th of June 1964 and lastly he was getting Rs. 80 per month as his wages. He is to get Rs. 240 from the Company as compensation and wages in lieu of notice. The same witness has deposed that he knew Samser Ali being appointed by the Company in January 1951 and he continued his service up to 18th of June 1964 when he was drawing Rs. 90 per month as his wages. He is, therefore, to get Rs. 675 from the Company as compensation and one month's wages in lieu of notice.

P.W. 3 Bidyadhar Das has stated that he knew Dukhiram Ahir being appointed by the Company in February 1950, and he saw him serving up to 18th June 1964. He was lastly getting Rs. 64 as his monthly pay. He is, therefore, to get Rs. 512 from the Company as compensation and one month's wages in lieu of notice.

P.W. 2 Niranjan Das knew Baijnath Ahir being appointed by the Company in April 1943 and having served up to 18th of June 1964 he was lastly receiving Rs. 68 as his monthly wages. He is, therefore, to get Rs. 782 as his compensation and one month's pay in lieu of notice.

P.W. 10 Khiti Ranjan Dutta knew Dula Mea who was in service of the Company from January 1960 up to 18th of June 1964 and he was lastly being paid wages at Rs. 76 per month. So, he is to get Rs. 228 as compensation and one month's wages in lieu of notice.

P.W. 5 Mannan Hossain has stated that he knew Biswanath Ghosh who was given employment by the Company in September 1953 and he continued his service up to 18th of June 1964. He was lastly being paid at the rate of Rs. 62 per month. So he is to get Rs. 403 from the Company as compensation and one month's pay in lieu of notice.

P.W. 6 Israil Hossain Molla was employ Company in September 1960. He work 18th of June 1964 and he was lastly bein the rate of Rs. 78 per month. So, he Rs. 234 as compensation and one month lieu of notice.

is a reference under section 10 of the trial Disputes Act, received from the Governof West Bengal for adjudication of an industrial te said to be existing between Messrs. A. T. ar, 1 Amrita Lall Dawn Road, Calcutta-36 nafter be referred to as the Company), and workmen represented by West Bengal Engineer-Workers' Union, 48 Dharamtalla Street, tta-13 (hereinafter-be referred to as the Union).

After receipt of the reference both parties were given notices but none appeared in spite of service of notices sent under registered post acknowledgment due. The Company received the notice on 10th December 1964 and the Union received the same earlier on 8th December 1964, but neither party entered appearance despite knowledge of the reference for hearing by this Tribunal. Subsequently on 21st December 1964 a petition was received by this Tribunal which is purported to have been written by the concerned workman Gour Mohan Chakravarty who has prayed for withdrawal of the case in view of the sympathetic consideration promised by the management. It is, of course, very difficult to verify the correctness of the statements contained in the petition but taking into consideration the other circumstances I am inclined to dispose of this case by making a "no dispute" award. Both parties in spite of proper service of notices upon them have not cared to enter appearance. On the contrary, the workman involved in the present dispute under reference has sent a petition intimating his intention to withdraw from the case. Therefore, in the circumstances, I have no other alternative but to make a "no dispute" award, and to dispose of the case accordingly.

This is my award.

Present:

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal. For the Union: Shri S. Ghoshal, President.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue given in the order of reference and re-produced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4125-I.R./IR/10L-129/63, dated the 1st October 1963.

Issue

Whether the refusal of employment to Shri Surjoo Samanta is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The parties appeared before the Tribunal and filed their respective written statements. After some adjournments, the case was fixed for hearing on 11th December 1964. On that date, the parties filed a joint petition stating that a talk of compromise was going on and praying for time for filing the petition of compromise. Accordingly, the case was adjourned to 23rd December 1964 for filing of the compromise petition. On that date, the parties filed a joint petition of compromise setting out therein the terms upon which the dispute had been amicably settled between the parties and praying for a compromise award in terms of the said petition. I heard the representatives of the parties.

The terms of compromise appear to be quite fair and lawful. I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the dispute between the parties upon those terms. Accordingly, I would make a compromise award in terms of the joint petition, as prayed for.

In the result, I make a compromise award in terms of the joint petition filed by the parties on 23rd December 1964, a copy whereof is made a part of the award as an Annexure.

S. K. RAY, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL. WEST BENGAL, CALCUTTA

Present

i RENUPADA MUKHERJEE, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal industrial dispute between Messrs. Balmer 2 Co. Ltd. (hereinafter to be described as the 2) and their workmen represented by Balmer Employees' Association (hereinafter to be as the Association or Union) was referred ribunal for adjudication under section 10 of strial Disputes Act by the Government of ngal by its Labour Department order No. IR/IIL-76/60, dated Calcutta, the 6th July the pendency of the case a number of were permitted to appear separately through Union named Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd. st Union.

n admitted fact that for the year 1957 bonus te of three months' basic wages was paid to ovees of this Company. In their written s the Unions have made the usual allegations Company is a very prosperous one carrying il kinds of lucrative business and also acting ging Agents and Secretaries and Treasurers il other companies, but the wages paid to men are low and inadequate and there is a between the actual remuneration of the and the living wage, resulting in great hardship and suffering of the workmen. It nitted on behalf of the two Unions that if able surplus is calculated in accordance with Bench Formula it will be found that the are entitled to get bonus at a much higher what was given by the Company in the trading year. So the two Unions have or additional bonus for one month over and nat was paid by the Company.

laim of the Unions is challenged by the in its written statement. It is alleged that and of the Union is unsustainable on merits e would be no available surplus of profits the payment of any additional bonus. The paid to the workmen do not leave any gap the actual wage and living wage. The of bonus which was voluntarily paid to the was fair, reasonable and generous.

: Company: Shri K. B. Basu, Counsel, ted by Shri A. Choudhusy, Counsel.

For Balmer Lawrie Employees' Association: Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, assisted by Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocate and Shri P. C. Choudhuri, Secretary of the Union.

For Balmer Lawrie and Co. Ltd., Employees' Union (representing 16 workmen): Shri P. P. Pathak, assisted by Shri Profullya Kumar Bhattacherjee, Vice-President, Shri Basudeb Batabyal and Shri Anath Ranjan Nandy.

It has already been stated that bonus for the trading year 1957 was paid to the workmen of this Company at the rate of 3 months' basic wages. The workmen have claimed one month's additional bonus on the allegation that this amount would be due to them on a calculation of available surplus on the basis of the full bench formula. Although this reference was received in this Tribunal in July 1960 there has been a good deal of delay in disposing of this case because of a rule which was pending in the High Court in connection with an interlocutory order made by my predecessor in office. As the claim of the two Unions rests on a calculation of the available surplus according to full bench formula. parties filed such calculations under the direction of this Tribunal. The calculation of the Company has been marked Ext. B and that of Balmer Lawrie Employees' Association has been marked Ext. 1. This last calculation was adopted by Shri Pathak on behalf of Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd., Employees' Union. I shall straightway come to these calculations. They are reproduced below:-

"In the absence of cogent and compelling evidence leading to the definite conclusion and finding that a purported expenditure was sham or had been made with the express objective of minimising the profits with a view to deprive the workmen of their bonus, it is no part of the duty of an Industrial Tribunal to substitute its own judgment as to what was or not commercially justified in the place of the judgment exercised by the Company and its directors in whom in law the management of the Company is confided".

Bearing this observation in mind and having regard to the fact that the three items which are now under discussion were never challenged in a proper manner by the Union, I am of opinion that they should be regarded as reasonable revenue expenditure and they should not be added back.

I now deal with item Nos. 11 and 12 of Unions calculation chart. They are described as amount known as 'Y' account and amount known as 'S' account and each of the two accounts comprises a sum of Rs. .53 lacs. Sambhunath Mukherjee, P.W.1, stated in his evidence that these two amounts are shown in the ledger but he has added them back as he could not understand their meaning. Shri Varma. O.P.W.1, has explained these two accounts at pages 14 and 15 of his evidence. He has said that 'Y' account represents the purchase of ordinary shares in the Bengal Paper Mill Co. Ltd. At that time the Company wanted to keep the purchase a secret. The 'S' account represents contribution to superannuation fund. It has been debited in the profit and loss account at page 8. This being the position, I think the amount represented by 'S' account cannot be added back, but the other amount of Rs. .53 lacs represented by 'Y' account should be added back as it relates to purchase of capital asset.

The next item is Item No. 13 relating to Puri Bunglow monthly expenses comprising an amount of Rs. .17 lacs. Company's chief accountant O.P.W.1 has stated at page 15 of his evidence that the Company maintains a bunglow at Puri for the use of its executive staff and of other companies in the group. The maintenance of the bunglow for the use of the executive staff appears to be a luxury and it should be added back to the net profit. Shri Varma stated in his evidence that out of this amount a sum of only Rs. 5,000 was charged in the accounts of Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd., for 1957, under this head. This was not substantiated by any documentary evidence and so I direct that the entire amount of Rs. .17 lacs should be added to the net profit.

Item No. 14 relates to a sum of Rs. .46 lacs paid to one Shri H. G. Sinclair under the head salary, wages and bonus. According to the Unions this Shri Sinclair was a Director and he resigned his office of director with effect from 30th April 1957 as would appear from page 4 of Ext. A and so no remuneration should have been paid to him for the year 1957. The chief accountant has definitely stated in his evidence that Shri Sinclair was both a director and an employee of the Company and his appointment continued even after he resigned his office of director.

There is no reason to disbelieve the evidence am not prepared to hold that the Company any gratuitous payment to Shri Sinclair. The was a proper and legitimate revenue expense should not be added back.

Item No. 15 is an amount of Rs. 21 lacs; mentioned an expenses recoverable from east staff written off. It appears that this item of diture has been misunderstood by the Union evidence of Company's chief accountant at pay would show that according to service agree with the executive staff the Company beam medical expenses of such staff and their far For this purpose insurance policies are taken on Calcutta Hospitals and Nursing Home Benefit ciation Ltd. This Association bears the mentioned medical expenses up to the limit insurance policy. If the actual expenses exceed limit the Company has to pay the excess which recoverable from the above Association. I such excess amount has been properly write and it cannot be added back to the net profit

The next item is an amount of Rs. .08 lar relates to donation. This amount should be back although Shri Varma stated in his exthat a part of it, namely, a small amount of Rs was donated to the workers' sports and diclub.

The next item, namely, item No. 17 is an; of Rs. 1.53 lacs and it relates to motor car es account Petrol. It is in evidence that for the year the Company maintained 35 motor vehi various types. In the absence of any evide show that expenses under this head were heavy, I am not prepared to add back this a to the net profit.

Item No. 18 is a small amount of Rs. 4 which was transferred to provision for conting This was a legitimate provision and page 13 a B would show that the amount paid during the under this head was Rs. 13,627. I do not so the amount of Rs. .03 lacs should be added the

The last item of Unions chart which is to b sidered in this connection is an amount of Rs lacs which represents the net aggregate amo the profits of three subsidiary companies no with in the Company's profit and loss account as they concern members of this Company three subsidiary companies were the Bengal Mills Co. Ltd., The Bridge and Roof Co. Limited and British India Electric Constructi Ltd. These companies were also managed by Lawrie & Co. Ltd., during the revelant year statement from which the figures relating to three subsidiary and managed companies have collected by the Unions appears at page 19 of and that statement had to be incorporated balance-sheet of Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd., pl to section 212(1)(e) of the Companies Act. According to Shri Sanyal the amount of Rs lacs represents the profits of the three subsidia managed companies proportionate to the share by Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd., in those con and that amount should be taken into accou calculating the gross profits of this Compan my opinion this contention of Shri Sanyai can n examination of the 19 items which the ias sought to add back to the net profits of ipany I hold that only three items should be back and no others. These three items are: Amount known as 'Y' account (Item No. 11). Yuri Bunglow monthly expense (Item No. 13).

The examination-in-chief of the Company's countant Shri Varma recorded at page 17 with his cross-examination recorded at pages 19 would make it crystal clear that these so rofits of the subsidiary and managed commercer go to enlarge the profits of Balmer & Co. Ltd. That Company gets managing commission and dividends on the shares held the other companies. These dividends and gagency commission are shown in the profit account of this Company. In these circumthe so-called proportionate profits earned by diary and managed companies amounting to 5 lacs can never be added back to the net Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd.

ponation (Item No. 17).

al of these three items is Rs. .53 lacs, .17 | Rs. .08 lacs or .78 lacs.

order to find out what is the amount of gross according to their calculation. The Company lded back four items to the net profits of 12 lacs. Three of these items are common to rts of both parties, namely, items relating to years, depreciation and taxation. The 1y has also added back a sum of Rs. 4.70 lacs unt of bonus. The Unions have not added is sum. This addition is to the advantage of lons. According to the Company's chart the nount of gross profit is Rs. 38.10 lacs. To ount should be added a sum of Rs. .78 lacs already been found by me. The gross profit herefore be Rs. 38.88 lacs.

i chart of calculation of available surplus the 1y has deducted certain amounts of money in of four items. These are set out below:—

Profit on sale of fixed assets ... .20
Items relating to previous years ... 1.18
Dividend from managed companies 5.38
Pension paid ... 1.66

regards the first two items Shri Sanyal conthat these two items should be properly defrom the gross profits. The third item, dividend from managed companies was hotly ed by the parties and I shall come to this item; later. Regarding the fourth item, namely, paid, I do not see any reason or force in Shri s argument that this item should not be defrom the gross profits. The evidence of my's chief accountant at page 10 would show making it paid to all ex-employees of the comfrom the lowest to the highest excepting labour category. Schedule II to the balance-sheet of the Company at page 10 of Ext. A would show that the amount of pensions actually paid during the bonus year was Rs. 1.66 lacs. The chief accountant has stated in his evidence that this is a proper charge to be debited against the revenue account. I hold that this amount should be deducted from the gross profits as found by me. I now revert to the third item of deduction, namely dividends from managed Shri Bose argued on behalf of the companies. Company that the dividends were received on the shares held by this Company in respect of three subsidiary and managed companies and the workmen did not make any contribution towards earning of these dividends and so this amount should be deducted from the gross profits. This argument of Shri Bose may hold good in a case where dividend is received as income from shares of companies with which the investing company has no other connection excepting that of a share-holder. This is not so in the instant case. The evidence of Company's chief accountant at page 10 runs as follows:

The amount of Rs. 5,38,694 received as dividend from managed companies is a part of the amount of Rs. 5,52,217. The latter sum includes income from investments which are not investment in managed companies. The Company is obliged to invest in the managed companies for the purpose of retaining control of these companies and the dividend income which it receives is not the reason for investing in these companies. The Company receives remuneration from these managed companies in accordance with its agreement with the companies. That income is received under the heading 'managing agency remuneration'. We are taking managing agency remuneration as a part of profit.

The above statement of the chief accountant would show that the investments which were made in the managed companies were made for the purpose of retaining the control of Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd. over these companies. The investments in the present case are closely connected with a substantial part of the business of the Company, namely, acting as managing agents of three subsidiary companies from which the questioned dividends were received. Shri Bose argued that the remuneration received as managing agents has been taken into account, but he contended that the dividends received by the Company should be excluded. I am not in a position to accept this argument of Shri Bose. The evidence of Union's witness No. 2 Sunil Kumar Das shows the various kinds of work done by the staff of Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd. for the managed companies. This witness stated at page 7 of his evidence as follows:—

"The work done by the staff of Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd., in relation to the managed and subsidiary companies consists of sales tax work, income-tax work, finance work, despatching work, cash and shares transaction and also accounts work".

There is no cross-examination on this point by the Company's counsel. It is clear that work of considerable importance is done by the staff of this Company in respect of the business of subsidiary and managed companies from which the impugned dividends were received during the bonus year. Can it be said under these circumstances that the workmen of Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd. did not contribute anything towards the earning of this income by this Company. No company pays dividends as a matter of course. They are paid only when the companies are managed properly and efficiently. The dividends in the present case were received by this Company not merely on the strength of its investment in shares but also on account of the successful and efficient management of the managed companies by its own staff. In the case of Tata Oil Mills & Co. versus its workmen reported in 1959, 2, L.L.J. page 250 their Lordships of the Supreme Court have observed that one instance of extraneous income for the purpose of the Full Bench Formula is whether profits arise out of fortuitous circumstances altogether unconnected with the efforts of labour. Shri Bose on behalf of the Company sought to argue that this is an instance of that sort of extraneous income. It, however, transpires on evidence, that this Company had to make the investments in question as a matter of necessity for the purpose of retaining its position as managing agents. That being the case the workmen of this Company who are associated with the work of managing agency can reasonably claim that by dint of their effort they contributed not only to the earning of the managing agents' commission but also to the earnings of the dividends on the shares held by this Company. In the special circumstances of the case I hold that this part of income is closely connected with a substantial portion of the company's business of managing agency and so instead of being deducted from the gross profits it should be taken into account for the purpose of available surplus. Leaving aside the amount of Rs. 5.38 lacs. I hold that there should be a deduction from the gross profits to the extent of Rs. 3.04 lacs comprising the three other items already mentioned by me. The amount of gross profits being reduced by Rs. 3.04 lacs stands at Rs. 35.84 lacs.

I now come to the prior charges. According to the Company's calculation of available surplus (Ext. B) there are six such items, namely (1) National Normal Depreciation, (2) Taxation, (3) Wealth tax. (4) return on paid up capital at 6 per cent., (5) return on reserves at 4 per cent., and (6) rehabilitation charge. With regard to three of the above items of National Normal Depreciation, Taxation and return on paid up capital. The amount of taxation depends upon the amount of gross taxable profits. The gross profits have been ascertained by me to Rs. 35.84 lacs. Admittedly there would be deduction of an amount of Rs. 4.19 lacs for statutory depreciation, normal and double and development rebate. The gross profits for the purpose of taxation being reduced by that amount stand at Rs. 31.65 lacs. The rate of taxation for the relevant year was admittedly 51.5 per cent. The amount of incometax at that rate comes up to Rs. 16.29 lacs. Deducting this amount from the gross taxable profits there remains a balance of Rs. 19.55 lacs.

The amount of wealth tax was Rs. 45 lacs. Wealth tax is a statutory prior charge and although Shri Sanyal contended that this amount should not be regarded as prior charge, I fail to see why it should not be so regarded. This tax is properly debitable to grount and loss account. The total amount of prior charge under the heads depreciation, wealth tax and return on p capital comes up respectively to Rs. 2.30 lack lacs and Rs. 4.80 lacs. The total of the amounts is 7.55 lacs of rupees. The amount available surplus after deduction of the There being a further deduction of Rs. 7. from that amount the balance left is Rs. 12 rupees. According to Shri Sanyal this amount at least be regarded as available surplus amount should be allowed on account of n reserves and rehabilitation charge. These least be reserved to the part of the same were most hotly contested by the part is hall now have to determine whether the ( is entitled to any amount on account of n reserves and rehabilitation charge.

The Company has claimed a sum of Rs. on account of return on reserves and surplu calculation of available surplus. No statem furnished by the Company for showing what extent of reserves and surplus on which the has been claimed. It was only during the c argument that Shri Bose put in a chart on t the Company showing the amount of resen as working capital. This statement only sh total amount of current assets as at 31st D 1956 and also as at 31st December 1957 current liabilities and provisions have also shown. The amount of liabilities and p have been deducted from the current assets reminder has been shown as working capital statement is simply a collection of figures in ous schedules of the balance-sheet. No t account were produced by the Company purpose of showing what reserves and surp actually used by the Company during the working capital.

The Company's chief accountant, O.P.W.I at page 11 of his evidence that the resen used as working capital in the business du year in question. In his evidence he has stated that page 6 of the balance-sheet sh amount of reserves and surplus as per Schethe amount being Rs. 80,41,314. Refer Schedule VIII at page 17 he also stated the is a further reserves of 7 lacs which is sl deduction in the schedule. The sum and s of the evidence of Shri Varma is that th amount of 87 lacs and odd was utilised business of the Company for the relevant year witness does not say anything about othe has been held in the case of Bengal Ka Mazdur Union versus Titagarh Paper M reported in 1963, 2, L.L.J. page 358 that be return is allowed on reserves evidence must ! by the Company to show that they have been used in the business during the bonus year true that Shri Varma stated in his evidence Company was overdrawn with the Bank thr the greater part of the year. Suggestion was this witness at pages 22 and 23 of his evide there were various other amounts in the book which might have been used as working Shri Varma of course denied the suggestion ted as follows at page 23 of his evidence:
do not agree with you that considering the revolution of the Company to use reserves and surplus ounting to 87 lacs and odd throughout the as working capital".

case of Petlad Turkey Red Dye Works Co. ported in 1960. 1. L.L.J. page 548 their Lordf the Supreme Court referred to an earlier of the Supreme Court in which it was held e balance-sheet does not by itself prove the utilisation of any reserves as working capital haw requires that such an important fact as isation of a portion of the reserves as working has to be proved by the employer by evidence on affidavit or otherwise and after giving inity to the workmen to contest the corrects...h evidence by cross-examination. In the case the Company's chief accountant has only by the balance-sheet and there is every reason stion the accuracy of his statement that the were actually employed in the the current year. In these circumstances I am spared to allow any return on the reserves and this part of the Company's claim.

tow come to the last item of prior charges, rehabilitation charge. The Company filed a tation of rehabilitation chrage which was 1 Fet B(1). The Union did not file any non-prechart. Shri Sanyal submitted during rement that the figures regarding the price and remaining life are not reliable and he also that the Company has got sufficient money yof general reserves and depreciation to meet teplacement cost and so no amount should owed by way of annual rehabilitation charge I take up the second contention of Shri Sanyal

m the Company's calculation of rehabilitation s shown in Ext. B(1) it would appear that the net replacement cost would be a little more Rs. 99 lacs. This figure will be obtained by ng up the various items appearing under the n 'net replacement cost'. Shri Sanyal argued his Company has got sufficient money in its il reserves and also by accumulated depreciaprovisions and no further amount would be ed for meeting the total replacement cost, even e assumption that the price factors given by the any are dependable. The position of reserves appear at page 12 of Ext. A. The amount of es and surplus appearing there is Rs. 80.41 lacs. 1 is a further reserve of Rs. 7 lacs as would at page 17 of Ext. A. Shri Sanyal contended the Company has got Rs. 87.41 lacs as general cs and there is no reason why this amount d not be adjusted against the net replacement It has been laid down by their Lordships of upreme Court in the case of Associated Cement Pany's Ltd. reported in 1959, 1 L.L.J. page 644 ge 670 that from the total amount of rehabilitacost there should be a deduction of depreciation general liquid reserves available to the yers. The reserves which have been reasonably tarked for specific purposes of industry are, ver, not taken into account in this connection. From the statement of reserves and surplus appearing at page 12 of Ext. A I find that only a sum of Rs. 2.59 lacs is specifically ear-marked for payment of pensions. No other amount of reserves is specially In these circumstances excepting the ear-marked. amount of Rs. 2.59 lacs the entire reserves certainly available to the Company for replacement purposes. The amount would be Rs. 84.82 lacs. The case of Bengal Kagaz Kal Mazdoor Unions versus Titagarh Paper Mills Co., to which I have aiready referred clearly lays down that only that part of the reserves which is in the shape of raw materials, etc., or which is ear-marked for specific purposes cannot be deducted for purposes of rehabilitation but all other reserves have to be deducted from the gross rehabilitation amount for the year. I thus find that the Company was in a position to utilise the sum of Rs. 84.82 lacs towards the total replacement cost of Rs. 99 lacs. Shri Bose could not point out any decision of the Supreme Court which supports his contention that the reserves cannot be deducted towards total replacement costs.

Let me now examine whether Shri Sanyal's contention that the total depreciation amount appearing in the Company's balance-sheet can also be similarly deducted.

In the case of Associated Cement Company's Ltd. to which I have already referred Their Lordships of the Supreme Court have laid down at page 670 of the report that from the total amount of rehabilitation cost depreciation and general reserves available to the employer should be deducted. In the case of Kagaz Kal Mazdur Union to which also I have previously referred Their Lordships have observed that the liquid reserves may be in the form of reserves of various kinds, i.e., depreciation reserves, general reserve, renewal reserve and so on and also in the form of investments, advances and raw materials, etc., in stock. In the case of Associated Cement Company's Ltd. Their Lordships of the Supreme Court have quoted with approval some passages from F.R.M. de Paula's 'Principles of Auditing', 1957, in which the learned author has observed that in the past the accepted principle has been that the main object of providing for the depreciation of wasting assets is to recoup the original capital invested in the purchase of such assets. The quotation includes the following sentence from the above text book:

"Hence, in order to keep the original capital of a business in tact, if any part thereof is invested in the purchase of wasting assets, revenue must be held back by means of depreciation charges to profit and loss account, in order to replace the capital that is being lost by reason of the fact that it is represented by assets that are being consumed or exhausted in the course of trading or seeking to earn income".

If the objective of providing for depreciation is to meet the costs of replacement of original capital assets then there is no reason why that amount should not be taken into account when calculating rehabilitation or replacement costs. In fact Their Lordships of the Supreme Court have laid down in the case of A. C. C. Co. Ltd. at page 670 of the report that the depreciation reserves available to the employer should be deducted.

Shri Bose contended on behalf of the Company that such deduction from the gross amount of rehabilitation cost is permissible if two conditions are satisfied. The first condition is that there must be a depreciation reserve fund and secondly that fund must be available to the employer. Regarding the first of these two conditions Shri Bose referred me to some decisions of the Supreme Court wherein depreciation amount has been characterised as depreciation reserves. One such case is the case of Tata Oil Mills Co. reported in 1959, 2, L.L.J. page 250. At page 255 of the report there appears the following sentence:

"The last item with which we are concerned is the return on the amount of depreciation reserves used as working capital".

The other case is the case of Mysore Kırloskar versus their workmen, reported in 1961, 2, L.L.J. page 657 in which the expression "depreciation reserve" has been used in connection with consideration of the question of working capital at page 658 of the report. Shri Bose submitted that in the present case the Company has not created any depreciation reserve. There is no money under that head and so no question of deducting any amount of depreciation reserve from the total rehabilitation cost arises in the present case.

The above argument of Shri Bose is unsustainable, because the expression 'depreciation reserve' means nothing more or less than depreciation provision. In the treatise of the Principles of Auditing by F. R. M. De Paula, 1961 Edition, there is the following passage at page 129:

"Regarding the use of the word 'reserve', in the past this term was applied both to appropriation of profits which are free for distribution and to provisions for specific requirements, such as depreciation, bad debts and other contingencies, which represent charges against earnings".

The Companies Act, 1948, clarifies this position in Part IV of the Eighth Schedule as follows:—

(a) provisions represent amounts charged against earnings for depreciation, renewals and diminution in value of assets;.....

The Companies Act referred to above, of course, refers to the English Act but from hte abovequoted passage it would appear that at one time the word reserve applied to depreciation in England and later on it was described as a provision in the Companies Act. So far as my knowledge about accountancy of the Companies of our country goes no Company creates a fund or reserve called depreciation reserve. Depreciation is always treated as a provision but the important fact is that it is a charge against earnings and but for this provision the shareholders and workmen would have got the advantage of the amount so held back. The principal objective of holding back a portion of the reveneu by way of depreciation is to recoup original capital of wasting asset. The amount of past depreciation is clearly shown in Schedule V at page 14 Ext. A. This amount is Rs. 37.02 lacs. Atthough there is no reason why this amount should not be deducted from the ton bilitation costs. It is significant that after the lation of rehabilitation costs in respect of a pa year the depreciation for that year is addeducted from such costs. That being so the reason why the past accumulated amount of ciation should not be deducted from the top of rehabilitation. There is nothing to sho to sho that amount has been exhausted by utilisation other manner. So the second argument of Sh that the Tribunal should be satisfied that the ciation amount is available to the employer d carry any weight in the present case. I ho along with the general reserves the amount of has been found to be Rs. 84.82 lacs the depn amount of Rs. 37.02 lacs up to December should also be taken into account and as it of these amounts exceeds the total rehabilitation of Rs. 99 lacs the company is not entitled anything on account of rehabilitation costs being my view it is not necessary to enter i correctness of the figures of the chart of reh tion costs submitted by the company, namel B(1).

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

This reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act arises out of Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4688-I.R./IR/11L-145/60, dated the 5th September 1960. The dispute lies between Messrs. Shiva Glass Works Co. Ltd., Baranagar, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by Shiva Glass Employees' Union, 7B Rani Rushmoni Road, Calcutta-18. Following are the issues mentioned in the Order of Reference:

- 1. Are the lock-out of the factory from 3rd January 1960 to 31st January 1960 and subsequent closure of the factory from 1st February 1960 to 27th February 1960 justified? What relief, if any, are the workmen entitled to?
- 2. Is the Company justified in not allowing the 66 workmen (as per list 1 attached) 'to resume work? What relief, if any, are the workmen entitled to?
- 3. Is the dismissal of (i) Dhana Raj, (ii) Jalil, (iii) Munilal, (iv) Lakshminarayan justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled.
- Whether the 381 workmen (as per list II attached) are entitled to any wages for the period of their non-employment from 29th February 1960 to 8th May 1960.

In this case Messrs. Shiva Glass Works Co. Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) has submitted its written statement. On behalf of the Shiva Glass Employees' Union (hereinafter described as the Union) two written statements have been filed. One has been filed by Shri K. K. Sukla alleged to be the President of the Union, and another has been filed by Shri Shiba Sankar Roy, a representative of the Union. Each of these two persons challenges the authority of the other to represent the Union but for the ends of justice, I have allowed both of them to file written statements on behalf of the workmen. The story of Shri Sukla in his written statement, in short, is that the Company has been exploiting the labourers all along and that there has been constant struggle between the Company and the Union over the demands of the workmen. The Company has been depriving the workers of their legitimate rights. On 21st December 1960 the Company summarily dismissed without justification, Jalil and Dharam Raj, the active leaders of the Union. The Company thereafter dismissed one Munical for the same reasons. The Company also refused to employ one Lakhinarayan without any reason whatsoever. The Company was not satisfied with it. It then began to deduct money from the wages of the workers on the allegation that there was short production by the workers. This took place on 25th December 1959. On 26th December 1959 the workers made demonstration with the result that there was stoppage of work. The Company gave a notice of closure on 25th December 1959 with ulterior motive. The Union made certain claims on 2nd January 1960, and the Company locked out the factory on 3rd January 1960. In spite of request the Company did not lift the lock-out but, on the other hand, the Company gave effect to its proposed closure from 1st February 1960. The Company gave the notice, dated the 25th December 1959, and proposed to close down the business from 25th January 1960 but ultimately it was deferred till 1st February 1960. In the meantime the Company issued charge-sheets to almost all the workmen on false allegations of misconduct and to dismiss them. It has been alleged that the letter of dismissal reached the workers not before the 2nd February 1960. During the lock-out and the closure the Company managed to win over a few workers and to enter into a settlement with them. Some of these workers designated themselves as officials of the Union. It has been alleged that the said agreement is a mala fide one. On the basis of the alleged agreement the Company started the factory not with the old workers but with fresh hands. There was a dispute over it and ultimately at the intervention of the S.D.O., Barrackpur, a settlement was effected. According to this settlement, all workmen except 37 workers were to be reinstated with effect from 12th May 1960.

The Company however refused to take back the old workers according to this settlement. It has been alleged that Shri N. C. Kundu, an Arbitrator, gave his award to reinstate 37 workers who were dismissed but the Company did not implement the award. The grievance of Shri Sukla is that the Company deprived the workers of their wages for the period of lock-out and closure, and that the workers mentioned in list 2 attached to the order of reference were not allowed to resume their duties before 8th May 1960. With regard to Issue No. 1 the claim of Shri Sukla is that the workmen are entitled to wages for the period of lock-out and closure. Regarding issue No. 2, the claim is that the workers mentioned in the list 1 of the order of reference are entitled to reinstatement with full wages for the period of unemployment. Under the issue No. 3 the claim is that the workers Dhan Raj, Jalil, Munilal and Lakhinarayan are to be reinstated as their dismissal were illegal. Their cases were the result of the victimisation by the Company. They will be entitled to full wages during the period of their unemployment. With respect to issue No. 4, the relief claimed is that the workers named in the list II in the order of reference are entitled to the wages for the period of unemployment till 8th May 1960.

Shri Shib Sankar Roy, it appears, belongs to a rival party in the Union. In his written statement he has generally attacked the Company in the same way as Shri Sukla has done. He has also spoken about the oppression of the Company on the workers. It has also been stated that a charter of demands of the workmen was submitted in the month of May 1959. Thereafter an agreement was arrived at but still the Company adopted unfair labour practices. The result was that there was natural resentment from the body of the workmen. According to Shri R leaders of the Union ill-advised a small secti workmen to adopt unconstitutional means for the claims of the workmen but the over majority of the workmen denounced the procedure. They wanted peaceful and correct to achieve their purpose. The Companion of the particular against the particular taking any action against the particular responsible, if at all, for any alleged offeno to punish all the workmen in general and d lock-out by a notice, dated the 3rd Janu The lock-out has been described as mala fi continued up to 31st January 1960 after closure was effected. Conciliation proceed held but due to the lack of sensible approx representatives of both the parties, the disp not be settled at first. Shri Roy has further his written statement that the majority of the thereafter reconstituted the executive commit Union in a special general meeting held February 1960 and tried to convince the Con start negotiation for a peaceful settlement of pute. The Company also felt that it was nec arrive at a reasonable settlement and ultimate interim agreement was arrived at between the and the Company on 24th February 1960 at quently the Company started the factory with available workmen as possible. In this writt ment it has been alleged that the lock-out subsequent closure were illegal and unjusti that the workers are entitled to get wages period. Regarding the issue No. 2 it has be that most of the workmen mentioned in list the order of reference have been provide mployment by the management at the instan Union and that the remaining persons approach the Union and thus nothing could for them. It is, therefore, desired that the ( should take these persons in employment as a of good-will and sincerity. It has been furth regarding the issue No. 3 that Dhana Raj a others did not approach the Union for us their cause and, therefore, nothing is known a facts and circumstances of their dismissal. ing the issue No. 4, it has been stated by that the Union took up the cases of those who approached it and that most of them w vided with employment by the Company. The therefore desires that if any workman unemployed, he may be taken back in serv

According to the written statements of the pany, the stories set up by the Union are false Company has denied the material allegation against it. According to the Company, from inception it has been almost continuously rule a loss due to various factors, the most significant which is the labour trouble. The workers Company were mere tools in the hands leaders who misled them. The workers und guidance adopted all sorts of unconstitutional nal, illegal and various other coercive met frighten, intimidate and coerce the manage yield to the unjustified demands. Immediately thereafter the so-called of the Union started various activities and aggressive attitude. They started criminal and sive activities, stoppage of work, forcibly ing inside the factory premises, etc. In the cek of July 1959 it was found that as a result v-down tactics of the workmen, production fell ut 15 per cent. approximately causing a loss of Rs. 15,000 worth of production per month. bnciliation Officer tried to make conciliation and is upon the workmen about their duties but he

There was shortage of production due to ent slow-down tactics and by lethargic work by orkers. According to the Standing Orders, the any warned the workers and asked them to make shortage given by them. In October also orkers committed acts of indiscipline and infination. The Fire mazdoors remained absent th October 1959. The Company issued notice notice to the workers asking them to do their properly and warned them of the consequences ar indisciplinary acts and slow-down tactics. lompany informed the workers by notice that onstant shortage in production the Company's ial position had much deteriorated and that unormal production was given and previous shortin production were made up, it would not be le for the Company to introduce Provident Fund ns of the agreement. The notices issued by the any had no effect on the workers. They, howincreased subversive and criminal activities. On December 1959 one worker Jalil threatened illegally. On 15th December 1959 Jagdhari assaulted another worker on the same ground that he was to give evidence in a departmental enquiry. On 22nd December 1959 one durwan of the factory was threatened and asked not to carry out the orders of the management. Several peaceful workers were threatened. In these circumstances, in spite of best efforts of the management to bring the situation under control, the management was convinced that the situation had gone out of its control and that it was not possible to run the factory. The Company, therefore, gave one month's notice of closure on the 24th December 1959. The notice of closure did not produce any effect. The workers at the instigation of the leaders of the Union continued their illegal activities. On 26th December 1959, the factory manager was informed that he would be assaulted by the goondas engaged by the Union people. On 27th December 1959, Ram Chandra Singh and others barricaded the factory gate. The Company's properties comprising of straw and coal were looted and the durwans of the factory were threatened. On 28th December 1959, Ram Chandra Singh and others obstructed the ingress of car of the Manager and egress of the lorry of the Company. One, durwan of the factory was again threatened. Some workers committed threatening in respect of the Company's properties. The workers were warned by several notices but in spite of these notices, there was no improvement in the situation. Production fell further in the month of December. The Company had to file applications under sections 144 and 107 of the Code of Criminal Procedure before the S.D.O., Barrackpore, against some of the workers. There was a report after enquiry and the Magistrate issued orders against the offending workers. The loyal workers and the management staff became very much apprehensive of their lives on account of assault, threat, violence, intimidation, coercion, etc. On 3rd January 1960, a durwan was severely assaulted and several workers caused obstruction to ingress and egress to and from the factory. The situation went out of control and the normal work could not be done in the factory. The Company was, therefore, compelled to declare lock-out with effect from 3rd January 1960. Even after the lock-out the illegal activities continued. The Assistant Labour Commissioner took up the case for conciliation and the Company, therefore, informed the workers by a notice, dated 18th January 1960, that as the matter had been taken up for conciliation, the management decided to postpone the date of closure to 1st February 1960. The possibility of settlement of the dispute proved futile and there was no improvement in the situation. Consequently, the Company had to declare closure of the factory with effect from 1st February 1960. After about two weeks, a section of the workers and the Union representatives approached the Company and requested to reopen the factory with the assurance that the workers would work sincerely after reopening. An agreement was entered into by and between · the Company and the and the Company decided to reopen factory. The Company invited applications from the ex-workers so that their names might be registered for employment after the reopening. The Company also intimated that those who would fail to apply for employment within a certain date, would be deemed to be not interested in the employment. The Company, however, was lenient and absorbed all the ex-employees whenever they applied for employment. A large number of exemployees were given employment after the restarting of the factory whenever they appeared. Thirtyseven workers were dismissed and/or discharged on sufficient grounds of misconduct and ultimately it was decided that if they tendered apology for their misconduct, they would be given employment. In pursuance of the decision, 21 dismissed workers tendered apology for their misconduct. They were given employment in the factory. The remaining 16 dismissed workers did not offer any apology and their cases were not, therefore, considered for employment. Out of that list I of the order of reference, 27 workmen were re-employed on various dates, eight persons left the Company after receiving their dues in full and final satisfaction of their claims, five persons were never in the employ of the Company, seven persons did not turn up at all for re-employment although they got sufficient oppor-tunities and 16 persons did not tender any apology as indicated above for their misconduct. Three other persons of this list are Dharamraj, Jalil and Munilal. Dharamraj was charge-sheeted and an enquiry was held against him. He had sufficient opportunity to defend his own case. He did not care to attend the enquiry. The enquiry was held ex-parte and he was found guilty by the enquiring officer. He was, therefore, dismissed by the Company. Jalil was also charge-sheeted. He did not care to submit any explanation. An enquiry was held against him. He attended the enquiry. He had sufficient opportunity to defend his own case. He was found guilty and was dismissed by the Company. Munilal was discharged from service by a letter, dated 4th September 1959. He was, however, reinstated on his tendering apology. On 6th November 1959 he was again charge-sheeted for his misconduct. He was again pardoned of the charges. On 23rd November 1959 he was chargesheeted for sleeping on duty and for misusing the Company's properties. On 1st December 1959 and 2nd December 1959 he was charge-sheeted on several grounds. He received all the charge-sheets but did not submit any explanation. He was informed about the enquiry. He was given all opportunities to defend his own case. He did not attend the enquiry but the Company gave him another chance to attend the enquiry. He did not still turn up and the enquiry was held ex-parte.

The delinquent was found guilty and he was dismissed. No person named Lakshminarayan mentioned in the issue No. 3 was in the employ of the Company. The question of his dismissal, therefore, does not arise. Regarding the list of persons in connection with issue No. 4, it has been stated that serial Nos. 173 and 208 have not been included in the list. The total number of persons mentioned in list No. 2 would therefore be 379. Out of this number, 42 names are fictitious as they were never in the employ of the Company, the names of 60 persons have been repeated either in the list No. 2 or the list No. I or in both, 24 persons left the Company after obtaining payment of their full dues, 247 persons have been re-employed by the Company on various dates in accordance with the notice given by the Company for restarting the factors six persons did not turn up at all for received ment. The Company had to recruit a few hands as the old workers who rejoined the factory. In short company has alleged that the workmen are entitled to get any relief in this reference. Company has further stated that the written ament filed by Shri K. K. Sukla cannot be accepted and considered on the ground that he no locus standi at the relevant time to represent Shiva Glass Employees' Union and the work It has been further alleged that on account a agreement between the Company and the deflected on 24th February 1960, there was dispute for the present reference.

The parties have produced their document they have been marked exhibits. On behalf of Sukla representing the Union, 31 witnesses been examined. The Company has, how examined two witnesses. Shri Shib Shankar a group has not however appeared at the time hearing.

Regarding the issue No. 1, viz., the lock-out the closure, certain facts are to be const Exhibit is the copy of the memorandum of ment arrived at between the Company and Union on 4th August 1955. In this agreement admitted by the Union that the Company wasd on 4th July 1955 due to the sit-down strike go-slow policy of the workers. It was agreed the Union, according to this agreement, the workers would give written apology for their conduct committed on 4th July 1955 and that would give undertaking to the effect that they maintain peace and discipline in future and by the rules of the Company. The workers fu undertook that they would make good the that the Company had suffered up to 4th July within six weeks from the date of starting of production work, and that if the loss was not up with the said period, disciplinary action be taken against the defaulters. The worl further agreed to give full production according the production order of the Company and in of shortage of production by any workman, workman concerned would make good the within seven days from the date of short produ According to the agreement the factory we opened from 5th August 1955. Regarding agreement there is no challenge from the side ( Union before me. It is therefore clear that agreement was arrived at after the workmen agreed their guilt. It was therefore clear before the closure of the factory on 4th July the workers were guilty of misconduct and of production.

It was agreed that the roduction would be made up within a period e months from 25th September 1959. This ent was signed on behalf of the workmen by N. Sukla who has filed the written stateand also by Ramchandra Singh who has d in this case on behalf of the Union. The en further undertook to maintain perfect to respect the ny's lawful orders. Ram Chandra Singh, Il, wants to say that in the agreement there p schedule of production order. I cannot this statement of the witness. Again the says that at the time of execution of the ien the Union did not get any copy but subtly Shri A. C. Roy Chowdhury of Labour ment sent a copy of the agreement. I cannot hat Shri Roy Chowdhury, the Conciliation of the Labour Department of the Governmanipulated in the agreement. Moreover, erms Nos. 8 and 9 clearly show that up ith September 1959 the workmen were short production to the Company and on it of that the Company was suffering a lot. rorkmen undertook to make good the loss by g up the short production. Exhibit G is a letter, dated 24th October written by the Directory of the Company to L. C. Roy Chowdhury, the Labour Officer, aining that the workers were violating the of the agreement, Ext. C, by not giving full tion as settled. The Company complained he workers were giving short production from September 1959 in spite of the agreement. i were sent to the President and the Secretary : Union. On 28th October 1959 the Company issued a notice. The copy of the notice is Ext. F. The Company by this notice drew the attention of the workers to the terms and conditions of the agreement, dated 25th September 1959. The Company complained that there was still short production. The Company further gave instances of indisciplined conduct of workers regarding stoppage of work, stay-in strike and refusal to work. The Company appealed to the workers to abide by the terms of the agreement and to behave properly. The Company again issued a notice on 12th December 1959 directing the workers to make up the shortage in production, otherwise, the Company gave out the management would make proportionate deduction from the wages of the concerned workmen according to the Standing Orders of the Company. The copy of the notice is Ext. H. That very day the Company issued another notice complaining about the short production. The copy of the notice is Ext. H/1. At last, the Company issued a notice under section 25FFF of the Industrial Disputes Act on 24th December 1959. The copy of this notice is Ext. I. In this notice the Company regretted that spite of the notice the workmen had been deliberately slowing down the production for several months causing serious loss to the Company. The Company also regretted that notices and warnings issued by it were all ignored and in spite of this fact, subversive activities of the workmen went on at random, and the management could not control the workmen and run the factory. The Company declared in this notice that it was impossible for it to run the factory with those workmen. Company gave out its decision to close the factory and the notice of closure was thus issued declaring that the factory would be closed and the services of the workmen would stand terminated as a result of such closure. It was a month's notice for the purpose. The Company, however, decided to pay compensation to the workmen according to Setcion 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act, and the workmen were requested to collect their dues.

On 26th December 1959 the Company issued a notice stating that the workers on duty had deliberately damaged the working chamber of furnace in order to cause damage to the span of life of the furnace. The Company, therefore, warned to all concerned that in case of any damage done by the workmen, the management would realise compensation for such damages from the workmen concerned. The copy of this notice is Ext. J.

On the following day the Company issued another notice complaining the subversive activities of the workmen and their acts of indiscipline regarding the obstruction of the vehicular passage of the factory. The notice mentioned about the looting of the properties of the Company by the several workers and the Secretary of the Union. It was alleged that the durwan was threatened with assault. The Company declared in this notice that due to the activities of the workers, the Company had been put to heavy loss and it was difficult to carry on with the normal work of the factory. The Company again appealed in this notice to the workmen to give up illegal activities. The copy of this notice is Ext. I/1.

Subsequing 18th January 1960 the Company issued The copy of the notice is Ext. J/7. In the it has been stated that in spite of the nucleosure, dated 24th December 1959, the increased their acts of lawlessness and incompany the factory was, therefore, locked out. Assistant Labour Commissioner took question of lock-out, the management the desirable to postpone the closure of the factory was, and the management decided to the closure with effect from 25th January 19

Again on 28th December 1959 the Company had to issue another notice stating that the workers had not yet stopped their acts of indiscipline and were continuing obstruction of the movement of the traffic in and out of the factory. This, according to the Company, made it impossible for the management to pay the balance of the wages to the workers and unless the activities were stopped, the management were not in a position to make any further payment. The copy of this notice is Ext. J/2. On 28th December 1959 the Factory Manager of the Company filed an application under section 144, Cr.P.C., before the Subdivisional Magistrate against Ramchandra Singh and several other workers for their illegal activities praying for protection against the opposite party. That very day the Subdivisional Magistrate directed the local police to enquire into the matter and to give protection to the applicant. The copy of the petition under section 144, Cr.P.C., with the order of the Subdivisional Officer is Ext. K. Along with that petition another petition under section 107, Cr.P.C., was filed against Ram Chandra Singh and others for executing Interim Bond for keeping the peace. The copy of the application is Ext. K/1. The copy of the orders of the Magistrate, marked, Ext. W, will show that on 25th February 1960 the Subdivisional Magistrate, Barrackpur, passed an ex-parte order for reason of emergency directing the opposite party not to squat on or put any obstruction or barricade on any roads and passages leading to and from the factory within a radious of 500 yards or to form an assembly of five or more persons within the said area. This order was passed by the learned Magistrate as was satisfied from the petition of the petitioner, the Factory Manager, and the police report about illegal activities and as there was a very grave apprehension of breach of peace, a show cause notice under section 107 of Cr. P.C. was also issued to the oppostie party by the learend Magistrate.

The Company by a notice, dated lst 1960 (vide Ext. J/8), declared that all the of the factory except those who had alre dismissed or discharged prior to the noti be paid compensation under section 25FF Industrial Disputes Act. After this  $\pi$  events took a definite turn. It appears the number of workmen belonging to the realised their own position. On 30th December 1959 the Company again issued a notice marked Ext. J/3 stating that a worker Muneswar had committed an act of indiscipline and attempted to beat the Foreman. That very day at 3.45 p.m. the workers were, therefore, warned that they should not commit any illegal act, otherwise the management would take serious action. The notice had no effect on the workmen and again on the following day, viz., 31st December 1959, another notice was issued. This is Ext. J/4. It stated that the workers had again put barricade and fencing on the factory gate and the lorries of the Company could not ply as a result thereof. The Company also gave out that the workers were finally warned that should they be found committing acts of indiscipline and violence, the mangement would be forced to take drastic action in the matter. Again on 2nd January 1960 the Company issued further warning to the workmen as they were continuing their subversive activities. The copy of the notice is Ext. J/5. On 3rd January 1960 the Company finally issued the lock-out notice. The copy of the notice is Ext. 1/6. Herein the Company mentioned about the violent activities of the workers and stated that it was impossible to continue with the workings of the factory. arge number of ex-workmen of the Company seen examined as P.Ws. But it is strange to hat there is no particular and assertive denial inv of them regarding the allegations made in stices issued by the Company relating to the plined behaviour of the workmen and the low tion given by them. Many of the charged persons have been examined but they denied legations made against them personally. The ary of the Union, P.W. 31, has stated that during the period of lock-out the Company gave a notice on 1st February 1960 for closure. He has further stated that there was a solenama between the Company and the Union (the witness says our Union) in connection with the reopening of the factory. This certainly refers to Ext. A, an agreement made between the Union and the Company, but the witness wants to say that after the closure of the factory Gopal Pandey resigned in September 1959. This cannot be true because the closure of the factory was in 1960. The witness wants to say that Shri Pandey along with some others set up a seperate committee of the Union and this committee entered into an agreement with the Company. However, from the evidence and circumstances of this case, I am satisfied that after the notice of closure, the workmen realised their own folly in the matter of pursuing violent activities in the factory leading to the lock-out and closure of the Company. They also realised that they were misled by the then leaders of the Union and that on account of their activities the management of the Company was justified in declaring lock-out and closure. They also found that on account of their own activities they were going to be without employment. Better sense prevailed in the minds of the workmen and ultimately they removed the officials who were misleading them and set up a new Executive Commisteading them and set up a new Executive Committee. This reconstituted committee of the Union followed by the majority of the workmen approached the management for restarting the factory. They also assured the management that on their part they would be sincere workers maintaining peace and discipline in the factory giving production according to fixed quota. The management, it appears, was reasonable and considerate and thus being assured, it secured financier afresh and restarted the business. It is quite clear that the reconstituted committee of the Union was the representative and authorised body duly supported by the majority workmen, and the of the ment, Ext. A, was legal, voluntary and very reasonable. It appears that a civil litigation is pending. In that case the legality of the committees will be decided but for the purpose of the present proceeding I hold that Ext. A was properly executed by a representative body of the workmen, and the members of the Union.

I have considerd the evidence, both oral and documentary, adduced by both the sides before me and also the circumstances of this case. I hold that the workmen of the factory were misled by some leaders of the Union and, as a result thereof, the workers resorted to violence, indisciplined behaviour and disorder in the factory. They also adopted a go-slow policy and deliberately produced less than the quota fixed in order to put pressure upon the management of the Company to submit to their demands. This conduct of the workmen was must unreasonable and unsupportable. They expected by doing mischief to the Company and to the business that the management would be cowed down and be compelled to grant the demands made from the side of the workmen. It is quite clear from the facts and the circumstances that the Company requested the workmen to maintain order and peace in the factory and to work according to the quota fixed. Repeated notices were issued by the Company giving warnings but all these were of no avail. The workers resorted to criminal activities and threatened other peaceful workers. They also caused damage to the properties of the factory. Practically speaking, a large number of workmen being misdirected by the then leaders of the Union made it impossible for the Company to carry on works in the factory peacefully. The Company wanted to maintain peace in the factory but when the situation came to the breaking point of endurance, the Company had to declare lock-out. Even after the lock-out a section of the workers continued their criminal activities and wanted to cause damage to the properties of the Company.

The Company had suffered enormous loss on account of the conduct of the workmen and it was not possible for it to continue any more. The Company had no other alternative but to declare closure of the business by a notice. At the same time, however, the Company without any malice desired to give compensation on account of the closure. Subsequently, however, the workmen realised their misdeeds and misconduct and approached the management to restart the factory giving assurance that in future they would work peacefully and give production according to fixed quota. The management accepted the assurance of the workers and the members of the Union who reconstituted their Executive Committee and restarted the business at the factory on 27th February 1960. I have no manner of doubt in my mind that the Company was justified in declaring lock-out and the closure due to the mischievous activities of some workmen as it was impossible for the Company to carry on business. There was no malice or mala fides in the conduct of the management and in the matter of the lock-out and the closure. On the other hand, the actions of the leaders of the Union who created chaos in the factory started mischievous activities. The issue No. 1 is, therefore, decided in favour of the Company and against the workmen.

I shall now deal with the issue No. 3 relating to the dismissal of (1) Dhana Raj, (2) Jalil, (3) Munilal and (4) Lakshminarayan. I shall first take up the case of Lakshminarayan. It has been alleged from the side of the Union that Lakshminarayan was improperly and illegally dismissed. The Company wants to say that no such person was an employee of the Company and that it is a fictitious person. A large number of witnesses have been examined on the side of the Union and out of them only three have mentioned about Lakshminarayan. P.W. 16 has stated that Lakshminarayan was dismissed by the Company after the lock-out, i.e., in 1960. According to him, Lakshminarayan worked for about 14 years. P.W. 20 has stated that Lakshminarayan was a sweeper of the Company for about 18 years. During cross-examination, however, he has stated that Lakshminarayan was dismissed in 1959 and he cannot give the month of dismissal even by guess. According to this witness sweepers and durwans did not get any card from the Company. P.W. 30 has deposed that Lakshminarayan was a sweeper of the Company and he was dismissed before the lock-out. This witness has further added that the sweepers are not entitled to get any ticket and they do not get any ticket or card. The evidence of the Unions witnesses regarding Lakshminarayan is, therefore, unacceptable and contradictory. Lakshminarayan is P.W. 8. His evidence is that he worked for about 14 years. He says that although other employees of the Company were supplied with cards and leave books; he did not get any card or leave book from the Company to show that he was an employee. It has not been  $proper beta was ever an employee of the Company. If fore, hold that Lakshminarayan mentioned in No. 3 was neither in the service of the <math>C_i$  nor dismissed as alleged.

I shall now take up the case of Dhana Ra to be remembered that the Union stated written statement that the persons mentissue No. 3, were unlawfully dismissed Company without any charge-sheet and to opportunity for defence was given to them been stated that the dismissals were can victimisation. Admittedly, Dhana Raj, me in issue No. 3 was Dharam Raj, the name order of reference was not correct. There dispute about that. Ext. U is the file con the papers relating to the charges and proceed respect of Dharam Raj. Three charge-sheet issued to him. They are dated 26th November 1959 and 5th December 1959 short, the following allegations were made him:

- (i) On 25th November 1959 he acted manner of insubordination and disob in leaving his place of work to permission;
- (ii) He deliberately adopted go-slow poli was giving less production. He als gated others to adopt go-slow ta the matter of production causing | the Company;
- (iii) In spite of directions and requireme did not put his signature in the Pro Register;
- (iv) He instigated other workers not to pusignatures in the Production Regispite of directions.

The enquiring officer, Shri Varma, has been end in this case as O.P.W. 1. He says that I appointed enquiring officer. In his presend witnesses were examined and the evidence recorded. After the enquiry he submitt report. The records of the proceedings are in Ext. U. The report of the enquiring of also in the file. Copies of the letters write Dharam Raj are also there. The report show on the appointed date of enquiry, name December 1959, Dharam Raj appeared and region and journment and accordingly the enquiradjourned to 11th December 1959. The treport further shows that on 11th December Dharam Raj did not turn up in time and the started ex-parte. Dharam Raj, however, came factory and he was advised to take part enquiry but he refused to take part. At his the enquiry was further adjourned to 12th December 1959. On this date Dharam Raj did not the and the enquiry was conducted in the absorbanam Raj. The reports of the proceeding that Dharam Raj gave his signature on the first of enquiry and that the enquiry was adjournable that the enquiry was adjournable for the Company, and the enquiry reveals that the enquiring officer considered materials placed before him and found Dharaguity of the charges. The records of the prings and other papers were sent to the manafor final decision. The order of dismissal is a constant of the charges.

U. This again shows that the facts and by the authority, and Dharam Rajuilty of the charges. He was therefore, From the records and the matters before that Dharam Raj was served with the that the was given sufficient opportunity is case, and that, in fact, Dharam Rajwail himself of the said opportunity. I also find that the findings of the fifter and the management regarding the haram Raj are very reasonable and not There has been no basic error of fact. I he order of dismissal passed against if was legal and justified. It was a bona dismissal. It is to be noted that Dharam tome before this Tribunal to give There has been no explanation for his lation. This again goes against Daram case is Jalil. The relevant papers of d charges framed against him will be found Ext.U/1. Jalil has been examined as that he was the Vice-He says of the Union. He admits that he rge-sheeted but he says that the made against him were untrue, Jalil I that he gave a reply in writing, that the did not hold any enquiry against him and as not informed about any enquiry whatle received four charge-sheets. They are h October 1959, 1st December 1959, 4th 1959 and 5th December 1959. The ed 23rd November 1959, is similar to the ed 29th October 1959. Jalil was asked to explanation. The enquiring officer has incd. His report is dated 17th December short, the allegations made against him allows:

- 1 llth December 1959 he acted in a nanner of insubordination and disobedince in leaving his duty without permission nd he was roaming in other departments 1stigating other workers to go on strike;
- 27th November 1959 he instigated other orkers not to produce glass of uniform eight;
- deliberately adopted go-slow policy and so giving less production than usual. He so incited other workers to adopt go-low tactics in the matter of production ausing loss to the Company;
- did not put his signature on the Producon Register in spite of directions;
- e instigated other workers not to put their lignatures in the Production Register as required.

siring officer found him guilty of all the and the Manager dismissed him by a letter, it December 1959. The letter of dismissal file of Ext. U/1. It was received by Jalil ture is on the copy of the letter of dismisording to the report of the enquiring till appeared on the first day of the sitting equiry, namely, 9th December 1959, and he osign on the records of the proceedings, allowing day, Jalil camb to the enquiry but he left the enquiry without taking any permission, The enquiring officer thereafter conducted the enquiry ex-parte. The report shows that the enquiring officer considered all the materials placed before him, and the charges were proved. The case of the Company is that no explanation in reply to the charges was submitted by Jalil. Jalil has stated; that he handed over the replies personally to Shri-Varma, the General Manager. Jalil wants to that no receipt was given. I cannot accept the evidence of Jalil. Jalil was the Vice-President of the Union and it is improbable that Jalil handed over his explanation without obtaining any receipt therefor. During cross-examination Jalil cannot say if he possess any copy of those replies. The story about giving replies to the charge-sheet is unacceptable. Exhibit U/I contains the copy of the notices of enquiry and the acknowledgment of the notices sent to Jalil by registered post. Jalil has denied his signature on the receipt, Ext. U/1/5. But I have compared this signature with his admitted signature on Ext. U/1/1, and I have no manner of doubt that the signatures appear to be of the same hands Moreover, I cannot hold that the signature on the receipt was manufactured when the letter was sent through registered post with correct name and address. It appears that Julil has no respect for truth. I cannot accept his evidence. Jalil has admitted that before the charge-sheet in question; he had been served with several other charge-sheets and he had been warned by the Company. However, I am not very much concern with the previous charge-sheets and warnings, but on the facts before me, I hold that Jalil was properly charge-sheeted, that he had been given an ple opportunity to defend his own case and he did not avail himself of such opportunity. The enquiring officer's report was justified on the materials placed before him, the management of the Company also considered his case. The findings of the enquiring officer and the management were justified. They were not at all perverse and there has been no basic error of facts. The enquiry was conducted following principles of natural justice. The dismissal legal and proper. There was no malice in it.

The file, Ext. U/2, contains the relevant papers relating to the case of Munilal. This person was served with three charge-sheets, dated 23rd November 1959, 1st December 1959 and 2nd December 1959. In short, the allegations made against him were as follows:

- (a) On 20th November 1959 he was found sleeping during the duty hours disobeying the directions of the Time-Keeper. He showed temper to the Time-Keeper;
- (b) On 28th November 1959 he acted in a manner of gross negligence in the performance of his duty by not maintaining proper temperature required for the production of articles, with the result that Kola Glasses were badly damaged causing loss to the Company;
- (c) On 2nd December 1959 during the working hours he assaulted another workman. He also acted in a manner of gross negligence on 30th November 1959 demaging the property of the Company.

This Munilal has been examined as P.W. 3. He has stated that he was charge-sheeted. He also received an intimation of enquiry. He has also said that he submitted an explanation in reply to the charge-sheet. This statement I cannot accept. No receipt has been filed on behalf of the Union to show that such an explanation was submitted to the Company. This witness has further stated that he attended the enquiry but he wants to say at the same time that he was asked to go away by the enquiring officer who stated that there would be no This statement is also unacceptable. It appears from the records of the proceedings. that on the first date of enquiry he did not attend but the Company of its own accord gave another chance to Munifal to attend the enquiry and even on the second date of enquiry, Munifal did not appear. I cannot hold that Munifal went to attend the enquiry but he was prudently told to go away. The witness has admitted that he got the order of dismissal. It has been argued from the side of the Union that the file, Ext. U/2, does not contain the report of the enquiring officer. This fact was brought to my notice at the time of argument. During crossexamination when the enquiring officer gave evidence in respect of this file, he was not cross-examined regarding his report. At that time, however, neither the Company nor the enquiring officer had the impression that the file did not contain the report. It is quite evidence that the enquiring officer's report is missing for some reasons or other. I cannot, however, hold that there was any fraudulent suppression of the report. I have personally gone through the records of the proceedings and the materials gathered at the time of enquiry and I find that the charges against Munilal were proved. I have also considered the letter of dismissal lying in the file, Ext. U/2, which shows that the Manager himself considered the entire records of the proceedings and also the report of the enquiring officer. The Manager was satisfied that the charges had been proved. When the Manager himself considered the materials collected at the enquiry and he himself found Munilal guilty of the charges, I do not think that the missing of the enquiring officer's report would be of any importance. Moreover, I have personally considered the materials and I am satisfied that the findings of the Manager dismissing the delinquent were reasonable and justified. There has been no perverse findings against Munilal. There is no basic error of fact. I am also satisfied that the enquiry was held properly giving fair opportunity to Munilal for his defence. Munilal, however, did not make use of the opportunity. I, therefore, find that the decision of the management to dismiss Munital from service was very reasonable and justified. I, however, find that the order of dismissal is dated 24th December 1959 and in this letter Munilal has been dismissed with effect from the date of suspension, namely, 3rd December 1959. This order of dismissal with retrospective effect cannot be sustained as legal especially in view of the fact that the Standing Orders of the Company can permit such dismissal as no evidence to that effect has been adduced before me. In these circumstances, the Company, if it so likes, can issue fresh order of dismissal according to law within a month from the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette". In the meantime Munilal would remain suspended as he was till the order of dismissal was in the case of Munilal is not finally decided. Company within a month as stated, he was deemed to be in service, and would be all the back wages for the period employment.

I shall now deal with the issue No. 2. It 66 persons named in list No. I attached to of Reference. The Company's case is that list, three persons have been named in is They are mentioned in serial Nos. 63, 64, list No. I. Their names are Jalil, Dharan Munilal. I have already found that Jalil and raj have been properly dismissed by the Conthe ground of misconduct. It has been the Company that five names of list No. 1 tious. They have been mentioned in the line Ext. AA/2. It was prepared under the st of O.P.W. 2, the Commercial Manager of the commercial Manager of pany. Lakshmi mentioned in issue No. 3 included in this list of seven persons. La been examined as P.W. 8. I have dealt with while considering the issue No. 3 and my was in favour of the Company. P.W. 8 h that he wroked under the Company for years. During cross-examination he stated did not get any Leave Book of the Comp possesses no paper of the Company to sho was an employee. According to him, all the employees of the Company used to get did not get any. He has also stated that other employees were supplied with Leave I did not get any such book from the Com finding is that this person was never an em the Company. He has come before this with a false claim. He is a fictitious person cannot get any relief in this case. With other six persons mentioned in Ext. AA/2,1 decide that those persons were not in the: the Compnay. None of them has come here the claim of service.

The Company wants to say that seven pt of list No. 1 did not at all approach the con service after the reopening of the factory AA/3 is the list of these persons. This list prepared under the supervision of O.P.W. the records of the Company. Of them, on nath mentioned in serial No. 31 of list I examined. He is P.W. 29. He says that on ? 1960 he went to the factory for work. Mi workers were given work on that day after given their thumb impressions but he was any work. Raghunath did not give any the pression on any paper. He did not give any either. Then again this witness has stated was given work after an agreement between pany and the Union. He says that on 18th he was allowed to work in the factory. At of opening the case it was stated from the the contesting Union that the persons in issue No. 2 were refused employment and were not allowed to do work in the factory # the time of trial, however, some of the wanted to say that they were given work subs and not at the time of restarting the factory. written statement there is no indication union wanted to say that some in the works yen any work at all, and some were subsequently byed. The statement of the contesting Union ng to issue No. 2 will be found at page 8 of the m statement filed by Shri K. K. Sukla. I quote the relevant portion:

hat the Company had unjustly refused employment to the 66 workers named in the list I of the Order of Reference and it is keeping them so unemployed for any justifiable reasons whatsoever. This is by way of victimisation and unfair labour practice. Hence they are all entitled to reinstatement with full wages for the period of unemployment and other privilages following out of continuity of service".

a clear case of Shri Sukla's group that the sons mentioned in list No. I had been kept loyed and that they should be reinstated. At of trial, however, the story has been ne of trial, however, the story has been d. The reason is clear. The Union was uno explain the real facts and, therefore, of the rs who were examined who could not explain alse statement made in the written statement. I ot accept that P.W. 29 Raghunath Das ever ached the Company for service after reopening e factory. He has admitted that other persons approached the Company and gave their thumb ssions, presumably in the application for intment, were given service but there should be ason why he should not be given any work if he approached the authority. The evidence of The other persons in Ext. 29 is untruthful. 3 have not been examined before me by the n. In the circumstances of this case, I find that ns mentioned in Ext. AA/3 did not turn up for syment and, as such, there is no question for al of employment to them.

e Company has produced a list of persons mend in list No. I who received their payments in ind final satisfaction of their claims and dues. list is Ext. AA/1. It contains eight names out t No. 1. Only Ramdhani Das out of these perhas been examined as P.W. 30. This person has I that after the lock-out the Company did not him any work. His evidence is that after the ning of the factory he went to join his duty. He however, not allowed to do work. Ramdhani has stated during examination-in-chief that he lot given any compensation for the termination service. He has further stated that he received s dues from the Company. At first he gave the as 18th February 1960 but next he says that on January 1960 during the period of lock-out, he his dues from the Company. He has admitted gnature and writing in Ext. M/1. This exhibit receipt showing payment of Rs. 441.94 nP. rds all his dues including compensation. This as himself has written on this receipt that he red the compensation and all his dues. This it is dated 3rd February 1960. It is clear, therethat he received his payment in full and final action of his claim and dues. He even accepted ompensation for the closure of the factory. The iss is not truthful one. I give no importance to vidence. I do not hold that after the reopening e factory, he ever came for fresh employment. over, he has not no claim after his accentance of ompensation money. With regard to the other us named in Ext. AA/1, I also hold that they wed their payment in full and final satisfaction of their claims and dues. Moreover, Ext. M to M/7 will show that they received their dues from the Company in full and final settlement of their dues. The story set up by the Union that they were not allowed to do work by the Company after reopening the factory is unacceptable. They did not approach the Company for fresh employment.

The Company has filed a list of ex-workers mentioned in list No. I who joined their jobs after reopening of the factory. This is Ext. AA. Twentyseven persons have been mentioned in this exhibit. It has been proved, as already indicated, that owing to the misconduct of the workmen the Company had to close the factory and to declare lockout. I have also found that the lock-out and the closure were justified. The evidence shows that the workers realised their fault and approached the Company to reopen the factory with the assurance that there would be no trouble from the side of the workers. The Company with its best intention started the factory after an agreement had been entered into by the workmen and the Company, and the Company invited the exworkers to apply for re-employment so that the Company might employ them. It was clearly agreed by and between the workmen and the Company that after reopening of the factory the ex-workmen except those who were discharged or dismissed for misconduct were to apply in writing for re-employment within 29th February 1960 and that the company were at liberty to appoint fresh hands in place of those whose aplications were not received in time. The evidence shows that the Company extended the time and inserted further notifications in the newspapers in the month of April inviting the ex-workers to apply. There was no mala fides or ill-motive on the side of the management. The Company showed good gesture. Exhibit AA further shows that the Company gave employment to some ex-workers who applied, in writing, even beyond the time prescribed in the notices published in the month of April 1960. Exhibit AA shows that the persons named therein applied for re-employment and they joined the factory. Of course, there is a mistake of list No. I mentioned in the exhibit. It should be 55 instead of 53. Magru has been named in serial No. 22 of Ext. AA of the persons mentioned in Ext. AA, two have been examined from the side of the Union. They are P.W. 7, Raj Bankshi and P.W. 19, Japshi. P.W. 7 has stated that when the lock-out was lifted, he went to the factory for work. The Manager and some other persons of the factory went to his house and asked him to join. This witness has further stated that his thumb impression was taken when one Bhim Mistry went to his house. He was led to understand that his thumb impression was taken because the workers would be allowed to join their work as soon as the old Union would be there. Ram Bankshi has denied that he gave his thumb impression on any application. This witness has stated that when he was looking for his Union, he was dismissed by the Company. During the cross-examination he has admitted that he received wages for the period of about one and-a-half months of his work after reopening. He wants to say that he is still to get the wages of 14 days. He has not, however, informed the Company or the Union about his dues. He did not write to the Union about his dismissal, neither did he inform the Union. He had denied the suggestion that he gave up his service of his own accord. The evidence of this witness shows that he was not dismissed from the servcie by the Company. Had he been dismissed from service, he would have certainly informed the Company or the Union. I hold that this witness has not spoken the truth. Exhibit AA shows that he applied for reemployment on 5th March 1960 and he started work on 7th March 1960. The evidence further shows that he accepted the wages for the period of his employment and I cannot believe that there is anything still due from the Company. The other witness is P.W. 19 Japshi. His evidence is that after the reopening of the factory he approached the Manager who asked him to give thumb impression on a blank paper. As he refused to give thumb impression, he was not given any work. After, according to him, a talk between the Company and the Union, he was given work in April. He worked for 11 days and thereafter he was not allowed to do work because he refused to give his thumb impression. This evidence is palpably false. If he was not allowed to work without thumb impression and if he was allowed to work without thum impression subsequently, there can be no reason for the Company to demand for thumb impression again after about 11 days' work. This witness has admitted that he did not send any application for employment after reopening of the factoryt. I reject the evidence of this witness. Exihibit AA shows that he applied for re-employment on 15th April 1960 and he was taken in the service on 18th April 1960. I hold that after he was given work, he himself the factory. On consideration of the facts and circumstances, I hold that the persons mentioned in Ext. AA applied, according to agreement, for re-employment and they were re-employed by the Company.

According to the Company the remaining 16 persons mentioned in the list No. I were dismissed by the Company for their gross misconduct after holding due enquiries. The names of these sixteen persons will appear in serial Nos. 3 to 6, 8, 10, 11, 25, 30, 32, 38, 41, 45, 49, 51 and 56 of list No. I. The enquiring officer who held the enquiries against these persons has been examined in this case as O.P.W. 1. He has stated that he was appointed enquiring officer. He examined witnesses during the enquiry and recorded their evidence. He submitted reports of enquiries. He has also spoken about the enquiry records produced before this Tribunal in different files. The files have been exhibited in U series. First of all, I will take up the case of Panchu Gopal of serial No. 56 in list No. I. The relevant file containing the records of the enquiry has been marked Ext. U/6. He was served with two charge-sheets, dated 11th January 1960 and 20th January 1960. Certificate of posting shows that the charge-sheet was sent by post. The charge-sheet, dated the 20th January 1960, was sent under the registered cover. The endorsement shows that it was refused. The registered cover containing the report, dated 11th January 1960, was also refused by Panchu Gopal Roy. He has not been examined before me. Copies of the charge-sheets were also given to the Union. Panchugopal was informed about the date of enquiry. He did not care to submit any explanation to the charge-sheet or to appear in the enquiries. In the result, enquiries were held ex-parte. The enquiring officer submitted his report and, ultimately, the Manager of the Company dismissed Panchugopal by his letter, dated the 30th Fanuary 1960. I have considered the records of the proceedings, charges and the report as also the dismissal letter. In short, the allegations against him were that on several dates mentioned in the charge-sheet he along with others obstructed the lorry drivers and transport coolies from doing their duty under to violence. He also blocked the main entrage the factory dislocating supply and delivery prognof the Company. He also abused and threatened violence the members of the staff. On several he along with others took away the Company's perties and whea he was being checked, he threat the duswan of the Company. On considerations records of the enquiry, I am satisfied that the ging officer was justified in finding Panchugopal of the charges. The dismissal order passed a Panchugopal was proper. The receipt in the file U|6, shows that Panchugopal after being disagreeived payment of his wages and other dues i and final settlement. It appears that Panchugos it all opportunities to defend his case the did not care to attend the enquiry.

Abdul Kayum

Abdul Kayum is in serial No. 51 of list No. 1 has been examined as P.W. 13. His evidence he worked under the Company for four or five When the lock-out was lifted, he went to the f for work in February or March. He says th first the Manager told him that he would allowed to work. He also made an application left it in the letter box of the Company. He d get any answer. He again went to the factor at that time he was asked by the Manager to g signature on a blank paper. Abdul Kayum says that he did not give any signature. Acc to him, he went alone to attend his duty. H that he received one charge-sheet, dated the December 1959, and that he gave a reply t He has denied that he had received any charge dated the 20th January 1960. He has further that he was not served with any notice of c His evidence is that no enquiry was held received no letter of dismissal. Two charge were issued against Abdul Kayum. The first sheet is dated the 28th December 1959. Ac to this charge-sheet the allegations made again were that he had stolen and looted the property Company in the night of 26th December 19: that he had fixed up the fencing of the bambo at that night in front of the gate wrongfully of ing the movement of the Company's truck with moulds belonging to the customers. Ac to the second charge-sheet, dated the 20th J 1960, the allegations were that on severa mentioned he along with others obstructed the and transport coolies in doing their duties threa's of violence, that on several days he alor others blocked the main entrance of the facto prevented the Company's lorries from passing out of the factory premises, that on those d along with others abused and theatened with v the members of the staff, that on 28th December he along with others took away forcibly the pany's properties and when the durwan pri him, the latter was threatened by the form him, the latter was threatened by the form also assaulted, and that the acts of the delput the Company in loss. The relevant rec the proceedings of Abdul Kayam will be found file, Ext. UI5. The office copy of the charged dated the 28th December, 1959, bears the signal Abdul Kayam showing security of the same reply of Abdul Kayam is also there. He has the allegations made against him. In this n

he had kept some goods as some deduc-nade which Kayum claimed. He has, ted in the reply that the goods had returned to the Factory Manager. In the it was stated that the enquiry would 10th December 1959. The records show did not attend the enquiry on the date a enquiry was held ex parte. The report ring officer shows that he considered the he witnesses examined and I find that his are very reasonable. The report was ) the Manager. The charge-sheet, dated nuary 1960, was sent to Kayum by e Union. The address given on the re-sheet is the same as the one appearing harge-sheet. There is no denial that the wrong. The registered letter has come e endorsement "not known." It is clear has avoided the registered envelope. he appointed day the second enquiry was absence of Kayum who did not care to he enquiring officer examined witnesses tely, submitted a report. The report is in It was considered by the Manager and if dismissal was sent by the Manager under over. This has again come back with the t "left." On consideration of the fore me, I have no manner of doubt that framed against Abdul Kayum were proved enquiring officer, that Abdul Kayum was asonable opportunities to defend his case e enquiry and the dismissal were justified fide. The evidence of Abdul re me is unacceptable. He deliberately enquiry.

A copy of was also sent to the Union for information Rejak has not, however, stated before me er left his residence at the relevant time. harge-sheet, dated the 31st December 1959, o Rejak by registered post but it came back. with the endorsement "refused." In this letter of charge a date of enquiry was also fixed. Lastly, another charge-sheet, dated the 20th January 1960, was sent to the delinquent under the registered cover but this also came back with the endorsement "refused." In this letter Rejak was informed about the date of enquiry. It is clear that Rejak avoided some registered letters sent to his address. However, Rejak did not submit any explanation to the charges. Neither did he appear at the enquiry although he was given sufficient opportunity to defend his case. The enquiring officer held the enquiries ex parte after examining the witnesses of the Company. He submitted which was considered by the Manager along with the connected papers, and the Manager removed him from service. His note appears on the report and the letter of dismissal, dated the 30th January 1960, will be found in Ext. U/3. It was sent to Rejak by registered post. In short, the allegations against the delinquent were as follows:

- (a) He did not sign on the Production Register in spite of directions;
- (b) He instigated other workers not to sign over the said Register;
- (c) He did not make up his shortage in production and he instigated other workers not to make up the shortage;
- (d) He committed an act subversive of discipline by leaving his duty without permission and went to the gate to put obstruction to the movement of the vehicle loaded with finished goods;
- (e) He put obstructions to some lorries and made it impossible for the management to run the normal work of delivery and despatches;
- (f) He along with others on several dates obstructed lorry drivers and coolies in doing their duty under threat of violence, blocked the main entrance of the factory by putting barricades, etc. and prevented the Company's lorries from passing in or out of the factory premises;
- (g) He along with others abused and threatened with violence the members of the staff.

On perusal of the records of the enquiry including the enquiry report, I find that the findings of the enquiring officer are very reasonable and they are based on materials collected at the enquiry. I find that the enquiry was properly conducted, and the Manager removed Rejak from service very reasonably. There is no mala fides in the matter of enquiry and dismissal of Rejak. I do not believe Abdul Rejak when he says that he submitted a reply to the charge-sheets he received.

Muneswar

Muneswar's name appears in serial No. 45 of list No. I. He is P.W. 18. He says that he received one charge-sheet and he sent a reply to the Secretary of the Union who might have sent to the Company. He is not sure whether the reply was actually sent to the Company. He also stated that he received a letter intimating about the enquiry and went to attend the enquiry. His evidence is that no enquiry was held.

He has further stated that he did not receive any letter of dismissal. He says further that after the lock-out he remained in Calcutta and his village address is Padareya, P.O. Sarsar, district Chhapra. He wants to that he asked Jagdeo Babu to hold enquiry, but no enquiry was held. He asked Shri Varma to hold the enquiry and Shri Varma assured him that an enquiry would be held later on. He says that he lives at 1 Gopal Thakur Road, Alambazar. The relevant papers of enquiry appear in the file, Ext. U/7. The copy of the charge-shet, dated the 26th December 1959, contains the thumb impression of Muneswar which indicates that he was served with the chargesheet. He was asked to show cause against the charge. The next letter is dated the 18th January 1960 addresed to Muneswar giving his correct address of Calcutta. In this letter Muneswar was informed that he had not submitted any explanation against the charge-sheet and that an enquiry would be held on 25th January 1960. The postal receipt shows that it was sent by registered post. An exparte enquiry was held on the appointed date and the enquiring officer examined witnesses for the Company. The charge against Muneswar was, in short, that the temperature of the furnace fell down on 17th December 1959 and 18th December 1959 on account of his major misconduct and gross negligence. He disobeyed the directions of the superior officer. The enquiring officer found that the charge was proved against him and a report was submitted to the Manager. Another charge-sheet, dated the 20th January 1960, was sent to Muneswar under registered cover. It came back undelivered from his home address. Another registered letter was sent to his Calcutta address. The charges were that Muneswar along with others obstructed the lorry drivers and transport coolies from doing their duties under threat of violence on certain dates and blocked the main entrance of the factory, abused in filthy language and threatened with violence the members of the staff. In the second charge-sheet the date of enquiry was given. The enquiring officer conducted the enquiry ex parte as Muneswar did not care to submit any explanation or to appear at the enquiry. He found the charges proved. The reports of the enquiry were submitted to the Manager who considered the same and also the papers of the enquiry and dismissed Muneswar from service by a letter, dated the 30th January 1960. The letter was sent by registered post as the postal receipt will show. On consideration of the records of the enquiry and the circumstances of this case, I find that the Company did its best in the metter of anythin and Muneswar was given sufficient. matter of enquiry and Muneswar was given sufficient opportunities to defend his case. It is clear that Munaswar deliberately avoided the enquiry. The findings of the enquiring officer, and the order of dismissal passed by the Manager are very reasonable and justified. There is no mala fides or malice in this matter.

Brojogopal Das

Brojogopal's name appears in list No. I. The relevant papers connected with this person will be turned in Ext. U.S. He was charge-sheeted on 20th January 1960. There were five allegations. To be brief, the allegations were that on certain dates he along with others obstructed lorry drivers and coolies from doing their duties under threat of relegators had be along with others blocked the main estrance of the factory and prevented the Company's long a ing in or out of the factory, that he along abused and threatened with violence the the staff, that he put the Company in person account of his acts, that on certain date with others committed theft in respect of pany's properties and that he assaulted the the Company and threatened him with viole registration receipt shows that the charges we registered envelope. A copy was also as Union. There is no evidence that the Brojogopal was incorrect. In this letter the enjuiry was fixed. No written explanation ed by Brojogopal in reply to the charges. not appear at the enquiry, it was held ex witnesses were examined on behalf of the ( The enquiring officer, Shri Varma, found charges were proved and forwarded the report Manager. The Manager agreed with the officer on perusal of the relevant papers ultimately dismissed by a letter, dated January 1960, on the ground of misconduc was sent to Brojogopal by registered post. It sufficient opportunity was given to defend and the enquiry was held without violating ciples of natural justice. The findings of the ing officer are reasonable and not perven enquiry and the order of dismissal are just bona fide. It is to be noted that Brojogopal been examined before me, and no explana given for his non-examination. He does t and challenge the enquiry or the findings mad him.

Ram Shakal

The name of Ram Shakal appears in seria of list No. I. The file marked Ext. U!9 rela case. He was served with a charge-sheet, a 28th December 1959. On receipt of the charge-sheet and the charge-sheet are charge-sheet. he gave his thumb impression on the copy of t sheet. He, in reply of the charge-sheet, d allegations made against him. He was dire present at the enquiry on 30th December 19 case of the Company is that he did not appendiry. The records of the proceeding enquiry held on 30th December 1959 are i In the first portion of the proceeding there is to one Manbharam, a fireman. It has be that Manbharam was absent and the proce started. But in the body of the proceeding has been made to Ram Shakal and not to M It is very difficult to explain how the proceed Manbharan has been placed in this file and the evidence was directed against Ram Sha Company has not explained the contrad however, place no importance on the 1 recorded on 30th December 1959. The charges we along with others obstructed lorry drivers a from doing their duties under threat of blocked the main entrance of the factory. 2 becoming four by his conduct, committee of the Company's properties, and threatened saulted the durwan of the Company. I have red the records of these proceedings and the submitted by the enquiring officer. It appears e charges were very grave and that they were against Ram Shakal. The management conthe materials and dismissed Ram Shakal by a dated the 30th January 1960. The charges were so very serious that the dismissal must to be proper and reasonable. I cannot hold findings of this enquiring officer in respect of irges, dated the 20th January 1960, were so Sufficient opportunities were given to Ram but he did not defend himself. Neither did he before this Tribunal to refute the charges i against him by the Company. I therefore lat the dismissal of Ram Shakal was justified.

Nath

uti Nath has been mentioned in serial No. 32 He is P.W. 2. He says that he had been ied by the Company. He was served with sheet and submitted an explanation in . He says at the same time that he does ow the contents of the explanation submitted y to the charge-sheet. He wants to say that impany did not hold any enquiry. He admits e was served with the copy of the dismissal He denied that the allegations were true. ldress is 7/C Kumarpara Lane. He also that he was invited to attend the enquiry. ridence is that he did not go to attend the y as the factory was closed. The first charge-is dated 31st December 1959. Bibhuti Nath that he received this charge-sheet. Bibhuti ot produce any receipt or other reliable evido prove that he offered any explanation in to the charge-sheet. I reject his evidence c submitted any such explanation. In the -sheet, Ext. U/10/1, the date of enquiry was Bibhuti did not attend the enquiry, that is ed. He wants to say that he did not attend e the factory was closed. This reason I e the factory was closed. This reason 1 accept as true. I hold that he deliberately d the enquiry. The file, Ext. U/10, relates to se. The records of the enquiry relating to arge, dated 31st December 1959, show i was absent and witnesses were examined. port of the enquiring officer, dated 16th Janu-160, shows that the charges were proved t him. The charges were that while on duty, t without permission and went to the gate obstruction to the exit of the vehicles in spite order of the supervisory staff. The next -sheet is dated 11th January 1960. It was y registered post and the acknowledgment shows that he got the charge-sheet. The is Ext. U/10/3. At first the witness wanted that he did not get any other charge-sheet the one, dated 31st December 1959. This ient has been proved false by the acknowledg-receipt, dated 16th January 1960. The witness 3 respect for truth. Admittedly, no explanavas submitted to the charge-sheet and admithe did not attend the enquiry in respect of harge which was due to be held on 20th by 1960. It is clear therefore that Bibbuti did are to defend his case even at the second y. The records of the proceedings of this y prove the guilt of Bibbutt. The charges were that he was not giving normal production and he was tollowing slow-down policy by giving less production and he was not making up shortages. The management considered the report of the enquiring other, dated 21st January 1960, and the management dismissed him by a letter, dated 30th January 1960. Sufficient opportunity was given to Bibhuti for his defence, and the enquiry was properly held. The enquiry and the order of dismissal were bona fide and proper.

Son Bharan

Son Bharan's name appears in serial No. 30 of list No. I. Son Bharan has not appeared before this Tribunal to give evidence against the Company. No explanation was given for his non-examination. The tirst charge-sheet against Son Bharan is dated 22nd December 1959. The postal acknowledgment receipt in Ext. U/4 relating to Son Bharan shows that the charge-sheet was received by him on 26th December 1959. Notice of enquiry was dated 26th December 1959 and the postal acknowledgment receipt shows that it was received by Son Bharan on 29th December 1959. No explanation was submitted by Son Bharan. He did not appear at the enquiry, and the enquiry was held ex parte though sufficient opportunity was given for the defence of Son Bharan. The enquiring officer considered the evidence of the witnesses examined at the enquiry and submitted a report, dated 21st January 1960. The allegations were that due to his major misconduct and gross negligence the temperature of furnace fell down, he neglected his work and disobeyed the instructions of his superior officer. The finding of enquiring officer against Son Bharan is very reasonable and justified. The second charge-sheet is dated 20th January 1960. It was sent to Son Bharan by registered post with the same address as was given in the first letter of charge. The date of enquiry was also fixed in this letter. In spite of the fact, Son Bheran did not appear at the enquiry, and the enquiring officer held an ex parte enquiry and found him guilty of the charges. The charges were that he along with others obstructed lorry drivers and transport coolies from their duties, blocked the main entrance of the factory dislocating supply and delivery programme of the Company, abused and threatened with violence the members of the staff, put the Company in pecuniary loss by his conduct, committed theft in respect of the Company's properties and threatened and assaulted the durwan of the Company. The enquiring officer found Son Bharan guilty of the charges. The reports of the enquiring officer were considered by the Manager of the Company and he dismissed Son Bharan by a letter, dated 30th January 1960, which was sent to the delinquent by registered post. It is clear that sufficient opportunity was given for his defence but he did not care to defend his own case. The order of dismissal and the enquiry were proper and bona fide.

Gonouri Prasad

I now take up the case of Gonouri Prasad. His name appears in list No. I. The first charge-sheet, dated 19th/21st December 1959. It was sent by registered post, and the acknowledgment receipt shows that it was received by Shri Prasad. The papers relating to Shri Prasad will be found in

Ext. U/11. He submitted an explanation in reply to this charge-sheet. He denied the allegations. He was given a notice of enquiry fixing 31st December 1959 for his appearance at the enquiry. This notice was received by Shri Prasad. The next charge-sheet was dated 28th December 1959. It was also received by Shri Prasad, as would be evident by postal acknowledgment receipt. This charge-sheet and the notice of enquiry, dated 26th December 1959, were sent under registered cover. Another charge-sheet, dated 31st December 1959, was sent by registered post and it was received by Shri Prasad on 1st January 1960. The acknowledgment receipt is there. A notice of enquiry was sent to Shri Prasad by registered post on 16th January 1960 and a copy of the same was also sent to the Union. The date of enquiry was fixed on 22nd January 1960. It appears that on the appointed day Shri Prasad did not appear at the enquiry, and the enquiring officer held an ex parte enquiry. In short, the charges were that Shri Prasad committed an act subversive of discipline, he left his duty without permission putting obstruction to the vehicles at the gate, he prevented lorries from passing through the gate, he was deliberately giving less production, he was not making up his previous short production, he was adopting go-slow tactics, he was instigating other workers to give less production and he was threatening other workers. It appears from the report of the enquiring officer that he found Shri Prasad guilty of the charges. His findings are very reasonable in view of the materials collected at the enquiry. The last charge-sheet is dated 20th January 1960. The charges are that Shri Prasad along with others obstructed lorry drivers and coolies from doing their duties, he blocked the main entrance of the factory, he along with others abused and threatened the members of the staff, he by his acts put the Company in huge loss and he along with others committed theft of Company's properties and threatened and assaulted the durwan of the Company. The charge-sheet mentioning the date of hearing was sent to Gonouri Prasad both at his village address and local address by registered post. The Union was also supplied with copy. The letter sent to his village address came back as Shri Prasad was not found, but there is no evidence that his Calcutta address given by the Company was incorrect. Shri Prasad does not come here and say that he was not aware of the proceeding of the charge-sheet. The enquiry was held ex parte and the enquiring officer submitted his report against Gonouri Prasad. The Manager considered the records and agreed with the enquiring officer about the guilt of Gonouri Prasad. He dismissed Shri Prasad by the letter, dated 30th January 1960. On consideration of the facts and circumstances I hold that the enquiry was properly held, that Gonouri Prasad was given sufficient opportunity to defend his case and that the findings of the enquiring officer were justified. The enquiry and the order of dismissal were proper.

Rameshwar Singh

I now take up the case of Rameshwar Singh mentioned in list No. I. Shri Singh is P.W. 11. His evidence is that he has not been dismissed by the Company. He was served with only one charge-sheet, dated 28th December 1959, and he replied thereto. He wants to say that he did not re any intimation of the enquiry and that there no enquiry at all. He has further stated that did not receive any order of dismissal. He however, admitted that his address is 109 ! Road. He has denied that he refused any sent through post. The file, Ext. U/12, relate him. The first charge-sheet received by him dated 28th December 1959. The office copy of charge-sheet bears his signature intimating the received the charge-sheet. This, he has admit His reply is Ext. U/12/1, dated 29th Dece 1959. He denied his guilt. He was directed appear at the enquiry on 30th December 1959. date has been given in the charge-sheet itself ting his signature. The statement of Rame Singh that he did not get any intimation about enquiry is untrue. On the appointed date enquiry was held ex parte because Shri Singh not attend the sitting. Witnesses were exam Another charge-sheet, dated 28th December was sent to Rameswar Singh by registered post it was received by the delinquent on 30th Deca 1959 as the acknowledgment receipt shows. In letter of charge he was asked to attend the end on 4th January 1960. Shri Singh in spite of n did not submit any explanation or appear at enquiry. As a result, the enquiry was help parte. Next, the charge-sheet, dated 20th Jan 1960, was sent to Rameswar Singh by regis post. He was asked to appear at an enquiry connection with this charge-sheet on 25th Jan 1960. He was assured about the payment for veyance in connection with the attendance at enquiry. The copy was also sent to the Ui The registered letter was refused by Rame as the endorsement as the envelop shows. I believe Rameswar Singh when he says that he not refuse any letter sent to him. He is a truthful witness. As usual, Rameswar did attend the enquiry on 25th January 1960. The quiry was held ex parte. The enquiry officer mitted a detailed report regarding the enquiry is dated 28th January 1960. The Manager sidered the charges and agreed with the enquiry officer that Rameswar was guilty of the chi officer that Rameswar was guilty of the chilevelled against him. I have considered the 1 rials and I find that the findings of the enqu officer are very reasonable and justified charges indicated in the charge-sheets are serious. They are gross misconduct on the path delinquent. Sufficient opportunities were a to Rameswar for his self-defence but he was bold enough to appear at the enquiry to chall the allegations. The enquiry and the order of missal passed by the Manager are bona fide proper.

Mangal Sarkar

The name of Mangal Sarkar has been mention serial No. 10 of list No. I. He was character sheeted on 20th January 1960 for causing obstion to the lorry drivers and transport coolies, hing the main entrance of the factory, abusing threatening the members of the staff, putting Company in pecuniary loss, committing theff Company's properties and threatening and assing the durwan of the Company. Mangal Sarkar P.W. 15. He says that although he approached reopening of the factory, he was not He was, however, given his dues up to mber 1959. He denies to have received e-sheet, dated 20th January 1960. He has however, his thumb impression on the owing payment of his dues. The relevant pers relating to Mangal Sarkar is Ext. U/13. ge-sheet, dated 20th January 1960, was Mangal Sarkar by registered post and a he same was also sent to the Union. The letter sent to Mangal Sarkar returned endorsement "not known". The address of ar is there and I cannot accept that Mangal as not found at his address. In spite of nxing the date of hearing on 27th 1960, Mangal Sarkar did not attend the The enquiry was held ex-parte. The enheer on consideration of the evidence ri Sarkar guilty of the charges. The considered the report and the connected id he dismissed Shri Sarkar by a letter, h January 1960, duly sent under registered xt U/13/1 shows that he received his to the end of January 1960. I hold that it is genuine and fully knowing the conreof Mangal Sarkar received his wages and thumb impression. It shows that Shri eceived all his dues in respect of his wages March 1960. It appears that Mangal Sarkar the order of dismissal and received his due I have considered the connected papers and bld that the findings of the enquiring officer tified and the dismissal order of the was proper. Shri Sarkar was given all lities to defend his case but he did not appear and defend himself.

Mohammad

te Mohammad is P.W. 14. His name in serial No. 8 of list No. 1. He says that nonth of January 1960 he received one heet and in reply thereto he submitted an ion and left it in the letter box of the y. He says that after the reopening of the he submitted an explanation for work, but ipany assured him that he would be given he could sign on a piece of blank paper. I e this statement. This witness appears to be athful man. He says that he came to attend mry but the enquiry was not held. He admithe received an intimation from the Company e enquiry. Exhibit U/14 contains the papers to this man. The first charge-sheet against is dated 11th January 1960. The allegare that he was adopting slow-down tactics g less production and did not make up his shortage in production. The letter indihat the enquiry would be held on 20th 1960. In the meantime, as usual in other was given opportunity to show cause he charges. The letter of charge was sent by registered post. The acknowledgment hows that he got the letter on 16th January cannot accept the evidence of Saffique that he reply to the charges in the letter box of pany. In fact, he did not care to submit anation or to appear at the enquiry. The was held, and the enquiring officer sub-is report. On consideration of the evidence itnesses of the Company, he found Saffique guilty of the charges. Subsequently, another charge-sheet, dated 20th January 1960, was prepared against Saffique. The charges were that he along with others obstructed lorry drivers and transport coolies, blocked the main entrance of the factory and threatened and abused the members of the staff. that by his misconduct he put the Company in pecuniary loss and that he along with others threatened and assaulted the durwan of the Company. This letter was sent under registered cover. A different registered cover was also sent to Satfique at his home address. Another copy of the chargesheet was sent to the Union. The Company, therefore, did its best to serve the copy of the charge. In spite of the fact, Saffique did not submit any explanation or appear at the enquiry to take part. Consequently, an ex-parte enquiry was again held in respect of the second charge and Saffique was found guilty of the serious charges. The Manager considered the reports and the papers, and dismissed him by a letter, dated 30th January 1960, sent by registered post. I am satisfied from the evidence that sufficient opportunity was given to Sattique for his defence in respect of the charges but in spite of that opportunity he did not avail himself of the same. The enquiry and the order of dismissal are bona fide and justified, and the findings of the enquiring officer are very reasonable.

Danda Pani

The relevant papers in connection with the enquiry against Danda Pani of list No. I will be found in the file, Ext. U/15. There were two chargesheets against him, one dated 28th December 1959 and another of 20th January 1960. The first charge was received by Danda Pani and he gave a reply thereto. In spite of due intimation, he did not appear at the enquiry and the enquiry was heard ex-parte. The charges related to theft of the Company's properties and putting obstruction to the movement of a lorry in disobedience of the order of the superior officer. The second chargesheet, dated 20th January 1960, was sent to Danda Pani by registered post with correct address. The registered envelop came back with the endorsement "left". Danda Pani has not been examined before me. Moreover, a copy of this charge was sent to the Union. Danda Pani did not submit any explanation to the charge-sheet and did not attend the enquiry in spite of notice. This enquiry was held ex-parte. I have perused the enquiry reports and the connected papers, and I find that serious charges were proved against Danda Pani and he was properly dismissed. He was given sufficient oppor-tunity to defend his case. The order of dismissal was also sent by registered post.

Ram Deo

Ram Deo of list No. I has not been examined before me. Exhibit U/16 relates to Ram Deo. The charge-sheet, dated 20th January 1960, was sent to Ram Deo by registered post. A copy was also sent to the Union. No reply was sent to the Company by Ram Deo in respect of the charge. The charge related to the obstruction caused by him to the lorry drivers and coolies under threat of violence, putting obstruction to the main entance, abusing and threatening the members of the staff, theft of the Company's properties and putting the Company in pecuniary loss. Ram Deo did not appear at the enquiry which was held ex-parte. The enquiring officer found him guilty of the charges, and the Company dismissed him after consideration of Ram Deo's case. I find that the enquiry and the order of dismissal were proper and bona fide. The findings were not perverse.

Raj Narayan

Raj Narayan of list No. I has not been examined before me. Three charge-sheets were issued to him. The charge-sheet, dated 16th December 1959, was received by Raj Narayan. The acknowledgment receipt is there. He also received the enquiry notice. He appeared at the enquiry. He did not examine his own witness. The witnesses of the management were not cross-examined by him. He declined to give his signature on the records of the proceedings. The enquiring officer found him guilty of the charges and the findnigs are very reasonable. The charge-sheet, dated 29th December 1959, was also received by Raj Narayan. He was informed about the date of enquiry. He did not send any reply to the charge-sheet. He did not care to appear at the enquiry, and in an exparte enquiry the enquiring officer found him guilty of the charges. The charge-sheet, dated 20th January 1960, was again sent to Raj Narayan by registered letter. A copy of the same had also been sent to the Union as in other cases. This time also Raj Narayan did not take part in the enquiry. He did not reply to the charge-sheet. In an exparte enquiry, the enquiring officer found him guilty. I have considered the enquiry report and the connected papers, and I find that the findings are very reasonable, and the management also passed the order of dismissal on consideration of the facts and circumstances. The enquiries and the order of dismissal are justified. All opportunities were given to Raj Narayan for his defence. Exhibit U/17 relates to Raj Narayan.

Girish Dutta

The name of Gidish Dutta appears in serial No. 3 of list I. He has been examined in this case P.W. 9. He has stated that he was dismissed after the lock-out when he went to join his duty. He wants to say that he was informed by the Company that he would be taken in after the settlement made by the Union. The evidence of this witness is clearly unacceptable. He has stated that he received only one charge-sheet, dated December 1959. According to his version, he went to attend the enquiry, waited for two or three hours but there was no enquiry. He did not at the same time inform the Company that there had been no enquiry against him. I cannot also hold that there was no enquiry against Girish Dutta. I disbelieve him when he says that in spite of waiting for two or three hours, no enquiry was held.
According to the Company Girish Dutta was served with three charge-sheets, dated 31st December 1959, 11th January 1960 and 20th January 1960. Regarding the charge-sheet, dated 31st December 1959, the acknowledgment is in the file, Ext. U/18. I am convinced that he did not submit any explanation to the charge-sheet or appear at the enquiry in spite of the notice. The enquiring officer held an ex-parte enquiry and on perusal of the papers, I am satisfied that his report regarding the first charge, dated 31st December 1959, is just The second the findings are reasonable. sheet, dated 11th January 1960, was set different address and, naturally, the charcould not be served on Girish Dutta. No has been given by the Company as to was a change in the address of Girish Duty charge-sheet was not served on Girish Da therefore, the enquiry held in respect of the was not proper. Shri Dutta did not get an to defend his case relating to this characteristic charge, dated 20th January 1960, wa ever, sent to the proper address of Giris and I presume that there was good sen a this charge. Of course, the letter sent to be address, as stated by the Company, ha back unserved but still the correct local and given on another envelope sent by registent Shri Dutta, as in previous case, did not at the enquiry. He did not submit any repli charge-sheet, and the enquiring officer held parte inquiry. His findings are very reasonable basis of the materials collected. The charge 31st December 1959 and 20th January 18 very grave and serious. They relate to obs to the lorry drivers and coolies under the violence, obstruction of the main gate of the abusing and threatening with violence the m of the staff, theft of the Company's propen threatening and assault on the durwan of the pany. Further charges were that Girish De the Company in pecuniary loss, he comm act of subversive of discipline in leaving h without permission and going to the factor put obstruction of the movement of vehicle obeying the directions of the supervisory st preventing exist of lorries of the Company with finished goods and putting obstruction lorries. Ignoring the charges, dated 11th 1960, it must be held that the charges, (2) December 1959 and 20th January 1960. wa serious and gross misconduct on the part of Dutta when those offences were proved enquiries. In these circumstances, I should that the enquiries relating to these charge held properly giving opportunities to Ginsh that those charges were proved and that the of dismissal passed against Shri Dutta was and bona fide. It is to be noted that Shr has not stated during the evidence that the tions made against him were either inco false.

The sixteen persons named above had rightly dismissed by the Company for the conduct, and their dismissals were justifullegal. They had no right to apply for rement after restarting of the factory and the pany was not bound to employ them even offered themselves for service. In view of ings above, there was no case of refusal of ment to any of these sixty-six workmen in list No. I and no case has been proved to them to resume work. The issue is accorded against the workmen and they entitled to any relief.

Before I take up the remaining issue, I mention that I have totally disbelieved is set up by the Union at the time of trial if thumb impressions and the signatures of .

stained from the side of the Company itly and by false representation. My findings according to the agreement between w and a large number of workmen, the n gave a chance to the ex-workers for rement and for that purpose applications were A large number of ex-workers, however, basis of agreement willingly submitted applications the Company of the co before the Company giving their thumb bsions or signatures. by come to the fourth issue. The claim of ontesting Shri Sukla's group is that the 381 nen mentioned in list No. II are entitled to for the period of their non-employment from February 1960 to 8th May 1960. The claim ppear in paragraph 22 at page 9 of the written sent filed by Shri Sukla. In the written stateit is stated that these 381 workmen were ed to resume duty only on 8th May 1960 and hese workers were allowed to join only after ntervention of the S.D.O., Barrackpur, after day 1960. It is stated further that the factory d operation from 28th February 1960 orkers were not allowed resumption of duty hat they were allowed to resume their duty 8th May 1960 and thereafter. The allegation t the refusal of employment during this period illegal and mala fide. On the basis of this ition the Union has claimed wages for this d of non-employment. According to the en statement the clear case is that all the 381 men were allowed to work in the factory on May 1960 and on subsequent days at the interon of the S.D.O., Barrackpore. The allegations the claim, I must say, are wild, incorrect and llative without any evidence to support. Some sses have been examined out of list No. II. e considered their evidence but they are most nable and they do not support the case of the n. I shall give some instances. P.W. 7 has I that after the lifting of the lock-out, he went e factory for employment. He did not file any cation for employment as he says. He started but, according to him, he was dismissed by lompany as he was looking for the Union. His nce shows that long before 8th May 1960 he even employment but he was dismissed. This t the case of the Union. P.W. 19 says that ugh he did not give his thumb impression on paper, he was given work in April after the out. But after about 11 days he was removed service. This is also a different story. 20 says that he was allowed to work on 18th ch 1960. This witnesss is one of the signatories ixt. A, the agreement made between the Comv and workmen, dated 24th February 1960. ording to his own evidence again he was reloved long before 8th May 1960. P.W. 21 says he joined his duties on the 7th March 1960 since then he has been working. He has also itted his own signature on Ext. A, the agreet. I am convinced that Ext. A is a genuine ment. He has admitted that he started work re-employment on 8th March 1960. P.W. 23 that he was re-employed on 12th March 1960. 24 is the signatory to Ext. A. He was re-employin 7th but he cannot remember the month. P.W. says that he was re-employed on 18th March He is also not a straight-forward witness. evidence of P.W. 26 is not convincing and his ements are, rather, vague. No reliance can be ed on his evidence. P.W. 27 states that he was re-employed on 7th March 1960. P.W. 28 wants to say that he was re-employed from the 7th or 8th after the re-opening of the factory. According to him, he worked for seven or eight days, and thereafter his thumb impression was taken on a typed paper. This evidence is unacceptable. The evidence of Raghudas, P.W. 29, is not acceptable. He, however, says that on 18th May 1960 he was allowed to do work in the factory after an agreement between the Company and the Union though he did not apply in writing. This is unacceptable. On perusal of the evidence of the witnesses, I must hold that it has not been proved that all the persons named in list II in the order of reference were re-employed on 8th May 1960 or thereafter. All the persons mentioned in the list have not been examined in support of the Union's claim. The Company, on the other hand, wants to say that many of the persons in the list II are fictitious. They were not at all employed by the Company at any point of time. Some persons left the Company after receiving all dues. Some persons again did not turn up for re-employment. Admittedly, several persons mentioned in list II are common in list I. I have already come to my findings with regard to the persons mentioned in list No. I. The Company has prepared several lists of persons mentioned in list No. II according to the records. Exhibit AA/4 is the list of ex-workers of the Company who were re-employed after the reopening of the factory. In this list there is mention of dates of application and the dates of joining. Exhibit M/32 is the list of ex-workers out of list No. II who received their final payment in full and final satisfaction of their claims and dues. Dates of payments have been mentioned. Exhibit AA/5 mentions the names of fictitious persons mentioned in list II Exhibit AA/6 is the list of ex-workers who did not turn up for work. Exhibit AA/7 is the list of names of persons mentioned in list II and repeated either in the same list or in the list No. 1. These lists have been prepared under the supervision of O.P.W. 2, the Commercial Manager of the Company, from records. There is no conviacing evidence from the side of the Union to dispute the lists, and I accept them as correct statements.

I shall now consider the important documents, namely, the agreement arrived at between the Company and the Union at the intervention of the S.D.O., Barrackpore. This is Ext. L. The copy of the memorandum of agreement is attached with the letter of the SD.O., marked Ext. L. This is dated 13th April 1960. This is signed by both the parties in presence of S.D.O., Barrackpore. There are two paragraphs in the agreement. The first paragraph says that the Company agreed that all the workers on the roll of the factory on 25th December 1959 except some dismissed workers would be employed if they reported within 15 days of the notice to be given by the management through newspapers within one week of the date of agreement. The second paragraph is not important for the decision of issue No. 4 The evidence shows that the Company gave insertion in the newspapers asking the ex-workers except the dismissed persons to report to the factory within 15 days of the publication of the notice in the newspapers and to record their willingness to work in the register kept for this purpose in the Time Office of the factory. It was made clear that the persons who resigned after 25th December 1959 were also entitled to get re-employment. It was also stated in the notice that on recording their willingness the said workers would be taken back in service, and that if anybody failed to record his willingness by the date mentioned he would loose his right of employment. It was given out in the notice also that in case anybody was refused by the Time Office to record his willingness in the register in question, he should immediately report the matter to the Factory Manager in writing, after which the matter would be dealt with. The publications were made on 20th April 1960. There is no evidence from the side of the Union that any worker, in fact, went to record his willingness in the register kept by the Company or that anybody was refused to record his willingness or that anybody complained in writing to the Manager that he had been refused in the matter of the recording of his willingness in the register. The action on the part of the Company was quite bona fide and it shows that the Company was willing to help the ex-workers. In the agreement, Ext. L, there is no mention whatsoever that the Company was to pay any wage or any amount of money for the period of any non-employment of any ex-worker from 29th February 1960 to 8th May 1960. I have already found that the lock-out and the closure by the Company were justified. It was rather a good gesture on the part of the Company when it offer d re-employment to the ex-workers according to the agreement, Ext. L. The Company again shows sympathy towards the workers by executing the agreement in presence of the S.D.O., and by giving effect to the agreement. The evidence shows that huge number of ex-workers applied in writing for re-employment and, in fact, they were re-employed according to the agreement. I am further satisfied that there were some mischief-making ex-workers who were trying to create trouble in the factory and wanted to reagitate matters in order to create confusion and unrest in the peaceful atmosphere of the factory after the reconstitution of the Union. In any view of the matter, no workman is entitled to any wages for the period between 29th February 1960 and 8th May 1960 on any account. No case has been proved in favour of the workmen. There is no valid ground for such claim. From the evidence and the facts of this case there can be no doubt that the claim of the Union is unreal and mala fide.

In the result the workmen will not be entitled to any relief in respect of the issues Nos. 2, 3 and 4 mentioned in the order of reference except the case of Munilall as indicated earlier as they have been decided against them. Relating to issue No. 1, however, some of the workmen will get some relief. It has been proved before me that the closure of the factory was justified and the closure was due to the misconduct of the workmen. The Manager had to declare closure on account of unavoidable circumstances beyond their control. The management as such in the notice of the closure declared that compensation would be paid to the appropriate workmen under section 25FFF of the Industrial Disputes Act following the principles laid down in section 25F(b). Subsequently, however, at the request of the majority of the workmen and on their assurance about good behaviour the Company restarted the factory. An agreement was executed and that has been marked Ext. A. It was cl "rlv stated in that agreement that the ex-workers were not dismissed or discharged for misconduct would be offered re-employment. The Compan that promise. The majority of the workers in writing for re-employment and they very late terms were late as to how compensation would be paid in occassions, if any, to these re-employed w Nothing was, however, stated in the agreemer those ex-workers who did not apply for rement though entitled to make such application the agreement there is nothing to indicate t ex-workers not applying for re-employment not get any compensation for the closure by the Company. Moreover, the notice of Ext. I, clearly stated that the Company dec pay compensation to the workmen on account closure. This decision has not been chang any worker not dismissed or discharged on of misconduct did not apply for re-employing certainly entitled to get compensation. C there are instances where the ex-worker. muster roll of the Company at a time of clo the factory after getting the notice of close not further like to work in the Company or employment elsewhere. These workers are a entitled to get compensation. I, therefore, he those workers of the Company who were muster roll of the Company at the time closure but not discharged or dismissed on a of misconduct and who did not apply i employment or were not re-employed by Company according to the agreement, Exentitled to get compensation for the closure factory according to section 25FFF, read will tion 25F(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act, a Company must pay the same. Copies of the and the list II attached to the order of references "A" and "B", respectively, award.

By Order No. 1265-1.R./IR/IIL-104/64, dated the 26th March 1964, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Imperial Roller Flour Mills Ltd., 243A Manicktala Main Road, Calcutta-11 (Head Office at 9 Jagmohan Mallick Lane, Calcutta-7), and their workmen represented by the Imperial Roller Flour Mills Employees' Union, 3 Mohan Lall Street, Calcutta-4, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-1.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the termination of services of the following workmen is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

- (1) Shri Jadumani Panda.
- (2) Shri Adhikanta Das.
- (3) Shri Baikuntha Basantia.
- (4) Shri Rambilash.
- (5) Shri Bandhu Ram.

This reference relating to termination of services of five workmen by their common employer Messrs. Imperial Roller Flour Mills Ltd., 243A Manicktala Main Road, Calcutta-11 (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), was received from the Government for adjudication of the said dispute raised on behalf of the workmen by the Imperial Roller Flour Mills Employees' Union, 3 Mohon Lall Street, Calcutta-4 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

As usual immediately after receipt of the reference both parties were summoned to appear and present their cases before the Tribunal. The Company entered appearance through their authorised agent Shri T. K. Jagadeesh, the Labour Adviser, and the Union appeared through the Treasurer of the Union and no particular person was authorised to represent the Union.

Subsequently, however, the Union filed written statement but did not take any other step in the proper prosecution of the case. However, by way of additional precaution a notice was again issued to the Union intimating the date of hearing of this case but even then no further appearance made or step taken. So, the case had to be taken up ex parte in presence of the Company and in absence of the Union.

As I have stated before, the Union raised a dispute regarding termination of services of five workmen named in the order of reference. It has been briefly stated that the said five workmen because of their trade union activities were punished by the Company by terminating their services illegally and without justification. It has also been stated that in the order of reference one workman Jadumani Paridha has been wrongly described as Jadumani Panda. Union's prayer is for reinstatement of all the workmen with back wages. The written statement was signed by one Ram Sarup Yado as Treasurer of the Union.

The Company in its written statement has questioned the maintainability of the present reference on the ground that it is not an industrial dispute but an indiviual one. It has been contended that the workmen of the Mill are represented by West Bengal Flour Mills Majdoor Congress of 109Z Ultadanga Main Road and no permanent workman is a member of the Union named in the order of reference. The Company has further denied the Union's allegations of illegal termination of the workmen as alleged by the Union. In the concerned working to the Company the concerned working casual hands worked for very brief periods ever occasion arose. They were not per workmen of the Company.

Decision

A

Neither the Union nor the concerned made appearance either on the date of ha the case or on some dates previous to that of communications sent under registered po Company examined one witness Shri h Barman who is a General Secretary of the Bengal Flour Mills Majdoor Congress. As to him all the permanent workmen employed Company in the aforesaid mill are members Union and they have not raised the present or they are not in any way connected, present dispute. His further evidence is the concerned workmen were casual worked temporarily formed a Union which has since to exist. So, I find there is substance Company's preliminary objection and I hold is not an industrial dispute but an individ and as such the present reference is not m able. case of the Union in its written statement is he Company is a manufacturing concern of Datta, the materials. Shri Gour Mohan ian concerned, was a permanent hand in the He was absent owing to illness from 9th 1963 to 16th April 1963. On 17th April 1963 at to report for duty, but he was not allowed He was served with a charge-sheet on the on that on 8th April 1963 he damaged one while operating Machine No. 2 due to negli-He was further charge-sheeted with the of not accepting the charge-sheet that was ed to him on 8th April 1963 and also on 17th 1963. He was dismissed after an enquiry on me 1963. The Union complains that his disis unjustified. The Union which represents smissed workman in this dispute is Plastic ere' Union and Shri Patit Paban Pathak is the ent of this Union.

Company objects to the representation by lastic Workers' Union, and contends that it o locus standi to do so. This Union is not the Union of the workers of the Company (Bharat Plastics Ltd.), but it is a stranger Union. The dispute of the workman concerned has not been espoused by any other workman of this unit of the industry nor it has the sympathy or collaboration of any other worker of this factory. That being so it is an individual dispute and not an industrial dispute.

On merits, the Company's case in its written statement is that on 8th April 1963 Shri Datta, while operating Machine No. 2 in respect of a mould for manufacture of Philips grill for Philips radio, damaged the mould by negligence. On that very date he was charge-sheeted, but he refused to accept the charge-sheet. He absented himself from duty from 9th April 1963 to 16th April 1963 without any notice. On 17th April 1963 he came to office and he was given a charge-sheet, but he refused to accept it. The charge-sheet was then sent to his address by post on 27th April 1963. The date of enquiry was fixed, but Shri Datta did not choose to attend. Thereafter, his service was terminated.

Decision

Now I will take up the preliminary objection raised by the Company that it is not an industrial dispute. This reference was made on the representation of the aggrieved workman by the Plastic Workers' Union. Shri Patit Paban Pathak, the learned representative, is the President of this Union. It will appear from the evidence of Shri Pathak, who is P.W. 3, that his Union has membership of all plastic industries in Howrah. His evidence is that 32 workers of the present Company (Bharat Plastics Ltd.) are members of his Union for the year 1963-64. He has also filed a list containing the names of those 32 workers before the Tribunal and it is Ext. 28. That is the entire evidence on the side of the Union on this point. The termination of service of the workman concerned - Shri Gour Mohan Datta-would be normally an individual dispute, unless it assumes the characteristics of an industrial dispute within the meaning of section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is well settled that an individual dispute in order to be an industrial dispute must have collective support from a considerable or a substantial number of workmen in this establishment. Other workmen of this particular concern must support the dispute, and this must be established either in the form of resolution of a Union of which the workmen may be members, or by the workmen themselves, or in any other manner. In the instant case, no worker other than the dismissed workman himself has been examined by the Union to prove that the workmen of this Company support the dispute either by a resolution of a Union or by themselves or in any other manner. It is a case where a general Union, i.e., Plastic Workers' Union, which is a stranger Union, has come to represent the dispute, and by such representation wants to lend the character of an industrial dispute. If a stranger Union takes up the cause of an individual workman, the onus is upon the Union to prove that it has the backing, sympathy or collaboration of a substantial number of workmen employed in the industry. In this connection, I may refer to the cases reported in 1962 L.L.J. II, page 93 and 1963 L.L.J. I, page 163. The Union wants to contend that 32 workers of this unit are its members, and this must be proved by the Union by cogent and convincing evidence. The only evidence on the point is that of Shri Pathak, who is the President of the Union, and this I have already pointed out. He has not filed any document or record of the Union to prove the membership of workers of this particular Company which he claims. It will appear from the evidence of P.W. I Shri Chandra Prosad Singh that there are 125 workers in this concern. Unless the Union can prove that a substantial number of workers of this unit are members of the general Union, they cannot - by taking up the dispute--lend the character of an industrial dispute in the present case. Shri Pathak's list (Ext. 28) includes the names of O.P.W. 2 Shri Paresh Chandra Mukherjee, O.P.W. 3 Shri Barun Kumar Mullick and O.P.W. 4 Shri Sunil Kumar Guha. Those very persons were examined by the Company to challenge the correctness and authenticity of the Union's document marked Ext. 28. Though the names of these three persons appear in the list of members filed by the Union (Ext. 28), they gave evidence on oath that they are not members of this Union, namely, Plastic Workers' Union, which is representing in this case. Shri Pathak in his argument states that he had no personal knowledge about all the members of his Union. That is not possible for the President of a general Union embracing the entire plastic industry. Shri Pathak does not say in his evidence that he knows all the 32 persons who are listed in Ext. 28 and that they are workers of this concern. In the absence of any other document and particularly in view of the evidence of O.P.Ws. 2, 3 and 4 cited above, I cannot place any reliance upon the list of the Union (Ext. 28). The evidence of Shri Pathak is not categorical on the point as to the workers of this concern who are members of this Union. He does not name any other person, but he only quotes the figure. It would be unsafe to rely upon such an evidence in coming to the conclusion that a substantial number of workmen of this concern are members of this Union. Moreover, it has been laid down in the case reported in 1962 L.L.]. II, page 93 that from the mere fact that a general Union, at whose instance an individual dispute concerning an individual workman is referred for adjudication, has on its rolls a few of the workmen in the establishment as its members, it could not be assumed that the individual dispute was converted into a collective dispute. In such a case, not only should it be proved that the workmen who are members of the general Union form a substantial or a considerable section of the workmen of the particular mill concern, but also that in order to vesting the dispute with the character of an industrial dispute those members participated in or acted together and arrived at an understanding either by a resolution or by any other means and collectively supported on the date of the reference the demand or the cause of an individual dispute. No such evidence is forthcoming in the present case and the evidence of Shri Pathak does not show that any worker of this concern supported the dispute by resolution or otherwise.

The Union examined one Chandra Prosad Singh (P.W. 1) who is the General Secretary of the Bharat Plastic Workers' Union. He claims that 22 to 25 workers of this establishment are members of his Union. He wanted to say that his Union also espoused the cause of the dismissed workman admits that his Union was registered in June There is no evidence to prove that the Union really formed before that date. On the conthe Company has filed a letter written by F Shri Chandra Prosad Singh himself when admitted that the Union was formed on 18th 1964. The date of reference is 30th Noi 1963. The Union formed in 1964 cannot e in respect of a workman in a reference, date November 1963. From the above discussic conclusion is that this Union by taking u dispute of the dismissed workman Shri Datta give it the character of an industrial dispution this finding the reference is held to be invalinced incompetent. Accordingly, I am not entern the merits of the issue.

This is my award.

s a reference of an alleged industrial dispute Messrs. Jagabandhu Mukherjee and its n S. K. Golam Zikria represented by Zilla Motor Association made to this by Government of West Bengal, Labour lent, Order No. 6799-I.R., dated 9th of gr 1959. The issue referred to for decision ther the dismissal of S. K. Golam Zikria is istified and to what relief, if any, is he ntitled?

facts of the case which gave rise to the between the parties need a bit clarification v are as follows:

0th March 1959 Shri Zikria was all on a dismissed without any reason or rhyme ver by Jagabandhu Babu and he was not to do his job since that date to his great ntage. He has accordingly claimed reinstate-7th back wages. He also wants this court the dismissal order to be absolutely illegal njustified. In its written statement the ny has however challenged the fact of disas alleged by Zikria. The Company's case is conductor concerned was never dismissed at that as a matter of fact the conductor did der himself for work on and from 1st April The Company has also inter alia alleged that rence is bad in law inasmuch as no industrial in the strict sense of the term is involved in ie justifying the Government to refer the case court under section 10 of the Industrial :s Act.

new of the preliminary objections raised by mpany I shall first of all address myself to estion as to whether any industrial dispute is d in this case and whether as a matter of the worker concerned was dismissed by the nv. If the aforesaid two questions are ed by me in the affirmative then obviously I ave to enter into the issue, namely, whether missal is justified and also to what relief Zikria is entitled.

ould appear from the materials on record that Zikria is said to be represented by Burdwan

Karmachari Samity Union. Zılla Motor conductor concerned wants me to believe that the instant dispute is an industiral and not an individual one masmuch as his case is sympathised by the aforesaid Samity. Unfortunately, for the conductor there is not an iota of evidence on record to show that the Company in question, namely, Messrs. Jagabandhu Mukherjee & Co. have got anything to do with that Union. The materials on record rather show that Jagabandhu Mukherjee simply owns a bus and that in connection with that bus he has engaged only three workers including Golam Zikria. The other two workers have not deposed in connection with this case. Nor there is anything on record to show that any of these two workers has supported the case of Golam Zikria. In the result, it must be held that no industrial dispute is involved in the instant case and that the dispute in question is purely individual in character disentitling this court to take cognizance thereof. In this context I am tempted to quote below the observation of his Lordship Mr. Justice B. N. Banerjee made in connection with case reported in I, L.L.J. 1963, at page 163: "If a stranger union takes up the cause of an individual workman, the onus is on the Union to prove that it has the backing, sympathy or collaboration of a substantial number of workmen employed in this industry." In the circumstances of the instant case and in the absence of any proof that the individual dispute had the backing or support of an appreciable number of fellow workmen of Messrs. Jagabandhu Mukherjee & Co. the reference of the dispute for adjudication must be adjudged as invalid.

Turning to the merits of the case I find that Golam Zikria was never dismissed at all. This would be at once clear from the case as made out in the written statement of the Company and as elicited in evidence during trial. The case of the written statement is that Golam Zikria was dismissed by the Company on 10th March 1959 whereas the case as made out in evidence during trial is that he was dismissed on 30th March 1959. The Company's payment khata Ext. 3(a) which is an admitted document however conclusively preves that up to 31st March 1959 Golam Zikria worked under the Company. All these make out crystal clear that Golam Zikria was never dismissed at all, that he worked uptil 31st March 1959 and that thereafter he never presented himself in the office of the Company for his day to day work. In his evidence Golam Zikria has of course stated that he was dismissed but then in that version of his he stands singularly uncorroborated and his evidence is not liable to credence inasmuch as the same is highly interested. The contrary evidence adduced by Jagabandhu Mukherjee is however trustworthy because there is not a scrap of paper on record to show that Golam Zikria was at any time dismissed by the Company or to show that Golam Zikria ever protested to that alleged abrupt act of the Company. There is also a very good piece of circumstantial evidence on record to show that Golam Zikria left the service on his own accord. That piece evidence is that after 31st March 1959 Golam Zikria was seen serving other companies. Considering all these facts and circumstances of the case I therefore do hold that Golam Zikria was never dismissed. And if he was never dismissed, the further question, namely, whether dismissal was good or bad does not arise at all. That issue therefore need not be decided by me. As Golam Zikria left the service of the Company on his own accord and initiative he is not entitled to any relief, whatsoever in this award of mine

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 194-I.R./IR/10L-171(C)/63, dated 22nd January 1964, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. G.S.A. Co. Steel Fabrication Works, Gopalpur, Asansol (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Gasco (Asansol) Workers' Union. P.O. Burnpur, district Burdwan (hereinafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issue framed in this case for adjudication runs as follows:

Whether the termination of service of Shri Rambali is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

AWARD

The case of the Union in its written statement is that the workman concerned—Rambali—was a permanent hand of the Company, and he continuously served there from 21st November 1961 to 5th July 1963. But he was suddenly dismissed on 6th July 1963 without any charge-sheet or enquiry. The Union contends that he was victimised by the management for his union activities.

The Company in its written statement states that Rambali was not a permanent mot serve the Company for the period as stated by the Union. Its case is that his service was terminated by way of retrenchment. The Company also contends that there are two rival unions of the workmen of this Company, and the Union which is representing the workman in this case is not the union recognised by it.

Decision

The case was taken up for hearing on 26th December 1964 at Asansol Camp. On that date both the parties appeared, and after opening of the case hinted on the possibility of a compromise. After some talk amongst themselves, they came to terms and put in a joint petition of compromise. The petition is duly signed by the representatives of both the Union and the Company. One of the terms is that the workman concerned will be taken back by the employers in his former job and he will be placed to work in the employers' new industrial establishment at Chasuala in Bihar on and from 1st February 1965 with his previous designation and rate of wages. The terms of settlement agreed to by the parties appear to be fair and reasonable, and should be accepted. I accordingly dispose of this case in terms of the petition of compromise which will form part of the award as annexure "A."

The above dispute over the issues given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 6492-I.R./IR/4L-48(A)/62, dated the 21st November 1962.

Issues

- 1. Scales and grades of pay.
- 2. Dearness allowance.
- 3. Bonus for the accounting year ended on 31st December 1961.

The parties appeared before the Tribunal in response to notices served upon them and filed their respective written statements in due course. After necessary preliminary proceedings and some adjournments, the case was taken up for hearing on 6th August 1964 Since then, the hearing continued on several dates, viz., 18th August 1964, 7th September 1964 and 17th September 1964. All the witnesses of both sides were examined during the hearing and the documents produced and proved by them were also exhibited. At the stage of arguments, there was some talk of settlement and the Tribunal encouraged the parties to continue the talks and come to an amicable settlement of the whole dispute, if possible Ultimately, on 14th December 1964 the parties filed a joint petition of compromise in respect of issues 1 and 2. It was also intimated on that date that further attenuts at amicable settlement of issue No. 3 were also going on and the attempts were likely to succeed. The case was adjourned to 21st December 1964 in order to give the parties a last opportunity to come to a settlement in respect of issue No. 3. On 21st December 1964 the representatives of the parties appeared and after some discussions they reported that issue No. 3 had also been anneably settled and a patition of compromise in respect of that issue would be filed on the next day, 22nd December 1964. The case was accordingly directed to be put up on 22nd December 1964. On that date, the parties filed mother joint petition of convigorise in respect of issue No. 3.

The terms of settlement in respect of the issues are clearly set out in the joint petitions of compromise. I have heard the representatives of the parties. I have also considered the terms of settlement. The terms appear to be quite fair and lawful. I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the entire dispute between the parties on those terms. The parties have also prayed for a compromise award in respect or all the issues. Accordingly, I would make a compromise award in terms of the joint petitions or compromise, as prayed for.

In the result, I make a compromise award in respect of the whole dispute covered by the issues under reference in terms of the joint petitions of compromise filed on 14th December 1964 and 22nd December 1964, copies whereof are made parts of the award as Annexures A and B respectively.

Before parting with the case, I would congratulate the parties for coming to an amicable settlement of he whole dispute after the entire evidence  $h_{ad}$  taken and I would also place on record  $m_{V_2}$  cuation of the sincere and whole-hearted efforts, by the representatives of the parties,  $Sh_{Ir}$ , Dutta for the Company, and Shri Ramen  $B_{ab}$  for the workmen, in the difficult negotiation amicable settlement.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, by Shri Rambilash Bania, an employee of the Company O.P., Messrs. Punjab Engineering Works, complaining that he was illegally, wrongfully and vindicively dismissed by the Company by its letter, dated 5th August 1963, and in effecting the dismissal, the Company contravened the relevant provisions of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act.

The relevant contentions of the applicant raised in his written statement are briefly as follows. Generally the workmen of the Company having their village homes in other States are granted more than one and half months' leave for going home and they avail of such leave at long intervals. This applicant applied for one and half months' leave on 9th January 1963. He was legally entitled to the leave, but the Company refused to grant him leave on the false plea of pressure of work but ultimately agreed to grant him leave only for 10 days. But, leave for such a short period was absolutely uscless to him. The Company took this harassing and vindictive attitude towards the applicant because he was not member of the Union sponsored by the Company, but was a member of a rival Union which was not liked by the Company and which he refused to leave in spite of being asked to do so by the Company. The applicant through his Union raised a dispute regarding the refusal of the Company to grant him leave for one half months, as wanted by him, before the Labour Commissioner. The Labour Commissioner took cognisence of the dispute and started conciliation proceedings and in course of the conciliation proceedings, it was settled that the applicant would be granted 40 days' leave while the conciliation proceedings should continue. In view of this position, the applicant started for his native place leaving an application for leave with effect from 10th May 1963, but subsequently he was surprised to receive a false charge-sheet containing the charge that he had remained absent without prior sanction and permission. The applicant went to resume his duty on the expiry of 40 days' leave, but the Company refused employment to him without any reasonable grounds. The Company then held a show of enquiry regarding the charge-sheet. The so-called enquiry was perverse and in violation of the principles of natural justice. The applicant was not given any chance of hearing at the enquiry. Finally, the applicant was dismissed by the Company's letter, dated 5th August 1963. At that time, adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by Government Order No. 3537-I.R., dated 6th August 1962, were pending. The Company filed an application under section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, in respect of the dismissal with absolutely false alleagations. The dismissal of the applicant by the Company's letter, dated 5th August 1963, was illegal, null and void and in contravention of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, because it was effected without prior permission of the Tribunal which was obligatory as the dismissal was for an alleged misconduct connected with the dispute under reference for adjudication. The applicant claims reinstatement with compensation for the period of unemployment.

The application is contested by the Company, which has filed its written statement. The Company has taken the preliminary objection that the application under section 33A is not legally maintainable and has contended that there was no violation of any relevant provisions of section 33. The dismissal of the concerned workman was not a matter connected with the main dispute pending adjudication before this Tribunal and so no prior permission of this Tribunal was necessary. The dismissal came under section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, and the Company duly filed an application for approval of the dismissal by this Tribunal, in view of the of the adjudication proceedings of the disput to this Tribunal by Government Order No. 1 dated 6th August 1962. The requirements a 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, were duly with and so, in that respect, there was no  $\alpha$  tion of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, was no contravention of section 33, 1 Disputes Act, this Tribunal has no jurish entertain the application under section 33.

On merits, the Company has pleaded as At the conference held before the Assistan Commissioner the workman was told speed the Company that he would be granted 144 after 15th May 1963. On 10th May Company received a letter of the working 9th May 1963, praying for leave from 10th to 18th June 1963. He had left work of accord from 9th May 1963 without any p from the Company. As the worker con remain absent unauthorisedly, he was aske Company by a letter, dated 13th May 1963, for duty within three days and explain authorised absence since 9th May 19 workman received this letter, but did not reply. The workmen reported for duty June 1963, when he was first told to w reply to the Company's letter, dated 13th V On 20th June 1963 the workman submitted to the Company making some baseless alleg. Thereafter, a notice was issued to the works 25th June 1963, informing him that an enquire be held on 27th June 1963 at 3 p.m. He recon letter on 26th June 1963, but did not appear enquiry on 27th June 1963. In order to st another chance, the Company issued a freshi dated 16th July 1963, asking him to atte enquiry to be held on 20th July 1963. The this second notice was delayed on according circumustances beyond the control of the \ ment. The workman, by his letter, dated 21st 1963, prayed for another date for the enquin was informed by a letter, dated 24th July 196 the enquiry would be held on 29th July 196 29th July 1963 an enquiry was held and the M ings were recorded in presence of the workma signed the proceedings. After the enquiry, the man was found guilty of (a) leaving work and 9th May 1963, in spite of specific direction contrary and (c) not complying with or reply Company's letter, dated 17th May 1963. A constituted major misconducts under the 8 Orders of the Company, the Company dedismiss the workman from its service and account issued a letter of dismissal, dated 5th August As the dismissal fell under section ? Industrial Disputes Act, one month's wages, workman amounting to Rs. 62 were sent to money order and an application for approval dismissal was duly made to this Tribunal Company had no reason to act vindictively the workman and the grounds given by the wo in explanation of the alleged vindictive athi the Company towards him are false and fi The domestic enquiry held by the Company perverse or in violation of any principle of justice. It is not true that the workman given any chance of hearing. The miscondu ich he was dismissed were not connected with dispute pending adjudication before this Tribunal so, no previous permission was necessary. The nissal was quite legal and bona fide and the wodka is not entitled to any relief.

shall firsts take up the preliminary question ther this application under section 33A is ntamable in law. This question is also connected the jurisdiction of this Tribunal to take gnisance of this application.

is well settled that the indispensable precondifor an application under section 33A is that e must have been contravention of any relevant usion of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, in nection with the matter complained of. Here, the ter complained of is the dismissal of the workman the Company's letter, dated 5th August 1963. 1 N). No doubt, on that date the adjudication recdings of another dispute between the Company its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by ernment Order No. 3537-1.R., dated 6th August 2, were pending. This Government order stituted an omnibus reference of a general oute existing in the engineering industry of this e and convering more than 1,200 engineering blishments, including the establishment of the ent Company and the general dispute related to issues of (1) wages and (2) holidays and leavewal holidays, sick leave, casual leave and privilege The present application under section 33A, istrial Disputes Act, has been made with rence to the said omnibus order of reference ing to the engineering industry. It is contended schalt of the Company that the dispute over the ral issue of leave and holidays which mainly tes to the question of quantum of leave and days to be granted to the workmen, has no ner of connection with the specific dispute rding the dismissal of the concerned workman, igh the dismissal was effected on the ground of un inthorised absence without leave or permis-. It is also contended on behalf of the Company he was dismissed on some charges of mislucts arising out of his absence from work withprior sanction or leave with effect from 1963, but the precise matter cannot be said to onnected with the dispute over the issue of leave holidays, as referred for adjudication in the ibus order of reference. Consequently, the ipany also contends that it was not incumbent Lit to take prior permission of this Tribunal for dismissal of the concerned workman under sec-33(1)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, The further ention of the Company is that the dismissal fell r section 33(2)(b), as it was effected for some onducts not connected with the dispute already r adjudication and the Company complied with requirements of the proviso to section 33(2)(b). strial Disputes Act, by offering him one month's 's and making an application for approval of the issal under section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes
I may state here that it is an undisputed ion at the hearing before me that the Company an application under section 33(2)(b), Industrial utes Act, and it also offered one month's wares ne workman by remitting the money by money

The Company's application under section (h). Industrial Disputes Act, was numbered as No 197 of 1963. It was presented before the unal on 6th August 1963. There was absolutely no delay in making the application. In the evidence produced by the parties in this case, it is satisfactorily proved that the Company sent one month's wages to the workman by M.O., but the workman refuse to accept it. The workman himself has practically admitted this fact in his evidence by saying that the Company sent him some money, but he refused to accept the M.O. Exhibit V is the refused M.O. coupon showing that one month's wages amounting to Rs. 62 were sent to the workman by M.O., but it was returned as refused. The application under section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, could not be finally disposed of by this Tribunal, because it became functus officio, with regard to it by reason of the fact that the dispute between this Company and its workmen covered by the omnibus reference was disposed of by a compromise award, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette. Extraordinary, dated 28th May 1964, and the application was still pending when one month expired from that date. That application was disposed of by an order made in that case (No. 197 of 1963) on 22nd December 1964, and the application was simply filed. It must he held therefore, that the Company complied with the requirements of the proviso to section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, in regard to the dismissal of this workman, dated 5th August 1963, which is the subject-matter of the present complaint, and there was no contravention of section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, in regard to such dismissal. This must be the position if the dismissal really fell under section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, and in view of this position, the present complaint must be held to be not maintainable in law in so far as the dismissal fell under section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act.

It has, however, been contended on behalf of the workman that the dismissal of the workman was really connected with the dispute under adjudication by virtue of Government Order No 3537-I.R., dated 6th August 1962, and so it fell under section 33(1)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, and consequently it was incumbent upon the Company to take prior permission of this Tribunal before making the dismissal. I am unable to accept this contention. In my view, the dispute relating to his dismissal, though it was made on the ground of his unauthorised absence without leave or sanction, was not directly connected with the dispute over the general issue of leave and holidays pending adjudication before this Tribunal in the omnibus reference. The issue in the omnibus reference relates to quantum of leave and holidays. It has no direct bearing upon the Company's right of granting or refusing leave in particular circumstances. Untill the omnibus reference is disposed by an award, the concerned companies are entitled to follow their own rules or Standing Orders regarding leave and it cannot be said that every case of refusal of leave to any workman would be a matter directly connected with the issue concerning leave and holidays pending adjudication in the omnibus reference. Here, the facts are that the workman absented himself from work from 9th May 1963 by leaving an application of that date but without any specific order or sanction of the Company. So, the precise reason for his dismissal was unauthorised absence without any sanction or permission. Such dismissal was not certainly directly connected with the general issue concerning leave and holidays. Accordingly, I reject the contention raised on behalf of the workman that the Company contravened the provisions of section 33(1)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, in relation to the dismissal by not taking prior permission of this Tribunal and thereupon the workman became entitled to make the present application under section 33A. The specific contravention of section 33 as alleged in paragraph 11 of the present application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, cannot, therefore, stand and the present application cannot be held to be maintainable upon the alleged contravention.

It has, however, transpired in evidence that a dispute arising over the Company's refusal to grant leave for one and half months to this workman upon his application, dated 9th January 1963 (Ext. A), went up to the Assistant Labour Commissioner Shri C. N. Chakrabarty, who took up the matter for conciliation and also requested the Company to grant him 40 days leave by his letter, dated 11th May 1963, specifically mentioning therein that the dispute still remained open to further conciliation. (Ext. U and Ext. 1). It appears from the oral and documentary evidence produced in this case that the dispute originating with the Company's refusal to grant leave to this workman upon his application, dated 9th January 1963, continued and the matter was referred to the Assitant Labour Commissioner by the Union and the Assistant Labour Commissioner took up the matter for conciliation and made an interim request to the Company to grant him 40 days' leave, 29 days' statutory leave under the Factories Act and 11 days' casual leave. In the Company's letter, dated 4th April 1963, to the Assistant Labour Commissioner in connection with the dispute, it was clearly admitted that in all 29 days' statutory leave was due to this workman on 1st March 1963 (Ext. Q). However, the matter to be taken note of is that the precise dispute arising out of the refusal of leave to this workman by the Company was pending conciliation on or about 9th May 1963, when he made the fresh application for leave for 40 days (Ext. F), and went home without getting any order or permission from the Company. This application was evidently made on the hasis of the recommendations of the Conciliation Officer. There is specific reference to this recommendation in this application. There is nothing to show that the conciliation proceedings over this precise dispute regarding grant of leave to this workman had ended before he was dismissed by the Company's letter, dated 5th August 1963. It is to be held, therefore, that the dismissal was effected during the pendency of the conciliation proceedings over the dispute. In view of this position, the dismissal certainly fell under section 33(1)(b), Industrial Disputes because the dismissal was on the ground of some misconduct connected with his going away on leave with respect to which a dispute had already been placed before the Conciliation Officer and a conciliation was pending. It was, therefore, incumbent uron the Company to take the permission of the conciliation authority before dismissing him. But, no such permission was taken and so, there was certainly contravention of an applicable provision of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act.

The next question that comes up for decision is whether on account of the aforesaid contravention of the provisions of section 33(1)(b). Industrial Disputes Act, in regard to the dismissal of this workman, which is the subject-matter of complaint in the present case, the workman is entitled to maintain an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, before this Tribunal. It is contended on bear of the Company that even if there was contravent of section 33(1)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, because the permission of the conciliation authority was w taken before the dismissal was effected during the pendency of the conciliation proceedings, this Tribe nal would have no jurisdiction to entertani a conplaint based upon such contravention. I have careful considered the provisions of section 33(1) and section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, and I am of the view that the contention raised on behalf of the Compan is quite correct. There are clear indications in to language of section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, the a Tribunal can take cognisance of a complaint urds that section only when the contravention of a provision of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, Link place during the pendency of proceedings before said Tribunal. I shall quote below the relevant portia of section 33A:

"33A. Where an employer contravenes the provisions of section 33 during the pendem of proceedings before a Labour Court, Triburg or National Tribunal, any employee aggring by such contravention may make a complimation writing in the prescribed manner to see Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal* * * *".

The expression "to such Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal" read in the context of the fore going provisions clearly indicates that the Tribuna to which a complaint under section 33A, Industri Disputes Act, can be made must be the Tribuni during the pendency of whose adjudication proceed ings the employer contravenes, any provision of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act. In the present case, there was no contravention of any provision of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, by this compar in connection with the dismissal of this workman during the pendency of adjudication proceedings before this Tribunal, but there was contravention of the provisions of section 33(1)(b), Industrial Disputs Act, during the pendency of conciliation proceeding before a Conciliation Officer. Such contraventor cannot be used as a ground for an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, to this Tribana and Tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain? complaint on the basis of such contravention what did not take place during the pendency of adjudition proceedings before it.

The resultant position is this: The only provising of section 33 which could apply to the dismissal this workman in connection with the pendency adjudication proceedings before this Tribunal were the provisions of section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, but the Company complied with the require ments of those provisions and was not guilty of and contravention thereof. The workman is, therefore not entitled to make an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, on the basis of an contravention of section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes to the section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes to Act, and this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain any such application. There was contributed on the provisions of section 33(1)(h). Industrial Dhdsputes Act, in regard to the dismissal of this workman only in connection with the conciliation proceedings pending before the Conciliation Officer, but for such contravention, no application under section 33A. Industrial Disputes Act. lies " this Tribunal and this Tribunal has no iurisdiction " entertain such an application on the basis of snch ntion. This, in my view, is the strict of law and in view of this position, the application before this Tribunal must fail ground that it is not maintainable and this has no jurisdiction to entertain it.

ald here note that it may seem anomalous en there is contravention of any provisions in 33, Industrial Disputes Act, in connection necliation proceedings before a Conciliation the aggreed workman has practically no by way of an application under section 33A, all Disputes Act, because there is no mention illution proceedings" or "Conciliation Officer" scheme of section 33A, Industrial Disputes all and this section is strictly confined to notions of provisions of section 33 "during the vol proceedings before a Labour Court, or National Tribunal," and restricts the or applications under that section only to abour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal." In its is the strict position of law, this Tribunal cept it notwithstanding that the aggreeved n is left without any remedy against the muton of the provisions of section 33(1)(a), al Disputes Act, by way of an application section 33A. When this Tribunal has no not to entertain such an application according trict language of section 33A, it cannot grant relict, however hard his case may seem to have found that this Tribunal has no juristo entertain the present application under 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, the application if on that ground and no decision on merits complaint is called for.

e result, the application under section 33A is ed on contest on the ground that it is not nable before this Tribunal and this Tribunal jurisdiction to entertain it.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Hindusthan Iron & Steel Company, 68 Jessore Road, Calcutta-28, and their workmen represented by Hindusthan Iron & Steel Company Workers' Union, 48 Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13. (Case No. VIII-84 of 1964.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri RENUPADA MUKHERJEE, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the Union: Shri Subodh Banerjee.

This industrial dispute has been referred by the Government of West Bengal, by its Order No. 1195-I.R./IR/10L-50/64, dated Calcutta, the 18th March 1964, for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. One party to the reference is Messrs. Hindusthan Iron & Steel Company, 68 Jessore Road, Calcutta-28 (hereinafter to be described as the Company), and the other party is their workmen represented by Hindusthan Iron & Steel Company Workers' Union, 48 Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13 (hereinafter to be described as the Union). The only issue referred for adjudication is the following:

Whether Shii Sudhir Pattanaik is entitled to get bonus paid by the Company to other workmen iii 1962 and 1963? If so, what should be the quantum of such bonus?

Upon receipt of the reference usual notices were served upon the parties. The Union filed its written statement on 15th May 1964. The sum and substance of the written statement of the Union is the following:

Shri Sudhir Pattanaik was a workman under this Company. Originally he was not a member of the Union. But when the Company started victimising some members of the Union unjustly and illegally Sudhir became a member of the Union which infuriated the management. The management suspended this workman with effect from 12th March 1962 and subsequently dismissed him from service with effect from 15th June 1962 on false and mala fide charges.

As an industrial dispute was pending between the workman and the Company at the time of dismissal of this workman the management applied for approval of the Tribunal of the above order of dismissal under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. By its order, dated 1st December 1962, the Tribunal concerned refused to accord approval.

Although the workman presented himself to the management for employment on several occasions after that, the management did not give him any work. The Union therefore took up the matter with the Labour Directorate and there were some conciliation proceedings as a result of which the management agreed to reinstate Sudhir Pattanaik on and from 7th July 1963 and also to make payment of all the dues of this workman by 13th July 1963.

Although Sudhir Pattanaik was reinstated his dues were not paid which resulted in further conciliation proceedings. A tripartite arrived at on 18th September 1963 in this connection. After that agreement the Rs. 266.05P. as wages but bonus was not paid to the workman for the period during which he remained in forced unemployment. There were further conciliation proceedings which did not bear any fruit. The Union, therefore, prays that the Company may be directed to make payment of bonus to this workman at the rate paid to all other workmen in 1962 and 1963. The amount of bonus for each of these two years is said to be Rs. 136.50P.

The Company contests the claim of the Union. According to the contention of the Company this claim of the Union on behalf of the workman is covered by the terms of tripartite settlement mentioned by the Union in its writen statement. Before the Conciliation Officer the Union claimed only seven weeks' pay by way of bonus and it was agreed that this matter was required to be enquired into by the Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal, and thereafter necessary instructions were required to be issued by him. No such enquiry has yet been made by the Labour Commissioner to the knowledge of the Company and so is not open to the Union to obtain a fresh reference.

The Company further alleged that this dispute is an individual dispute inasmuch as it has not been sponsored either by the workmen of the Company or by a substantial number of workmen. This Union has no locus standi to raise any dispute on behalf of the warkman because the direct employees of this Company do not owe any allegiance to this Union. The financial year of the Company does not correspond with the English calendar year and so this Tribunal should refuse to adjudicate on the issue formulated in the order of reference. Shri Sudhir Pattanaik did not work for major portion of the relevant period for which bonus has been claimed and he did contribute anything towards the earning of the profits for the period during which he remained without employment. So his claim for bonus is not maintainable.

The broad facts which have given rise to the present dispute are more or less admitted. This workman was placed on suspension on 12th March 1962 pending a domestic enquiry in respect of some charges of misconduct. As a result of the enquiry he was dismissed on 15th June 1962. As a reference case was pending at that time between the Company and its workmen, approval of the Tribunal was necessary and so the Company filed an application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. That application was dismissed on 1st December 1962 (vide order marked Ext. 11). The consequence of the dismissal of the Company's application was that the workman continued to remain in There was no factual reinstatement althous workman wrote several letters to the Composuch reinstatement (vide letters marked Exist and 1b). This action of the Company amount a refusal of employment which resulted in conciliation proceeding. As a result of such or conciliation proceeding this workman was reinstated July 1963. After his reinstatement two quarrose. One was the question of payment of to this workman for the period of his unemploy and the other was the question of payment of the thin the question of payment of wages had fact that the question of payment of wages had settled. The other question remained outsu and it has been referred to me for my adjude This is the admitted background of the process.

Shri Dutta made a preliminary submission behalf of the Company that this Union has no or locus standi to represent the workman. The no substance in this contention because at a stage during conciliation proceeding this word was represented by the present Union. Shrimade three other contentions before me who shall consider one after another.

Neither party adduced any oral evidence a case which hinges entirely on documentary dence. I have already observed that attallictual reinstatement of the petitioner on 7th 1963 disputes arose over the payment of a wages and other allowances including bonus dispute about arrear wages was settled. The diabout payment of bonus and some other minor putes were the subject-matter of a tripartite 5 ment, dated 18th September 1963 (vide Ex Item No. 4 of that settlement is relevant for consideration. It runs as follows:

"The amount of bonus to be paid to Shul nayak for the said period will be end into by Labour Commissioner, West B and necessary instruction will be given a parties."

Shri Dutt contended on behalf of the Con that the Labour Commissioner of West Benga empowered by the above settlement to enquin the dispute about bonus and to give necessinstructions to the parties. He has not made such enquiry nor has he given any such instru according to the terms of the above settlemen so the reference is incompetent. In this com I have gone through the relevant file of the Con tion Officer and I found that the Labour Co sioner did issue notice to the parties for app before him so that he might make necessary ries. The Labour Commissioner could not sett dispute in spite of best efforts and so the concil officer recommended that the dispute migl referred to a Tribunal for compulsory adjudic From the relevant file of the Labour Departs find that the Labour Commissioner fully with the above view of the conciliation officer endorsement by the Labour Commissioner (shows that he was not in a position to 1859 direction or instruction to the parties. That the case the Labour Commissioner performe part of the task and as there was no settlem the matter a reference to the Tribunal was the tor adjudication of this dispute. The Labour Science is no longer in seisin of the matter the reference is competent. Clause 4 of does not stand in the way of such reference. St contention urged by Shri Dutt about the live of the reference is rejected.

, second ground urged by Shri Dutt on behalf Company is that the Union's claim for the nan before the conciliation officer was bonus ne period from 12th March 1962 to 7th July and not for the two full years 1962 and 1963. Dutt argued that the scope of the claim as appear from Ext. 5 has been enlarged and Iribunal is not empowered to allow this ed claim. This argument of Shri Dutt canossibly be accepted because Ext. 5 shows the during which the workman remained in unemployment during the years 1962 and The remaining period of these two years does me into the picture because this workman had tedit worked in this Company during that So it is idle to contend that the claim of the nan was only in respect of the period from March 1962 to 7th July 1963. Second content Shii Dutt is therefore disallowed.

Duit next contended that the bonus which is d on ochalf of the workman is related to caraed by the Company and as the workman t contribute towards the earning of the profits a substantial portion of the two relevant b. temaining unemployed he is not entitled boaus for the two years in question. Under lercumstances this argument of Shri Dutt have been unimpeachable, but the back of the case should not be forgotten. It was ding of the Tribunal which disallowed the tion of the Company under section 33(2)(b) Industrial Disputes Act that this workman smissed as a result of an unfair enquiry which define rules of natural justice. The workman nee been reinstated as a result of the dismissal Company's abovementioned application. That tuned in unemployment for a substantial part 2 and 1963 was entirely due to the unjust of the Company and but for such unjust he would have contributed towards the earnthe profits for the relevant years. The Comannot be allowed to take advantage of its tong and to deprive the workman of that which he would have otherwise received nor-In these circumstances I disallow the third st contention of Shri Dutt that the workman get any bonus because he did not actually or a substantial period during the years 1962

int was also raised by Shri Dutt on behalf of npany that the financial year of the Company the date of Dewali festival of one year up to wah festival of the next year and as this il year does not correspond with the English r year, no bonus can be paid to this work-r the calendar years 1962 and 1963 as menin the order of reference. It is true that the festival generally falls in the month of Octo-November. But it is equally true that bonus the workmen of this Company only once ime of the Puja. On behalf of the workman of bonus is being made at the rate at which it was admittedly paid by the Company to other workmen in 1962 and 1963. Although the financial or trading year of the Company is different from the English calendar year, there is no reason why this workman should not get bonus which other workmen got in 1962 and 1963. There is no dispute about the rate of the bonus. It is an admitted fact that for the relevant years this bonus was paid at the rate of seven weeks wages. In the written statement of the Union this amount has been shown as Rs. 273.00 for the two years. It was admitted by Shri Dutt that this figure is correct.

In view of what I have stated above, I am of opinion that this workman is entitled to get Rs. 273.00 as bonus for the two years, namely, 1962 and 1963. This is my adjudication and award in this reference. The above amount of Rs. 273.00 must be paid by the Company to workman Shri Sudhir Pattanaik within a month of the date of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

Taken at my dictation and corrected by me.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the Bus Owners, viz., Pathak Bros., 13 Jadav Das Lane (South), Howrah, and 14 others, and the Shibpur Bus Association, 322 G. T. Road (South), Howrah, on the one part, and their workmen represented by the Ratsriya Bus Mazdoor Congress, 286 G. T. Road (South), Howarh, on the other. (Case No. 66/1963.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal

Present for the Mazdoor Congress: Shri Jagannath Pandey and Shri R. N. Sinha, Vice-President and Secretary of the Mazdoor Congress respectively.

This dispute between the Bus Owners named below (as per Annexure A) and the Shibpur Bus Association, 322 G T. Road (South), Howrah, on the one hand, and their workmen on the other, was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Government Order No. 1338-I.R./IR/4L-17/63, dated the 27th March 1963, for adjudication upon the issues, viz.

- (1) Bonus payable before the Puja on 1962.
- (2) Whether the time-keepers of the Shibpur Bus Association are entitled to any amount as bonus over and above what has been paid to them?

The case of the workmen represented by the Rastriya Bus Mazdoor Congress may shortly be stated as follows:

The Shibpur Bus Association is an Association of the owners of buses plying in routes Nos. 55, 59, 61 and 62 in the district of Howrah. The persons and the firms mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference are owners of buses plying in these routes and they are also members of the Shibpur Bus Association. The owners of buses earn huge profits by running the buses, but the drivers, conductors, cleaners and mistries and time-keepers, who are mostly responsible for the efficient running of the bus service, are poorly paid, and the owners are wholly indiffernt towards their welfare with the gradual increase in the fares of buses and the average income of the owners of the buses have considerably increased, and though the cost of living index has considerably gone up, the owners never thought of paying fair wages to their workmen. The Government fixed minimum wages for different categories of bus workers, and this infurated the owners of buses, and they stopped payment of "bakshis" and "special bakshis" to the drivers. conductors and helpers thereby causing loss of earnings to them. The workmen have been receiving Puja bonus at the time of Durga Puja every year from the employers for a long time, and in 1962 the workmen claimed Puja bonus as usual, and also additional profit sharing bonus on the basis of trading results, equivalent to two months wages payable at the time of Durga Puja for the different categories of workmen. The claim of profit bonus, in addition to Puja bonus, by the incurred the displeasure of the employers, employers refused to pay any Puja bonus workmen. The Shibpur Bus Association, but paid less than one month's wages to its work Pula bonus The payment of Puja bonus di ch by the workmen is a condition of service, as paid to them for a considerable length of time attempts by the conciliation officer to s.tia dispute between the bus owners and their work failed on account of uncompromising attitude the part of the bus owners. There was a strain the workmen which was, however, withdidwn intervention of the Additional District Marie Howrah, the claim of the workmen for Puigh in 1962, as also profit sharing bonus, 15 Said a justified. It is further alleged that the reduction the amount of the Puja bonus by Rs. 20 107 time-keepers of the Shibpur Bus Association and any sufficient reason, is wholly unjustified a time-keepers are entitled to one month's wage Puja bonus. The Unoin has claimed Puja bonus different categories of workmen at the mentioned in the prayer portion of the WS also for directing the Shibpur Bus Association making payment of a further sum of Rs. 20 to of the time-keepers employed under the Sm Bus Association. There is also a claim for months' wages as profit sharing bonus to the w men for the year ending 31st March 1962.

The Shibpur Bus Association in its writtent ment has denied that one month's wages was to its employees as bonus all along. It is a that in order to maintain good relation between Association and its employees, the Association ex-gratia payment, varying in amount, in different ex-gratia payment, varying in amount, in different of Rs. 75 each to the time-keepers after the Association suffered a loss of about Rs in 1962. The Association has denied its habited pay any further amount to the time-keepers in them.

All the 15 owners, who are parties to reference, besides the Shibpur Bus Association, filed separate written statement in reply by written statement filed by the Union. There in short, is that they never paid any bonus to workmen during the Puja at any time, and the of the workmen for Puja bonus is not at all fied. They have denied that after meeting expenses for running of the buses from the proceeds, any surplus is available for paymer bonus to the drivers and conductors. It is fu pleaded that the Union cannot be allowed to 12 claim for profit sharing bonus as their claim b the Conciliation Officer related to Puja bonus able in 1962 as customary bonus. The case of bus owners, in short, is that they never paid Puja bonus to their workmen during the Pu Puja bonus either as Festival bonus or as a cond of service. The written statements separately by the bus owners are practically the same. 2 is therefore not necessary to state the case of of the bus owners as set-forth in the wi statement.

Decision

The issue, as framed, is not very precise he nature of the claim for bonus by the

Inion in its written statement has set forth for profit sharing bonus in addition to Puja and the learned representative of the Union to make out a case for payment of profit bonus to the workmen. His attention was, drawn to the claims of the workmen series) wherein it is clearly and specifically as Puja bonus for 1962. In view of this mand for Puja bonus for 1962, as evidenced At. 3 series, it is idle to contend that the the workmen also includes profit sharing This difficulty was realised by the learned tative of the Union, and he filed a petition the claim of the Union was only confined bonus for 1962. The Union having confined only to Puja bonus for 1962, it is to be ether such a claim is justified. Out of the rs who are parties to this reference, three, Messrs. Allied Transport, (2) S. K. Roy and n Banerji have settled their disputes with men amicably and there is no such subsistute between them and their workmen for tion. The workmen of Messrs. Allied t have filed a petition, Ext. E, stating that ive no claim for bonus against their rs. D.P.W. 9, who is the Supervisor of aned by Messrs. Allied Transport, has also that the dispute regarding Puja bonus for tween the Company and its workmen has icably settled, and the petition, Ext. E, bears Allied nature of workmen of Messrs. rt. Affidavits have also been filed by two rners, viz., S. K. Roy and Haradhan Banerji hat there is no subsisting dispute regarding or 1962 between them and their workmen. is these three owners are concerned, there spute between them and their workmen for tion, and the claim of the workmen workler the remaining bus owners is to be red on the materials placed before me. In this 16 and 20 of the written statement the as based its claim for Puja bonus for 1962 workmen as a condition of service on the hat such bonus had all along been paid by ers prior to 1962. Puja bonus is being by the Union as of right, payable by the bus at the time of annual Durga Puja as a condiservice. Durga Puja is a festival in Bengal, las become usual with many employers to us to their workmen before the Durga Puja. stion of Puja bonus came up for considerathe Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case iluxmi Cotton Mills Ltd.. Calcutta, versus orkmen, reported in 1952-II-L-L-J. 635. It in that case that this right rested on an nt between the employers and the employees may be either express or implied. The Appellate Tribunal laid down the tests for an implied agreement for grant of such a The tests laid down in that case as material ring an implied term are, (1) payment must be unbroken, (2) it must be for a sufficiently long period, and (3) the circumstances in which payment was made should be such as to exclude that it was paid out of bounty. The tests laid down in that case were accepted as correct in the case of Ispahani Ltd., Calcutta, and Ispahani Employees' Union, reported in 1959-II-L.L.J. 4. It is thus clear, in view of the Supreme Court decision in the case of Ispahani Ltd. versus Ispahani Employees' Union, that where Puja bonus is claimed as a condition of service, it is a matter of right with the workers resting either on express or implied agreement between the employer and the employees. To imply such an agreement the payment must be unbroken, spread over a sufficiently long period, and the circumstances in which such payment was made should be such as to exclude that it was paid out of bounty. The principles applicable to a claim for Puja bonus as a condition of service, was also considered in the case Workmen of Charles Abrecht versus Charles Abrecht & others, reported in 1963-I-L.L.J. 598, and in this case the earlier decisions were also considered. There can thus be little doubt in view of the decisions referred to above. that where the claim of Puja bonus is based on a condition of service, the workmen must prove the circumstances to justify the inference of an implied agreement for grant of such bonus, when there is no express agreement to pay such bonus. The claim for Puja bonus may also be in the nature of customary bonus when no implied agreement can be inferred. In the instant case, the specific claim of of the Union is that Puja bonus is payable as a condition of service, and the question whether it is payable as customary bonus, therefore, arise. It is, therefore, to be seen whether the Union has been able to prove by any satisfactory evidence that Puja bonus is payable to the workmen as a condition of service. None of the workmen examined by the Union has stated that there was any express condition for payment of Puja bonus to the workmen at the time of their appointment. P.W. 5 Ramanand Baroi has admitted in cross-examination that there was no talk of payment of Puja bonus to him as a condition of service at the time of his appointment. It can, therefore, he held that there was no express condition for payment of Puja bonus to the workmen at the time of the Puja. The question that arises is whether the Union has been able to prove that there was implied agreement between the employer and the employees to pay such bonus. The facts from which such an implied agreement can be inferred are that such payment was made for a sufficiently long period irrespective of trading results. The Union has examined 5 witnesses, viz., P.W.s 2 to 6, to prove that the drivers, the conductors and the cleaners received Puja bonus at Rs. 100, Rs. 60 and Rs. 30 respectively as Puja bonus of 1961, and also in 1963, but Puja bonus for 1962 was not paid to them, P.W. 2, who works as a conductor under Dinabandhu Ghosal, has stated that he got Rs. 60 as Puja bonus in 1963, and the drivers and the cleaners also got Puja bonus in that year. P.W. 3, however, has stated that no bonus was paid after 1692. Regarding payment of bonus during the Puja up to 1961. the evidence consists of oral statements of some interested witnesses, and they have admtted that except their oral statements there is nothing to show payment of Puja bonus to them up to 1961. As against the evidence led by the Union, there is evidence of some employees of some of the bus owners, and also the Secretary of the Bus Uinon, and one of the partenrs of the firm Messrs. Balbir Singh & Dilwar Singh. O.P.W.s 1, 2 and 5, who works as bus conductors, have denied that they ever received any Puja bonus from the owners. O.P.W. 3, who is a bus driver under Srimati Amala Banerji, O.P.W. 4, Gurbachan Singh, a driver under Dilwar Singh, have also stated that they never received any Puja bonus from the employers at any time during the period of their service. O.P.W. 6 Makhanlal Das, who is a bus owner, and O.P.W. 8, Balbir Singh, another bus owner, have stated that they never paid any Puja bonus to their employees at any time. O.P.W. 6 has further stated that there is no practice of giving any Puja bonus to the employees, and none of the bus owners who are members of the Association ever paid any Puja bonus to his workmen. O.P.W 7, who is the Secretary of the Shibpur Bus Association, also also stated that bus owners never paid any bonus during the Puja to the employees. There is thus oath against oath, and I find it difficult to accept the evidence of the workmen on this point, in view of this important fact that in the notices of claim for Pua j bonus for 1962, Ext. 3 series, there is no mention of the fact that Puja bonus was being paid all along. It is clear from these notices demanding Puja bonus for 1962 that this claim was made for the first time on the grounds stated in the notice. It is therefore difficult to accept the evidence adduced by the Union that such bonus was paid by the employers for a considerable length of time. The Union has failed to prove that the employers paid Puja bonus to their workmen for a long time, but all on a sudden stopped payment of Puja bonus in 1962 on account of the implementation of the Minimum Wages Act for the workmen. The claim of the workmen for Puja bonus for 1962 is, therefore, not justified, and they are not entitled to get any Puja bonus for 1962 as claimed by them.

Association, of which the bus owners who are parties to this reference are members, has been paying one month's wages as Puja bonus to its employees, including the time-keepers, since the formation of the Association in September 1955. It is also an admitted fact that in 1962 Puja bonus paid by the Association to the time-keepers was less than one month's wages. The paymet of less than one month's wages as Puja bonus to the time-keepers employed under the Association is said to be justified on the ground that in 1962 the Association suffered a loss on account of a defalcation of a sum of Rs. 14,000 by the cashier of the Association who subsequently committed suicide. To prove the alleged loss a letter from the Superintendent of Police, Howrah, to the Honorary Secretary of the Shibpur Bus Association, has been filed. The letter has been marked Ext. C. It does not throw any light as to the amount of loss alleged to have been suffered by the Association. The alleged loss of Rs. 14,000 by the Association been satisfactorily proved. Puja bonus a profit sharing bonus, but is a matter of the workers resting either in express or agreement between the employer and the The Association, since its inception in 1955.1 paying Puja bonus to its employees inclin time-keepers. The evidence of O.P.W. 71 Nath Kundu who is the Secretary of Association, is that the payment of Puja bo 1955 was not at an uniform rate, and ma according to the financial capacity of the tion. He has further stated that Puja bo paid equivalent to one month's wages in so and in some years a lesser amount was against his evidence, there is the evidence o') J. N. Ghosal, who has been working as the keeper under the Shibpur Bus Associating 1954. His evidence is that since 1954 he has paid one month's wages as Puja bonus Association, and the other employees of the tion have also been paid one month's wages bonus. There is thus oath against oath n the amount which was paid as bonus by the tion to its employees at the time of the Puni assuming that in some years an amount as one month's wages was paid, it is open to Tribunal to decide what reasonable amount be paid as such bonus. The Association h examined any of its other employees to pro he received less than one month's wages a There is thus no evidence to show what the employees of the Association received as Pun in 1962 except the uncorroborated evide O.P.W. 7. The amount equivalent to one 1 wages as Puja bonus for the time-keepers an be quite reasonable, and there is no justification reducing the amount to less than one mount The payment of one month's wages to the keepers, whose number though not exactly and presumably whose number is not large likely to cause any financial strain on the tion of which the number of bus owners of many as 72 buses are members. I, therek that the claim of the time-keepers for one wages as Puja bonus is justified, and t entitled to get the same.

The Association is directed to pay one wages as Puja bonus to the time-keepers less the amount already paid to them within from the date of publication of the award, tion filed by the workmen of Messrs. Allied Company, and the affidavits filed by S. K. Haradhan Banerji do form part of this award.

This is my award.

an application under section 33A of the Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), at the of the aggrieved workman Shri Bijoy Das orkman was employed as the Head Clerk s. Bengal Refractories Private Ltd., at a lated monthly salary of Rs. 200 by the appointment, dated 22nd March 1963. He resumed work on 15th April 1963, and the by by the letter, dated 11th March 1964 had ed with the service of the workman with rs' notice. During that time, an industrial was pending before this Tribunal, and the n) did not make any application under 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act for il of the action. It is further stated that ng to the existing rules and standing orders Company, the workman has to complete a onary period of six months and after that the workman is to be made permanent. He granted leave with wages like all permanent. The dismissal is challenged to be de, illegal and unjustified and it is said that rkman was not charge-sheeted for any alleged and was also not given any opportunity to e charge, if there is any. Lastly, it is stated e Company cannot take shelter behind the it the services of the temporary workmen can ninated any time the Company liked, and the circumstances of this case, the service of rkman must be deemed to have been made ent and that fact must be accepted whether in fact, confirmed or not.

The Company in its written statement had submitted that the reference under section 10 related to the termination of service of a single workman, that there has been no contravention of section 33 (2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act and that the workman had been dismissed in accordance with clauses 3 and 4 mentioned in the appointment letter dated 22nd March 1963. It has been provided in clause 4 that during the temporary period of employment the Company has the right of despensing with the services of the workmen by giving 24 hours' notice. It has also been laid down that no reason is required to be assigned for terminating the service of the workman. Lastly, it is stated that the workman, during the tenure of his service, never applied for confirmation after the expiry of six months, inasmuch as he knew that the Standing Orders of the Company do not apply in his case and that he is governed by the terms of the appointment letter.

During the pendency of this case, the matter has been settled and the workman has sworn an affidavit on 12th August 1964 stating that he had received a lump sum payment of Rs. 200 from the Company by cheque No. 936980, dated 8th August 1964, on the United Commercial Bank Ltd. and he did not want to proceed with the hearing and that a "no dispute" award might be passed. I am satisfied that the terms are legal and should be given effect to. I accordingly order that a "no dispute" award should be passed in this case.

This is my award.

The following issue has been framed for adjudgation in the dispute referred under G.O. No. 1888-L dated the 10th May 1963:

Whether the refusal of employment to  $Shr_1$  R Awtar, Conductor, is justified?  $T_0$  w relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

These two references are dealt with one award or the common question of fact and law is involved will first take up the case referred under G No. 1295-I.R. dated 26th March 1963, respect of seven workmen. The case of the Union this reference in its written statement is that Mes Dilwar Singh and Balbir Singh is a private mo transport concern plying seven buses No. 136, 140, 141, 145, 146 and 147 in different routes. Thave also lorries and private cars. The ser condition in this transport business is far fr satisfactory. There is no service rule, holds overtime allowance or fixed hours of duty 1 drivers used to receive Rs. 3.75 per day, conduct Rs. 2.25 per day, conductor helper Rs. 1.12 per ( and so on. The bus drivers and conductors a to be paid bakshis and special bakshis on the s proceeds of tickets. The management did: implement the recommendations of the Wage Bo fixing minimum wages. The West Bengal Gove ment put pressure upon the management for im; metnation of the minimum wages. The workmen this Company joined the Union (Rastriya | Mazdoor Congress) which is an omnibus union bus workers. On pressure being put by that Un and following a strike, implementation of minim wages was made on 23rd July 1962. Thereafter, workmen demanded Puja Bonus for 1962 claimed service rules and submitted a charter demands on 18th October 1962. The managem was displeased by the agitation of the workmen better service condition, bonus, etc., and star victimisation. It stopped paying bakshis and spe bakshis from 1st March 1962 in some cases, fr 13th November 1962 in two cases and from 2 November 1962 in the case of Ganga Proasd. to 17th February 1963 they were kept on garage d without work. Those workmen are active leaf of the Union, and they were threatened by management for organising the Union. On I February 1963 the workmen were arrested un Defence of India Rules on the complaint of management, and thereafter they were refu employment. Their vacancies have been filled up Punjabi Sikh drivers and conductors. Efforts conciliation were unsuccessful, and ultimately reference was made to the Tribunal with the iss already set forth. The Union claims that the set workmen named in the order of reference entitled to reinstatement and wages for the per of unemployment.

The Company filed a written statement in ans to that of the Union. It is contended that the or of reference is not legal and maintainable. It is trial dispute, and the Rastriya Bus Mazdoor has no representative character or authorepresent the workmen in question. It is contended that the persons named in the reference are not workmen of the Company, e is no relationship of master and servant them and the Company. The Company mum rates of wages to those persons who red to come under the scheme. Others who outside the scheme, cotinnued to receive on commission basis. The allegation of Bion is talse. The management was always k to implement the minimum wages scheme, Union had no occasion to make any agitathis respect. The charter of demands claimhis and special bakshis while working on 1 wages system has been negatived by the ient.

ersons in question used to work on daily system, and it was their pleasure to come k. The management had no control over any compulsion upon them for joining their a particular day. They are not, therefore, of the Company. There was no continuity syment in the Company. The Company is of their Union activities, and as such the of victimisation of Union leaders does not by to 17th February 1963 the drivers and ors were paid wages and they were kept as nots.

th February 1963, the persons name in the reference did not come to the Company for d they were not heard of since then. They ested by the police under Defenc of India n that day. The allegation of refusal of ent is false.

Decision

pre I proceed to decide the question, I should e of the objection raised on the side of the any that the reference is bad on several ds The learned Advocate for the Company ced argument that though the transport as belonged to the Company on the date of order of reference, subsequently the two ers Dilwar Singh and Balbir Singh -separated he buses were divided between them. The Bus were also separated, and the R.T.O. issued the permits to the two brothers, Exhibit C is the first of the R.T.O., dated 23rd July 1964. I nable to accept this objection. The Company vistence when the reference was made. The ved workmen would claim their relief against company which refused them employment. The pany had existence up to the date of reference even thereafter. The R.T.O.'s letter is not the lusive evidence as to the non-existence of the pany. Even if the two brothers had separated, elief which the workmen would be entitled to, ld be given by the two brothers as if the pany existed. The objection raised on this on behalf of the Company must stand rejected.

will come to the substantial objection on h the Company relies, namely, it is not an itrial dispute, inasmuch as the workmen named le order of reference are not workmen of the pany, and there is no relationship of master and at between them, and further that the Union in question which is an omnibus Union has no representative character or authority to espouse the cause of the dismissed workmen.

With regard to the first contention, namely, that the workmen are not workmen as defined in section 2, clause (s) of the Industrial Disputes Act, it is contended on behalf of teh Company that they used to receive daily wages and the management had no control over them, and so they are not workmen within the definition of the Act. The question which accordingly falls to be decided is whether the drivers and conductors used to work as day labourers or the management had authority to compel their attendance and had control over them. With regard to condition of service, the Company could not file any document. The oral evidence of O.P.W. 4 Balbir Singh cannot be accepted in this respect. The mere fact that the wages were paid daily, will not be a pointer to the Company's assertion that the workmen were daily employed on daily contract of service. The Garage Register in the custody of the Company could have been filed to show that the workers were free to come as they please without any compulsion upon them to attend work every day. P.W. 1 Dharamnath stated that he used to be allotted for duty to different buses on different dates. P.W. 2 Shri Ram Ashraya Singh stated in his evidence that the employer used to make daily payment and allot duty to the workman to a particular bus, and those who used to come for work in the first bus had off duty at 2-30 p.m. He further added that the garage register used to be signed by one driver and one conductor. P.W. 3 Sk. Alauddin stated in his evidence that he used to get his wages at the end of day's work, and he did not get wages for the day he did not work. On this evidence it is commended that since it was a "no work no pay" system, the workmen were day labourers. But I cannot come to this conclusion. Wages were not paid for the day of absence, because the management did not allow any leave to the workmen. It is clearly established in the evidence before me—both of the workmen and Balbir Singh—that during the period from 9th November 1962 to 17th February 1963 the drivers and conductors were not allotted any duty to any of the buses. They were placed on garage duty which means that they were rendered idle. During this period they attended at the garage, took their regular wages for the day and left. If really the drivers and conductors were on daily contract and their services were not utilised in the buses, it is inexplicable as to why their regular wages were paid for the period of their idleness. Thus I conclude that they were not daily contract labourer, but they were in regular employment of the Company, and as such they were workmen within the definition the Act.

The next contention on the side of the Company is that the Rastriya Bus Mazdoor Congress is an omnibus Union of transport workers and it is not authorised to espouse the cause of the dismissed workmen unless a substantial number of workmen of this unit of industry espouses the cause of the workmen in question, or are members of the Rastriya Bus Mazdoor Congress. P.W. 1 Shri Dharam Nath Prosad stated in his evidence that he is a member of this Union and that the 73 workmen who used to work in this Company are also members of this Union. He further added that they made applications for being members of the Union.

P.W. 2 Shri Ram Ashraya Singh also stated in his evidence that he is a member of this Union, and 60 workmen of the Company are also members of it. P.W. 3 Sk. Alauddin also stated that he is a member of the Union. All these are workmen of the Company, who are named in the order of reference. They complain of refusal of employment. P.W. 4 Shri Ram Nath Sinha is the Secretary of the representing Union. He has filed subscription register as well as cash book (Exts. 8 and 9). receipt books for realisation of subscription is Ext. 10series. The Secretary of the Union stated that the Union was started in 1948, and all the workers of this Company are members of this Union since 1961. I may mention here that all these documents do not bear any signature of the workers. The Union did not examine any worker of this Company besides the three employees named in the order of reference to prove that the workers other than those named in the order of reference are members of this Union. On the contrary, the Company examined a number of witnesses, namely, O.P.W. 1 Nageswar Singh, O.P.W. 2 Shri Mithu Goala and O.P.W. 3 Ram Pujan Singh, who are admittedly workers of this Company. They stated on oath that they are not members of the Union, and they did not pay any subscription to the Union, nor did they apporach the Union for raising this dispute. That being the evidence of the three witnesses examined on the side of the Company, I am inclined to view with suspicion the documents filed by the Union showing their names as members of this Union. The Secretary of the Union Shri Sinha has stated that he has application forms which he received from the workers being members of his Union, but they are not filed. Even assuming, though not accepting, that a number of workers of this Company are members of this Union, the onus is on the Union to show that the individual dispute of these workmen had been raised to the level of industrial dispute by sympathy and collaboration of the other workers of this Company who are said to be members of this general Union. The general Union must prove by a resolution or by any other means that a substantial number of workmen of this Company espoused the cause of the workmen named in the order of reference, and the general Union or its Secretary was authorised to take their dispute. In this connection, I may refer to the two decisions of the Calcutta High Court reported in 1963 L.L.J. I page 163 and 1962 L.L.J. II page 93. In the first case, it has been laid down that the real test for transforming an individual dispute to an industrial dispute is whether the stranger Union, as in the present case, has the backing, sympathy or collaboration of the majority or a large section of the workmen employed in the particular industry, and such workmen feel themselves concerned in the dispute. It has further been held that if a stranger Union takes up the cause of an individual workman, the onus is on the Union to prove that it has the backing, sympathy and collaboration of a substantial number of work-men employed in the industry. In the 1962 L.L.J. case referred to above, it has been observed that from the mere fact that a general Union, at whose instance the individual dispute concerning an inviduial workman is referred for adjudication, has on its rolls a few of the workmen in the establishment as its members, it cannot be assumed that the individual dispute was converted into a collective dispute. In such a case not only show porved that the workmen, who are member general Union, form a substantial or com section of the workmen of the particular but also that in order to vest the dispute character of an industrial dispute those participated in or acted together and arrive understanding either by a resolution or by m ans and collectively supported on the day reference the demand or the cause of an in dispute. In the present case, there is no m by the members of this Union who are wa this Company authorising the Secretar Union to raise the dispute of the workmen in the order of reference. The Secretary Union does not even say that there had resolution to that effect. The Constitution Union has been filed. But it does not the Secretary to represent a dispute unda Constitution. Such authority on the Secretar therefore, be derived by a resolution of the me of the Union. No such resolution is either That being the position, I must accept the (on contention that the general Union has m standi to convert the individual dispute a industrial dispute for want of evidence on the that other workers of this industry had the and sympathy or collaboration for the wa named in the order of reference. The decisi this point will be a settler to the entire rela Since there is no industrial dispute, the Tribus no jurisdiction to enter into the ments a reference, and in that view of the mattr. reference is to be rejected as incompetent

Now I will take up the other case reprefusal of employment to Shri Ram A Conductor, which has been referred to me G.O. No. 1888-I.R., dated the 10th May 1966 issue has already been set forth in the begins this award. In the dispute regarding this which also, the same Rastriya Bus Mazdoor Congress the same employer Messrs. Dilwar Singh & Singh are concerned, and the learned Advect the Company took the same preliminary obtains in the previous case decided hereabove (preliminary point that it is not an industrial of the previous case, and this will equally applicase of Ram Awtar also. The reference reference of Ram Awtar must therefore be held to be law and should be rejected.

This is my award, and by this award I disp the two cases referred under G.O. No. 12 dated the 26th March 1963, and 1888-I.R., dat 10th May 1963, to this Tribunal for adjudsince common question to the law and involved in both the cases.

AWARD

The Union in its written statement states that the Company is a prosperous one. The Company has a factory at Hide Road Extension at Alipore. It has a business of manufacturing and repairing of weighing, testing and counting machines. Its service department is located at Hide Road, Kidderpore, with branches at Kharagpur, Asansol, Durgapur and other places. The service department staff have three types of work to perform. They work inside the factory, outside the factory and do up-country work involving night halt outside Calcutta. The workmen doing up-country work used to enjoy khoraki, overtime, conveyance and other allowances. Khoraki was fixed at Rs. 3.50 P. on the basis of cost of living index, and it should be increased.

The Company pays tiffin allowance of 37 P. to workers who are required to work outside the factory and return to the factory after 5-30 p.m. This tiffin allowance should be increased. The service department people have to go up-country and travel by third class in trains. First class train fare is claimed for the workmen drawing salary of Rs. 150 and above, and sleeping accommodation is claimed for the rest.

Shri Nepal Chandra Shaw, Shri Samir Chatterjee, Shri Asoke Mandal and Shri Gopal Chandra Das were appointed as apprentice fitters in December 1959. Their services were wrongfully terminated. The trade test that was taken in their case was a mere farce.

The Company filed a written statement in answer to that of the Union. The Company is paying to those workmen doing up-country work various allowances, such as, khoraki allowance, compensatory time allowance, travelling expenses, conveyance expenses, room rent and sometimes hotel expenses. The rate of khoraki allowance that is paid is quite adequate and should not be revised.

Tiffin allowance is paid to the workers of the service department as per award of the Tribunal, and there is no reason why this should be revised. The Company makes arrangement for accommodation and in suitable cases sleeping accommodation for workers proceeding on up-country work. The claim for first class train fare for fitters drawing salaries of Rs. 150 and above is unjust.

The four apprentices were subjected to trade test. and as they were found unfit, their services were terminated.

Decision

Issue No. 1

The Union did not adduce any evidence to prove that the khoraki allowance of Rs. 3.50 is insufficient. Khoraki allowance is paid to workers of the service department going on up-country work, i.e., going outside Calcutta and involving night halt. O.P.W.1 Mr. W. J. Shephard, who is the Area Service Supervisor, gave evidence. Various allowances that are paid to workers doing up-country work are shown in Ext. B-series. Besides khoraki allowance, compensatory allowance and room rent are paid to them. The Company also pays them conveyance allowance, e.g., train fare, rickshaw fare, coolie fare and taxi fare. In case of travel after mid-night, the workmen are entitled to get their eight hours' basic wages. In the last page of Ext. B-series, the rates of different categories of workmen are given. Thus the workmen going out of Calcutta and doing up-country work, get various allowances besides khoraki allowance. Khoraki allowance is obviously paid in consideration of the food prices, and this is admitted by Mr. Shephard. But Mr. Shephard has added that the dearness allowance which the Company pays is linked with the cost of living index. The learned represen-tative for the Company states that since dearness allowance has increased with the rise in the cost of living index, the khoraki allowance now in force should not be interfered with. This argument advanced on the side of the Company is partially acceptable. Dearness allowance which is given on the basis of cost of living index neutralises the rise in prices as far as practicable. Khoraki allowance is paid to workers going for up-country work involving night halt outside Calcutta, and this is given to them as they have to incur extra expenditure on account of food. The Company pays actual expenses incurred by the employees on account of food while staying up-country. Food has got to be purchased from the market, and the price of food staff has admittedly gone high since the last revision of khoraki allowance in 1960. The Company revised the khoraki allowance from Rs. 3.25 to Rs. 3.50 in the year 1960. An increase of 25 P. in the rate of khoraki allowance was made by the Company in course of 3/4 years. If I abide by the same rate, there should now be an increase of the same rate. increase of at least 25 P. in the rate of khoraki a lowance, because the prices of food staff have gone considerably high in the year 1964 as compared to 1960. I am not raising the khoraki allowance with any degree of parity to the rate of rise in the price of food stuff. Since the Company obviously raised the khoraki allowance from Rs. 3.25 to Rs. 3.50, it is only proper that it should be increased to Rs. 3.75 per day (by adding 25 P. to the existing rate), considering the high price of food stuff for people staying outside their ordinary place of residence. It is true that compensatory and other allowances are paid. But they have no bearing upon the khoraki allowance since it is an allowance in respect of food only. On a comprehensive consideration of the various aspects. I allow khorakı allowance at the rate of Rs. 3.75 P. per diem, and this will be effective from the date of this award.

Lasue No. 2

Tiffin allowance is paid to the workers of the service department who go out of the factory for outdoor work, and do not return to the factory by 5-30 p.m. By an award of the Tribunal in the year 1960, tiffin allowance of 37 P. per day was awarded to workers who are required to go outside the factory and return to the factory after 5 p.m. Admittedly, such workers cannot avail of the canteen facilities, the canteen being located in the factory. In lieu of that the learned Tribunal awarded tiffin allowance in 1960, and this was on account of food. The of food stuffs have gone up immensely sunce and in view of such rise in the price of food am raising the tiflin allowance from 37 P. to per head per diem. This recommendation of will also have effect from the date of this away.

Issue No. 3

With regard to train fare, the evidence is the workers are paid third class fare, and who available they are paid extra amount for a accommodation in third class. This arrangement quite fair. The claim of first class for well drawing a salary of Rs. 150 and above is unjuted an ordinary workman is given first class train it would be too much burden upon the Cor Considering the manual nature of work the form, the workers of this category can a travel by third class, and the journey by third should not be considered very streneous for In the result, the union is not entitled to any on this account.

Issue No. 4

This issue relates to four apprentices, in Nepal Chandra Shaw, Asoke Kumar Mandal Chatterjee and Gopal Chandra Das. They are apprentices within the definition of clause (v) tion 6 of the standing orders. The expression apprentice" has been defined to be as "wo under training with or without any allowance the period of that training. They are not we as defined in clause (iii), nor casual works defined in clause (iv), nor permanent works defined in clause (i) nor probationers as defined in clause (i) nor probationers as deficient (ii). They stand as a category by them they would be under training. They are not workmen nor temporary workmen in the control of the con the classification of workmen in section 6 c standing orders. The Union objects against t mination of services of these four apprentices ground that they were permanent employee their services could not be terminated in the I done. I am taking up the case of Gopal and separately. Gopal gave evidence before the nal, but Asoke did not. Gopal's evidence is t had been serving the Company for the last years. He used to work as a helper to the His service was terminated on 22nd April 196. Fat M). The reason assigned for termination service is that he was found unsatisfactory trade test. The term of apprenticeship was 1 ingly terminated with effect from 1st June 1963 appointment forms are Ext. A-series. By appoint forms, the apprentices accepted the pany's condition of service as set out in the storders. Now I shall peruse the standing defining the trade apprentices. The apprentic to remain on training. They may receive alk or may not. The maximum period of train ordinarily prescribed to be five years. But request of the apprentices, the period mextended. Thereafter it is provided that an it is a shall be resident as a straining about the measurement. tice shall be paid an allowance during the pe apprenticeship as fixed by the Company. The sion regarding appointment of apprentices allowance is contradicted by the last portion definition. Payment of allowance is therefore

y. With regard to termination of employction C sub-section (2) makes the provision. se (iii) the case of termination of workers in permanent workers is provided. In the vorkers other than permanent, termination of ent may be communicated orally without d may take effect immediately. If notice is illy it shall subsequently be confirmed in This provides the manner of communication der of termination. Then follows the provitermination of service of temporary workmen. not entitled to any notice of termination. bationers are not also entitled to any notice. ard to termination of service of a temporary in it is provided that it shall not be termia punishment, unless he has been given an ity of explaining the charges against him. re is no provision as to how the services of apprentice are to be terminated. In the prethe termination was not by way of punishd as such the question of charge-sheet does Section 2, sub-section (1) provides that the ent of any permanent workman may be d by 30 days' notice. Even if I treat the prentices as permanent workmen, their may be terminated by 30 days' notice. In ant case, the trade apprentices were under and their termination of service on the of inefficiency cannot but be held to be justiwided the Company can show that the appreniose services were terminated were unsuitable inuance of training.

argued on the side of the Union that the prentices were victimised by the Managethere is no evidence whatsoever to show that rsons were victimised. The evidence of Mr. 1. Company's Area Service Supervisor, is se apprentices were subjected to test. The test has been proved by Mr. Shephard and J. Exhibit K is a statement of performance apprentice at the test. Serial 4 of Exhibit J and serial 12 is Ashoke. They were found ne, because they could not do the job assigned I have no reason to hold that this report sed in any way by the management or that anagement had any special grudge against nd Ashoke. Exhibit K shows that serial Nos. 15 and 5 were ordered to be discharged. the Tribunal, Gopal alone gave evidence that on the day of test he was given a which he saw for the first time. He admits Shephard and Mr. Murr took the test. Mr. rd's evidence is that he rendered assistance to but in spite of that Gopal could not do the ssigned to him. There was not much diffen the machines which were offered at the test apprentices and which they handled while training. The only difference was that the swere only smaller in size. Mr. Shephard the opinion that Gopal's performance at the not at all satisfactory. Mr. Shephard is the authority, and I should not ignore his opinion 5 views are of a technical expert. The union n contend that Gopal was victimised by the ment for some reason or other. In the circumof the Management found Gopal unsuitable, bunal should not interfere. With regard to he did not give evidence before the Tribushing and the should not interfere. o his performance at the test. The report of phard is against him, and I cannot say that

Mr. Shephard's remarks about him are unfounded. The termination of service of Ashoke and Gopal in the aforesaid circumstances is, therefore, held to be justified.

With regard to the other two apprentices, Nepal and Samir, the Company filed documents to show that they have compromised their dispute with the Company, and received payment of their wages. They declared that they had no dispute with the Company. This will appear from the documents marked Exhibits N and N|1. Samir and Nepal were not examined before the Tribunal to deny their admissions in the documents (Exhibits N and N/1). That being so, Nepal and Samir have no case, and the termination of their apprenticeship cannot be said to be unjustified.

This is my award which is to be implemented within 30 days of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette."

e humble petition of the parties abovenamed—respectfully sheweth:

That adjudication proceedings in respect of bove dispute on the issue, namely.

Are the workmen entitled to any bonus for the year 1962-63 in view of the agreement, dated 23rd January 1963? If so, what should be the quantum?"

been pending before Your Honour.

That in the meantime, a dispute relating to sharing bonus for the year 1963-64 having been I by the Union, conciliation proceedings were d by Shri H. M. Ghosh, D.L.C., West Bengal, pursuant to his suggestions, but in slight modion thereof, in view, among other things, of the sed legislation on Bonus Commission recomplations, and for ensuing place in the industry, parties arrived at a bipartite settlement on 2nd per 1964, settling amicably the disputes relating rofit Sharing Bonus for the years 1962-63 and -64.

That the terms of the said bipartite settlement puoted hereunder:—

- That instead of any ad hoc arrangement on profit-sharing bonus for the years 1962-63 and 1963-64, the parties herein make this agreement in full and final settlement of the aforesaid issues.
- 2) That the Company agrees to pay profitsharing bonus for the year 1962-63 an amount equivalent to one month 25 (twentyfive) days' basic wages of the aforesaid year.

The advance of six weeks basic wages already made to the workmen against their claim for profit-sharing bonus for the year 1962-63 will be adjusted against the said bonus and the balance of 10 days basic wages existing at the relevant period will be paid to them. It may also be mentioned that the payment of one month 25 days is an addition to one month bonus paid for the year 1962-63, vide Company's Office Note No. GH|GM|ON|18, dated 27th September 1963.

- If the said advance of six weeks' basic wages has been recovered from any workmen due to his retirement or otherwise that workmen also will get the bonus as declared above for the year 1962-63.
- (3) The Company will pay the profit-sharing bonus equivalent to one month 25 (twenty-five) days' basic wages to all the workmen of the Company for the year 1963-64 over and above one month's bonus already declared by the Company, vide their Office Note No. GH|GM|ON|188, dated 12th September 1964 and the workmen will accept the same in full and final settlement of their claim for profit-sharing bonus for the year 1963-64. This settles all the disputes and claim in respect of bonus of whatsoever nature up to year 1963-64.
- (4) That the parties herein will file a joint petition of compromise before the Third Industrial Tribunal in terms of this Agreement and pray that an award be passed in terms of said compromise petition for the year 1962-63
- (5) That the question of bonus thereafter, i.e., after 1963-64 will be decided as per provision of the proposed enactment following the recommendations of Bonus Commission.
- 4. That this joint petition is in terms of clause 4 of the above bipartite settlement, dated 2nd October 1964.

It is humbly prayed that Your Honour would be pleased to make an award accordingly covering the issue of profit-sharing bonus for the year 1962-63, in terms of the above bipartite settlement.

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT

Name of the parties: (1) Oberoi Grand Hotel, 15 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-13. (2) Workmen of Oberoi Grand, represented by Oberoi Grand Hotel Karmachari Union, 249 Bepin Behari Ganguli Street, Calcutta. Representatives of the Company: Mr. P. Bhasin, Acting General Manager, Col. R. Bose, Personnel Manager, Mr. G. Daniels, Accounts Executive.

Representatives of the Union: Md. Hasib, General Secretary, Mr. R. Chakraborty, Assistant Secretary, Mr. K. N. Dutta, Member, Executive Committee, Mr. S. Bose, Member, Executive Committee, Md. Israil, Member, Executive Committee, Mr. Mani Mukherjee, Member, Executive Committee.

Short recital: The workmen have claimed through their Union four months' profit-sharing bonus for the year 1963-64 vide, Union's letter, dated 4th September 1964. The Company rejected the claim contending inter alia, that the workmen are not entitled to claim any bonus as profit-sharing in view of clause 27 of the agreement, dated 23rd January 1963.

A similar claim was made by the Union last year for profit-sharing bonus for the year 1962-63 and the Company refused to pay any such bonus on the ground stated above. The said dispute is now pending before the Third Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, under Order of Reference No. 3969-I.R. IR 11L-60 63, dated 4th September 1964.

This year the dispute relating to profit-sharing bonus for the year 1963-64 has been taken up for conciliation by Shri H. M. Ghosh, Deputy Labour Commissioner, and in a Joint Meeting held on 28th September 1964 he suggested to make advances on the last year basis.

The parties thereupon decided to discuss the matter in their Consultative Committee meeting which was held on 29th September 1964. In the said meeting the Company conveyed its decision accepting the suggestion of the Conciliation Officer and presented a draft agreement on that basis. It was, however, suggested in the said meeting by the Union that instead of making payment on ad hoc basis to be adjusted afterwards either on the final decision of the issue now pending before the Third Industrial Tribunal or on the basis of proposed legislation on the recommendation of Bonus Commission, the issue on profit-sharing bonus be settled finally so that the peace in the industry is not disturbed.

On a consideration of the suggestion of the Union and in view of the recommendation of the Bonus Commission and also in view of the proposed legislation on this question, the Company has, however, without prejudice to its earlier contention against the workmen's claim for profit-sharing bonus agreed to the suggestion of the union for a final settlement of the issue on profit-sharing bonus for the year 1962-63 now pending with the Tribunal as well as for the year 1963-64.

In view of the above, both the parties herein settle the disputes for the year 1962-63 and 1963-64 on the following terms:

(1) That instead of any ad hoc arrangement on profit-sharing bonus for the years 1962-63 and 1963-64, the parties herein make this agreement in full and final settlement of the aforesaid issues.

- (2) That the Company agrees to pay profit bonus for the year 1962-63 an equivalent to one month 25 day; wages of the aforesaid year. The atof six weeks basic wages already and the workmen against their claim for sharing bonus for the year 1962-63 adjusted against the said bonus at balance of 10 days' basic wages extend the relevant period will be paid to the relevant period will be paid to the relevant period will be paid to the relevant period will be paid to the relevant period will be paid to the relevant period will be paid to the relevant period will be paid to the relevant period will be paid to the relevant period will be paid to the pay of one month 25 days is an addition to month bonus paid for the year like vide Company's office Note No GHG ON 18, dated 27th September 1963
- If the said advance of six weeks basic wages been recovered from any workman de his retirement or otherwise that work also will get the bonus as declared a for the year 1962-63.
- (3) The Company will pay the profitsh bonus equivalent to one month 25 basic wages to all the workmen of Company for the year 1963-64 over above one month's bonus already do by the Company vide their office Not GH|GM|ON|188, dated 12th September 1964, and the workmen will accept same in full and final settlement of the claim for profit-sharing bonus for the 1963-64. This settles all the dispute claim in respect of bonus of whats nature up to year 1963-64.
- (4) That the parties herein will file a joint tion of compromise before the Third I trial Tribunal in terms of this agra and pray that an award be passed in of said compromise petition for the 1962-63.
- (5) That the question of bonus thereafter after 1963-64 will be decided as persion of the proposed enactment follows the recommendations of Bonus Communications

Shri R. BHATT ACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act arising out of Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3642-I.R./IR/13L-34/63, dated 19th August 1964, over a dispute between Messrs. The Indian Press (P) Ltd., 93A Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13, and their workmen represented by the West Bengal Press Workers' and Employees' Union, 84/1A Bepin Behari Ganguly Street, Calcutta-12. The issue mentioned in the order of reference is as follows:

Whether Shri Purna Chandra Ghosh is entitled to any retiral benefit in respect of his service prior to 1946? If so, what should be the nature and quantum of this benefit?

Both the parties submitted their respective written statements. Today was fixed for hearing. Shri Biswanath Ash, the learned Advocate on behalf of the workmen, in his usual fairness admitted that there was no legal basis for any claim in this case and appealed to the Tribunal for granting of some exgratia payment to the workman Shri Purna Chandra Ghosh without creating any precedent. I asked Shri Mukherjee appearing on behalf of the Indian Press (P) Ltd. whether his client was prepared as a matter of grace and out of sympathy to grant some amount to the workman in question. The Secretary of the Company very kindly agreed to offer a sum of Rs. 70 (rupees seventy only) as ex-gratia payment without admitting the claim of the workman. The parties thereafter filed a joint petition of compromise and it was agreed by both the parties that an award might be passed in terms of the said petition. I have considered the petition and hearing the parties I find that the compromise is legal and voluntary. As prayed for by the parties, I pass an award in terms of the joint petition of compromise filed today which shall form part of the award as Annexure "A.

Issue

the proposed increase in working hours and adment of holidays in the Hide Road establishat of the Company justified? To what relief, if the workmen are entitled?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Indusl Disputes Act, received from the Government of st Bengal, for adjudication of an industrial dispute sting between Messrs. Voltas Ltd., Hide Road, Iderpore, Calcutta (hereinafter be referred to as the mpany), and their workmen represented by Voltas Volkart Employees' Union, 8 Netaji Subhas Road, leutta-1 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

Immediately after receipt of the reference, both thes were summoned to appear and present their pective cases, which they did, and on completion the preliminary steps, the case was heard at length. It is a length to the preliminary steps and the preliminary steps are examined on both sides and the steps are examined on both sides and the steps are examined on both sides.

The Union's case is that the Company is a Public mited concern incorporated under the Indian Comnies Act and was brought into existence in 1954 amalgamation of two reputed concerns, viz., essrs Volkart Brothers and Tata Sons Ltd., and at the Company carries on extensive business of port (marketing, engineering, manufacturing, serung, etc.) and is a premier concern in the line of trade It has been regularly earning profits, the amount of which raised from Rs. 15 lakhs in 54 to Rs. 73 lakhs in 1961. After incorporation 1954 the employees of the Company continued to be governed by the same service conditions as prevailing under the Volkart Brothers and it was the longstanding practice with the Company to discuss periodically with the Union the service conditions, benefits and amenities of the workmen before implementation of any step. But sometimes after amalgamation the Company refused to take an aid of the consultation machinery and started to take steps arbitrarily without any discussion or consultation with the Union representatives. In this direction the Company suddenly started taking action by giving a notice of change on 12th July 1962 under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act proposing to increase the working hours from 361 to 45 per week, and also to reduce the number of holidays from 21 to 10 per year in respect of about 400 workmen employed in Hide Road establishments of the Company. In the Hide Road the Company runs a factory, a service station, godown and warehouses. By the proposed change, the workmen of the spare parts sales section of the Hide Road establishments will not be affected. Those workmen are excluded from the operation of the proposed increased hours of working and the reduced number of holidays. The Company has sought to introduce the changes in utter disregard to the age-long practice and without any consultation or discussion with the consultation machinery. The proposed changes will be highly prejudicial to the interest of the workmen and hence the workmen through their Union immediately lodged a protest with the Company for taking such an arbitrary step to change the service condi-tions of the workmen. But the Company remained adamant. Hence the dispute was raised.

The Company in its written statement has admitted that it is a Public Limited Company incorporated under the Indian Companies Act and was brought into existence in 1954 by amalgamation of two well-known firms of Messrs. Volkart Brothers and Tata Sons Ltd., and it has further admitted its uninterrupted progress and making of profits more and more every year of its existence. It has, however, denied its unsympathetic attitude towards the employees and non-implementation of the recommendations of the consultation machinery. It further admits the notice of change under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act proposing to increase the working hours from 36½ to 45 per week and to reduce the number of holidays from 21 to 10 per year in respect of the employees of the Hide Road establishment with the exception of the workmen working in the spare parts sales section of the said establishment. Its contention is that for administrative convenience and to cope with increased volume of work the changes have been proposed. All other allegations have been denied.

Decision

Admittedly the Company under its present name and style was formed in 1954 by the amalgamation of two big and reputed concerns like Messrs. Volkart Brothers and Tata Sons Ltd. The Company has got branches in various parts of India,—Bombay, Ranchi, Jamsedpur, Tatanagar and other places. The Head Office of the Calcutta branch of the Company is located at 8 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1. The Company has not denied its uninterrupted progress and prosperity as contended by the Union in paragraph 4 of the written statement, wherein it has stated that the Company's net profits after deduction of taxes rose from 15 lakhs in 1954 to 73 lakhs in 1961. The profit is mounting up every year. The Company's house magazine "We" (Ext. 3) will show that the profit further increased in the year 1962-63 to Rs. 85 lakhs (see page 23 of the magazine). That was the net profit earned by the Company in that year atter provision for income tax and super tax. The net profit prior to taxation was amounting to Rs. 1 crore 79 lakhs. The Company has got its factory, service station, godowns and warehouses at Hide Road, Kidderpore, Calcutta, and they are collectively called Hide Road establishments. The Company gave a notice of change on 12th July 1962 under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act proposing to increase working hours from 361 to 45 per week and to reduce the number of holidays from 21 to 10 per year in respect of the workmen engaged in the following departments, viz. (a) Mechanical Service, (b) Agriculture Construction Equipment Service, (c) Godown and Warehouses, but excluding spare parts sales section. Exhibit A is copy of the said notice of change. There is another department known as Air Conditioning|Refrigeration Service included in the Hide Road establishments but the workmen engaged in that department have been working 45 hours per week from before. The workmen of that section are affected only by the proposed reduction in the number of holidays in a year. The spare parts sales section which is another department included in the Hide Road establishments is excluded from the operation of the proposed changes in hours of work and the number of holidays. The workmen of that department remained unaffected. In other words, they will be working 361 hours per week and will be enjoying 21 days' holidays as before along with the employees of the Company working in the Head Office of the Calcutta Branch situated in the Dalhousie Square area. The Air Conditioning Refrigeration Service is the only department where the existing working hours has been 45 hours per week, but they have been enjoying 10 paid holidays and 16 half holidays every year. The Company has proposed to reduce the number of holidays in respect of all the departments in the Hide Road establishments excepting of course, the spare parts sales section to 10 days only per year. It is not that the Company has proposed the same working hours and the same number of holidays for the whole of the Hide Road establishments. The Company has, of course, contended that the change in the working hours has been proposed with a view to have uniform working hours for all the departments in the Hide Road establishments. But it is admitted by the Company that the workmen of the spare parts sales section are excluded from the operation of the proposed changes in the working hours and the paid holidays to be observed in a year. They will be enjoying 21 days' paid holidays in a year and will be working 361 hours per week as has been the practice from the very beginning, i.e., since 1938. The Company has not assigned any reason for the proposed changes in the notification Ext. A. But from the subsequent correspondence of the Company it appears that the proposed change in the working hours is with a view to introduce uniform working hours in the Hide Road establishments [vide Ext. C and 1(b)]. The Union's contention is that the Company with a mala fide motive has given the notice of change proposing to reduce the number of holidays from 21 to 10 per year and to increase working hours from 361 to 45 per week. further contended that the Company faced we charter of reasonable demands of the working the question of retrenchment of a good number temporary workers serving as such for a lung without being made permanent has taken this a as a counter-blast. Admittedly the workmen d Company submitted a charter of demands the their Union to the Company on 16th January (vide Ext. 5) claiming revision of the wages of categories of employees. It also included by other demands of the workmen. There are as as 29 items included therein. The Company of to the Union's charter of demands was reco shortly before the issue of the notice of change is section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act property to increase the working hours and to reduce number of holidays. Exhibit C is the reply de 28th of April 1962. In this reply some him. given of the proposed changes in the working ha with a view to make the working hours uniform me entire Hide Road establishments. But I have alter pointed out that there was no uniform working h proposed for all the Hide Road establishments workmen engaged in the spare parts sales we were excluded from the operation of the prochanges. They were allowed to remain in the ledged position along with the employees, work the Head Office situated at 8 Netaji Subhas Calcutta-1. The Company not only received charter of demands sometimes before this made Ext. A but also faced another demand of the land It is admitted by Company's witness Ship Sa Surja Dey that Union raised the question permanency of the temporary workmen in the emili of the Company. According to him the number such workmen was about 60 but according wf Union there are about 200 temporary workmen s in spite of their service for long have not been m permanent. Admittedly that dispute has since b referred to this Tribunal for adjudication and a not yet reached the stage of hearing. Be that may, the fact remains that notice of change usection 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act (Ex was given by the Company sometime after har received the charter of demands Ext. 5 from the U and after the dispute on the question of perman of a large number of temporary workmen in employ of the Company was raised. Therefore difficult to brush aside the Union's contention unsubstantial. At the time of hearing of the some attempt was made on the part of the Conto show by adducing oral evidence that the Cor had to introduce the uniform working hol increasing the hours of work from 36½ to 4 week on the pressing demands of the customers. evidence on this point is that of the Company's warm No. 2 Shri N. Bala Krishnan who is Area Serve Manager of Earth Moving, Mining and Agricultural Division. His evidence is that the customers or complained to him for shorter working hours in Service Stations and he too reported the complaint orally to the Head Office, and at the same time report ed to the Head Office that there has been congest of work in his Division due to shorter working hou Strangely enough he cannot produce a scrap of par-

the alleged complaints and his report to the the. He is an ex-army man and his educapalification is that he is a Matriculate. It is to give credence to his oral evidence uned by any document whatsoever which is ordiapected in a case of this nature as alleged by herefore, this belated story of the Company substantiated by any satisfactory evidence.
disputed that Air Conditioning Refrigeration Section was working 45 hours per week from inception, i.e., from 1936 or 1938, and the section was all along working 36½ hours the two sections were located side by side sly in the same premises in Jackson Lane in ise Square area. There was no difficulty or nience complained of prior to the serving of rter of demands by the Union in 1961. It is er the receipt of the charter of demands Ext. 5 ipany took it into their head to centralise and all the Service Stations and godowns and ises in the factory premises at Hide Road, ore, which is at the outskirt of the city. very clear from the correspondence that followr submission of the charter of demands (Ext. appears from the evidence on the record that sly the Company was implementing the recomions of the Consultation Committee comprising representatives of the employers and all the es on the questions of wage rates, service ms and amenities and privileges of the work-But the Company avoided the consultation ery since the last charter of demands was Ited by the Union on 16th January 1961, and uently when a further dispute was raised on the on of permanency of about 200 workmen workt long as temporary workers under the Company it being made permanent. The Company has lenied the existence of the consultation There is also document to show its ice Company's letter Ext. 1(a) goes to show in Union used to furnish names of the members enting the workmen to the Consultation Com-. The Company by this letter acknowledged mes of the workmen's representatives furnished Union. Immediately after the notice of change section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act (Ext. is given by the Company, the Union lodged a on the very next day to the Labour Commisby a letter Ext. 1(d) and workmen also immemet in a general meeting and unanimously d a resolution against the move of the Company ing to increase the working hours and to reduce mber of holidays [vide Ext. 1(e)]. It appears he Company's letter, dated 1st August 1962, sed to the Assistant Labour Commissioner [Ext. hat the Company in course of discussion with non agreed to consider the question of compenfor those workmen whose working hours were ed from 361 hours to 45 hours per week. In ne letter the Branch Manager has stated that the has rejected the proposed compensation to the en who are affected by the notice. But this ant of the Branch Manager does not appear to rect because the Union wrote to the Company on 30th April 1962 (vide Ext. C|1) enquiring ount of the compensation proposed to be given employees affected by the increased working proposed by the Company. But the Company of appear to have replied to this letter of the Union nor there is any evidence to show that the Company ever enlightened or informed the Union about the compensation it proposed to offer to such employees. In a subsequent letter, dated 21st August 1962, the Company reiterated the same proposal almost in the same language but without expressing anything about the amount of compensation it proposed to offer to the workers who will have to work for more working hours than they have been working since inception of the establishments. The Company could well appreciate that the fatigue on the health of the workmen due to harder work for working longer time a day without a provision for proper nourishment and food which will undoubtedly affect their efficiency. Therefore, it seems the Company's good sense prevailed and there was a proposal for payment of compensation to those workmen who will be working more hours of work per week than at present. But this proposal, as it appears, did not take a concrete shape. Whatever may be reason at that time for not finalising the amount of compensation to be paid to the workmen who will be working during the increased hours of work, now it is time that in the common interest this matter should be settled immediately without loss of time. I may say here that for reasons to be stated hereafter I am inclined to increase the hours of work per week to some extent though not to the extent proposed by the Company, which, in my considered opinion will be too drastic a step at this point of time. It may be noted that on the eve of introducing the increased working hours as proposed in the Company's notice Ext. A the Company brought four or five workmen from their other branches in Bombay establishments and made them to work 45 hours per establishments and made them to work 45 hours per establishments. The week. This was done obviously with a motive. The Company's witnesses attempted to show that those workmen coming from Bombay are working 45 hours per week whereas local workmen have been continuing their old timings. The Company's witnesses could not offer any cogent reason for bringing those workmen from Bombay and employing them here in the Hide Road establishments. It is no knowing how long the said four or five workmen will work here. The Company has got to pay substantial amount of compensation to each of them. This is very clear from the document Ext. 1(g) which came from the General Secretary of the Employees' Union in Bombay. From this letter it appears that each of the workmen who came from Bombay to work here has been receiving more than 100 per cent. of their daily rate by way of compensation which goes by the name of daily "bhatta". One of them drawing a daily rate of Rs. 5.25 nP. is receiving as daily bhatta Rs. 7.50nP. Another workman whose daily rate is Rs. 3.65 nP. is getting Rs. 7 50 nP. as daily bhatta. Another man whose daily wage is Rs. 5.25 nP. is getting Rs. 7.50nP. as daily bhatta and so on. These payments of substantial amounts as compensation to the workmen have not been denied by any of the Company's witnesses. On the other hand, the extra payment in the name of bhatta is admitted. Therefore, it appears that some amount of discrimination will be there unless the local workmen who will be working longer period in the same establishments are not suitably compensated by additional remuneration. I have already observed that the Company agreed to pay compensation but the amount of which was not finally settled. In offering the compensation to the workmen for the increased working hours and reduced number of holidays, the Company must see that the compensation to be paid to the workmen must be commensurate with the amount of labour and fatigue involved in the strenuous work for longer period and also take into consideration the prevailing position regarding food and other essential commodities. The efficiency of the workmen must not be allowed to be impaired due to harder work for a longer period without being provided with sufficient wherewithal to enable them to have proper food and nourishment specially at a time when it is the common knowledge that prices of essential commodities have gone very high. The Company, as I have already pointed out, is in a very sound financial position. It has been regularly earning profits and maintaining uniform progress. It is not denied that in the year of amalgamation the Company earned profit to the extent of Rs. 15 lakhs and it has gradually increased to near about a crore of rupees, as will appear from the Company's literature Ext. 3 (page 23). Therefore, financial resources of the Company cannot for a moment be denied or disputed. The workmen's contribution towards production and the resultant prosperity cannot also be denied. Therefore, the Company in all fairness do proper justice to their workmen with whom the Company has so long been maintaining cordial relations by settling disputes amicably through the Consultation Committee by coming to terms with the workmen as to what should be the fair and reasonable compensation to be paid to the workmen who will be affected by the increased working hours and reduced number of holidays. I have already observed that the workmen were not satisfied with their existing wage scales and other service conditions, so they submitted a charter of demands in 1961 (Ext. 5) for revision of wage rates and reconsideration of other amenities. Lastly, the wage rates were revised by agreement in 1957. Exhibit B is the memorandum of settlement to show that the wage rates of the different categories of workmen were revised in 1957. This fact also must not be lost sight of when the question of compensation be considered by the Company in consultation with the Union. The Company must have found good reasons in offering compensation to the workmen who will be working increased working hours and it found expression in the letters Exts. 1(d) and C|2 but according to the Company it was not accepted by the Union. But I have already found that there was no rejection of the offer by the Union. On the contrary, the Union enquired by a letter, dated the 30th April 1962 (Ext. C|1), about the quantum of compensation the Company proposed to pay to the workmen, to which there was no reply given by the Company. There is another important factor which has prompted me to come to the decision as to payment of compensation to the workmen who will be working for increased hours whereas side by side another group of workmen with equal remunerations will be working for 361 hours per week and will be enjoying 21 paid holidays in a year. It is admitted by the Company's witness No. 1 Shri S. S. Dey that the employees working in the Head Office at Netaji Subhas Road and also in other departments are transferable to the Hide Road establishments. That being the admitted position there is good reason for apprehension that any workman working in the Head Office or in the spare parts sales section and incurring the displeasure of the Company may be transferred to the Hide Road establishments where the workmen will not to ing the benefits as before, e.g., there will working hours and lesser number of hold year. This apprehension will be minimise additional remuneration by way of special way compensation payable to the workmen who affected by the increased working hours and number of holidays in a year.

Therefore, in consideration of all the ab and reasons I am led to the conclusion Company must pay compensation or spec, to the workmen of the Hide Road establishing will be affected by the increased working h reduced number of holidays per year. The of compensation to be paid to the workmen the good sense and wise discretion of the Cor settle in consultation with the Union. I am to take this decision in consideration of the previously matters in dispute used to he settled by mutual agreement after conference representatives of the employers and the e who formed the Consultation Committee. I also documents before the Tribunal to she previously important issues were settled by agreements (vide Ext. 2 and Ext. B). It is evidence of Company's witness No. 3 Shr who has supported this fact and has said t once there was an award, otherwise all along have been settled by mutual agreements. Il the admitted position I do wish that the sam relations must be maintained not only in the interest but also in the interest of the nati whole. Therefore, I would be glad to see management would come to a mutual s with the Union in respect of a quantum of a tion to be paid to the workmen who will be by the increased working hours and reduced of paid holidays in a year. I have already m certain guiding factors for the assessment of sation or extra wages. The management st it within two months of the publication of the failing which it will be open to the work proceed in accordance with law.

Now, I proceed to consider the question the working hours in the Hide Road establ other than spare parts sales section. The ( has sought to increase the working hours h to 45 per week. The workmen involved different categories including clerks, subordina mechanics and other operatives. Admitted Air Conditioning Refrigeration Service Sect workmen have been working 45 hours per we its very inception in 1938. The godown section from supply of stores is taken is admittedly 36½ hours per week without much inconv There is no evidence to show that proceed when the Air Conditioning/Refrigeration Section and the Godown were located in Lane in Calcutta-1 there was no of of inconvenience or difficulties. It is, true that with the increase in the of work in the Service Stations, the Section must remain open for a longer period t hours per week. I have already evidence of the Company's witnesses who at to make out a case that customers sometime plained of shorter working hours but I haw them without substance. No such written of ic shown or no report on the alleged complaint er sent to the Head Office. It may, however, that there are several competitors in the so the customers instead of complaining may heir works done by some other concern. only witness who happens to be the Secretary Union had to admit that the volume of work nsiderably increased and it is in the evidence npany's witness No. 1 that in Agriculture and uction Equipment Service Section the work has increased. It is also admitted that there is and stores for all service sections. Therefore, estrable that there should be simultaneous comment of work in all sections, so that the service may not experience any difficulties in getting from the godown sections. It is admitted that r Conditioning Refrigeration Service Section has the very beginning working from 9 a.m. ore, I am of opinion that all the sections should work at 9 a.m. There is evidence to show reviously Volkart Brothers had the monopoly tain business but now there are many competitors market. So the Company in order to compete others in the field of similar activities must be cing more with the help of efficient hands and duce more there must be working for more than before but not exceeding the hours presby law. It is admitted by the Union Secretary xcepting the godown section the rest of the estabents are registered under the Factories Act. The rany has not attempted to increase the working in excess of what is provided in the Factories It is also not disputed that the working hours ned unchanged for many years although there een change of busines outlook and business tion in the country and we must have our country trially developed and in that direction we must a move though not abruptly and hastily without g into consideration the consequences that might from the hasty and drastic steps. If our induscan produce more not only there will be more for the industry but the country will also be fited and the workmen will also be better off. will be getting more wages and more bonus, r facilities and amenities. So far as this concern ncerned, it is admitted that it is the best distributor e world, in respect of certain machineries manured This will also appear from the document 3. Therefore, this particular industry will help country to earn more foreign exchange for our try's benefit and development. Therefore, the of the hour is to increase in the productivity. r to produce more there must be more working s within the limits fixed by the law of the land the maximum prescribed limit must not be hed abruptly without taking into consideration the r circumstances and prevailing conditions and of general health of the working class and the need eisure in workmen's life. Therefore, to ensure strial peace and cordial relations between the lover and the employees I am not in favour of ducing drastic changes all on a sudden. I, efore, for the reasons stated above, consider that working hours should be 42 hours per week. The k in all sections should commence at 9 a.m. on he six working days. On week days the timings be from 9 a.m. to 1-30 p.m. and from 2 p.m. to m. There will be half an hour's recess from 1-30 to 2 p.m., and on Saturdays the working hours be from 9 a.m. to 1-30 p.m. without any break.

On question of paid holidays the Company has sought to reduce the number to 10 in a year. Admittedly the number was 21 days a year. I have given an anxious and careful consideration to the drastic reduction of holidays proposed by the Company and I am unable to persuade myself to accept the drastic reduction of holidays all at once. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in two important decisions, one reported in 1963(I) L.L.J. 543 and the other reported in 1964 (I) L.L.J. page 12, has found in favour of reduction of paid holidays to 16 in a year. I respectfully accept the principle and accordingly decide that the number of paid holidays should be 16 days in a year instead of what the Company proposed in their notice of change under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act (Ext. A). The sixteen days to be actually observed as holidays will immediately be fixed by the Company in consultation with the Union.

This is my award.

For the Union: Shri Biswanath Ash, Advocate.

The Labour Department, by Order No. 1430-I.R./IR/8L-8(A)/64, dated the 9th April 1964, had referred the industrial dispute between Messrs. Luxmi Narain Cotton Mills Ltd., P.O. Rishra, district Hooghly, and their workmen represented by Luxmi Narain Cotton Mills (No. 2) Workers' Union, 49A N. K. Banerjee Street, Rishra, Hooghly, to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issue

Is dismissal of Shri Purna Chandra Routh justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

The workman Shri Purna Chandra Routh is a permanent doffer in the Ring Frame Section in the "C" shift of Messrs. Luxmi Narain Cotton Mills Ltd., Rishra, Hooghly, and is an active member of the Union. In June 1963, there was an agitation of the doffers along with other workers on certain general issues in which Shri Routh is alleged to have taken a leading part. On account of the activity of Shri Routh in connection with the agitation, he has been singled out for victimisation by the Company. It is said that on 23rd July 1963, Shri Routh was served with a charge-sheet containing false charges to which he gave pertinent reply. He was again charge-sheeted on 25th July 1963 on false allegations and Shri Routh also submitted his reply thereto on 28th July 1963. Thereafter, there was a sham enquiry by the Company, and the Company had dismissed Shri Routh by the letter, dated 5th August 1963. There had been conciliation proceedings between the Union and the Company, but to no effect. The Union has prayed for an award for reinstatement of Shri Routh with full compensation for the period of forced unemployment and has also prayed for other reliefs.

The Luxmi Narain Cotton Mills Ltd. had denied the allegations made on behalf of the workmen. It is, however, not disputed that Shri Routh was a permanent doffer and was employed at the relevant period in the night shift, that the working hours of which are from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m., and that the two charge-sheets, dated 23rd July 1963 and 25th July 1963, respectively, were made. It is, however, alleged that on 21st July 1963 it was detected that Shri Routh and three other doffers had been sleeping while on duty with the result that, he could not attend to the urgent work of the machine, and the work was dislocated. This matter was reported to the Supervisor, Shri Satyabrata Choudhury, who in turn, reported the matter to the management for taking disciplinary action. Thereafter, a chargesheet was issued against all the four workmen, including Shri Routh, on 23rd July 1963, during their working hours in the night shift. After receiving the charge-sheet, Shri Routh became furious and when he came to know that the Supervisor was responsible over the issue of the charge-sheet, he came to the Supervisor and used abusive language, and even went to the length of threatening him with violence. Shri Satyabrata Choudhury reported the matter to the management and again another charge-sheet, dated 25th July 1963, was issued to Shri Routh who submitted his explanation to the charge-sheet, dated 25th July 1963 on 28th July 1963. Thereafter, the notice of enquiry was issued and an eno actually held on 31st July 1963 in the pre Shri Routh. At the enquiry the Union repres including the Secretary were present Choudhury gave his deposition and was ful examined by the Union representative. Sh was also examined and only denied the cha did not examine anyone on his bela enquiring officer thereafter considered the and found that the charges have been pro had submitted a report on 2nd August 1% management considered the evidence on the of the enquiring officer and agreed with the of the enquiring officer and had decided in Shri Routh and accordingly by the letter, & August 1963, Shri Routh was dismissed. R the union activities, the Company says that knowledge whether Shri Routh was a memb Luxmi Narain Cotton Mills Workers' U regarding the enquiry, the Company denies enquiry was a sham one as alleged. It is there had been a proper enquiry and the of Shri Routh is justified and Shri Routh entitled to get any relief whatsoever.

Findings

Before I proceed to discuss the question whether the dismissal of Shri Routh is just not, it is necessary to notice a submission with been made by the learned lawyer for the wd The learned lawyer had drawn my attention fact that there is no verification in the written ment submitted on behalf of Luxmi Naran ( Mills Ltd. He had urged that in the circums the statement made in the statement could taken into consideration by this Tribuna learned lawyer appearing on behalf of the a had pointed out that there is no provision m the verification of the written statement # the Company in the present case. It would from the West Bengal Industrial Dispute 1958 that there is no provision at all regard verification of the written statement submit behalf of the Company. It would appear section 11(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act Tribunal has got some power as vested in the Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1998. trying a suit, in respect of the following

- (a) enforcing the attendance of any person examing him on oath;
- (b) compelling the production of document material exhibits;
- (c) issuing commission for the examination witnesses:
- (d) in respect of such other matters as supprescribed.

This only defines the powers of the Tribunal provisions of the Civil Procedure Code of the written statement do not, therefore, apply to the written statement filed before Tribunal. In Rule 24 of the Rules, it has provided that in addition to the powers confident the Act on the Tribunal, the Tribunal shall in same power as are vested in the Civil Communication.

Procedure Code, 1908, when trying a suit in of the following matters, viz.:

liscovery and inspection;

granting of adjournments;

are all the provisions and these certainly do w that the written statement submitted on of the Company should have contained the tion. In these circumstances, I cannot accept mission by the Learned Lawyer appearing for rkmen that as there is no verification in the statement submitted on behalf of the Comne Tribunal cannot take into consideration the nts made therein. It may be mentioned here is objection was raised at the time of the Learned Lawyer at the time of argument. , not disputed that Shri Routh worked as a ent dosfer of the Company, and had put in vears of service. It is further not disputed o charge-sheets, dated 23rd July 1963 and ily 1963, were issued to him. Regarding the sheet, dated 23rd July 1963, it is necessary sider whether the allegation of the Company at charge-sheet, dated 23rd July 1963, was as Shri Routh and other doffers were found g while on duty because this reference relates charge-sheet, dated 25th July 1963. It would cont to point out that sleeping while on duty isconduct on the part of the employee (Ford Company of India Ltd. versus Sahadeva d. 1952 L.A.C., 157). Of course, Shri Routh nied that he was actually found sleeping on n 21st July 1963. Regarding the charge-sheet, 25th July 1963, it is said that on receipt of ther charge-sheet Shri Routh became furious hen he came to know that Shri Chowdhury sponsible for the issue of the charge-sheet, he to the Supervisor and used abusive language en went to the length of threatening him with e. The Learned Lawyer appearing for the en had pointed out that P.W. 1 Shri Routh ated that the first charge-sheet was given to the Manager and that he did not know that Babu was responsible for giving of that charge-He had also argued that this evidence of Shri Routh should be accepted, and if this is ed then there is no reason why Shri Routh go to the Supervisor and use abusive language ven go to the length of threatening him with e. I do not think that the evidence of P.W. 1 outh that he did not know that the Supervisor esponsible for giving the earlier charge-sheet accepted. It is undisputed that O.P.W. 2 rata Chowdhury is a Supervisor and the 1an Shri Routh had worked under him as a Therefore, it is only probable that the lan should think that Satya Babu had been sible regarding the issue of the charge-sheet t him. On this point, O.P.W. 2 Satya Babu tated in his evidence that he went to the r Officer at about 10-10 p.m. of 23rd July 1963 ad talked with him and came back at about p.m. His further evidence is that at about 10-30 p.m. Shri Routh came to him and enquired in an angry tone why he had been instrumental in submitting the charge-sheet against him, that he told Shri Routh that if the work is not done properly he had to make a complaint to the Management, that Shri Routh told him that he had gone to the extreme and he will be humiliated and that thereafter he had submitted a written complaint (Ext. C). This document substantially supports the evidence of O.P.W. 2. So far as this complaint (Ext. C) is concerned, it would appear that there is no serious cross-examination regarding the charge-sheet. O.P.W. 2 had said that he only came to know about the charge-sheet in the early hours of the morning of 23rd July 1963 (24th July 1963). It would, therefore appear that Satya Babu does not know of the previous charge-sheet, dated 23rd July 1963, and only came to know about it later. He however, said that he knows about the charge-sheet, dated 25th July 1963. In the circumstances, it appears to me that the submission of the Learned Lawyer for the workmen that Shri Routh did not know that Satya Babu had been instrumental in submitting the chargesheet and therefore, there could be no question of threatening or using abusive language to him, cannot be accepted.

I shall now turn to discuss the question whether there has been a proper and fair enquiry by the Management regarding the charge-sheet, dated 25th July 1964. Before I discuss this question, I would refer to some of the rulings to with my attention has been drawn by the Learned Lawyers for the workmen and the Company. It is unnecessary to refer to all the cases, because the principle had been firmly settled by the decisions of the Hon'ble Supreme Court. However, in the case reported in 1952 L.A.C., 490 (Buckingham and Carnatic Company Ltd. versus workers) it has been held that where there has been a dismissal for misconduct, if there is evidence to support the action of the Management, the Tribunal will not substitute his own judgment for the judgment of the Management. But the decision of the Management with regard to the charge of misconduct against an employee will not prevail if-

- (i) there is want of bona fides; or
- (ii) it is a case of victimisation or unfair labour practice, or violation of the principles of natural justice, or
- (iii) there is a basic error of facts, or
- (iv) there has been a perverse finding on the materials.

It is also laid down that the normal relief in case of wrongful dismissal is reinstatement and it is not correct to say that reinstatement is to be limited to the case of victimisation and unfair labour practices and that in all other cases the compensation should be the general rule. This case has been referred to in the case reported in 1953 L.A.C., 238 (Kanpur Electricity Supply Administration versus. Shri Jhakeri). It is further laid down therein that it would be wholly wrong for an Adjudicator to assume the functions of appellate Court, reviewing the evidence for himself. In the case reported in 1958(I), L.L.J., 260 (Indian Iron & Steel Company Ltd. versus their workmen), it has been held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court that in case of dismissal after enquiry for the domestic Tribunal, the Industrial Tribunal does not act as a Court of Appeal and substitute his own judgment for that of the management and it will interfere with such action of the management only on the following grounds:

- (i) when there is a want of good faith,
- (ii) when there is victimisation or unfair labour practice,
- (iii) when the management has been guilty of a basic error or violation of a principle of natural justice, and
- (iv) when on the materials, the finding is completely baseless or perverse.

These principles have been reiterated in the case reported in 1960 (II), L.L.J., 56 (Doom Dooma Tea Co. Ltd. versus Assam Chah Karmachari Sangha and another). In the case reported in 1962 (II) L.L.J., 772, it was observed by their Lordships of the Supreme Court that it is settled law that in dealing with the industrial dispute, the Industrial Tribunal would be justified in characterising the finding at the domestic enquiry as perverse only if it is shown that such a finding is not supported by any evidence or is entirely opposed to the whole evidence adduced before it. It was further laid down that in deciding the question as to whether a particular conclusion of fact was perverse or not, the Industrial Tribunal is not justified in weighing the evidence for itself and determining the question of the perversity of the view arrived at the domestic enquiry in the light of its own finding on the question of fact. In the case reported in 1961 (II) L.L.J, 686 (Calcutta Jute Manufacturing Co. Ltd. versus Calcutta Jute Manufacturing Workers' Union), their Lordships of the Supreme Court held that the workman had committed misconduct in preventing the superior officer, Supervisor from discharging his duties (of bringing to the notice of the management the wastefulness of the concerned workmen causing loss to the employer), even though the officer who was prevented was not the direct superior of the concerned workmen who are working in another department under another supervisor.

I shall now refer to the ruling reported in A.I.R. 1963 S.C., 1914-1963 (II), L.L.J., 367 (Sur Enamel and Stamping Works Ltd. versus their workmen), The learned lawyer appearing for the workmen had relied particularly on this ruling. In that case, it was held that if an industrial employee's services are terminated after proper domestic enquiry held in accordance with the rules of natural justice and the conclusions reached at the enquiry are not perverse, the Industrial Tribunal is not entitled to consider the propriety or correctness of the conclusions and that an enquiry cannot be said to have been properly held unless:

- (i) the employee proceeded against has been clearly informed of the charges;
- (ii) the witnesses are examined—ordinarily in the presence of the employee—in respect of the charges;
- (iii) the employee is given a fair opportunity to cross-examine witnesses;

- (iv) he is given a fair opportunity to witness including himself in his de he so wishes at any relevant matter
- (v) the enquiry officer records his finding the reasons for the same in his repo

It was further held that if there is no proper the order of dismissal can be set aside a tribunal can order reinstatement. So far as the is concerned, it would appear that whereas stated in the charge-sheet that the working guilty of wilful insubordination or disobedie was dismissed for causing damage to the proper in the circumstances, it was held that the charges was set aside. The present case is different as will appear from the discussion is

In the present case, there has been no displ Shri Routh had received the charge-sheet, dat July 1963, that he submitted his explanation charge-sheet, that he had received the ne enquiry, that he was present in the enquiry Union representative, and that he and other signed after the evidence had been recorded enquiry proceedings. It is further not disput after the close of the enquiry proceedings, the Officer had submitted his report of enquiry; management after perusing the report of enqu the relevant evidence came to the conclusion Shri Routh should be dismissed from service had accordingly issued the letter, dated 5th 1963, dismissing Shri Routh from service. T contention which has been raised before me learned lawyer appearing for the workmen is t charge as framed is too vague and accord could not be said that there was any fair i It was urged that the time of alleged occurrer name of the departmental superior who is all have been threatened and the name of the ment, had not been mentioned. Before I disci contention, I will point out that in the charge (Ext. A-1), it has been stated that the charge threatening any employee within the Mill p [section 14(c)(xxiv), section 13(c)(xxiv) appear an obvious mistake | and commission of act sub of discipline [section 14(c)(viii), section 13 being an obvious mistake]. It further appear Ext. A-1 that it has been said that it is report on 23rd July 1963 during his duty hours (14 10 p.m. to 6 a.m.) Shri Routh had threatened his superiors inside the department, and all shown disciplinary attitude. Of course, it i that the exact point of time when Shri Ro alleged to have been threatened one of his su is not mentioned therein. It is further true t name of Satya Babu who is admittedly a mental supervisor of the department to whit Routh is attached, does not also appear, bu clear from Ext. A that the department refer is a Spinning Department in the Ring Frame S I do not think that the charges as framed are too vague, and therefore, Shri Routh ha prejudiced in his defence at the time of enqu the written statement, which has been put behalf of the workmen, there is no allegate the charges are too vague and therefore Shri was prejudiced in his defence at the time of e The question of alleged vagueness of the char also not raised by Shri Routh or any of the representatives at the time of the enquiry.

me of hearing, P.W. 1 Shri Routh did not say as the charges are too vague, he could not stand the exact misconduct with which he has charged at the time of enquiry. It is only at ne of argument that the learned lawyer for the nen raised the question of vagueness of the les. In support of his contention, the learned r has drawn my attention to the reply to the es (Ext. B) submitted by Shri Routh on 28th July The reply only contains the general denial of legations and it is stated therein that the charges neen made maliciously and are untrue. At least Routh must have understood that one of the es was that he had threatened an employee n the mill premises. Apart from this, at the of enquiry, Shri Routh had stated (vide Ext. E) he had no talk whatsoever with Satya Babu on ate of occurrence. Accordingly, I overrule the ntion of the learned lawyer appearing for the e next contention which has been raised by the ed lawyer appearing for the workmen before me it there was only the uncorroborated testimony tya Babu that he had been threatened by Shri ath. It is not for me to reappraise the evidence ich had been adduced at the time of the enquiry. ould only point out that apart from the evidence ich Satva Babu gave at the time of enquiry (Ext. there was also the complaint or report of Satya bu. dated 23rd July 1963 (Ext. C), in which it has m stated that Shri Routh behaved roughly and ted in a threatening tone, that as a result of the rge-sheet some persons would be molested outside la charge-sheet would not affect him and others any way, and it entirely depends for him and ers as to whether they would keep the job running. ore the enquiring officer, Satya Babu had stated t Shri Routh came to him and spoke in an agitated e as to why Satya Babu had been instrumental in ing the charge-sheet, that he told him that if there default in doing the work, he would be comed to inform the management, and if as a result, aplinary action is taken, Satya Babu cannot be med, that the workers must attend to their work, at he was then told that Satya Babu was going to extreme and hence he would insult him and that ereafter those persons began to argue with Satya bu and that when he asked them not to argue Ith him and to go away, they told him in an htated tone that if they wished they would do the ork and nothing will come out of the charge-sheet hich had been issued. Satya Babu had admittedly en cross-examined by P.W. 2. It would appear at the enquiry officer was fully satisfied regarding reat to Satya Babu inside the mill premises, and cordingly, submitted the report (Ext. K). I do not ree that the finding of the enquiry officer (O.P.W. 1) a perverse one. I do not think that there was ally any evidence regarding the other charge, viz., act subversive of discipline. In the Standing rders, it has been provided in section 14(c)(viii) at drunkenness, intoxication, riotous or disorderly haviour during working hours of the establishment any act subversive of discipline would amount to sconduct. It appears to me that the act must be act similar to the earlier acts mentioned in the anding Orders. In Ext. A-l, it has been stated at Shri Routh had shown an undisciplinary attitude. le learned lawyer appearing for the Company bmitted that speaking in an angry tone to the superior officer could be regarded to be an undisciplinary attitude and undisciplinary attitude itself could be regarded as an act subversive discipline. 1 do how not sec alleged conversation in an angry tone regarding Satya Babu's action in the issue of the charge-sheet could be regarded to be undisciplinary attitude or an act subversive of discipline. It really comes to this that Shri Routh had threatened to assault Satya Babu and others outside the mill premises. This is the subjectmatter of the earlier charge which I have discussed. I do not agree that the same act of Shri Routh can be split up into two heads as has been sought to be done in the present case. In the report (Ext. K), there is no specific finding that Shri Routh is also guilty of an act subversive of discipline. Emphasis has been laid on the threat by Shri Routh to Satya Babu in the report. However, that may be, I do not think that the finding of the enquiry officer can be regarded to be perverse, or there has been any basic error. The learned lawyer has drawn my attention to the report where it has been stated that it was revealed and established by the statement of Satya Babu that Shri Routh had behaved roughly and threatened Satya Babu. The learned lawyer had submitted that it is not stated how it was revealed. I do not see the point in the argument of the learned lawyer. In the report (Ext. K), O.P.W. I referred to the evidence of O.P.W. 2 before the enquiry. The expression "revealed" may be a little unhappy, but the meaning is perfectly clear. The expression itself shows that the enquiry officer had relied on the evidence of Satya Babu. He was unable to accept the statement of Shri Routh at the time of enquiry that he had no talk with Satya Babu on the date of occurrence, namely, on 23rd July 1963. As I have mentioned above, apart from the evidence of Satya Babu, there was a report of Satya Babu on the very date. The contention, therefore, of the learned lawyer for the workmen, must be overruled.

The last contention which has been raised by the learned lawyer appearing for the workmen is that there has been victimisation of Shri Routh by the Company. It appears to me that there is absolutely no evidence regarding the alleged victimisation of Shri Routh by the Company. P.W. 1 Shri Routh had stated in his evidence that he had participated in a movement on behalf of the workers for a change of shift in June 1963 and that there had been no result at all so far as the movement was concerned, and the management had paid no heed. So far as the question of change of shift is concerned, P.W. 2 who is the Secretary of the Union of the workers, had stated that there was a movement for a change in shift in June 1963 and Shri Routh took a leading part regarding the night shift, that as a result of the movement undertaken by the Union, the rotation system was introduced and that the system of rotation was there long ago, but was stopped subsequently. Neither P.W. 1, nor P.W. 2 had stated that Shri Routh had been singled out for victimisation for participating in the movement for the change of shift. Exhibits D and E appear to show that Shri Routh who was working in "C" shift had subsequently worked in "B" shift. O.P.W. 1 and O.P.W. 2 had also not been asked any question as to whether Shri Routh had been singled out for victimisation due to the participation in movement for change in the shift. It appears to me that there might have been some agitation for changing the shift, but there is nothing on the record to show that really any particular employee had been singled out for victimisation. It is admitted that the Union representatives who had participated in the enquiry are still in service of the Company. It was somewhat faintly submitted by the learned lawyer for the workmen that Shri Routh was assumed to be the weakest link and therefore might have been singled out for victimisation. In view of the fact that Shri Routh had been guilty of misconduct under the Standing Orders and also in view of the fact that the finding cannot be regarded to be perverse, I do not agree with the submission of the learned lawyer for the workmen that really Shri Routh was singled out for victimisation. This contention is also overruled.

In view of my findings, I have come to the conclusion that the dismissal of Shri Purna Chandra Routh is justified and legal and that Shri Routh is not entitled to get any relief.

This is my award.

This application under section 33A of the trial Disputes Act was filed by Gulzar Al Messrs. Kesoram Industries & Cotton M 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta, during dency of an industrial dispute between the parties covered by reference No. 4458-1.R., da April 1960.

The grievance of the applicant is adumbte the aforesaid application is as follows:

plicant worked in the Weaving Department ompany for more than 10 years with a very d good record. From 11th January 1964 up January 1964 the applicant could not report ills on account of the then communal tension g in the area of Garden Reach. The peti-eported himself for duty on 24th January or the best reasons known to the Company or the best reasons known to the Company icant was not allowed to resume his duties length it was reported to him that his services longer required. Being aggrieved thereby icant has filed the present application with a for an award directing the Company to him to his job with full compensation.

Company entered appearance and filed a statement alleging, inter alia, that there was ravention of whatsoever of section 33 of the al Disputes Act as alleged by the applicant.

applicant has now filed a petition before me in clear terms that his grievances have been d, that the Company has taken him back and is working there as before. He has accordaved for withdrawal of his application under 33A of the Act. I have heard Shri Arun Sen 1g for the applicant as also Shri K. P. Mukherrned Advocate for the Company. Shri jee states that he has no objection against the of withdrawal made by the applicant. Shri ree however states that the additional avermade in paragraph 2 of the application are objectionable. I find no substance in the id contention of Shri Mukherjee. Indeed I do d any reason whatsoever for not allowing the nt to withdraw his application, under section the Industrial Disputes Act. If a party is to file a case he is also capable enough to w the same unconditionally. The simple of the applicant is "the application may kindly wed to be withdrawn". That being so, I simply of the case as withdrawn by the worker and accordingly.

AWARD

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disnutes Act and by a workman Sanat Kumar Das against his employer Messrs. Modern Rubber Manufacturers (P) Ltd. (hereinafter be referred to a the Company) alleging contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act

After recent of the complaint the Company was given notice and the complaint was resisted by the opposite party by filing written objections. But before actual hearing of the case the complainant filed a petition before this Tribunal praying for permission to withdraw his complaint. On 4th January 1965 the complainant made an application that the Government of West Bengal has since made a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication of an industrial dispute relating to this workman and two others. Therefore, he does not want to proceed with the present complaint any further.

I have considered the application. The Company's representative opposed this application but adduced no evidence or filed no petition or affidavit. I find no reason to reject the application. Accordingly I allow the complainant to withdraw his complaint. The case is thus diposed of as withdrawn.

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal

For the Union: Shri H. L. Roy, Advocate. For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate. This industrial dispute between Messa. Flour Mills, 242/1 Acharjya Prafulla Chanda Calcutta-4, and their workmen represent Calcutta Flour Mills Employees' Union, 121/1 Prafulla Chandra Road, Calcutta-9, area Government of West Bengal, Labour Deg Order No. 3270-I.R./IR/11L-152/63, dated August 1963. This is a reference under seed the Industrial Disputes Act. The issues follows:

- 1. Whether the suspension of the named in the Annexure 'A' for a nite period is justified? What religious are they entitled to?
- Whether the workmen mentioned in 'B' are entitled to wages for the holidays since 1956?
- 3. Whether the workmen ments
  Annexure 'C' are entitled to wage days the mill remained closed sing
- 4. Whether the workmen mentioned in 'D' are entitled to Bonus or an a six months' wages as was paid to ot men in February 1963?

Copies of the Annexure referred to in the are made parts of this Award.

The parties appeared in this case and said their written statements. In short, the care Calcutta Flour Mills Employees' Union the described as the Union) is very simple. It si that there is one Union of the employees of Q Flour Mills (hereinafter referred to as the Ca and the name of that Union is West Bengal N Congress. According to the Calcutta For Employees' Union, this Mazdoor Congress to by the employers. Several workmen set up( Flour Mills Employees' Union in 1963 a Union has started activities for the benefit employees. In February 1963, according to the the company declared six months' basic v bonus for the year 1962 but that bonus only to the members of the Mazdoor Cong bonus was, however, paid to the members Union who were permanent. This discrement the Company was mala fide and not justified been further stated by the Union that from Company kept the mill closed on several on without any jusification and that the works entitled to wages for the periods of closure been further alleged from the side of the Uni according to the conditions of service works entitled to get nine festival holidays in a rd pay but the Company without any put deprived the workmen mentioned in the reference of their wages for the said festival Lastly, the grievance of the Union is that 21 " mentioned in the order of reference were with charge-sheeted and that the order of 51 passed along with the charge-sheet was illed functory enquiries were held in case of work the results of the enquiries have not yet be municated to the workmen concerned, as thereof those workmen are still under without any justification. In short, the pro-Union is that the suspension order being and mala fide should be set aside and the should be paid full wages for the period d in Ann sion. The workmen mentioned

l also be paid wages for festival holidays from ar 1956. Workmen mentioned in Annexure 'C' r claim wages for the peroid of closure from The Union has further claimed bonus or an ce of six months' wages for the workmen i in Annexure 'D'.

Company in its written statement denied the ial allegations made by the Union. It has been that the West Bengal Flour Mills Mazdoor ess is the only recognised Union for several It has been alleged that the workmen menin Annexure 'A' except Sahadev Bhar and Behera committed gross misconduct under a rted plan on the 4th and 5th March 1963, that were under temporary basis and they were laid those two days on good and valid reasons, te of notice they forcibly entered into the facstarted creating disturbance and that as a thereof police had to be called for. The Comhas stated that the management thereafter d charge-sheets and all the twenty-one persons suspended pending final disposal of the case effect from 13th March 1963. An independent m was deputed to hold the enquiry. Enquiries held on several dates within the period from March 1963 to 18th April 1963. The enquiring er on account of some important preoccupation d not submit his report immediately but in the atime the Union took up the matter with the our Directorate, West Bengal, by a letter, dated April 1963. The Company explained the reason to delay by its letter, dated 10th May 1963. The urnig officer thereafter submitted his report findhe charge-sheeted persons guilty. The Company d letters to the individual delinquents asking 1 to show cause why they should not be dismissed service. This notice, according to the Comwas sent in order to give the workmen a last ice to be repentant of their conduct and to save n from extreme punishment of dismissal. Except workmen, all the others took a dilatory attitude he matter and avoided submitting reply to the a cause notice. In the meantime the present rence was issued and as all the delinquents did reply, the matter could not be finally decided. In rt, the Company wants to say that the order of pension was bona fide and that no reference could made in respect of the matter. Regarding the es for the festival holidays, the Company savs t all the workmen are not entitled to nine days ival holidays. The Company had a large numof temporary workmen who are not entitled to festival holidays with pay and other benefits able to the permanent workmen. The Mazdoor agress and the Company entered into an agreent and, according to that agreement, the tem-ary workmen are not entitled to claim for manency or any other right till the matter now iding before the Supreme Court is disposed of. th respect to the closure of the mill, the Comly has stated that the issue in question is vague. no specific date of closure has been mentioned in e order of reference. The Company does not, wever, admit the correctness of the statement at the workmen mentioned in Annexure 'C' were d off on the dates as alleged. The case of the mpany is that the temporary workmen were iployed on the basis of no work no pay. The are of capricious closure of the mill has been nied. The case of the Company regarding bonus that it is not correct to say that the Company declared six months' basic wages as bonus for the year 1962. No bonus was paid for the year in accepted the question. The Mazdoor Congress Company's contention and requested the Company to pay an ex-gratia amount to the workmen. The Company accordingly agreed to pay such an exgratia amount on conditions that both the Union and the recipient workmen should acknowledge the legal position that no bonus was payable for the year 1962 either as a condition of service or on the Full Bench formula. It was further agreed by the Company that if any ex-gratia payment was made, that would not be treated as a precedent. The Mazdoor Congress accepted these conditions and the Company paid the ex-gratia amount to those workmen who accepted the said conditions, and those who did not accept those conditions were not paid the amount. The Company has stated that the workmen mentioned in Annexure 'D' refused to accept the conditions as stated hereinbefore and as a result thereof, they were not paid any amount. The Company has asserted in the written statement that no bonus is payable for the year 1962 on any ground whatsoever.

Five witnesses have been examined on the side of the Union and one on the side of the Company. Several documents on both the sides have been admitted in evidence. P.W. 1 is Anil Kumar Das. He was a clerk of the Company and he resigned in May 1963. His evidence is that he was made permanent and that 70 or 72 out of total employees about 125 in number were permanent and that the remaining employees were temporary. This witness wants to say that the Company's records will show that 30 or 35 workmen are permanent but the Company maintains different khatas to show that the remaining members of the permanent staff were This statement I cannot believe. temporary. have considered the Registers of Attendance of the employees of the Company both temporary and permanent and they have been marked exhibits. I rely upon those documents as acceptable. witness has admitted about the existence of the West Bengal Flour Mills Mazdoor Congress. He is aware of the notices, dated 2nd March 1963 and 4th March 1963, exhibited in this case and he says that according to the notices temporary employees did not come to attend their duties. The witness further says that according to those notices, the permanent workers of the mill came at about 9 a.m. but they were not allowed to do work. He says that he did not notice any golmal on the 4th or 5th March 1963. According to P.W. 1 only favoured employees of the Company about 30 or 35 in number; used to get nine festival holidays in a year but others did not get any such holiday. His evidence is that in 1960 the mill remain closed for certain days but he cannot say the number of days when the mill remained closed. He has stated that the mill remained close for some days in a year without any notice and that on those days the Company allowed their favoured workers to do their work. He has admitted that there are many dailyrated workers on the basis of no work no pay. The witness has said that the Company paid bonus amounting to six month's wages to the favoured workers and not to all the workmen. ness has been cross-examined at length. His evidence shows that the membership of the Union is restricted to the employees of the Company but he is an exception. He wants to say that although he is not eligible to be a member of the Union, he is still the Vice-President of the Union as he wants to redress the grievances of the workmen. This is something strange. This witness cannot give parti-culars regarding any khata to show that 30 or 35 out of 70 or 75 permanent hands are descibed as permanent, or that the remaining workmen out of 70 or 75 hands were shown as temporary. He has seen the Attendance Registers of temporary and permanent workmen, marked Exts. K & K/1, but he does not say that they are surreptitious documents. He has admitted that Ext. L constitutes the paysheet of the temporary hands. He has admitted that during the enquiries against the chargesheeted persons, he represented some of them and another person Dilip Mukherjee of the Union represented some other workmen. It is also admitted that all the charge-sheeted persons except Aparti had attended the enquiry. He does not hesitate to admit that the operation of the mill ceases if the machine does not work and that the machine was out of order for two days, viz., 4th and 5th March 1963. In reply to my question, this witness has not been able to name all the favoured workmen of the Company. At first he stated that he could name 15 of them but when I wanted the names, he could name only five. The evidence of this witness is not at all convincing.

I have gone through the evidence of P.W. 2 but I do not think that the said evidence is of substantial value. P.W. 3 is Dilip Kumar Mukherjee. His evidence is that on 4th and 5th of March 1963 the motor of the mill was under repair. According to this witness, the Company issued notice for laying off temporary workers on these days. He wants to say that there was no trouble. On the 4th of March 1963 he saw the charge-sheeted persons seated in front of the Manager's office. On the following day, however, he did not see those persons. The witness has stated that after the formation of the Union in 1963, all the employees of the Company have been enjoying nine holidays in a year. He has made a general statement that during the years 1960, 1961 and 1962 the management closed the mill on several days without any notice. This witness has further admitted about the existence of temporary workmen who had been working in the mill all along without any break. It is admitted that on the 4th and the 5th of March 1963 the mill did not work as the motor was out of order. The witness cannot say why on several occasions the mill remained close, but his evidence is that sometimes the mill remained close on the allegation that there was want of wheat. P.W. 4 is another employee of the Company who was charge-sheeted. He does not know if in the records of the Company he has been recorded as a permanent hand. This witness has also admitted that the mill had remained close on the 4th and the 5th of March 1963. P.W. 5 is Netai Chandra Das. He was also charge-sheeted by the Company. He has stated that there was no notice from the Company that there would be no work in the mill on the 4th and the 5th of March 1963. I cannot accept this statement as correct. This witness has given a different story. His version is that only two festival holidays are ratiowed-one on the Bijoya Dashami day and another on Kali Puja day. The Company has example Assistant Secretary of the mill. His evident of any importance as well.

I shall, first of all, deal with the issue No. question is whether the suspension of the mentioned in Annexure 'A' for any indefinite is justified. Admittedly, these persons were sheeted on the allegation of misconduct were suspended pending the enquiry. The sheet is dated 13th February 1962. Repla given two or three days after. It is also that within the period from 30th March 1963 April 1963 enquiries were held. There is no evidence to indicate that the enquiries were on frivolous ground or out of malice. were held from time to time. Several perso involved. I do not hold that there was a reasonable delay in the matter of hearing enquiries. It appears that enquiries were o by 18th April 1963. Thereafter the union letter dated 27th April 1963, to the Assistant Commissioner complaining about the delay matter of coming to a decision. The Comi the news and wrote a letter to the Assistant Commissioner on 10th May 1963. That is in reply to the allegations made in Ext. E. t of the Union. In Ext. F it is stated that the officer had gone out to Mathura on insp connection with his duties and, therefore, his could not be submitted. There is no evid disbelieve the explanation given by the ( Thereafter the Company received the repol enquiring officer and offered another opports the charge-sheeted persons to show cause as they should not be removed from service notices were issued to the charge-sheeted under registered post. A specimen copy of letters will appear in Ext. 21. That letter 29th May 1963. Exhibit 21 series will although the management was satisfied charges were proved still before taking a dr by issuing dismissal order, the Company charge-shected persons to show cause w should not be dismissed. I hold that this bona fide on the part of the company. In the time the Government started conciliation p and asked the parties to attend the joint co Exhibit J series, the undelivered registere cause notices, will show that they came bat Company after several days. Admittedly, a Company did not get replies to the show cau from all the charge-sheeted persons. A large of undelivered notices were returned with the ment "left". It was natural for the compan' some time to consider as to what step sh taken in the circumstances when so man came back with different endorsements. The pany could have summarily dismissed the sheeted persons on the report of the enquiri but as the company had a mind to give a tunity to the chargesheeted persons to offer. nation or to show cause against the propor of dismissal, sometime had to be spent. T also no mala fide motive on the part of the ( In the meantime the conciliation proceed started and ultimately this reference was set Tribunal, by the order of the Governme 10th August 1963. In diciding the issue unsider the merits of the cases. I am only ether the suspension pending enquiry was or unjustified. In the present case I hold der of suspension passed against the chargersons pending the enquiry was not unor illegal. I cannot also hold that the sus-order was indefinite. There was no une delay in the matter of holding enquiry or the enquiring officer's report. There was onable delay also in disposing of the cases is charge-heeted persons. The company did at to dispose of the cases giving opportunities thargesheeted persons to submit their cases the order of dismissal but the chargesheeted were not very keen about that. However, it to say that the suspension order passed the chargesheeted persons was justified. I clear that I have not considered the merits ases of the chargesheeted persons considered enquiries. This is not a subject matter in ent reference. It has been argued from the the Union that the suspension order is bad is no such provision in the Standing Orders. also accept the proposition. I have read the orders relating to misdemeanours and it is m Standing Order No. 14 that during the of an enquiry a chargesheeted person may nded. There is no illegality in the orders of in in the case before me. I therefore find workmen are not entitled to any relief in of issue No. 1.

question that arises for consideration under ue No. 2 is whether the workmen mentioned exure 'B' to the order of reference are entitled es for the festival holidays since 1956. The as rather been framed in a very general way. written statement filed by the Union the claim the workmen are entitled to nine festival holia year with pay. But the Company without tification did not pay wages to the workmen ned in the order of reference for the festival s. At the time of hearing, however, some of knesses wanted to say that the members of this were not allowed to enjoy all the festival I have seen the Attendance Register of the en, both temporary and permanent, and I am ld that all the workmen of the company both nent and temporary were allowed to enjoy the number of festival holidays in a year. How-I am to see whether the workmen in question titled to wages for the festival holidays. The any wants to say that only the permanent workhre entitled to get the wages for the festival lys while temporary workmen are not entitled I any wages whatsoever for the festival holidays se they work on the principle "no work no pay." Union demands wages under the terms and tions of service. The union further wants to hat the persons mentioned in Annexure 'B' to rder of reference are not temporary. They to be permanent. The Standing Orders of the pany will appear in Ext. N, the award of the strial Tribunal. The Standing Orders will ar in the Appendix to the award. Order No. 1 that the Comment of the strial trial order or which the strial trial order or which the strial or the strial order or which the strial order or which the strial order or which the strial order order order or the strial order o that the Company and the workmen are subject he Standing Orders. It is, therefore, clear that vorkmen, temporary and permanent, are subject to conditions of service mentioned in the Standing irs. Order No. 13 in Ext. N relates to leave and lays. The provision for festival holidays will appear in sub-clause (e)(iii). Sub-clause (e) clearly relates to "workmen" which includes those who are permanent and temporary. There is no indication that the provision regarding the festival holidays applies to permanent workmen only. The Order No. 13(e)(iii) clearly states that the workmen will be entitled to the fixed festival holidays with full pay. Nobody from the side of the Company has been examined before me to say that the temporary workmen are not entitled to get any festival holidays with pay. Both the parties have relied upon Ext. N. I find no substance in the contention of the company that the temporary workmen are not entitled to any wages for the festival holidays to be fixed by the company according to the Standing Orders. Ext. G, an agreement does not speak about holiday without pay I hold that the temporary workmen like the per-manent ones are entitled to testival holidays with full pay according to the Standing Orders of the Company. In view of this finding of mine, it is not necessary for me to decide whether the persons mentioned in the Annexure 'B' are temporary or permanent. The Union has not adduced any evidence regarding the period of service of each and every person mentioned in the Annexure. In these circumstances, it is not possible for me to decide the individual cases regarding the claim for wages for the festival holidays during the service period of the workmen. The Union has claimed wages for festival holidays from The order of reference is dated 10th August 1963. 1963. The claim of wages for festival holidays is unreasonably belated. I am inclined to give relief in this issue with effect from 1st January 1963. The workmen in question will get wages for the festival holidays for the period after the 1st of January 1963 during their service period. The issue No. 2 is thus disposed of.

The issue No. 3 is whether the workmen mentioned in Annexure 'C' are entitled to wages for the days the mill remained close since 1960. This issue is too wide to be described as vague. The dates of closure have not been mentioned in the issue. The case of the union in the written statement will appear in paragraphs 9 and 10. In short, the union wants to say that the Company most unreasonably without assigning any reason kept the mill closed on several occasions for short period and that the closures or stoppages of work were not due to any circumstances beyond the control of the management. Several dates of closure have, however, been given in the written statements. It covers the period from 1960 to 1962. The Company wants to say that the persons mentioned in Annexure 'C' to the order of reference were temporary hands and the Company does not admit the closures of the Company during the period mentioned in the written statement. Several witnesses have been examined on the side of the union but it is curious to note that no evidence has been adduced in this case to prove on which dates the mill remained close as alleged by the union without any justification. There is some evidence coming from the mouth of some of the union witnesses that the mill remained close occasionally. That is not sufficient to prove the stoppage of work or closure of the mill capriciously. Out of the workmen mentioned in Annexure 'C', only two have been examined. They are P.W.s 4 and 5. P.W. 4 has stated that the mill was closed on the 4th and the 5th of March 1963. In the written statement of the union these dates were not mentioned. P.W. 5 has not mentioned the dates of closure. This witness does not say that he was a permanent workman. P.W. 4 does not also know whether in the records of the Company his name has been recorded as permanent or temporary. P.W. 4, Becharam, does not claim to be a permanent workman. There is no evidence before me to hold that there had be a any occasion for closure of the mill or stoppage of work capriciously or without any justification. There is no evidence before me to prove any date of closure of the mill. Of course, the evidence is that on the 4th and the 5th of March 1963 some temporary workers were laid off by the mill authority as the machineries were under repair. The evidence shows that for the reason the Company had to lay off certain temporary workers as per notice, Ext. A series. The Company has filed the registers of mill workers including temporary and permanent hands. Exhibit K is the Attendance Register of temporary workers of the mill and Ext. K(1) is the Attendance Register of the permanent staff. I have no reason to disbelieve these two documents and I hold that they are genuine registers. The case of the Company is that the persons mentioned in Annexure 'C' are temporary hands. I have already noted that P.W. 4 and P.W. 5 are the only persons out of the persons mentioned in Annexure 'C' who have been examined as witnesses and others have not been examined and no explanation has been given why they have been withheld. However, it has not been proved that the persons in Annexure 'C' to the order of reference are permanent hands and I find that the company was justified in laying off temporary hands for two days, viz., on the 4th and the 5th of March 1963 by a valid notice and under circumstances beyond control. For want of evidence the case of the union with regard to the issue No. 3 fails, and no relief can be granted to any workman.

I shall now deal with the issue No. 4. There is no reliable evidence before me to prove that the Company, in fact, declared six months' basic wages as bonus for the year 1962 payable to the workmen. The Company has, however, admitted that it agreed to pay an ex-gratia payment to the workmen on condition that the recipient workmen should acknowledge the legal position that no bonus was payable for the year 1962 either as a condition of service or on profit. The Company further wants to say that the Mazdoor Congress accepted this condition and the Company paid ex-gratia payment to those workmen who accepted the said condition, and that those who did not accept the condition were not paid any ex-gratia amount. From the trend of argument of the parties it has appeared to me that the company wanted something in writing from the workmen before making payment of the ex-gratia amount as evidence of acceptance of the legal position that no bonus was payable for the year 1962. This sort of attitude on the part of the company does not appear to be reasonable and fair. If the Company was sure that according to law no bonus is payable, and if the Company was willing to pay some ex-gratia amount to the workmen, it could have easily offered the amount to the workmen declaring that it was an exgratia amount pure and simple. But along with the offer the Company cannot coerce the workmen to admit that they have no legal right or claim against the Company regarding bonus. This is a sort of coercion and unfair labour practice. In spite of offer of the ex-gratia amount without if any workmen did not receive the and company could have been helpless but in case the company wanted to obtain by threat and coersion an admission of legal Such sort of admission about the legal illegal. The Union has not attempted to basis or the rates of ex-gratia payments also to several workmen. However, in the pro-I direct that the Company should offer at payment to other workmen who have not h to obtain the same, without asking them to admission in writing about legal position. Company offers an amount as ex-gratia, it will but whether any bonus is payable according or not, it will take its own course accorde facts and circumstances of the case. The will therefore offer the ex-gratia payment workmen entitled to the amount for the period on the same basis and principles acq which some payments have already been other co-workers. The issue No. 4 is this of in favour of the workmen as indicated a

Before I part with this award, I make it no case has been made out from the sk workmen to prove that they are entitled to a either as a condition of service or on the baptonic. I am satisfied that the Company mex-gratia payment to the workmen and such have given to others who have not been receive the amount as they were forced to undertaking in its exchange.

The Company shall give reliefs to the windicated hereinbefore and conclude the pending against the charge-sheeted person if possible, within a month from the public this award in the "Calcutta Gazette."

Indeed, there was no other alternative left for this court than to follow the procedure as aforesaid. Mr. S. K. Shri Bhanja Chowdhury has accordingly prayed for a "no dispute" award in this case. It is clear from the conduct of the Union and also from the facts and circumstances of the case that the concerned workmen do not want adjudication of the dispute—the dispute having ceased to exist altogether. The case should therefore now be disposed of by a "no dispute" award as prayed for by the learned lawyer appearing for the Company.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri RENUPADA MUKHERJEE, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

This industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 4486-I.R./IR/11L-24/62, dated Calcutta, the 5th November 1963. One party to the dispute is Messrs. Bengal Chemical & Pharmaceutial Works Limited with their (i) factories at 164 and 168 Manicktala Main Road, Calcutta-11, and Panihati, 24-Parganas, (ii) City Office at 6 Ganesh Chandra Avenue, Calcutta-13, and (iii) South Depot at 83 Rash Behari Avenue, Calcutta-26 (hereinafter to be described as the Company), and the other party to the dispute is their workmen represented by Two Unions one being named Bengal Chemical Mazdoor Union and the other Bengal Chemical Sramik Congress. The first Union ahall henceforth be described as the Union and the Sramik Congress shall be described as the Congress.

The order of reference contains the following six issues:

- 1. Revision of dearness allowance;
- 2. Revision of the scheme of gratuity;
- 3. Age of superannuation;
- 4. Leave and holidays;
- 5. Canteen facilities; and
- 6. Shift allowance for supervisors.

Written statement was filed at first by the Union on 3rd December 1963. It is not necessary to go into details of this written statement at this stage. Suffice it to say here that in the main body of the written statement the grievances of the Union have been stated issue by issue as also the remedies prayed for by the Union. Along with the written statement the Union has submitted an annexure called Annexure 'A' in which the existing facilities regarding each issue and the changes and improvements claimed by the Union have been stated side by side.

Written statement on behalf of the Congress was filed on 17th December 1963 in which the issues mentioned in the order of reference have been dealt with one after another showing the demands of the Congress in respect of each issue.

The written statement on behalf of the Company was filed on 7th March 1964. In this written statement the demands of the Union and the Congress have been categorically denied by the Company.

The case was argued with great thoroughness by Shri Das Gupta on behalf of the Company and Shri Sengupta and Shri Roy on behalf of the Union and Congress respectively. As Shri Sengupta had to leave for Delhi before the conclusion of the argument, Shri Das Choudhury concluded the argument on behalf of the Union. I now take up the various issues for my adjudication in the same order in which they have been stated in the order of reference.

Appearances of the parties are as follows:

For the Company: Shri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate, and Shri D. K. Das Gupta, Advocate.

For Bengal Chemical Sramick Congress: Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocate.

Issue No. 1.-Revision of dearness allowance

The last reference case in which the question of dearness allowance figured as the only item for adjudication was adjudicated by Shri G. Palit on 26th August 1957. The issue contained in the relevant order of reference stood as follows:

Is the demand of the employees for increase in dearness allowance justified? If so, at what rate?

This award is contained in a paper book which is marked Ext. G. There was an appeal to the Supreme Court by the Company against this award. The judgment of the Supreme Court has been reported in 1959, 1, L.L.J., page 413. The appeal was dismissed.

The award of Shri Palit would show that ward calculation of the cost of living indext found that at the time of a tripartite settleme 15th September 1954, the cost of living ind at 344 points. This settlement has been fit me and it was marked Ext. A(1). Paragrathe settlement runs in the following terms:

"The existing rate of dearness allow prevail unless there is a substantial the working class cost of living index case the rate will be suitably adjusted Shri Palit found that the cost of living 1 risen to the figure of 400.6 in May 1957, it month for which the figure was available t award. Taking this rise into consider .. tion increased the dearness allowance of various pay and after making allowance for an m. Rs. 2 which had been granted by the between the date of the agreement of 19; date of the reference, Shri Palit granted a of Rs. 5. I have already observed that t was confirmed by the Hon'ble Judges of the Court in appeal. After this award of 1957 1 some discussions and negotiations bet representatives of the Company and of the Union regarding revision of pay scales, g dearness allowance. There was a settlemen the two parties, a copy of which was forwar Joint Secretary, to the Government of We Labour Department (vide Ext. A and its Paragraph 6 of this settlement is relevan consideration. It runs as follows:

- "Re: D.A. Existing slab of D.A. in relationable pay of the employees will be by Rs. 3. Accordingly, the revise D.A. will stand as follows:
- (a) Up to Rs. 50—Rs. 40.
- (b) Rs. 51 to Rs. 100 Rs. 43
- (c) Rs. 101 to Rs. 150-Rs. 48.
- (d) Rs. 151 to Rs. 200-Rs. 53.

The increase in D.A. according to mentioned above will be given with 1st November 1961."

Paragraph 10 of this settlement is also to our consideration. It runs in the follows:

"This settlement will remain binding years. This dearness allowange to unless there is a substantial characteristic working class cost of living index."

Shri Sengurta who argued the case on hazdoor Union contended that the allowance given to the workers of this Conever been fixed on scientific basis and adopted by Shri Palit is incorrect. In out that Shri Palit's calculations are incorrect that when Shri Palit held that in Septe dearness allowance for the lowest slab ohave been fixed at Rs. 30 at 344 points, adjudicator had failed to take notice of the full neutralisation had not been allowed in 1954. The learned adjudicator himself allowent neutralisation but he took it for full neutralisation had been allowed in 1954. In my opinion it would not be permissible to go behind the award of S confirmed by the highest judiciary of the i. It is not permissible to reopen this award purpose of showing that it does not stand on and or correct basis.

ri Sengupta contended that dearness allowance d be fixed in one of the three alternative ways ested in the last column of Annexure 'A' to the len statement of Mazdur Union. The first lod is the method known as Bengal Chamber of merce scheme, the second method is renended in the report of the First Central Pav mission and the third method is the method ounded in the case of Buckingham and Carnatic Ltd. reported in 1952, L.A.C., page 490. After ng Shri Sengupta on behalf of the Mazdur Union, Roy on behalf of Sramik Congress and Shri Das a on behalf of the Company, I am of opinion that 1ess allowance cannot be fixed de novo in any ie three methods suggested in Annexure 'A' of written statement of Mazdur Union. We must the award of Shri Palit as the basis and then ed to consider what revision is permissible. I already observed that after the award of Shri there was a bipartite settlement between the pany and Mazdur Union on 6th January 1962. e also quoted paragraphs 6 and 10 of that ment Paragraph 10 provides that dearness ance was liable to be modified if there was a tantial change in the working class cost of living iri Das Gupta submitted on behalf of the Comthat there has been no substantial rise in the of living index and so no revision of dearness sence is called for. This argument of Shri Das ta is at once negatived by solid and undisputed The Union has filed a chart showing how the of living index stood at different times during vers 1961 to 1964. The figures in respect of to the months in 1963 and 1964 are blank as e figures were not available to the Union when chart was submitted. The correctness of the es contained in the chart was not disputed. The t was marked Ext. 4 in this Tribunal. It shows at in the month of the last agreement of 1962 the lex number was 402. It rose gradually from arch onwards until the number was 447 in October 62. The number came down during the next two onths but in May, August and September 1964 the ures were respectively 463, 491 and 507. Nobody a possibly question that there has been a substantial rease in the cost of living index from after mary 1962. As the Company agreed that dearness manne was liable to be varied in the case of a estinital change in the working class cost of living lev it cannot now possibly contend that the same arness allowance which was fixed on 6th January 2 bt mutual agreement should prevail. The ancial ability of the Company does not come in consideration because the Company is liable to increased dearness allowance on the basis of an reement.

The next question is what should be the rate of nation. Shri Das Gupta drew my attention to the of Hindusthan Times Limited versus their worknreported in 1961, I, L.L.J., page 108. At page is their Lordships of the Supreme Court have ected that a sliding scale should be attached to dearness allowance of Rs. 25 per month and the rate of dearness allowance would be liable to be increased or decreased by Re. 1 for rise or fall in the cost of living index by every 10 points. Shri Das Gupta argued that in this case also the variation should be linked to a variation of 10 points.

Shri Sengupta and Shri Roy argued on behalf of the Union and the Sramik Congress that an increase or decrease of Re. 1 in dearness allowance should correspond with rise or fall of every five points in the cost of living index. In support of this argument I was referred to the case of workmen of Hindusthan Motors versus Hindusthan Motors reported in 1962, 11, L.L.J., page 352. In that case their Lordships applied the same sliding scale which was adopted by the third Major Engineering Tribunal, namely, an increase or decrease of Re. 1 for rise or fall of every five points in the cost of living index. In the First Central Pay Commission's report an increase of Rs. 5 was recommended for rise of 20 points in the cost of living index. The case of the workmen of Hindusthan Motors comes from West Bengal whereas the case of Hindusthan Times went to the Supreme Court from the Industrial Tribunal, Delhi. I think I should be justified in accepting the rate laid down by their Lordships of the Supreme Court in the case of Hindusthan Motors referred to above. I, therefore, hold that there should be an increase or decrease in dearness allowance by Re. 1 for increase or dearness of every five points in the cost of living index.

Shri Das Gupta next contended that the increase of Rs. 3 amicably granted by the Company in respect of all the four slabs of pay mentioned in paragraph 6 of the settlement, dated 6th January 1962, should be taken into consideration in revising the dearness allowance. I am unable to accept this argument. The dearness allowance fixed by the above settlement is referable only to the cost of the living index prevailing at that time. That number was admittedly 402 in January 1962. The chart Ext. 4 makes it clear that there has been substantial rise in the cost of living index since then, as I have already pointed out. So there is every reason for making an upward revision of dearness allowance commensurate with the rise in the cost of living index.

The next and another important point for consideration is from which date such revision of dearness allowance on the basis of the above mentioned sliding scale should be given effect to. Shri Das Gupta contended on behalf of the Company that this should be given effect to from the date when this award will be operative and not from any earlier date. In view of the special circumstances of this case I am unable to accept this contention. agreement of 6th January, 1962 itself provided for a variation of dearness allowance for a substantial change in the working class cost of living index. I have already pointed out that that index number was 402 in January 1962.. The Union submitted its the cost of living index had risen from 402 to 418. For an ordinary workman this increase of 16 points which entitled him to get an increment of Rs. 3 in reference was made on 5th November 1963. In September 1963 the cost of living index stood at 468 points. Presumably that was the last available figure at the time of the reference. Even though these increased figures of cost of living index were there the Company did not choose to adjust dearness allowance suitably. In these circumstances I think the workmen should get increased dearnenss allowance commensurate with the cost of living index from at least the month of reference, viz., November 1963. Such retrospective increase is permissible under section 17A(4) of the Industrial Disputes Act as has been laid down in the case of Wenger & Co. and others versus their workmen reported in 1963, II, L.L.J., page 403.

The dearness allowance admissible to the workmen would stand revised from November 1963 in the following manner. A sliding scale providing for an increase or decrease of Re. I for rise or fall of every five points in the cost of living index will have retrospective operation from November 1963. The dearness allowance payable for each month from November 1963 shall be recalculated on that basis and additional amounts due to the workmen shall be paid in two monthly instalments after the date of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette". The dearness allowance for any particular month shall be calculated on the basis of average cost of living index for three immediately preceding months.

Issue No. 2-Revision of the scheme of gratuity

I now take up the second issue which relates to the revision of the scheme of gratuity. The Company has got an existing scheme of gratuity. It has been contended on behalf of Mazdur Union and also of Sramik Congress that the scheme is not sufficiently up to date or liberal and changes should be made in the scheme on the pattern of several recent decisions of the Supreme Court.

Shri Das Gupta contended on behalf of the Company that at present the workmen are enjoying two retiral benefits -one in the shape of employees' provident fund and another in the shape of gratuity.

The benefits under the Provident Fund Act have been enlarged because by a recent amendment of the Employees Provident Fund Act the rate of contribution has been increased from 61 per cent. to 8 per cent. and dearness allowance has been included in basic pay for the purpose of contribution. Shri Das Gupta argued that in view of the enlargement of this retiral benefit the existing gratuity scheme of the Company should be kept in tact and no further financial burden on the Company should be thrown under this head. An award made by Shri S. N. Modak in 1949 and published in a book of the Government of West Bengal called awards made by the Tribunals for the quarter ending December 1949, contains at page 94 of the book the present gratuity scheme of the Company which was introduced with effect from Kartick 1355 B.S. Those rules are reproduced here:-

"(1) On the death of an employee while in the service of the Company one month's salary for each completed year of service subject to a maximum of 12 months' salary not exceeding Rs. 4,000 on the average of the last three years' salary to be paid to his heirs or dependants as the Board may in their discretion decide.

- (2) On voluntary retirement due to illne termination of service by the Company 10 years' continuous and approved se one month's pay for each year of se subject to a maximum of 12 months' pay exceeding Rs. 4,000.
- (3) No employee shall be entitled to claim gratuity if he is dismissed for dishones misconduct or if he will have left without notice or terminated his employ without the permission of the company

I have considered these existing rules regardament of gratuity in the light of several  $d_{l\alpha}$ of the Supreme Court placed before me by parties and I am decidedly of opinion that the require some modification. As regards rule ceiling of 12 months' salary not exceeding Rs is rather low. A workman may die or retire service of 25 years or even more. In such a cas maximum limit mentioned above appears to me insufficient. In the case of Amritsar Rayon Silk Mills versus their workmen reported in 196 L.L.J., page 224 their Lordships of the Supreme ( provided a ceiling of 15 months' basic wages a maximum gratuity payable under the scheme it in their case. Regard being had to the promaximum limit I am of opinion that the cells 15 months' basic wages should be fixed in this as well. Under the existing scheme the mc salary is calculated on the average of the last years' salary drawn by the employee. Shri Sen submitted that the monthly salary should be to be the salary drawn in the last year of servi am not prepared to accept this suggestion be I am increasing the ceiling from 12 months' salary and I am also removing pecuniary limit of Rs. 4,000. Rule I will modified to this extent that in place of the may of 12 months' salary the maximum limit is enl to 15 months' salary and the pecuniary limits. 4.000 is removed.

Rule 2 of the existing rules as quoted above requires some modification. The time limit years attached to termination of service by the pany should be removed, because if the service workman is terminated either by retrenchma abolition of post or service of notice, the workmay find himself landed into serious difficulty out any fault of his own. In such a case the lof his service should not be regarded as a relactor for the purpose of qualifying himse gratuity. I, therefore, modify rule 2 to the that the time limit of 10 years appearing in that is removed. The maximum limit of gratuity with months, pay and the pecuniary limit of 15 months, pay and the pecuniary limit of 15 removed as in rule 1.

Rule 3 of the present gratuity scheme disute a workman from claiming gratuity if he is disurded in the distribution of the least service of the company without notice or term his employment without the permission of the pany. This rule is divided into two parts. The part contemplates dismissal for dishonest misconduct and the second part contemplates of voluntary resignation by the workman without consent of the company.

been held by their Lordships of the Supreme the case of Wenger & Co. versus their reported in 1963, II, L.L.J., page 403 that rmination of service of a workman is the misconduct which has caused innancial loss inployer that loss should be first compensated grittinty payable to the employee and the faint, should be paid to him. This principle so be extended to the present gratuity the Company and to this extent the first rule 3 of the existing rules will stand ands the second part of rule 3 following the of the Supreme Court just mentioned, I is workmen of this Company would be of get gratuity in case of voluntary resignates service of 10 completed years or more. To at rule 3 will stand modified. The existing rules will stand revised and modified in the stated above.

No. 3-Age of superannuation

w take up issue No. 3 which relates to the age transuation. According to the present standler of the Company the age of retirement is 55 is laid down in paragraph 10 of Ext. H. This superannuation appears to have been fixed award of Shri Modak of 1949 (vide page 111 Book containing awards made by the Tribunals quarter ending December 1949). This retiring pears to have been accepted by the parties in ritte agreement, dated 15th September 1954, reterred to by me. This agreement has been 1 Ext. A(1). Paragraph 3 of this agreement on the present question and it is reproduced te age of retirement as mentioned in the Company's Standing Orders under rule 9 will henceforth be strictly followed in case of all employees. The employees henceforth shall retire at the age of 55. Extension, if any, will depend on Company's discretion."

talf of the Union and the Sramik Congress it intended that in view of the fact that the health of the people of this State has improved so of the fact that the longevity of people has ed, the age of retirement should be raised to to the age of retirement should be raised to the age of retirement should be raised to the age of the age of account continuous rise in the price of essential difficulty if the age of retirement is not ed. The family responsibilities of a man e with advancing years and unless the age of annuation is increased the hardship of the en will become very acute on retirement at the family become very acute on retirement at the family properties.

Das Gupta contended on behalf of the my that this Tribunal has no power to enter le question of increasing the age of retirement workmen because the adjudication made by

Shri Modak in this respect has been embodied in the Standing Orders of the Company and as the Standing Orders have got a statutory force the Tribunal would not be justified in modifying them. In this connection he referred me to section 10 of Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946, as modified by Act 36 of 1956. Sub-sections (1) and (2) of section 10 are relevant for our purpose. They run as follows:

- (1) Standing orders finally certified under this Act shall not, except on agreement between the employer and the workmen, be liable to modification until the expiry of six months from the date on which the standing orders or the last modifications thereof came into operation.
- (2) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (1), an employer or workman may apply to the Certifying Officer to have the standing orders modified, and such application shall be accompanied by five copies of ( * * * * ) the modifications proposed to be made, and where such modifications are proposed to be made by agreement between the employer and the workmen, a certified copy of that agreement shall be filed along with the application.

Shri Das Gupta contended that as the Union did not take any action according to the above section for modification of the Standing Orders, the Tribunal is not competent to effect modification. I am not impressed by this argument of Shri Das Gupta. The operation of section 10 is limited only to cases of modification of Standing Orders by the certifying Officer. It cannot surely be argued that once the Standing Orders have been framed and certified by the certifying officer they will remain unaltered and unalterable for all times and no party would have the right to question their reasonableness by raising an appropriate industrial dispute. It is true that the Standing Orders represent a contract between the employer and the employees which has got statutory force, but it is equally true that an industrial tribunal would be justified in modifying that contract if it is of opinion that in the interest of social justice some particular term or terms of the contract should be modified. In this case both parties relied on the case of Guest Keen Williams Ltd. versus Sterling and others reported in 1959, II, L.L.J., page 405.

Shri Das Gupta contended that the above case should be taken to be an authority for the proposition that a Tribunal would not be justified in increasing the age of retirement where that age has been prescribed by the Standing Orders. After carefully going through this case I am of opinion that no such principle of law has been enunciated in that case. The question of forced retirement of 47 workmen who were over 55 years was in issue in that reference. Their Lordships of the Supreme Court held that those workmen who had joined service before the introduction of the Standing Orders were not affected by them but those who had entered service after such introduction were bound by them. The Standing Orders prescribed the age of superannuation as 55 years. Their Lordships of the Supreme Court fixed the age of superannuation for prior employees at 60. It thus appears that the scope of that reference was not to fix the age of retirement by a modification of Standing Orders but to determine whether a number of workmen had been lawfully retired. In the present case the fairness and propriety of the relevant item of Standing Orders of this Company have been put in issue. I am of pinion that inspite of the fact that the age of super-unuation is 55 according to the Standing Orders, this Tribunal has got jurisdiction to fix another age of superannuation if it considers that for the sake of justice and fairplay the retiring age should be increased.

In this connection Shri Das Gupta also referred to an award made by Shri P. K. Sarkar in case No. VIII-137 of 1959 in which he negatived the claim of the Union for increasing the retiring age and maintained the present age of 55 years (vide Ext. I). Shri Das Gupta argued that this award was made in 1960 and no departure should be made from that adjudication within such a short period. I am unable to accept this contention of Shri Das Gupta. It is within the common experience of everybody that times have become harder and harder with the lapse of years since 1960. This will be apparent from the chart of consumer's price index number for working class to which I have made a reference in an earlier portion of this award (vide Ext. 4). Then again the agreement of 1954 to which I have already referred (Ext. A) provides for an extension of service at the discretion of the Company (vide paragraph 3 of Ext. A1). It is the case of the Union and Sramik Congress that this discretion is exercised only in favour of those workmen who are in the good books of the Company and not in favour of those who have got Trade Union activities. Union's witness Jyotish Chandra Dutta (P.W. 2) stated that there are many workers in this Company who are aged over 55 or 60 years. Company's personnel officer Shri Surya Prasannya Mukherjee admitted in his crossexamination that there are several employees of this Company who are over 55 and 60 years of age. He mentions the names of some such workmen. In a letter, dated 7th April 1962, Shri Hemanta Kumar Bose, President of Mazdoor Union, made a complaint in writing to the Chairman and Managing Director of the Company that in this matter of extension discrimination was being made by the Company and those workmen who had joined the strike of 1959 were being compulsorily retired. It is quite intelligible that there is a good deal of scope for discrimination in this respect because the question of extension is left to the discretion of the company by paragraph 3 of Ext. A(1).

In order that all workmen may uniformly derive some financial advantage during the fag end of their service I am of opinion that the age of retirement should be increased.

The next question which calls for my determination is at what age the age of superannuation should be fixed. In the case of Guest Keen Williams Ltd. to which I have already referred that age has been fixed at 60 years for those workmen who were not affected by the Standing Orders. In the case of Dunlop Rubber Co. (India) Limited versus their workmen reported in 1959, II, L.L.J., page 826 the age of retirement was fixed at 60 years for the clerical staff although there was an agreement of 1956 in which the retirement age was fixed at 55 years. This was a case of Bombay and the retiring age was fixed by the Tribunal concerned in accordance with the prevailing conditions in many concerns of it In the case of workmen of Jessop & Compa Jessop & Co., reported in 1964, I L.L.J. Their Lordships of the Supreme Court fixe of retirement for clerical and subordinate g than those who are workers under the Fact at 58 years by raising it from 55 years. It case from West Bengal. There is no reason case should not be followed in the matter o of retiring age. Of course, the retiring age workers was not increased in that case pr because the workers concerned were work heavy engineering industry. The indust which we are concerned is of a quite different being a chemical and pharmaceutical inc think all the workmen of such an industry workers or non-factory workers—should i same age of superannuation. It is known body concerned that the Government of We has fixed the age of retirement of its ema 58 years. On a consideration of all they I am of opinion that the age of superann the workmen of this Company should be to 58 from 55 and I accordingly fix the 58 years.

Issue No. 4—Leave and holidays

I now pass on to the fourth issue in this ramely, leave and holidays. In Annexure written statement the Mazdur Union has statement of the existing leave facilities in one and the claims of the Union in another showing at a glance what revision or innormation or innormal facilities have categorised under six heads from small (a) the chall deal with them one by one.

Under item (a) of Annexure 'A' the facilities with regard to privilege leave ha stated. It shows that excepting some categ workers particularised in sub-items (i) and others are given 20 days' privilege leave if cumulative up to 40 days. Sub-item (i) she durwans, syces, fire brigade men, etc., at 30 days' leave cumulative up to 60 days. (ii) shows that piece-rated workmen and da workmen are given privilege leave accordance fractories Act. Masons, carpenters, paint polishers are included within this category. Contended by the Union and the Sramik ( that this discrimination in the matter of ; leave granted to three different categories of men should be removed and all of them sh given 30 days' privilege leave in a year cum up to 180 days. Shri Das Gupta submitted of of the Company that the leave rules of the C are quite liberal in respect of privilege les durwans, syces, etc., are given 10 days ad leave because by virtue of their duties they get any festival holidays. Workmen ge by the Factories Act cannot be given mor because production will suffer and the interthe community will be prejudiced if further given to them. I consider the claim of the in this respect to be excessive. The leave n founded more or less on the award of Shri to which I have made reference in an earlier of my award. I do not think any liberalisal modification is called for so far as privilege concerned.

1 (b) of Annexure 'A' of the written statement Union relates to casual leave. It shows that no covered by the Shops and Establishments regranted 10 days' casual leave in a year while workmen are granted 10 days' leave without ay. On behalf of the Mazdur Union 10 days' leave with pay has been prayed for on behalf I am not inclined to accede to this demand Union and the Sramik Congress because ction would be hampered if casual leave is as a matter of course to workers who are not ad by Shops and Establishments Act.

m (c) of Annexure A relates to sick leave. It that as employees covered by the State mee Act are given 15 days' sick leave with Insurance Act are given 15 days sick leave with bay and others seven days with pay in a year to cumulation is allowed. On behalf of the ut Union and Sramik Congress 15 days' sick with full pay cumulative without limit was I for on behalf of all workmen. Shri submitted on behalf of the Company that the ulars stated under this head are not correct so the existing system of sick leave is concerned. system would appear in Ext. G(1). It shows n view of Employees' State Insurance Act both mhati and in factory establishment at Manick-sick leave benefit has been replaced by wees' State Insurance Act and the employees ned by the West Bengal Shops and Establish-Act are granted sick leave according to the sons of that Act. Sickness benefit is given section 46 to 49 of the Employees' State ince Act, 1948, and sick leave is granted under n 11 of the West Bengal Shops and Establish-Act. These benefits are quite adequate. benefits have to be compulsorily given by the There is no reason why any additional t should be given by way of sick leave with full The claim of the Union and the Sramik ess under this head is rejected.

n (d) of Annexure 'A' relates to festival holigiven to the workmen of the Company. All nen of the Company excepting four categories ven 20 days' festival holidays in a year. The ted categories are mentioned here. Of these ategories (1) durwans, syces, etc., are not given istival holidays, (2) shift workers are given five festival holidays, (3) representatives are given il holidays only when they are at the headers and (4) piece-rated workmen and dailyworkmen are given only two festival holidays ear It was contended on behalf of the Union he Congress that this discrimination is unfair should be removed and all workmen should be equal number of festival holidays in a year dditional holidays, if any, under the Negotiable ments Act should also be given to workmen ned by the Shops and Establishments Act. carefully considering this claim of the Union I opinion that the company is quite liberal in ing 20 days' festival holidays to the majority workmen. It is not possible to give the same er of holidays to the four excepted categories in of either the nature of their work or the icies of their service. I am, however, of opinion lurwans, syces and some other categories who of given any festival holidays at present should be deprived of such holidays. They should be five days' festival holidays by rotation in a year henceforth. As to shift workers I think five days' holidays for them are enough. There is no reason for altering the rule regarding representatives. Piece rated workers and daily rated workers should be given five festival holidays in a year instead of only two such holidays which are given at present.

I now come to item (e) of Annexure A. Under this head a weekly holidays or rest day with pay is claimed on behalf of all categories of workmen. At present durwans and some other workmen are given only one day off with pay in a fortnight and daily rated workmen are given one day off in a week without any pay. There is no reason or justification for altering the existing practice.

Under the last item (f) the following facilities in regard to leave have been claimed by the Union, (i) Sunday and holidays falling within or at any end of the leave period should not be counted in the leave period as is done in the case of factory workmen; (ii) wages for unavailed leave should be paid to the workmen; (iii) a statement of individual leave account should be shown in the pay sheets of workmen of City Offices as is done in the case of factory workmen; (iv) leave taken on a Saturady should be accounted as a half day.

After carefully considering these demands I am of opinion that there is no reason for acceding to them

Save with the modifications which have been stated above the existing rules regarding leave and holidays will continue.

Issue No. 5.—Canteen facilities

I now come to issue No. 5 which relates to cantren facilities. The existing cateen facilities and the modifications sought by the Union in Annexure 'A' to its written statement are set out side by side.

Existing facilities.

- (1) Free tiffin or tiffin allowance-Nil.
- (ii) Full meals at the rate of 0.36 p. per head are supplied to 100 heads daily at Manicktala.
- (iii) (a) At Company's canteens at Maniktala and Panihati some selected food articles are sold at concessional rates.
- (b) Company contributes Rs. 3 per month per head to workmen working at City Office and the South Depot.

Claims of the Union.

- (1) Free tiffin worth 0.75 p. per day should be given to each workman present.
- (ii) (a) This should be supplied at the rate of 0.20 p. per meal to all who are interested at Maniktala and Panihati.
- (b) Free full meals should be supplied to all morning shift workmen.
- (iii) Company's contribution should be raised to Rs. 15 per month per head.

Shri Das Gupta contended on behalf of the Company that the question of allowing free tiffin does not come within the purview of this reference and so this demand should be rejected. The existing canteen facilities owe their origin to the award of Shri Modak to which I have already made a reference in earlier portions of my award. At pages 104 and 105 the learned judge disposed of the issue "cheap canteen and free tiffin." It is an admitted fact that at present some articles of food are being supplied at concessional rates to the workmen. The Union and the Sramik Congress are asking for free tiffin worth .75p. per day. It was argued by the Union that free tiffin is supplied by several other pharmaceutical concerns in Calcutta. No evidence has been given as to the total emoluments and allowances given by these Companies to their workmen. In the circumstances it would be imposing a heavy burden on the Company if free tiffin worth .75p. per day is directed to be supplied to all the workmen. This part of the claim is rejected.

Rice meals at Maniktala are being supplied to 100 workmen at .36 p. per day. It was submitted on behalf of the Company that this special supply of rice meals was undertaken at the request of the Union. On behalf of the Union it was claimed that rice meals should be supplied to all workmen of Maniktola and Panihati factory at .20 p. per meal. As statutory rationing has been inaugurated in Calcutta it is not possible to extend the provision regarding supply of rice meals any further. This demand is rejected.

The Company supplies some selected articles of food at Manicktala and Panihati canteens at concessional rates according to the terms of Shri Modak's award. I asked Shri Das Gupta to take instruction from the Company and to let me know if the Company is prepared to make any concession in the matter of supplying these articles. According to Shri Modak's award the workers are required to pay 2/3rd of the cost and the Company pays 1/3rd of the cost of such articles which consist of puri or ruti with curry or dal and a cup of tea or in the alternative chira, dahi and a cup of tea. Shri Das Gupta agreed on behalf of the Company that these articles may henceforth be supplied at a cost of .24p. per meal of which half will be met by the Company and the other half will be paid by the workmen. This is a reasonable proposal and I direct that henceforth the above articles of food with a cup of tea will be supplied at the rate mentioned above and the Company and the workmen will pay the cost half and half. Simple tea will be supplied to the workmen at the same rate at which it is now supplied. Other articles of food such as snacks, sweets, etc., will have to be purchased by the workmen with their own funds. As to the prayer of the Union and Congress for raising the contribution of Rs. 3 of the Company per month per workman of the City Office and South Depot to Rs. 15 per month, I do not see any reason for raising the amount of this contribution.

Issue No. 6-Shift allowance for supervison

I now pass on to give my adjudication of No. 6 which is the last issue in the order of ref It is an admitted fact that there are shin visors at Panihati factory and at Manicktola In Annexure 'A' the Union has claimed 25 pe of basic pay for all shift supervisors. annexure a similar claim has also been m. behalf of Acid and Alum Plant supervisors of P who are given an allowance of Rs. 10 per me present. A similar claim has also been ma behalf of one Bibhuti Sen, Supervisor of Su Acid Plant, Panihati, who is not given day allowance at present. I may at once say the claim put forth on behalf of Acid and Alun supervisors of Panihati and also on behalf of i Sen is not tenable because it is not covered order of reference. Issue No. 6 concerns onl allowance for supervisors. Admittedly this alle is paid at Rs. 5 per month to shift superve Manicktola and at Rs. 3 per month to P supervisors. In my opinion this discrimi though small, should be abolished. I do not, he find any reason for increasing the allowance. 101 and 102 of the award of Shri Modak would that a shift allowance of Rs. 5 was given to visors working in three shifts as an inducement their attendance at the time of Hindu Mushin Manicktala factory was situate in a riot affecte This allowance of Rs. 5 per month for Man shift supervisors has continued. Shri Mod k at a shift allowance of Rs. 3 per month to shift visors of Panihati factory. As there is no apprehension of any riot, I think the shift supe of the two factories should get an equal ame this allowance. The allowance of Panihan visors is raised to Rs. 5 per month. I disalle claim of the Union and the Sramik Congre increasing this shift allowance any further my adjudication on issue No. 6.

I have given my adjudications on the swenumerated in the order of reference adjudications constitute my award. Except portions of my award for which a specific denforcement has been stated the remaining will be enforceable immediately after the expone month from the date of publication of this in the "Calcutta Gazette."

Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

(1) Sarbashri Andhoo Karia of Ch. Charowa Sardar, (2) Chooni Oraon of Loojhan Sardar, (3) Ch. Birsha Oraon of Bhum Sardar, (4) Birshi Orain of Loojhan Sardar, (5) Mongri Orain of Santak Sardar, and (6) D.pon Orain of Bhudhiman Sardar.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, made by the Labour Department of the Government of West Bengal for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Northern Dooars Tea Co. Ltd., Binnaguri Tea Estate, P.O. Binnaguri, Jalpaiguri (Calcutta Office: 2 Fairlie Place, Calcutta-1) (hereinafter referred to as the Company) and their workmen of the Binnaguri Tea Estate represented by Zilla Cha Bagan Workers' Union, P.O. Mal, Jalpaiguri (hereinafter referred to as the Union).

Immediately after receipt of the reference notices were issued to the parties who duly entered appearance and field the written statements of their cases.

The case of the Union is that the Binnaguri Tea Estate is situated in Dooars area in the district of Jalpaiguri. The tea estate is owned by Messrs. Northern Dooars Tea Co. Ltd. There are about 1,000 workmen employed in the aforesaid tea estate. The workmen are members of different Trade Un.ons. The six labourers involved in the present dispute are members of the aforesa.d Union locally known as "Lal Jhanda" Union. There is another rival Union styled as Dooars Cha Bagan Mazdoor Sangha which is being supported and favoured by the management. The management used to recruit temporary labourers from outside in order to cope with the heavy work in plantation and plucking seasons. On the demand of the Union the management agreed to recruit unemployed dependants of the workers for this purpose, but in actual practice it was not done. The inevitable result was the increased unemployment of the members in the workers family. So, the Union organised a token strike for three days from 10th September 1962. The strike was subsequently called off and all the workers reported for duty on 10th September 1962. But some of the Dafadars and Chaprashis who are members of the rival Union did not allow the concerned workmen to resume their work. On the other hand, they were maltreated and threatened with phyiscal violence. So, they had to go back home. But on false report a police case was started against them and they were also chargesheeted and placed under suspen-sion by the management. There was no enquiry into the charges against the workmen and opportunity was given to any of them to adduce any evidence in support of their defence. The matter was brought to the notice of the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Jalpaiguri, by letter, dated 13th October 1963, but there was no result. The Company dismissed all the six workmen who are active members of the Union. In the police case that was started aganist the workmen at the instance of the management they were all acquitted, that the workmen have been wrongfully dismissed without justification. Hence the prayer is for their reinstatement with back wages.

The Company has admitted existence of more than one Union in the garden but it has denied the alleged undue favour to the other Union, viz., Dooars Cha Bagan Mazdoor Sangha. On the contrary, it has maintained an attitude of absolute impartiality to all the Unions functioning in the tea estate. The Company has further stated that for the benefit of the workmen suitable unemployed dependants were being recruited whenever there was occasion for appointment of additional labour force in the garden. But not being sa.isfied with the manner of employment of unemployed dependants of the workers, the Union gave a notice of strike from 10th September 1962 and that strike was, however, called off at the request of the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Jalpa guri, following a tripartite conference. Although the proposed strike was called off, the workman of that Union without timely intimation from the Union officials went to the work-site on 10th September 1962 and started coercing and intimidating the vast majority of the workers who were voluntarily working and induced them to abstain from work in order to make the strike successful. The concerned workmen led by Balku O aon and Somra Monda III, not only interrupted the work by their concerted action but a so resorted to physical violence and assaulted the supervising dafadar Md. Aziz who sustained bodily in ury and had to be removed to hospital for treatment. Therefore, the management had to draw up disciplinary proceedings against the said workers including Ealku and Somra Monda III. The chargesheet was issued a little late on account of the fact that the workmen were arrested by the police and were detained in police custody for some time. They submitted their explanations. There was an enquiry into the charges against the workmen by the Manager of the garden who held the enquiry in presence of the workmen, gave them every opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses and to adduce evidence in support of their defence. They were also given opportunity to be represented by the representative of a registered Union, of which they are members as required under clause 13(g) of the Standing Orders. The Enquiry Officer after a fair and proper enquiry found them guilty of the charges and awarded the punishment of dismissal from service of the Company. Therefore, the Company's action was justified. All other allegations have been denied.

Decision

The Union examined two witnesses—one is the Assistant Secretary of the Union and the other is one of the six dismissed workmen. The Company has examined three witnesses including Sheikh Aziz who is said to have sustained physical in ury on the date of occurrence and was detained in hospital for treatment. It is common case of the parties that eight workmen in all were chargesheeted following an incident in the garden that took place on the 10th September 1962. The Manager of the garden is said to have held the enouiry into the charges against all the workmen. There was a common enquiry in respect of the six workmen

It is well settled that before an employee missed from service for misconduct, there we managerial enquiry held under the provisions Standing Orders where there are such st orders, and in the absence of such standing according to the rules of natural justice. instant case there are standing orders of Company. The six workmen subentical exp'anations in which they denied disorderly conduct and creating of any, con or causing bodily injury to Aziz They also denied the alleged order of the directing them through chowkidar Rampal aath to meet him at his office at 3 p.m. on ember 1962. According to the Company 1 respect of all these workmen was held knoon of 11th October 1962. On that day in the morning the Manager held enquirles into the charges levelled against the workman Balku Oraon. I have already stated that he was also found guilty of the charges levelled against him and was dismissed from service and it was subsequently found by the Labour Department of the Government of West Bengal that the action so taken against the said workman by the Company was justified and so there was no reference made in respect of his case (vide Annexure 'I' to the Company's written statement). Exhibit F/10 is the enquiry proceeding in respect of the six concerned workmen and Ext. F/11 is the enquiry officer's findings. Out of the six workmen involved in the present dispute only one has given evidence before this Tribunal. That has given evidence before this Tribunal. That worker is P.W. 2 Shrimati Mongri Mundai. She has said that there was no enquiry. She has denied the suggestion that there was an enquiry in presence of all the workmen and also in presence of some other persons. The workmen had knowledge of the date fixed for holding the enquiry. That date was mentioned in the chargesheet which the workmen duly received and replied to (vide Ext. C/1). On the side of the Company there is the evidence of D.W. I Shri S. K. Mitta who acted as the interpreter at the enquiry that was held by Mr. Mackenzie, the then Manager of the garden. It is admitted by P.W. 2 Shrimati Mundai that the said Manager has since retired and left the garden. The evidence on the side of the Company goes to show that Mr. Mackenze after retirement has gone back to the U.K. It is clear from the evidence of D.W. 1 Shri Mitra that excepting Choto Birsa all the other workmen were present at the enquiry. He has been corroborated by two other witnesses, one of them is D.W. 1 Shri Ajit Kumar Rai Chaudhuri. He is the head clerk in the garden office and the other is D.W. 2 Sheikh Aziz who is serving as dafadar in the garden from 1942. According to these witnesses besides themselves and the Manager there was another office babu present at the enquiry. H's name is Shri K. K. Pandit. He is the second clerk in the garden office. It is quite clear from the evidence of these three witnesses on the side of the Company that the enquiry was held in presence of the chargesheeted workmen excepting Choto Birsa who, as I have already observed, was aware of the date of holding the enquiry. It was mentioned in the chargesheet to which he submitted a reply which is, of course, a carbon copy of the explanations submitted by the other workmen. But it is not denied that he himself submitted the written explanations and put his thumb impression on the document. It also appears from the enquiry proceeding that all of them excepting Choto Pirsa was present at the enquiry and the Enquiry Officer recorded their statements in reply to his questions to them at the commencement of the enquiry and also at the close of the enquiry. At the conclusion of the enquiry they stated in respect of the second charge that they were on that particular day attending a funeral ceremony in the house of Chooni. Their written explanations show that on 12th September 1962 they attended the funeral of Chooni's mother who died on that date. Therefore, I find there is sufficient evidence to show that the enquiry was held by the Manager of the garden in their presence on llth October 1962. uncorroborated testimony of P.W. 2 Shrimati Mundai does not appear to be true. The Enquiry Officer, as it appears, gave opportunity to the workmen to cross-examine the witnesses who deposed for the Company. At the close of examination of each of them he enquired of the workmen if they wanted to put questions to the witnesses. They replied in the negative. It appears that on 13th October 1962 the General Secretary of the Union addressed a letter to the Assistant Labour Commissioner. Jalpaiguri, requesting the intervention in the matter of apprehended dismissal of the workmen. Exhibit 3(h) is a copy of this letter which was forwarded to the Manager of the garden by the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Jalpaiguri, on 20th October 1962. The Manager of the garden immediately replied thereto on 2nd November 1962. Exhibit 3(i) is a copy of that letter. The Manager immediately informed the authority that there was a full and fair managerial enquiry held, during which the chargesheeted workm. n had every opportunity to produce their witnesses in their delence and to crossexamine the witnesses who deposed against them. They were also given opportunity under clause 13(g) of the Standing Orders to be represented by an official of that Union. Exhibit A/7 is the notice inviting representation from the workmen as required under clause 13(g) of the Standing Orders. The evidence of D.W. 2 who is admittedly the baro babu of the garden is that in spite of notice the workmen did not avail of the opportunity and no representative of the workmen met the enquiry officer who was the Manager of the garden. Exhibit E is the standing orders. The Enquiry Officer appears to have complied substantially with the provisions contained therein regarding punishment proceeding. Their was no denial of opportunity to the workmen to examine witness or to produce evidence in support of their defence and to crossexamine the witnesses examined on behalf of the management. The proceedings although recorded in English were explained in Hindi by D.W. 1 Shri Mitra who is a responsible officer of the garden. His evidence shows that he explained the recorded statement in garden in Hindi so that the workmen can easily follow them. I find no reason to disbelieve this witness. Therefore, I must hold that it was a fair and proper enquiry.

Now, coming to the findings of the enquiry officer it appears that he based his findings on the evidence of the witnesses examined on behalf of the management. Three witnesses were examined to prove the first charge and two to establish the second charge. I have considered the evidence recorded at the enquiry proceedings and the findings of the Enquiry Officer. If the Enquiry Officer believed the evidence of the witness examined, then there is sufficient reason for his coming to the findings he actually arrived at. It appears that he relied on the evidence so recorded at the domestic enquiry and came to his findings. Therefore, it can hardly be called perverse. As regards the second charge there is evidence of two witnesses -Rampal and Rupna chowkidars. It appears from the proceeding that he enquired whether they called the chargesheeted workmen to the office of the Manager on 12th September at 4 p.m., to which they replied in the affirmative. But it appears from the chargesheet that the time fixed for attending the office was not 4 p.m. but it was 3 p.m.September 1962. If that was the charge a workmen, that particular charge does not have established by the evidence recorder domestic forum. At 4 p.m. on 12th s 1962 the workmen were asked to at Manager's office but the charge shows that so fixed for the purpose was one hour Moreover, it also appars from th proceed the chargesheeted workmen stated that on they were attending funeral ceremony in the of Chooni whose mother died on that date. is one of the chargesheeted persons and attended the enquiry. It was open to the Officer to ascertain the correctness of the si made by the accused persons by asking about his mother's death on that day but not done. So, I am inclined to hold t Manager's finding in respect to the second is against the weight of the evidence, an opinion it has not been satisfactorily es that the workmen intentionally disobe Manager's order. Therefore, the second channot established by proper evidence recorder Enquiry Officer. A contradiction is appare own finding with reference to the evic recorded. However, the first charge have satisfactorily established before the domesti the punishing authority was justified to average punishment of dismissal against the workm provided in the Standing Orders (Ext. E) fore, I find there is justification for the dismissal passed by the management agains six workmen. I may, however, like to obse it does not appear from the findings of the Officer who happens to be the Manager garden that the previous service rocords a workmen were at all perused and considered provided in the standing order that in 2 punishment under the standing orders the shall take into account not only the gravit misconduct but also the previous record, if the workmen and any other extenua aggravating circumstances that may exist. instant case it transpires in evidence t concerned workmen were not casual or tel workmen. It is in evidence of P.W. 2! Mongri Mundai whose relations are the of that they have been serving in the garden for some time. Her father also served garden. Therefore, in consideration of the they are old employees of the garden and consideration of the fact that their service are clean, or at least there is no evidence any past blemish or any punishment t previous offence, the Company should give employment, at least, to start with, on a ter basis in agriculture seasons when ad labourers are engaged to cope with the seasonal operations. It transpires in evide the record that the Company is under agr with the Union to give such appointments unemployed dependants of the workers 27 agreement is being implemented [vide Ext. 3]

Present:

For the Company: Shri S. K. Bhanja Chowdhury. For the Workman: Shri K. K. Guha, Advocate.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial D.sputes Act filed by one Santi Ranjan Guha against opposite party Mess.s. Paras.amka Commercial Company (P) Ltd. The case of the applicant, in short, is that he was an employee of this Company in its factory at 15 Nilgunj Road. P. O. Panihati, 24-Parganas. He was served with a charge-sheet on 26th November 1963 containing false and frivolous allegations of misconduct to which a reply was duly given by the petitioner. After a sham and make-believe enquiry the petitioner was dismissed from service on 9th January 1964. Although an industrial dispute was pending between the Company and its workmen in this Tribunal at the time of the dismissal no approval of the Tribunal was taken and thereby the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act were violated. Hence the petitioner grays for setting aside the order of dismissal and also for his reinstatement with back wages.

The Company replied to the petition of the petitioner. The sum and substance of the reply is that the approval of the Seventh Industrial Tribunal before which an earlier reference case was pending was duly obtained by the Company by filing an application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act and so this application is not maintainable.

The only question which arises for my determination is whether the opposite party Company has violated the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by omitting to seek the approval of the Tribunal as required by section 33(2)(b).

It is not disputed that a reference case is pending between this Company and its workmen. The date of that reference is 13th July 1963. It is admitted that after the petitioner was dismissed from service no approval of this Tribunal was taken. Shri Bhanja Chowdhury submitted on behalf of the Company that approval of Seventh Industrial Tribunal before which an earlier reference was pending was duly taken. The Gazette Notification regarding that reference has been marked Ext. F. It is dated 6th August 1962. It is an Omnibus reference concerning as many as 1208 engineering industries as would appear from list No. 1 attached with the order of reference. Serial numbers 612 and 943 are relevant for our consideration. The first of these two items has been described as Parasramka Commercial Co. (P) Ltd., 421 G. T. Road, Lillooah, Howrah.

The first of these two concerns is the main factory of this Company and we are not concerned with it in this reference. The other factory which is factory No. 2 is really relevant for our consideration.

It is an admitted fact that the petitioner was employed in a factory which is situate at 15 Nilganj Road, Panihati, 24-Parganas, and he has been dismissed by the management of that factory. The case of the opposite party Company is that factory No. 2 of Howrah was shifted to Panihati in 1961 and the address of serial number 943 or list number 1 has been wrongly given. Factory No. 2 of Howrah does not exist any longer and the real party bearing serial number 943 is the Panihati factory. Shri Guha contended on behalf of the workman that factory No. 2 of Howrah is still functioning and the petitioner being an employee of Panihati factory and that factory not being a party to the reference pending before the Seventh Industrial Tribunal, that Tribunal had no authority or jurisdiction to approve the order of dismissal passed by the management of Panihati factory.

On behalf of the opposite party Company some documents were filed for the purpose of showing that factory No. 2 of Howrah has been completely shifted to Panihati. In my opinion it is not open to the petitioner to question the jurisdiction of the Seventh Industrial Tribunal in the manner he has sought to do. He could have taken up this point before the Seventh Industrial Tribunal. As a matter of fact such an objection was taken before that Tribunal as would be clear from the copy of a petition marked Ext. C. But it seems that this objection was not duly prosecuted by the petitioner and approval was given by he Seventh Industrial Tribunal ex-parte.

Shri Guha contended before me that as the Seventh Industrial Tribunal did not hear the objection of the retitioner on the merits he is entitled to prosecute that objection before me. I do not accept this argument. This Tribunal is not functioning as an appellate or revisional authority. The ex-parte order of the Seventh Industrial Tribunal has as much binding force as an order passed on contest.

On a consideration of all these facts and circumstances I am of opinion that the present application of the petitioner is not maintainable. The order passed by the Seventh Industrial Tribunal stands in the way and so I dismiss the application made by the petitioner under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Taken at my dictation and corrected by me.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The complate been filed by Shri Badsha against Mcssf. Trading Company, 99 Grey Street, Calcutta

The case of Shri Badsha is that he was app in or about July 1962 as a servicemen under had India Trading Company and had been di rer month as wages. He had rendered an t and good service since his appointment.

t ken leave for a month with effect from bruary 1964 and had reported for duty on arch 1964, but his employer refused to allow resume work and then informed him that been dismissed from and his post had been p with new hand. Shri Badsha did not get nce and no cause had been shown why he en dismissed from service and no chargead been given, and no enquiry had been The dismissal had taken place during the cy of a reference to this Tribunal, without any with the provisions of section 33 of the id Disputes Act. It is further alleged that Jsha is an active member of the Automobile ring Workers' Union, that the India Trading n had been pursuing unfair labour practice r to victimise the leading members of the , and that Badsha had been dismissed from on account of the unfair labour practice of nrloyer. The applicant prayed for reinstate-in service and full wages for the entire period. unemployment since 8th March 1964 till ite of his reinstatement.

16 written statement filed by the employer, 1t en stated that the application under section the Industrial Disputes Act is not maintainas much as there had not been any dismissal discharge for any misconduct of the concernrkman. Therefore, the application under 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is liable dismissed. It is further alleged that the main e which is pending before this Tribunal to the question of grades and scales of pay us present alleged dispute is not connected he main dispute, that Badsha along with 4/5 percons were only employed as night service-September 1963 and that the night servicing was started on an experimental basis. The emwho were appointed for the night servicing were only paid their wages daily as and when orked. After running the night servicing or about five months till January 1964 it was that the experiment was not successful and the night servicing work was stopped. The of temporary or casual employees engaged mection with the night servicing work, re, came to an end. It is denied that Badsha d for duty on 8th March 1964 and he was wed to resume his work and was told that been dismissed from service. It is further that there had been any unfair labour and victimisation of the members of the The employer denies all knowledge as to Bidsha is an active member of the Union Lastly, it is said that there is no question ng of any notice of dismissal and/or issuing charge-sheet, and/or holding of any enquiry complainant was never accused of misconduct s not dismissed but was simply discharged experiment was not successful.

ollowing points arise for consideration in ent case:

the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act maintainable in law?

- (2) Has there been a discharge simpliciter, or has there been any dismissal of Badsha by Messrs. India Trading Company?
- (3) Is the applicant Badsha entitled to an order for reinstatement in service and to get the full wages for the entire period of his unemployment since 8th March 1964 till the date of reinstatement?

Point No. 1

The learned lawyer appearing for the employer had strenuously contended that in the facts and circumstances of the present case, the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act must be regarded to be misconceived and not maintainable in law. He had made this submission at the time of the opening. I had then indicated to him that for proper decision of the question, it is necessary to find out whether there was really dismissal or there was discharge s mpliciter, and therefore it is necessary to investigate the facts before it is said whether the application under section 33A is or is not maintainable. As, however, the question has been raised both at the time of the opening and at the time of the argument by the learned lawyer for the employer, I shall record my finding. I do not agree with the learned lawver for the employer that simply because it has been stated in the written statement that the applicant Badsha had not been dismissed from service for any misconduct, that statement must be accepted and the application under section 33A of the Act must be dismissed. My attention has been drawn by the learned lawyer for the employer to the ruling reported in 1953 (II) L.L.J.. 882 [The Eastern Chemical Co. (India) versus Gangaram and others]. In that case it was held that where temporary employees are entertained for specific purpose or for specific period, their employment comes to an end at the conclusion of that purpose or for that period without any action on the part of the employer, and as such no permission under section 33 of the Act is necessary. It was further held that where no sufficient evidence is adduced by the employer to prove the temporary object on the period of employment, the management's action in discharging the concerned workmen infringed section 33 of the Act. This ruling itself shows that the facts must be investigated in order to come to the conclusion whether the employment was for specific purpose or for specific period. The employer lost the appeal because of the lack of evidence on the question whether the appointment was for specific purpose or for specific period. If anything, the ruling referred to by the learned lawver, is against his contention. My attention has been drawn by the learned lawyer appearing for the parties also to the rulings reported in 1964 (I) L.L.J., 624 (National Machinery Manufacturers 1 td. versus Vyas) and 1961 (I) L.L.I., 587 (Assam Oil Company versus its workmen) which has been relied on in the award published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated April 23, 1964 (Mahendra Singh Dhantwal versus Hindusthan Motors). In the first case it has been held that the proviso to section 33(2)(h) does not apply to the case of discharge simpliciter, but applies where the order amounted to a discharge misconduct, though styled as discharge simpliciter,

In that case, the workman was charge-sheeted for misconduct and domestic enquiry was held. As the evidence was not found sufficient to sustain a finding of guilt, the charge-sheet was withdrawn, and on the next day, the service of the concerned workman was terminated on payment of one month's wages in lieu of notice on the ground of loss of confidence under the relevant standing orders. The employer in that case did not file any application for approval before the industrial tribunal under proviso to section 33(2)(b), but the concerned workman preferred a complaint under section 33A of the Act. In the other case, it has been held that in deciding the question, whether a discharge simpliciter, the Tribunal would be entitled to go behind the words and form and decide the matter, and that the Tribunal must also consider whether the discharge is mala fide or amounts to victimisation or unfair labour practice or is so capricious or unreasonable as would lead to the inference that it has been passed with ulterior motive and not in the bona fide exercise of the power conferred by the Act. In that case, the Tribunal previously directed reinstatement of Shri Dhantwal and the employer did not reinstate him by the time when the award of the Tribunal direct by the time when the award of the Tribunal directed the reinstatement; instead a notice terminating the service of Shri Dhantwal was given. In that context, the principles referred to above were laid down. The learned lawyer for the applicant Badsha had conceded that he has absolutely no case if it is found that there was discharge simpliciter. He submitted that he had, however, a good case if it is found on evidence that there was really dismissal though termed as discharge simpliciter. I have come to the conclusion, therefore, that it cannot be said that the application under section 33A is not maintainable in law. The question whether there was really dismissal or discharge simpliciter must be decided on evidence. I shall discuss this question later on. This point is disposed of in accordance with my above findings.

Point Nos. 2 and 3

There is of course no dispute that the applicant Shri Badsha was an employee under Messrs. India Trading Company at its petrol station at No. 1, Ultadanga Road. There is, however, considerable difference as to whether Shri Badsha was regular employee or a casual employee, and also as to whether he was a day serviceman, or a night serviceman, and was paid on monthly basis or on daily basis, as and when he worked. The case to the applicant is that he was in permanent service, and was appointed in July 1962 at the rate of Rs. 55 per month. This is denied on behalf of the employer, and it is stated that Shri Badsha was really a casual worker, and was employed in connection with the night servicing work which was started on an experimental basis, and that he was actually paid for the days he worked. It was submitted by the learned lawyer appearing for the employer that the allegation of the workman regarding the conditions of his service is completely untrue, and that the workman was really a casual worker who was employed for a specific job. Now, regarding this question, the only evidence on behalf of the workman is the workman himself (P.W. 1).

P.W. I has said that he had joined se February 1962, that his pay was Rs. 55 le and he used to get his pay on the fith da month, that he used to work from 8 a.m. to that eight other persons used to work w and that he never worked as a night ser Regarding this evidence, I point out that discrepancy between the evidence of P.W. 1 written statement, wherein it has been stat Badsha was appointed sometime in July 1 course, the discrepancy might have been the mistake made by the concerned we Regarding the eight other persons, it would from the evidence of P.W. 1 that they are service under the Company. P.W. 1 has n able to give the name of all the eight person has mentioned the names of Bimal, (perhaps a mistake for Andrews), Bhagar Krishna. It was suggested to him that I was also a casual worker, but this has been by him. He, however, says that he used to thumb impression on the acquittance roll, o sheets. The wage-sheets (Ext. A series) were to him, and he claims that he had given his impressions there. The wage-sheets show t of Bimal, Andrew and Krishna, and also the of other persons. P.W. 1 admits that Bir others had entered service before he had service, that Ram Sagar Singh is the Manager petrol pump, and that Ram Ekbal, Ram Tewari are the durwans. The wage-sheets ember 1962 till February 1964 had been nut they do not show the name of Badsha suggested to P.W. I that actually for casual v thumb impression was taken on the voucher end of the month. This has been denied by There is a voucher (Ext. B) showing that had been paid wages for 25 days' work at t of Rs. 2.20 nP. per day for December 1963 January 1964. Ram Sagar Singh (OPW stated in his evidence that in September 1 had employed Badsha, and also Mohammed. and Rama who were paid on daily basis the rate being Rs. 2.20 nP., and that when the employees were paid on the 3rd, 4th or 5th month, the signatures on the vouchers were for the casual or temporary employees. He states that he himself had taken the thumbi sion of Badsha on the voucher (Evt. B). The no sufficient reason for not believing the et of OP.W. 2, who admittedly is the Manager petrol station at Ultadanga Road. It was I out by the learned lawver appearing for the man that O.P.W. 2 had stated that ther registers for permanent employees, and for employees, and that there are also other re including the salary registers. It was sub that these registers could have been shown if was really appointed as a casual worker or n is true that all the documents had not bee duced by the employer, but I do not think. a sufficient reason for discarding the eviden O P.W. 2, who is admittedly the Manager of Ultadanga petrol station. O.P.W. 2 had <sup>f</sup> stated that he had been working for 15 year. that Badsha did not do the day servicing w that petrol station from July 1962. Apart this, there is also the evidence of O.P.W. 11 Prosad, who is one of the partners of the Cos that he did not know Badsha, and appoint any temporary or casual em-Budsha was really employed for over half years, it is not very likely that ould know him. There are certain other ich reference must now be made. It was Budsha had been granted leave for one 1964. Regarding this is of course the uncorroborated testi-W. I that he had obtained leave for one O.P.W. 1. O.P.W. 1, however, he ever granted any leave to Badsha. stated that there is no leave register for hes and the leave register had been tyear as notices had been received under A Tstablishments Act. I do not think anything in the cross-examination of which would show that his evidence accepted. It is said that after the expiry e, Badsha wanted to resume work, and old that he had been dismissed from 115 evidence of P.W. 1 cannot also be Before I proceed to consider that evid-id point out that P.W. I had stated that ick on the 7th of March and wanted to gragraph 5 of the written statement, it tated that Badsha reported for duty on 1964 I do not think that the difference nistake, because it was suggested by the ver for the workman that Badsha went and O.P.W. 2 one day before the he leave, and that he was asked to go that he had been dismissed. The ver for the workman was unable to discrepancy mentioned above. He has hat the date as mentioned in the written meht be wrong. I cannot accept this because an application was filed on e wirkman on 11th January 1965 saying was some typing mistake with regard to of love, and that the date should be v 1964 and 8th March 1964 instead of n 1963 and 8th March 1963. In view er in the relief portion where the date 1964 has been mentioned, it is clear that cen some typing mistake in paragraph 5 tten statement. It was then not sub-the date 8th March 1964 is also a I should be 7th March 1964, as the as alleged to have been on leave till 1764. I do no think it can be accepted the workman had reported for duty on 1964 Both O.P.W. 1 and O.P.W. 2 had Badsha came at all in March 1964 at stated that Badsha did not come to and O.P.W. 2 has said that Badsha came May 1964 and wanted some work to be n, and he told him that as the night irk had been stopped, he cannot offer ment The learned lawyer appearing apany had pointed out that, in fact, the complaint had been filed on 13th May evidence, therefore, of O.P.W. 2 is very would also point out that P.W. 1 had e petition of complaint was filed before al 10'15 days after he was told that he ger in service. This evidence of P.W. 1 way to corroborate the evidence of hat Badsha saw him in May 1964. The cross-examination of P.W. 1 also shows that when he was told that he was not in service, he gave a letter to the Company by registered post and the letter was written by Rabin Babu who was present in Court, and that he can produce the copy of the letter and the registration receipt on the following day. Rabin Babu was not examined, and the copy of the letter and the registration receipt were never produced. It appears to me, therefore, that the allegations that Badsha was on leave from 8th February 1964, that he wanted to join either on 7th March 1964 or 8th March 1964 and was told that he was no longer in service, and that Badsha had gone to O.P.W. I on three or four occasions requesting permission to join service on the expiry of the leave, cannot be accepted. The evidence of O.P.W. I and O.P.W. 2, on the other hand, makes it obsolutely clear that the night servicing work at Ultudanga petrol station was started sometimes in September 1963, that Badsha was employed as a casual worker in connection with the night servicing work at that station and that during riot in January 1964 all the casual workers employed in connection with the night servicing work, had left Calcutta, and therefore, the night servicing work had been stopped. Incidentally, I may point out that if Badsha had worked for the entire month of January 1964, he would have been paid his wages for that period. He would also be entitled to get some wages for February 1964. It does not appear that Badsha was at all paid any amount either for January 1964 or February 1964. I have, therefore, come to the conclusion that Badsha was a casual worker who was paid on daily basis as would appear from the voucher (Ext. B) for the days he actually worked, and that as the night servicing work which was started on an experimental basis and which even according to PW. I was done, had to be stopped in January 1964, the service of Badsha came to an end with the stopping of the night servicing work in connection with which he was employed. Therefore, at best, there was discharge simpliciter; it cannot be said that Badsha was dismissed from service From the fact that Badsha asked for another employment to be given to him by O.P.W. 2 shows that Badsha knew that his service is at an end. The learned lawyer appearing for the workman had contended that in the main reference the employer had mentioned Badsha as a worker. I do not think I can refer to the contents of the main reference for the purpose of deciding this application under section 33A of the Act. Even if it is assumed that the name of Badsha appear with the list in the main reference, I do not think that would show that Badsha was really a regular employee and not a casual worker. It appears to me on consideration of the facts and circumstances mentioned above that the services of Badsha who was a casual worker came to an end when he left Calcutta on or about 9th January 1964 and did not come back till sometime in May 1964 as the night servicing work which was started an experimental basis had been stopped on account of all the casual workers leaving Calcutta at the time of the riot. In the circumstances, there is no question of any contravention of section 33 of the Act. There is also no question of dismissal for misconduct Therefore, the question of submitting chargesheets and the question of an enquiry into the alleged misconduct do not arise. The application therefore under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act fails and the applicant is not entitled to get any relief. Point Nos. 2 and 3 are decided in accordance with my above findings. The application under section 33A of the Act is dismissed on contest. This is my award.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 2074-LR./IR/IIL-305/62, dated the 5th June 1964, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messis. Bengal Paper Mill Company Ltd., Ranigani, district Eurdwan (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Bengal Paper Mill Mazdoor Union, P.O. Ballavpore, district Burdwan (hereinafter referred to as the Union), for arbitration under section 10A of the Industrial Disputes Act

The following points have been referred to the Trbiunal for arbitration:

- 1. Should the money arising out of clause 3(c) and in excess of clause 3(e) as embodied in the bipartite agreement between the parties, dated 24th October 1959, be distributed amongst the staff as on 15th September 1959.
- Will the bonus for the staff recruited after 15th September 1959 be paid by the employer separately and not from the bonus pool of clause 3(c)

The original arbitration was referred to Shri K. K. Mitra and thereafter to Shri N. B. Chowdhury, Judges, Industrial Tribunal, and finally it came to me for arbitration.

Findings

Points 1 and 2

Both the points involve an interpretation of some clauses of the bipartite agreement that was reached between the parties on 24th October 1959. The points may accordingly be discussed together, though they would be answered separately. The terms of the bipartite agreement between the management and the Union entered into on 24th

October 1959 are to be interpreted. In interpreting the terms of agreement, the accepted principle which should be followed is that a particular clause of the agreement should not be taken in isolation, but all the terms of the agreement are to be taken as a whole, and on a conspectus of the entire agreement, proper interpretation is to be made. It is further the accepted principle that in interpreting the document, no extraneous evidence is considered. The intention of the parties is reflected in the terms of the agreement, and it is to be gathered from the document itself. The conduct of the parties in dealing with the agreement becomes irrelevant for the said purpose. Both the representatives of the Union and the Company submitted elaborate arguments in the matter of interpretation of the terms. I will now advert to the several terms of the agreement. In paragraph 1 it is stated that the agreement is applicable to the members of the staff excluding Watch and Ward who are on the rolls of the Company on 1st September 1959. Staff has been defined in clause 1 as general tsaff, junior staff, both supervisory and clerical, subordinate staff, Chinese carpenters, but excludes Watch and Ward staff. In clause 2 the Company agreed to pay two types of bonuses to staff as defined above, namely, the monthly incentive bonus and annual bonus payable before the Puja holidays. Clause 3 of the agreement embodies the provision of incentive bonus for staff. I will consider all the relevant sub-claus s of clause 3 in interpreting sub-clause (c) and subclause (e) of clause 3. Sub-clause (a) states that the scheme was a short term scheme and it would remain in force till 31st December 1962. In this respect, I should state the relevant admitted facts. There had been a dispute regarding incentive bonus between the Union and the Management in respect of 3 years, namely, 1959-60 (October to September). 1960-61 (October to September) and 1961-62 (October to September). The scheme that was formulated by the agreement was therefore a scheme for bonus for 3 years only. It is not a perpetual scheme, but a short term scheme limited to the period of 3 years only. It has also been promised in subclause (a) that a new scheme would have to be considered after the date prescribed in sub-clause (a), namely, 31st December 1962. Then I will turn to sub-clause (c). Sub-clause (d) is not at all important for our purpose. In sub-clause (c) the following provision is made:

"The Company will pay a sum of Rs. 50 per ton of nett finished paper over any production of 1,400 tons nett finished paper in any month. This money shall be put into a pool and shall be disbursed on a pro rata basis according to the basic salary of the staff concerned."

Then follows sub-clause (d) which runs thus—
"The maximum payment in any month shall be for production up to 1,650 tons, i.e., for 250 tons only over 1,400 tons."

Then follows clause (e) which also may be quoted below—

"The payment of incentive bonus for production above 1,400 tons nett finished in any month shall be made in the following month.

The Company, however, will in the bonus i.e., from 1st September to 31st August minimum incentive bonus of Rs. 76.7411 for the number of 220 staff as on the part nent list of the Company on 15th Septe 1959. In case of increase in the number staff the minimum payment per vear simple be increased proportionately. Only number of permanent and confirmed men of the staff excluding apprentices, training probationers shall be taken into consider for such calculation of increased minimum."

All the sub-clauses (c), (d) and (e) are to be together. In brief, sub-clause (c) provides that Company would pay Rs. 50 per ton over and a any production of 1,400 tons per month money would be put into a pool and sha distributed on a pro rata basis according to basic salary of the staff concerned. Thus up production of 1,400 tons per month, there is no money. Over and obove the production of tons per month, pool money will be calcul Sub-clause (d) provides that the maximum parameters and provides that the maximum parameters are supported by the calculation of the calcula in a month shall be for production up to 1,650 i.e., the maximum incentive bonus would be lin to a production of 250 tons over 1,400 tons month. Then follows the provision for mone meentive bonus and it is clause (e). The man incentive bonus is provided at the tage.
Rs. 76,741 for a year for the specified numberstaff, i.e., 220. The staff as on 13th September totalled to 220, and this is an admitted tark was further provided that in case of increase in number of staff subsequent to that date minimum payment per year shall be necessary.

Thus, if there was increase in the proportionately. number of staff subsequent to 15th September ! the amount of minimum payment would not tionately go up. In calculating the number of only the confirmed members of certain categoric workmen are to be taken into consideration for purpose of increased minimum bonus.

Now, the controversy arises in the follor manner. The Union urges that the pool mon incentive bonus was provided in the agreement the existing staff of 220, and so if there had I any subsequent addition to staff the maximum 250 tons on which the pool money is to calculated should proportionately go up. In a words, the Union urges that 220 members of staff who were on rolls in September 1959 would entitled to the entire pool money calculated en basis of maximum tonnage. Any addition to staff would have no claim to the pool money. Company is bound to pay incentive bonus to additional staff from other funds. The Union w me to give this interpretation to sub-caluse (e). the side of the Company, it is argued that ! interpretation by the Union would be refracton the express intention in the language of sub-cl (c) and sub-clause (d). The learned representa for the Union points to clause 1 in limiting the 1 money to 220 members of the staff only. It is admitted fact that on the date of the agreement, total number of staff who were admitted to under the agreement was 220. The total r of staff was 227, but out of them only 220 intitled under the agreement because seven not confirmed. Sub-clauses (c) and (d), ng to the Union, had been for the benefit of ply who were on the rolls on 1st September and any additional staff recruited thereafter have no right to the pool. I am afraid the ge of sub-clauses (c) and (d) do not allow such retation The clear provision in sub-clause (c) t incentive bonus would be payable to the concerned. Staff has been defined in the subof clause 1. There is no limitation to the lat this incentive bonus is payable only to the the were on the rolls on 1st September 1959, ibsequent recruit would be left out of compass entive bonus. It is true that in clause 1 the ent had been made applicable to the members staff who were on the rolls of the Company September 1959. By using this expression, tention clearly was to rule out the payment of to any employee who wored previous to 1st ther 1959. All the persons who answered to finition of staff as given in the agreement and ere working on 1st September 1959 would be I to the benefit under the agreement. There expression any where to indicate that nai hands who would be recruited after 1st iber 1959 and would answer to the said on, would be dis-entitled to the incentive under sub-clause (c). On the contrary, a it indication can be gathered from the on of sub-clause (e) where minimum incentive had been provided. In sub-clause (e) there car provision that the minimum incentive which is the minimum guarantee of bonus ctive of production was for the sum of .741. This is the minimum figure for the id number of 220. It was clearly provided there was any addition to the staff, the rm figure would proportionately go up, so e minimum guaranteed incentive bonus would uniform. Sub-clause (e) therefore contemthat the benefit of the agreement would be ed to additional staff who are likely to be id in subsequent years within the period of to was intended that such additional staff derive the benefit of minimum incentive bonus sub-clause (e), it is reasonable to conclude ch additional staff would also be entitled to refit of the pool in sub-clause (c) in the of any limitation imposed in sub-clause (c). use (c) nowhere states that the pool was for lusive benefit of 220 men. Had that been intion, there would have been a provision in (c) or sub-clause (d) that for additional ditional pool money is to be provided. The representative for the Union has posed a that if the staff was doubled, the incentive from the pool of sub-clause (c) would be among the double number of staff with the hat the per capita bonus under sub-clause (c) go even below the minimum guaranteed e bonus under sub-clause (e). His argument in that case the staff without producing g would be entitled to greater benefit than ius on the basis of production under clause

(c). The learned representative for the Union characterises this provision as absurd. I cannot accept this argument, because the question of doubling the staff could never be contemplated from the fact that it was a short term scheme limited only to the period of three years, during which no such addition of staff could be recruited or had been recruited. We cannot ignore the actual facts in this case. A chart has been filed by Company showing the staff position during the three bonus years. The strength of staff had been 242 in 1959-60, 256 in 1960-61 and 272 in 1961-62. The argument on the side of the Union is that incongruous result would follow that has no counterpart in reality. This had never been the case, and the incentive bonus under sub-clause (c) was certainly higher than the minimum guaranteed in two successive years, namely, 1960-61 and 1961-62. The interpretation sought to be made on the side of the management is acceptable, and it does not result in any absurdity. The reason is not far to seek. It is not a permanent scheme but a short term scheme, and the parties entered into the agree-ment keeping this fact in view. The maximum tonnage of 250 tons had been fixed in view of the fact that it was only a short term agreement for three years only. The maximum has been subsequently fixed, and I would be wrong if I interprete the clauses in a manner which would have the result of increasing the maximum tonnage 250 tons. That would be against the clear language of sub-clause (d), which is an integral part of sub-clause (c). It I accept the argument of the Union that the pool money under sub-clause (c) is limited to 220 members of the staff and the subsequent recruits to the staff are excluded from sharing the pool, the position would be that the subsequent recruits though contributing to the production on the basis of which the pool is formed would be deprived of the pool, and the entire result of their production shall be enjoyed by the 220 staff only. Since the subsequent recruits contributed to the production which forms the basis of the pool, they are automatically entitled to a share of the pool. In any event, a part of the production on which pool is formed is by the subsequent recruited staff, and the result of their efforts cannot be wholly enjoyed by the 220 members of the staff exclusively. Accordingly, the interpretation of sub-clause (c) would be that the pool is not limited to 220 staff, and there 1, nothing in the language of sub-clause (c) to disentitle the additional staff to the benefit of the pool. Moreover, the maximum of 250 tons cannot be disturbed in the face of clear and unambiguous language in which the maximum has been fixed. There is nothing in sub-clause (d) that the maximum tonnage of incentive bonus would go up in proportion to the additional staff over and above 220. On a conspectus of all the different clauses of the agreement, my answers to the issues are as follow:

I answer issue No. 1 by saying that the money arising out of clause 3(c) and in excess of clause 3(e) shall be distributed among the staff working in the relevant years. It is not limited to the staff as on 15th September 1959. I answer issue No. 2 by saying that the staff recruited after 15th September 1959 would not be paid separately by the employer, but would be entitled to the bonus pool of clause 3(c).

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri B. Sarkar, Advocate. For the Union: Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocate.

By its Labour Deartment Order No. 852-LR./IR/8L-7/64, dated Calcutta, the 27th February 1964, Government of West Bengal referred this industrial dispute between Messis. Bengal Fine Spinning and Weaving Mills Limited, 7 Bepin Behari Ganguly Street, Calcutta-12 (hereinafter to be described as the Company), on the one hand and their workmen represented by the Bengal Fine Spinning and Weaving Mills Limited Head Office S aff Union, 177B Lower Circular Road, Calcutta (hereinafter to be described as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The order of reference contains the following issues:

Issues

- 1. Grades and scales of pay of different categories of workmen.
- 2. Boaus for the year 1962-63.
- 3. Leave.
- 4. Holidays.
- 5. Tiffin allowance.

Written statement was filed on behalf of the Union on 11th April 1964. For avoiding repetition I refrain from stating here what the case of the Union is with regard to each issue and what relief has been prayed for. All these things will appear in the body of the award.

The written statement of the Company was filed on 22nd June 1964. The case of the Company with regard to each issue will appear from the body of the award. I now take up the issues one after another.

Issue No. 1: Grades and scales of pay of different categories of workmen.

This dispute is regarding grades and scales of pay concern different categories of workmen of the head office of the Company. It is an admitted fact that in the head office of the Company there are practically three categories of workmen besides the clerical staff. These three categories are designated as sub-staff. The number of the clerical staff generally varies from 40 to 50. The first category of the sub-staff consists of drivers of motor cars and other vehicles. The second category consists of bill collectors and the third category of peons and bearers. This categorisation has been given in paragraph 19 of the written statement of the Union and is not disputed by the Company. It is also an admitted fact that at present all the employees of the head office including the clerical staff and sub-staff get consolidated pay without any dearness allowance and there is no gradation or time scale increment. In paragraph 8 of the written statement of the Union the dates of appointment, and present salaries of the entire staff as they were paid at the time of the reference have been given. The correctness of that chart was not disputed by the Company.

Shri Sarkar raised a preliminary objection on behalf of the Company. He submitted that this Company carries on business in spinning and weaving of cotton textile industry and as there are numerous such industries in the neighbourhood of Calcutta all these industries should have been joined as a party in this reference. He argued that Government was not justified in singling out this Company for the purpose of fixing the grades and scales of pay of head office employees and should the Tribunal fix a separate grade and pay scale for this Company, the result would be a disturbance in the parity of wages given to the workmen of the textile industry. Shri Sarkar submitted that this would amount to unfair discrimination. I do not agree with this contention of Shri Sarkar. This industrial dispute has arisen between this Company and their head office employees regarding grades and scales of pay. Under section 10(5) of the Industrial Disputes Act it was open to the State Government to include in this reference other establishments of a similar nature. If the State Government has chosen not to do this, I cannot say that the reference is untenable or incompetent. No question of unfair discrimination arises because the only question which requires my adjudication is whether grades and scales of pay of different categories of workmen in the head office should be fixed by me according to issue No. 1 of this reference. The argument of Shri Sarkar that this reference should have been made in the form of an Omnibus reference including all cotton textile industries is rejected.

The other preliminary objection taken by Shri Sarkar was that the wages and grades and scales of pay for all categories of workmen including clerks in the cotton textile industries were revised and fixed by the Second Omnibus Cotton Textile reference by Adjudicator Shri M. C. Banerjee by an award published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated June 10, 1958, and so no question of fixation of grades and scales of pay a new arises. Shri Sarkar argued that Government could have made a reference for revision of grades and scales of pay and not for fixation thereof. Shri Sarkar argued that issue No. 1 is not maintainable in the present form.

Shri Roy submitted on behalf of the the Second Omnibus reference referred, Sarkar concerns only the employees worl mills of the Company at Konnagar and no office employees inasmuch as the employ that reference was Bengal Fine Spinning an Mills Ltd., Konnagar, Hooghly, and not office of the Company which is situate Behari Ganguly Street, Calcutta-12. On to the award I find that this contention q is correct. The workmen of the head office parties to the Omnibus reference. In the reference the workmen of the mills at were parties. That being the position, passed in the Omnibus reference does no employees of the head office. Then argument that the issue framed with the words 'grades and scales of pay of different of workmen" does not cover the case of grades and scales of pay is too technical t effect to in an Industrial Tribunal. In r an issue framed in the above manner inclu of revision of grades and scales of pay. 1 a disallow the preliminary objection raise Sarkar on behalf of the company and dispose of issue No. 1 on the merits.

I have already pointed out that in pd.d the written statement of the Union a char given showing the names of the clerks with the employment of the Company at the treference and also the names of some wother categories. The correctness of the not disputed by the Company. It is stated of the Union that the first twenty person chart are clerks. The date of appointment these clerks and his present salary would glance that there is no system or uniform matter of salary. I need only give here that there is no system or uniform matter of appointment and salaries of son clerks, namely, those who bear serial num 3, 4, 17, 18, 19 and 20.

	Name.	Date of 19 appointment of
ı.	S. M. Chakraborty	6-3-52
2.	N. C. Sengupta	8-1-53
3.	P. K. De	27-1-53
4,	8. M. Bose	1.7.55
17.	A. C. Basak	1-11-62
18.	P. C. Mukherjee	6-7-63
19.	N. N. Nandi	1-8-63
2 0.	K. B. Roychoudhury	12-3-63

I was told by Shri Roy on behalf of the lall the clerks are either matriculates or they higher qualifications. It is a matter of comm ledge that unless a clerk has any special quantum grapher, etc., the work done by the vast naclerks is of the same type and pattern. (therefore, there should not be much between the pay of one clerk and that of serving in the same establishment. I am (that the wages paid to the clerical staff of pany must be brought within a system by s and time scale increment. At present ements are admittedly given to all clerks anum of such increment depends entirely set will of the management. As regards the learned Advocate appearing in this i that there should be two grades. The n for my adjudication is what should be and maximum salary of each grade and d be the amount of time scale increment e spans of the time scales.

ntegorise the clerical staff into two grades. All be the junior grade and Grade I the le. In paragraph 19 of its written state-Union has suggested the following time rement and spans for the two grades.

has also suggested that promotion from Grade I shall be automatic.

one connection I may refer to the award ond Omnibus Cotton Textile Tribunal fixed the following scales of basic pay for clerks of the mills:

s basic pay dearness allowance was fixed punal at Rs. 35 for all clerks. On behalf on the pay scales of several mercantile alhouse square have been quoted in the pay scales of clerks are decidedly the pay scales fixed by the Second otton Textile Award. These mercantile not comparable to the head office of this alle company.

admitted fact that in the region of Square where the head office of this Comuate there are the head offices of several s. It is not disputed that most of the head hose cotton mills pay the same wages to al staff as is paid in the mills proper. The ixed by the Second Cotton Textile Award ken as a fairly comparable basis for the fixing the pay scale in the present case. It must be borne in mind that the clerks doffice are paid consolidated salary with-parate dearness allowance as is paid to It should also be borne in mind that the less allowance of Rs. 35 has been varied tess allowance of Rs. 35 has been varied of the mill clerks by an agreement to Bengal Mill Owners' Association was a should further be borne in mind that the of this Company is situate in Calcutta resumably a more expensive place than is where the mills are situated. Having all these facts and circumstances I do not any injustice will be done to any party grades and scales of pay of the clerical following way:

n each grade will be of 20 years. Promotion le II to Grade I will not be automatic but will be made on the basis of seniority, merit and special qualification or knowledge, such as proficiency in drafting, knowledge of accountancy and of stenography, etc.

The next question for my decision will be one of fitment into new grades and scales. Those who are getting less than Rs. 100 per month will get the starting salary of Rs. 100 of the junior grade. It may be that among the clerks who are getting a pay less than Rs. 100 some will get a larger benefit than others. This cannot be helped and they will derive this larger benefit because injustice was done to them in the past. Clerks getting a pay between Rs. 100 and Rs. 139 will be fitted into their appropriate places in the junior grade at a stage which is just higher than their present salary. Clerks who are getting a pay of Rs. 140 and above will be fitted in appropriate places in Grade I and they will be given a salary which is just higher in the new time scale than their present salary. This fitment in the new grades and scales will be operative from 1st January 1965.

In connection with the question of fitment into new grades and scales Shri Roy submitted that for every three years of past service an additional increment should be given to the clerical staff. I do not eccept this contention because the Company has already granted an annual increment in wages to all the workmen and so there is no reason why an additional increment should be given in consideration of past services of the employees.

I next come to the question of grades and scales of pay of drivers of cars and other vehicles. In my opinion no distinction should be made between the pay scales of drivers of light cars and drivers of heavy vehicles as has been suggested in paragraph 19 of the written statement of the Union. For drivers of light cars the Union has suggested the following pay scales:

For drivers of heavy vehicles the Union has suggested the following pay scales:

I agree that the span should be 20 years but I am of opinion that the annual increment in the case of all motor car drivers should be Rs. 3 all through. There should be only one grade in the case of motor car drivers. I adjudicate that the following should be the pay scales of motor car drivers:

As regards bill collectors the Union has suggested the following pay scales:

I fix the following pay scales for bill collectors:

As regards the last category in the list namely peons and bearers the Union has suggested the following pay scales:

Considering the pay scales of other categories of workmen I fix the following pay scales for peons and bearers:

As regards the fitment of all the categories of the subordinate staff I direct that such of these workmen as are getting wages below the minimum of the pay scales fixed by me will at once get the minimum of their respective pay scales and those who are getting wages within the pay scales fixed by me will be fitted into the next higher stage. Such fitment will have operation from January 1965.

Issue No. 2: Bonus for the year 1962-63

It was admitted by both parties that bonus is being paid to the employees of the head office in accordance with the terms of Second Omnibus Cotton Textile Award. Both parties agreed that there is no longer any dispute between them regarding payment of bonus to the employees of the head office. I, accordingly, hold that there is no longer any dispute with regard to issue No. 2.

Issues Nos. 3 and 4: Leave and holidays

It was contended on behalf of the Union that there is no fixity or certainty in the matter of granting leave and holidays to the employees of the Company and this matter depends entirely on the arbitrary decision of the Company. It was stated by Shri Pronab Kumar Sengupta who was formerly Personnel Officer of this Company that leave and holidays of the head office are governed respectively by the Shops and Establishments Act and Negotiable Instruments Act. This is also proved by Company's Accountant Shri Sushil Kumar Mukherjee. There is no reason to disbelieve their evidence and I think that these two issues have been unnecessarily raised by the Union. It is admitted that one holiday under the Negotiable Instruments Act was not given to the head office employees by reason of pressure of work. The Company must take care that such violation of the Negotiable Instruments Act does not recur in future. If on account of any emergent situation a holiday under that Act is curtailed then the Company must see that a corresponding holiday is given to the employees. This is my adjudication on issues Nos. 3 and 4.

Issue No. 5: Tiffin allowance

The grades and scales of pay of different categories of workmen have been liberalised by this Award. There is no reason why an additional tiffin allowance should be given. No evidence is forthcoming on behalf of the Union to show that such tiffin allowance is given to the employees of head offices of other Cotton Textile Mills. I reject this claim of the Union.

I have given my adjudication on all the i contained in the order of reference and the tute my award. Except where I have stand wise this award will have effect after the one month from the date of publication of the in the "Calcutta Gazette".

AWARD

The above dspute over the issues given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4997-I.R./IR/10L-253/63, dated the 7th December 1963.

Issues

- (1) Whether lock-out of the factory with effect from 4th September 1963 to 11th September 1963 was justified? To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled?
  - (2) Bonus pavable in 1963.

After service of notices of the reference upon the parties, they appeared and filed their respective written statements in due course. After necessary preliminary proceedings, the case was fixed for hearing on 23rd September 1964. On that date of hearing, there was no appearance by or on behalf of the Union, but a pettion adjournment was filed on behalf of the Company and the case was adjourned to 12th January 1965 for hearing. On 12th January 1965 both parties were absent and no step was taken. In order to give one more chance to the parties to appear and take steps in the adjudication proceedings, the Tribunal suo moto adjourned the case to 19th January 1965 with the warning that if none appeared on that date, the case would be disposed of according to law. On 19th January 1965, there was again no appearance by or on behalf of either party and no step was taken. From the aforesaid conduct of the parties, it is clear that the dispute is not being pursued for adjudication by them and they have given up the dispute which has thereby ceased to exist. Accordingly, there is to be a "no dispute" award in the

In the result, I make a "no dispute" award in the case on the footing that the dispute has ceased to exist and the parties do not want any adjudication.

Union's case is that the Company is a ary firm engaged in the manufacture of varieties of ropes. There are about 100 in the employ of the Company. Some are rate basis and some are on piece rate. The v in spite of its progressively increasing does not look to the welfare and comfort workmen who are being paid poor and ate wages. The workmen with a view to ite the unsatisfactory conditions of service d themselves under the present Union about dle of 1961. Coming to know of the formathe Union, the Company started to victimise kmen by terminating their services without g any reason and without any enquiry or heet and has stopped payment of Puja bonus. mpany does not pay wages to the workmen mental scale and majority of the workers are on temporary basis and are not being made ent in spite of their long services. The Comalso making discrimination in the distribution s to the piece-rated workmen. Some of them being given full eight hours' work. This to unfair labour practice. There was an for conciliation but it having failed the reference is made for adjudication of the ling disputes.

Company in its written statement has denied ged discrimination in the distribution of to the piece-rated workmen. It has also the alleged unfair labour practice and ation. It has also denied the alleged if of the six female workers who were never to by the Company. It has contended that kmen are usually confirmed after continuous of 240 days and it never paid any Puja bonus omary bonus or traditional bonus. It was 1962 the Company made ex-gratia payment of wages to the workmen. There was no other to it has further stated that in terms of a confirmed after continuous of a different dated 30th November 1958, the more being paid annual increment of The Company's financial position is not and no further increment of wages is possible, for allegations have been denied.

Decision

Union has examined five witnesses and the ny has examined one witness and has tendered documents into evidence.

Company is a rope-making industry—not very lying in its employ about 27 permanent work-id some casual or temporary workmen engaged 1 contractors. It is stated in paragraph 7 of impany's written statement that the number kers is nearabout 27. The Union's witness Chakradhar Swain who was a workman of the ny has supported this fact. According to him are about 105 or 106 workmen in the employ Company, out of which 27 workmen are left of workmen and insective in its

The names of the 27 workmen directly in its The names of the 27 workmen and their arnings will appear from this list which is are A to the written statement. The Comass also produced attendance registers for the 959, 1960 (Exts. C to C/2) to show the number slovees directly employed by the concern in those years. The number of direct employees was nearabout 27. There was little variation in some years. There is no satisfactory evidence as to the number of temporary or casual workmen engaged through contractors. It will appear from the registers Exts. E to E, 3 that the Company made payments to contractors for the workmen engaged through them. It does not, however, show the number of workmen so engaged but the contractors were paid on the total output of work. Therefore, it is not possible from these registers to know the number of casual or temporary workmen engaged through contractors. It is, however, in evidence of P.W. 1 Makor Biswal that about 105 or 106 workmen are employed by the Company, out of which 26 or 27 are permanent workers. That evidence is also supported by P.W. 5 Chakradhar Swain. Both these witnesses (P.Ws. 1 and 5) were in service of the Company but their services have since been terminated as is admitted by P.W. 5 Chakradhar Swain.

Out of the five women workers who are said to have been dismissed by the Company, three have given evidence before this Tribunal. They are P.W. 2 kautuki, P.W. 3 Jhara and P.W. 4 Monguli. Their names do not appear either in the attendance registers of the Company (Exts. C to C/1) or in the wage registers (Exts. B to B/5). According to the Company they were never employed by the Company. They claimed to have worked for some years but there is not a scrap of paper to support this fact. On the contrary, then names do not appear in the Company's attendance registers in which appear the names of the direct employees including that of P.W. 5 Chakradhar Swain. He admits his signature (Ext. A) in the wage register Ext. B/3. Both the witnesses P.Ws. 1 and 3 have corroborated the fact that these five females were temporary workers. They have further deposed that because of their Trade Union activities their services were terminated by the Company. They simply corroborated the story appearing in the written statement of the Union in which it has been stated that that the six workmen became the victims of the Company's policy of victimisation for their Trade Union activities. But this story does not appear to be correct in view of their own admission in their evidence before this Tribunal that they never became members of the Union. Therefore, it seems to me that this is a stale allegation against the Company without substance in it. It is also admitted in the evidence that they were temporary workers. Not only P.Ws. I and 5 have admitted this fact but also one of them Jhara (P.W. 3) has admitted that they were temporary workers. I have already observed that the documents Ext. 3 series will show that contractors received payments from the Company for works done by their men. But there is nothing to show the names of these contractors' men and when and how long they were employed as such. As there is nothing to prove that they were permanent workmen of the Company or they worked directly under the Company for considerable periods, they are not entitled to question termination of their casual employments either direct or through contractors. The management certainly has the right to determine its labour force. It may at times engage purely temporary casual workers to cope with the work. Therefore, in the circumstances of the present case as disclosed in the evidence, the six workmen are not entitled to any relief.

Issues Nos. 2 and 3:

These two issues relating to revision of wages and incremental scale of wages are considered together for the sake of convenience as they are inter-linked. Admittedly there was a bi-partite agreement arrived at between the management and the Union of the workmen which was functioning in the year 1958. The name of that Union is Howrah Rope Majdoor Union. The present Union was brought into existence about the middle of 1961 (paragraph 6 of the Union's written statement). The previous Union negotiated with the management and came to certain settlements which were incorporated in a memo of settlement signed by the representatives of the parties on 30th November 1958. Exhibit D is the said agreement. This agreement covered increment of wages of the workmen employed by the Company. Admittedly there are two departments in the factory one is rope-making and the other is spinning. The ropemaking department is called "Line" Department Department and the Spinning Section is called "Katni" Department. There are also two categories of workmen employed in the establishment. They are dailyrated workers and piece-raters. It appears from the agreement Ext. D that the Company and the then existing Union agreed to the annual increment of the daily rate by two annas in respect of daily-rated workers and in respect of piece-rated workers the agreement was for an increment of the piece-rate by one anna per year in case of workmen who will be earning more than Rs. 2 per day, and it will be two annas per day for those who will be earning less than Rs. 2. The Company has furnished a list of workmen now working in the rope-making department and also the workmen engaged in thet Spinning Department. The list has been made annexure A to the written statement. There are 18 workmen in the rope-making department and 8 in the Spinning Department and one in the ball-making department. According to the Manager of the Company Shri Banerji (D.W. 1), these 18 workmen are daily-raters and the nine workmen are piece-raters. The workmen in the rope-making department or Line Department are daily-raters and the workmen in the Spinning or Katni Section are piece-raters. Their earning depends on the number of pieces they produce per day, the rate per piece of production being fixed. There is no evidence adduced by either of the parties as to the fixed rate per piece of goods produced. The Company has noted the daily carnings of the piece-raters in the Annexure A to their written statement. The Manager has stated in his evidence before this Tribunal that the daily rate noted against the piece-rated workmen of the Katni Department is paid to them provided they produce certain fixed quantity of goods per day. The previous agreement as I have stated was effected in November 1958, and since then the agreed terms have been implemented. This fact is admitted by the Union in its written statement, paragraph 11. P.Ws. 1 and 5 who are workmen of the Company have not denied this fact in their evidence. both of them have since been retrenched by the Company as deposed by P.W. 5. Not a single serving workman has come to support the demands for revision of wages and incremental scales thereof. Therefore, it is difficult to know the exact grievances of the workmen who are actually working in the establishment. There is no evidence to show what increment of wages they have actually claimed and what are the proposed scales of wages. In written statement Union has prayed for incre the wages of each workman by Rs. 30 per mont Rs. 1.16 nP. per day for the daily-rated won and in case of piece-rated workmen the piece may be increased annually to that extent, i.e., i per piece. The Company has seriously object the proposed increment of wages of the daily and piece-rated workmen. The Company has pleaded inability on ground of its poor far position. Undoubtedly financial resources ( Company cannot be brushed aside, it is an imp tactor which must be taken into considerate the matter of revision of wages on increase scales. The wage increase will have a long effect on the industry and as such it requires a scrutiny of the financial posititon of the conce bear the additional burden of wage increase Manager's evidence shows that the financial pa of the Company is not sound. It is a small con that came into existence in 1948. It was starte three partners as it appears from the balance of the year ending 30th Chaitra 1364 B.S. there are two partners having equal share in enterprise. The balancesheet of the year ended Chaitra 1358 B.S. shows that the two partners to share equally the loss of the business amoun to Rs. 17,783-13. In the next following year business equally sustained loss but the loss was an reduced to half. It was Rs. 9,427 and odd h year 1364 B.S. the business sustained a loss to extent of Rs. 11,764. In the year that ended Chaitra 1366 BS, there was no loss or no me Then in the year ending 30th Chaitra 1361 again there was loss in the business to the even Rs. 21,072. So, the balancesheets Ext. F col tively) which have been placed in the records show that the business is often running at all The learned Advocate Shri S. N. Baners appeared for the Union has contended that balancesheets do not refresent the correct state thing. But these are audited balancesheets and by a registered firm of Chartered Account There is no evidence on the side of the questioning the correctness of the figures contains in the balancesheets. No inaccuracy has h pointed out from the balancesheet. Thereton absence of proper challenge I find no reason while financial position as disclosed in the balances should not be taken as prima facie correct. there been any evidence on the side of the ba challenging the correctness of the figures appear in the balancesheets, then it would have in necessary to prove correctness thereof by covidence before this Tribunal is not satisfactor. is well settled that the capacity of an industry pay is an important factor in the matter of his or revision of wages except of course in cases of subsistence of minimum wages where the employee is bound to pay the same irrespective of its capacity. The next principle is that the capacity the industry to pay is to be considered on the considered of the capacity that the capacity the industry to pay is to be considered on the capacity that the capacity tha industry-cum-region basis after taking a fair of section of the industry. In the instant case then no evidence to show existence of similar compart industry in the region. The parties have not pl any material before this Tribunal to show exp rates of wages in a similar industry located in the locality or in the State. The Compa position as apparent from the balancethe few years is not very good but in any Company is bound to pay the subsistence hages to the workmen. That wage he is a receive to cover the bare physical needs d his family and the industry is bound to wage irrespective of its capacity to pay. It ttled that if an industry is unable to pay to nen a bare minimum wage, it has no right It is in evidence that the employees of the are not being paid D.A. or any other The 18 daily-rated workers of the ropeepartment are being paid at the daily rates column 3 of Annexure A to the Company's tatement. Majority of them are not getting he rate of Rs. 2 per day. It is common e that prices of essential commodities have and it is extremely difficult for a workman both ends meet with his meagre earning of day. Therefore, in my consideration the wage of a daily-rated workman should be han Rs. 2.25 nP. per day. Those workmen now getting less than Rs. 2.25 nP. per day nediately be pulled up to that minimum ari Banerji appearing for the Union has fixation of minimum wages on the basis kroyd's Formula for living cost, but I am cannot accept his suggestion in view of the ours is an industrially under-developed It will take some time to attain perfection take all-round improvement. Industries are , just growing in our country. Therefore, ure some consideration and protection in ly stages. Of course, labour force play an t role in the field of industry. Therefore, it rves almost equal consideration. But cannot develop in order to compete with antries, then the sufferings of the labour ll the more.

is evidence of the Manager of the factory ienrii (D.W. 1) to show that raw materials rted from Philippines and South Africa. So, stry has to depend upon the supply of raw from outside the country. The Company's in is that the supply position of raw materials g satisfactory, piece-rated workmen of the ction may be kept fully engaged during ing hours. It is in evidence that the Complovs casual labour through contractors. impany does not get sufficient supply of raw from outside the country, then it should the possibility of employing reduced number actor's men in order to give sufficient work ermanent piece-rated workmen so that their do not fall below Rs. 2.25 nP. per day. I ady observed that the parties adduced no before this Tribunal regarding the existing es. Therefore, I am not in a position to there is scope for increasing the piece rate nsure the aforesaid subsistence wages of the ed workers.

I consider the claim of annual increment of It has already been pointed out that there partite agreement Ext. D. That agreement, speaking, is no longer binding upon the n view of its implied termination by the 1 by their conduct of raisinng a dispute g revision of wages. But it is an admitted t the workmen are still being granted it of wages as agreed upon. Regard being had to the Company's financial position as disclosed in the balancesheet and other evidence before this Tribunal which I have already discussed, I direct the Company to continue to pay annual increment of wages at the same rate of .13 nP. per day to the daily-rated workmen.

In the case of piece-rated workmen the rate of annual increment will be the same instead of six naye paise as in the agreement Ext. D.

This will take effect immediately after publication of the award

Issue No. 4

The Company has denied the allegation that temporary workmen are seldom made permanent. There is no evidence of any temporary workman to show that he has not been timely made permanent. It is the evidence of the Manager of the factory that the temporary workmen are always made permanent after continuous service of 240 days. I do approve the system of making the temporary workmen permanent after they have rendered 240 days satisfactory service with the Company. If there is any such temporary workman who has continuously and satisfactorily worked for 240 days should immediately be made permanent and this system in future should be followed in this concern.

Issue No. 5

The Union has claimed Puja bonus for 1961 on the plea that in the previous three years the workers were also paid Puja bonus. The Company has denied any payment of Puja bonus previous to the year 1961. It admits to have made an ex-gratia payment of 10 days' wages only in the year 1962 and not before. There is no jota of evidence on the side of the Union to prove the alleged payment of Puja bonus in the years 1958, 1959 and 1960. On the other hand the Manager of the factory has denied any payment of bonus as alleged. The balancesheet Ext. F also does not show any payment of bonus to the workmen. In 1958 the business of the Company carned some profit and the three partners shared the net profit amounting to Rs. 6,900 and odd. In the year 1366 B.S. theer was some profit amounting to Rs. 4,500 and odd which was shared by the two partners. But there is no item of payment of bonus to the workmen. Therefore, there is nothing to show any payment of Puja bonus previous to the year 1961 for which it is claimed. There is also no evidence to show that it is claimed as a condition of service or in terms of any agreement. P.W. 1 Shri Makar Biswal has deposed that there was an agreement regarding payment of bonus but no such agreement is forthcoming. Therefore I reject the claim of Puja bonus for the year 1961. The Company's financial year is admittedly according to Bengali calendar year. The Company has produced the balancesheet for the year ending 30th Chaitra 1368 B.S. It appears from the balancesheet that the business of the Company sustained a loss to the extent of Rs. 21,000 and odd. Therefore, the question of payment of any bonus does not arise in the relevant year.

Issue No. 6

It has been alleged by the Union that the permanent piece-rated workers are not being given sufficient work to keep them fully occupied during the working hours. The grievance is that sufficient raw materials are not being supplied to them. In the result they are not in a position to work full time in order to earn sufficiently. It is in evidence of the Manager that the raw materials are imported by the Company from Philippines and South Africa. So, the Company has got to depend upon the supply of raw materials from outside the country. If the supply position improves the Company undertakes to give sufficient work to the piece-rated workmen. There is no denial to the fact that the Company gets supply of raw materials from outside the country. That being the position in respect of supply of raw materials it is very difficult to lay down any hard and fast rule as to the quantity of raw materials to be supplied every day to such workmen. But the management should see that the permanent piece-rated workers are provided with sufficient raw materials in order to keep them employed fully during the working hours. The Company should make no discrimination in the distribution of raw materials between permanent piece-rated workmen and the casual workmen engaged through contractors. I have already observed that the management should consider the necessity of reducing the number of contractors' men with a view to give sufficient work to the permanent piece-rated workmen employed in the Katni section of the factory. The management must see that the minimum earning of Rs. 2-25 nP. per day is ensured to each of the workmen.

This is my award.

This industrial dispute between Messrs. Central Textile Mills and their workmen was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Government Order No. 7177-I.R./1R/8L-51/62, dated the 26th December 1962, for adjudication upon the issue which is as follows:

Issue

Bonus payable in 1962.

After receipt of the reference from Government on 29th December 1962, usual notices were issued to the parties concerned fixing 19th January 1963

for their appearance and for filing written statement by the Union. Both the parties entered appearance on 19th January 1963. The Union filed its written statement on 31st January 1963, and the Company filed its written statement on 22nd April 1963. After several adjournments on the prayer of the parties, the case was fixed for hearing on 22nd January 1965. On that date none appeared on behalf of the Union, and no steps were also taken by it. A petition has been filed by the Company through its Advocate Shri Birendra Nath Banerji stating that the dispute between the Company and its workmen had been amicably settled out of Court, and there is no subsisting dispute between the parties for adjudication by the Tribunal. The petition bears the signatures of the workmen Shri Chandra Jha and Shri Anil Chandra Sarkar who, it is stated, have been authorised by the workmen to represent them in this case. The two workmen have stated before me that they have been authorised by the workmen to sign the petition and have rised by the workmen to sign this petition, and have further stated that the dispute between the Company and the workmen has been amicably settled and there is no subsisting dispute. A petition has been filed along with the main petition which has been made Annexure A. In this Annexure A the workmen have admitted payment of bonus for the years 1962, 1963 and 1964. It thus appears that the workmen have been paid bonus which was agreed upon between them and the Company for these years, and the workmen are, therefore, no longer interested in the dispute. The fact that the Union has not appeared goes to support the petition filed by the Company that there has been an amicable settlement of the dispute, and no dispute is sub-sisting. In the circumstances, I hold that there is no subsisting dispute between the parties for adjudication relating to the year 1962, and accordingly I pass a "no dispute" award in this case. This is my award.

Whether the termination of service Rahaman is justified? To what relief, if a entitled?

The Union on behalf of the workma written statement had submitted that Shri had been in service with Messrs. Bengal Re (P) Ltd., Jamgram, for over 20 years as Machineman, that he fell sick from 25th and was under treatment of the Factory D for a considerable period without any imp and that as the condition of Shri Rahama worse, he had to consult outside doctor wh him at his own cost. It is further stated Rahaman was declared fit in September 198 physician who granted him the fitness of This fitness certificate was produced management and Shri Rahaman prayed for I his duty, but he was not allowed to do so. Rahaman had been illegally deprived of the Union took up the matter with the Assistant Commissioner, Asansol, for conciliation, ciliation failed. In the circumstances, it prayed that the termination of service Rahaman might be declared to be illegal, 1 n instance of unfair labour practice amounting timisation and it is further prayed that he may instated in service with full back wages and juity of service.

ists Bengal Refractories (P) Ltd. in the written ent nied had denied the allegations made in ntten statement filed on behalf of the work w the Union. It is stated that Shri Rahaman ned absent from duty from 23rd June 1961 ut submitting any leave application and at obtaining any permission and without the edge of the Company. When the Company to know that Shri Rahaman had been absentmself in an unauthorised manner, it addressed er on 14th July 1961 to him to resume duties , a certain date. It was further mentioned in etter that if Shri Rahaman did not turn up on the fixed it would be presumed that he would longer interested in -service and his name be removed from the attendance register it turther reference to him. As Shri Rahaid not do anything, the Company came to the sion that Shri Rahaman was a deserter and ingly his name was removed from the attendregister. As Shri Rahaman had left service own accord, he is not entitled to get any ould appear that the Company had filed list tuments in which the Attendance Register for nd the letter of the Company, dated 14th July and other documents had been mentioned. t of documents had been put in by the Union 1alf of the workman. However, a talk of omise was going on, and finally today both have filed a joint petition of compromise. It s to me that the terms of the compromise in the parties are legal, bona fide and valid tould be given effect to. There is no further between the parties and Shri Rahaman is paid Rs. 400 in full and final settlement of all ims against the Company. #### Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal

For the Company: Shri D. M. Bhowmik, Advocate. For the Union: None.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The parties are Messrs. Bathgate & Co. Ltd., 17-19 Old Court House Street, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Bathgate Employees' Union, 282 Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta. The issue is as follows:

Whether termination of employment of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(i) Shri Sushil Kr. Samatna, (ii) Shri Santosh Kumar Chatterjee, (iii) Shri Lucas Baneyan, (iv) Shri S. Banerjee, (v) Shri Bhupendra Nath Mukherjee, (vi) Shri Abdul Rahim.

In spite of due notice from this Tribunal, the Union has not appeared. It further appears from the order of reference that the parties had been informed direct about the reference. The Bathgate & Co. Ltd. has appeared and submitted its written statements. In short, the case of the Company is that it had its Dispensary Department in premises

No. 17 Old Court House Street, Calcutt landlord sold the house to the United Lank of Ltd. The Company made over possession portion of the premises where the dispensal located on the demand by the bank. Company had no place to continue the dispensal department, the employees of the said department, the employees of the said department, the employees of the said department of the continue the dispensal to be retrenched, and the workmen in quere given notice terminating their services. Persons have already settled their dues well. Company. Retrenchment compensation had settled as well. It has been further alleged there is no industrial dispute between the Calculation and the workmen.

Today was fixed for ex-parte hearing Estabishment Officer of the Company had examined as D.W. 1. He has supported the of the Company. The evidence is the dispensary department of the Company had abolished for want of accommodation. The has stated that notice was given to the disk workmen who have already settled their duthe Company. The witness has also assert there is no dispute between the Company a workmen. As against the evidence on nothing is forthcoming to rebut the case of Company. I have aslo perused the receipts a letters filed in this case and I am satisfied the is no industrial dispute between the Company the workmen and that the dispute between order of reference have been settled amicable non-appearance of the Union also support finding because otherwise the workmen would come forward and challenged the Company come forward and challenged the Company and the Stribunal. It is to be noted that Shirk Kumar Chakravorty has been wrongly nated the Company and Santosh Kumar Chatterjee.

In the result, no relief can be granted workmen and the reference is decided in far the Company.

AWARD

This application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act was filed by 23 employees of Messrs. Jessop & Co. during pendency of an industrial dispute pending between the aforesaid Company and its workers covered by Labour Department order No. 4033-I.R./IR/10L-14/57, dated 28th October 1957. The grievance of the employees before me is that the Company discharged them straightaway from their long standing service ultimately to their great prejudicise and harm thus violating section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Hence the present application for holding the termination of their services as unjustified, for reinstatement with all back wages and for usual compensation.

The application has been seriously opposed by the Company. The Company's case is that the employees were never discharged or dismissed as alleged by the applicants. According to the Company the employees simply retired from their service on their attainment of 55 years of age as per terms laid down in the Company's standing orders and as per the observations made in connection with the award known as Award of the Mercantile Bank. The application under section 33A of the employees is thus according to the Company entirely misconceived and not maintainable in law.

The points for my determination in this case are whether in view of the facts and circumstances of the case the application under section 33A of the

The admitted legal position is that unles has been a tacit violation of the law laid of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act n cation under section 33A of the same Act in a court of law. The question there whether section 33 of the Industrial Dispu has been in any sense violated by the Section 33 enacts that no employer shall du pendency of a proceeding before the Labou or a Tribunal alter the service condition employees, nor discharge or punish whether missal or otherwise any employee concerned a dispute in regard to any matter connected connected with the said pending dispute the parties. The materials on record will crystal clear that none of the 23 aggrieved at before me was punished by the Company misconduct. They were neither discharge service. No question of altering the service tion of the employees also arises in this case it is nobody's case on record that any condition was so altered by the Compan materials on record show that the empli point were simply served with retirement after of course they had attained the age o. The Company effected their retirement in t not whimsically but as per standing order Company. From the certified copy of the passed in connection with the main re ere of which the present application has arisen, transpire that the established standing orac Company was to effect retirement or ell en on the attainment of the age of 55 years Tribunal in connection with the main rapproved this action of the Company and to of the judgment of that Tribunal was never by the Supreme Court on appeal (vide the copy of the judgment of the Supreme (a) C-1). To hold now that action of the C in the matter of effecting retirement oployees concerned is unjustified is thus to the terms of the award passed by the July Tribunal conducting the main reference as direction of the Supreme Court. Mr. Se appearing on behalf of the Union has argued me saying that the retirement of the employees is not retirement simpliciter but is virtually a discharge from service, a J which is mala fide, amounting to victimis. unfair labour practice. In this context, M Gupta has invited my attention to the obse made in connection with the case of M Singh vs. Hindusthan Motors (publishe) "Calcutta Gazette" of 23rd April 1964) dec Shri Renupada Mukherjee knowing full we although that decision of Shri Renupada Vit is not strictly speaking binding upon the still the decisions of Justice Mookheriet formerly was are looked upon with high esse respect throughout this State Mr Se 1911 1 ever forgets that the case of Mohendra Sin' several distinguishing features of its own would appear that Mohendra Singh the w concerned was discharged by the Company in violation of the terms of the contact between parties as also in utter repudiation of the o ribunal concerned. The disnat case was therefore not regarded as a miliciter. In the instant case however, we action is not exposed to such risk, ust say that in effecting retirement of nes in this case the Company acted. In ntended before me by the learned lawyer n the employees that at least some or es in point did not complete the age of therefore their retirement was untimely just. This contention also is unterable and circumstances of the case. It pire from the record that the applicants have not dared to say on oath that the ulated by the Company was in any sense b come forward before this court to six is wronged by the Company in that his name is Durga Das Lahiri. He has fore this court as a witness and has filed pe too (vide Ext. 1) in furtherance of his we that he was still under 55 when he to retire by the Company. A careful At I will however convince every reader cument has been manufactured for the this case. The Company's provident earing the signature of Durga Das Lahiri the deposition of the witness K. January 1965 Dr. J. K. Bose appeared for the Company, and none appeared on behalf of the Union except Shrimati Uma Das, one of the concerned workmen. Heard arguments on preliminary point. Award was reserved.

AWARD

A preliminary objection has been raised by the Company regarding the maintainability of the case as per paragraphs 7, 8 and 9 of the written statement filed by the Company, it is specifically stated that the Bridge & Roof Workers' Union is not, in law, competent to take up the cause of the dismissed workers, and to raise a dispute on their behalf. It has been urged on behalf of the Company that the Bridge & Roof Workers' Union is a stranger Union, and it has no locus standi to raise a dispute on behalf of the dismissed workers inasmuch as there is a Union of workmen of this particular concern, and that Union did not take up the cause of the two dismissed workmen. It is an admitted fact that there is a Union of the workmen employed by the Company, and that Union did not take up the cause of the two dismissed workmen. It is settled law that while a dispute between a single worker and the employer would not amount to an industrial dispute, such a dispute when espoused by the workers of the Union or by some workmen would amount to an industrial dispute. The dispute must be such as to affect the workmen as a class. Thus the Union of workmen of the employer, or even a minority of workmen can raise an industrial dispute if the dispute affects the workmen as a class. Where, however, a Union unconnected with the employer-industry takes up the cause of dissatisfied workmen, the dispute does not automatically transforms itself from an individual dispute to an industrial dispute. The real test is whether the stranger Union has the backing, eympathy or collaboration of the majority of a large section of workmen employed in the particular industry, and such workmen feel themselves concerned in the dispute. In other words, a dispute, an individual dispute, cannot become an industrial dispute unless it is espoused by a Union of that establishment or a Union of an allied trade. Admittedly the Union of the workmen of the Company, or some of the workmen have not taken up the cause of the two dismissed workmen, and the Union which has taken up the cause of these two workmen is not the Union of an allied trade. In the present case the workers concerned were not members of the Union which espoused their cause on the date their services were terminated, and the Union which espoused their cause was also not of the same trade and industry. That being the position, the dispute referred to for adjudication cannot be regarded as a dispute and the present reference is the maintainable in law. The preliminary raised on behalf of the Company must be the case is disposed of as not maintainable.

For the Union: Shri P. K. Sannyal, Advocate, and Shri T. P. Chatterjee, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 1671-I.R./IR/11L-125/64, dated 29th April 1964, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Asoka Marketing Ltd., 18A Brabourne Road, Calcutta-1 (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Asoka Marketing Employees' Union, 3 Commercial Buildings (second floor), 23 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1 (hereinafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issue framed in this case for adjudication runs as follows:

Whether retrenchment of Shri R. C. Das was justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

The case of the Union in its written statement is that it is a case of retrenchment of the workman concerned Shri R. C. Das who was appointed in March 1946 in Dalmia Cement & Paper Marketing Co. Ltd. In 1948 all the employees of the above concern were taken over by the present Company (Asoka Marketing Ltd.). On 21st September 1959 the Company retrenched Shri Das with effect from 30th September 1959 and he was employed in Calcutta. A dispute was raised on the issue of etrenchment and during conciliation he was resmployed by an order, dated 28th November 1959, and his re-employment started with effect from 5th December 1959. Thereafter on 7th April 1964 he was transferred from Calcutta to Banares Office which was a Branch of the said Company. The workman Shri Das challenged the order of transfer as mala fide and an act of victimisation. A dis was raised on the point of transfer which is pending with the Labour Department of the Government of West Bengal. Thereafter, a notice retrenchment was issued to Shri R. C. Das on August 1963 and the retrenchment took effect is illegal and mala fide, and according to the Unit is not justified. Shri Das was retrenched on plea that the Banares Office has been closed, the in fact, there are other drivers in the employ of Company—both in Calcutta and in other brane of the Company, who are junior to Shri Das R is accordingly claimed by invoking section 250 the Industrial Disputes Act. Shri Das claims instatement with full back wages.

The Company filed a written statement in ant to that of the Union. The Company's first contion is that since Shri Das' was employed in establishment at Banares which is outside the properties of the State of West Bengal, the appropriate Government to make the reference on the point dispute would be the Uttar Pradesh Government of West Bengal. Government of West Bengal has no jurisdiction make the reference in the present dispute.

On merits, the Company's contention is that R. C. Das was appointed on 21st March 1946, he was retrenched by a notice, dated 21st Sept ber 1959. After retrenchment, he received retrement compensation for his past years of service terms of section 25F of the Act, and it is not to him to challenge the same. The Company chased a new station wagon, and offered employment to Shri Das as its driver on November 1959. He accepted it on 5th Decem 1959 and joined his new appointment which sta from that date. So, Shri Das cannot claim tinuity in service since 1946. Shri Das used drive the staff car. It was decided subsequently discontinue the system of maintaining a staff and the service of Shri Das became surplus. It was no vacancy for him in the Calcutta Office was no vacancy for him in the Calcutta Office 7th April 1962 where he joined on 1st May 1. The Banares Office was closed in September with the result that Shri Das became surplus (again and was retrenched. His retrenchment accordingly sought to be justified.

Decision

Before taking up the case on merits, I will with the preliminary objection taken on the stake the Company on the point of jurisdiction. Shows originally appointed in Calcutta in Dala Cement & Paper Marketing Co. Ltd., which subsequently taken over by the present Compower (Asoka Marketing Ltd.). Though his first appower that was in 1946, he was served with a notice retrenchment in 1959 and he received full retrement compensation before retrenchment for the years of his service. Subsequently, however. Das was re-employed on 28th November 1959 Union wants to argue that though Shri Das re-appointed in 1959, he should be treated a continuous service since 1946. This argument wholly unacceptable on the evidence on red The retrenchment of Shri Das in 1959 was h challenged, and he received retrenchpensation for the past years of his service pensation the date of his retrenchment. It i chapter now. It would be obvious from 1 chapter of the Government of West it there had been representation by Shri e Labour Directorate and he was reas a driver of a newly purchased car from ther 1959, and the claim of continuity of was not considered justified. Exhibit B ountmen' letter of Shri Das, dated 28th 1459. This letter clearly shows that Shri prointed as a driver by the Company as There was no continuity of service new appointment. It must, therefore, be that Shri Das was appointed for the the present issue of retrenchment on nber 1959.

was appointed at Calcutta to drive a car. ly on 7th April 1962 he was transferred There he was retrenched by a notice, August 1963, which is the subject matter ision in this reference. The first contenside of the Company is that since Shri etrenched at the Banares Office, the t of West Bengal is not the appropriate to make the reference on a dispute, the hich arose at Banares. The reason for ichment is not in controversy. The ice had to be closed for want of work.

Idmitted fact. The fact of closure is not anywhere. The retrenchment was, consequence of the closure of the ice The issue before the Tribunal is r, the closure of the Banares Office, but t of Shri Das in consequence of that is the contention of the Union that the ce is not an independent establishment, part of the Calcutta establishment; and as who was employed at Calcutta was to Banares. The Banares Office and the ablishment are claimed to be one unit ablishment. The retrenchment notice is shows that the notice of retrenchment A Banares, and it described the closure th at Banares as the cause of retrench-Industrial Disputes Act contains no aring on the question as to which State the jurisdiction to make the reference. n came up for consideration before Mr. that if the Bombay High Court in a case 1956 L.L.J. I page 557. It was, of se under the Bombay Industrial Rela-946 It was held in that case that a cycd at Bombay Branch Office of a laying its head office at Ahmedabad and Bombay, the Labour Court at Bombay impetent to entertain the application by d employee. The following observations ce Chagla were quoted with approval in Court decision reported in 1962 L.L.J. The relevant portion of the decision of Chagla quoted by the Supreme Court g with the question of jurisdiction runs at we are concerned with to decide is: ser did the dispute substantially arise? the Act does not deal with the cause of a nor does it indicate what factors will confer jurisdiction upon the Labour Court. But applying the well-known tests of jurisdiction, a Court or Tribunal would have jurisdiction if the parties reside within jurisdiction or if the subject matter of the dispute substantially arises within jurisdiction."

Those principles were accepted by the Supreme Court in the reported case. It was a case where the question of competence of the Punjab Government to make a reference fell to be considered by the Hon'ble Supreme Court. The Ambala Branch of a Company which was registered at Calcutta was closed, and in consequence of that certain workmen were retrenched. The State of Punjab made a reference. It was challenged that the Punjab Government had no jurisdiction to make the reference. It was the contention of the workmen there that the Calcutta Office and the Branches formed one establishment, and in that view the provisions of section 25G are to be attracted in retrenching any employee of the Branch Office, and relief under that section was claimed. The respondents argued before the Hon'ble Supreme Court that the retrenchment on which the dispute had arisen was made at Ambala, and so the State of Punjab had jurisdiction to make the reference. The Appellants contended that when the closure itself was accepted as valid and binding, there could be no question of retrenchment which can only be with reference to a continuing industry, and that to attract section 25G it must be held that the Calcutta Office and the Branches all formed one single establishment, and that in that view no part of the cause of action would be held to have arisen within the State of Punjab. The Hon'ble Supreme Court did not express any opinion in view or the fact that it found that the Ambala Branch was an independent establishment. Applying those very principles to the present case, if I decide that the Banares Branch is an independent establishment, it is the State of Uttar Pradesh which would be competent to make the reference. If on the contrary I decide that the Banares establishment is nothing but a part of the Calcutta Establishment and they constitute one unit, the reference by the Government of West Bengal would be competent. In order to make a decision on the point of jurisdiction, the substantial question for decision would be whether the Banares Office was a separate establishment or it is a part of the establishment at Calcutta. The Supreme Court had laid down certain guiding principles and tests to determine this question in the same reported case of 1962 L.L.J. 1 page 409. The tests summarised are as follow:

- (1) whether the workmen were recruited for the Branch?
- (2) whether the workmen were liable to be transferred from one branch to another?
- (3) whether each branch has different categories of workmen on different scales of wages?
- (4) whether each branch maintains separate accounts, etc.?

In the reported case, however, the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that the retrenched workmen were not entitled to invoke the provisions of section 25G of the Industrial Disputes Act, as the Ambala unit was held to be a separate establishment altogether. On an applications of the principles formulated by the Hon'bie supreme Court to the instant case, a different conclusion will have to be reached. Here the Branch Office at Banares was functioning as a part and parcel of the Head Office at Calcutta. The only business which the Banares Office transacted was to secure orders which had to be approved from Calcutta, and directions had to be obtained from Calcutta upon the concerns for supplying materials as per orders. The Company did not produce any document to show the relationship between the Branch Office at Banares and the Head Office at Calcutta. The only evidence is that of O.P.W. I Shri Biswanath Kalawati, who is an Assistant in the establishment at Calcutta since 1955. He admitted that he does not know the exact terms on which the Branch Office used to be run in relation to the Head Othce. He could not say if the Branch Office at Banares had separate accounts. Appointments at Banares had to be made from Calcutta Office. So far as Shri R. C. Das is concerned, he was appointed in Calcutta where he worked for some years, and then he was transferred to Banares. Some other employee, namely, Shri Dwarka Prosad Tewari, a driver similarly appointed at Calcutta, was transferred to Banares. Thus according to the Company, the services of Shri Das who was an employee in Calcutte as well as the services of other drivers were transferable from Calcutta to Banares. There is no evidence on the side of the Company that the wages paid to Banares employees were different from the wages paid to the employees at Calcutta. It is contended that the Calcutta employees used to get higher dearness allowance than the employees at Eanares. Payment of dearness allowance is not the criterion. The question of scale of wages is certainly, one of the main criteria. Dwarko Prosad Tewari and the present workman R C. Das continued to enjoy the same benefits though they were transferred from Calcutta to Banares. On the evidence on record, I should conclude that the scales of wages at Calcutta and Banares are identical. There is no evidence regarding maintenance of separate accounts at Banares. Thus on an application of the tests formulated by the Hon'ble Supreme Court to the present case, the anevitable coach an would be that the Banares Office was a part of the Calcutta Office, and it was not an independent establishment. There is considerable torce in the argument advanced on the side of the Union, and the question of retrenchment can only have reference to the continuing industry at Calcutte, and in the matter of such retrenebment section 25G of the Industrial Disputes Act must be invoked. In that view of the matter, the cause of action arose for the retrenchment at Calcutta, because I am holding that Banares Office is a part of the Calcutta Office. That being so, the Government of West Bengal has jurisdiction to make this reference. The decision of Mr. Justice Chagla in the Bombay High Court case can be distinguished from the present case on the above lines. In that case, the dismissal was at Bombay. So, the cause of action was at Bombay. In the present case, the retrenchment relates to Calcutta, and as such the cause of action arose at Calcutta. Having held in favour of jurisdiction, I will now proceed to discuss section 25G of the Industrial  $D_{ij}$  which runs thus:

"Where any workman in an industrial ment, who is a citizen of India, retrenched and he belongs to a category of workmen in that est in the absence of any agreement hemployer and the workman in this employer shall ordinarily retrencheman who was the last person to be in that category, unless for rearecorded the employer retrencheman."

Since I have held that the establishment Banares and Calcutta is one and the same gatory upon the employer to retrench the who was the last person to be emple category of driver. The Union's case is t Shri R. C. Das was retrenched, some of who are junior to him have been to Calcutta. This is the evidence of Shri I and he mentions one or two cases, Tewari who has been retained in se though he is junior to Shri Das. O.P. Kalawati states that Shri Chabi Tewari p ing in the Head Office at Calcutta. She cannot say when Shri Chabi Tewari was He, however, adds that one Ganpat . who was appointed sometime in 1962 is v in Calcutta as a driver. It is therefore o Shri Das though appointed in 1959 hatrenched in 1963, while Ganpat who wa in 1962 is still holding employment in The principle of "last come first go" a in section 25G of the Act was not adopted by the Company while retier Das. The consequence would be that would be entitled to reinstatement. I answer the issue by saying that the retre Shri R. C. Das is not justified, and he is reinstatement with back wages, together benefit of continuity of service with e 5th December 1959.

This is my award and it is to be "within 30 days of its publication in the Gazette".

By Order No. 3932-I.R./IR/11L-254/62, dated the 16th September 1963, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Navarun Prakashani, C-51 College Street Market, Calcutta-12, and their workmen represented by Paschim Banga Pustak Byabasayee Karmachari Samity, 9/7B Ramanath Mazumder Street, Calcutta-9, regarding the matter specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808/I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Pritiranjan Das is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

This reference is made under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Navarun Prakashani, C-51 College Street Market, Calcutta-12 (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Paschim Banga Pustak Byabsayee Samity, 9/7B Ramanath Mazumder Street, Calcutta-9 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

Immediately after receipt of the reference notice was issued to the parties for appearance. Both parties appeared and filed written statements of their cases.

Union's case, in short, is that the Company is a highly prosperous publishing and book-selling con-cern but its workmen are not properly treated and adequately paid. Therefore, the workmen for the purpose of collective bargaining have organised themselves under a union and since then the workmen have incurred the displeasure of the company. Shri Pritiranjan Das who was the accountant of the company was the principal organiser of the Union. So, the Company was not at all satisfied with him and ultimately dismissed him from service without any charge sheet or any enquiry. This arbitrary action of the company was amounting to victimisation and unfair labour practice. So, the workmen took up the cause of the dismissed accountant Shri Priti Ranjan The matter was taken to the Labour Directorate for conciliation, but because of the stiff attitude of the company no conciliation was possible. Hence the reference.

The Company's case in the written statement is that it is a small book-selling and publishing concern and its financial position is not so good. Shri Pritiranjan Das was a part-time accounts assistant and not a permanent accountant of the company. He had to be dismissed from service as he was found guilty of insubordination and disobedience. He refused to carry out the orders of the management to work under the supervision of an auditor appointed by the management. All other allegations have been denied.

The Company has raised a preliminary objection to the maintainability of the reference as an industrial dispute. It is contended that the workman's cause has not been espoused by other workmen of the establishment. They have no sympathy or support for the dismissed workman. Therefore, it is not an industrial dispute but an individual dispute, and as such it cannot be entertained by this tribunal.

Decision

The Union has examined two witnesses—one is General Secretary of the Union and the other is the dismissed workman, Shri Pritiranjan Das. The Company also examined two witnesses—one is the proprietor of the firm and the other is the proprietor of Messrs. Biswas & Co., Cost Accountants. Some documents have also been exhibited on both sides.

First of all I take up the preliminal raised by the Company. The Company is that the workman's cause has not been by the other workmen of the establishmen such it is not an industrial dispute but an dispute which cannot be entertained by this The union which has taken up the cause workman is not exclusively the union of men of this Company but it is the Union workmen of similar other concerns incan Company. On behalf of the Company rea been placed on two decisions of the Honba High Court. One is reported in AIR cutta, 548 and the other in 1963 (I) LL one case it was held that an outside union supporting an individual workman, com individual dispute into an industrial dispute a large number of workmen of the industry concerned in the dispute or a majority of members of such union. In the other cas held that the real test is whether the strang has the backnig, sympathy or collaboratio majority or a large section of the workmen in a particular industry and such works themselves concerned in the dispute.

In the present case there is evidence to gout of the 15 (Fifteen) employees of the eight workmen are members of the union have supported the cause of the workman evidence of the General Secretary of the Ubeen corroborated by P.W. 2 Shri Prima the concerned workman. The Compan's No. 2, who happens to be the proprietor in concern, has not denied this fact. Then majority of the workmen of this concern members of the union having supported of the concerned workman, it can no le contended to be an individual dispute but industrial dispute and the tribunal has it to entertain the same.

It may also be pointed out that admitted ciliation proceedings were initiated by the United there is nothing to show that any such object ever taken before the Conciliation Officer (other hand, it appears from the Company is statement, paragraph 16, that the conceilation made some progress and the company against offer five months' salary to the conceined to Therefore, the conciliation proceedings have initiated by the Union without any such of on the side of the Company at that stage, be said to have begun as an industrial to the concerned to the concerned to the company. In my view it is an industrial to the company. In my view it is an industrial to and as such the reference is maintainable.

I now proceed to deal with the merits of the Admittedly the workman Shri Pritiranian Dadischarged by the Company on 31st Mai 18 letter Ext. 2. It is also admitted that there is formal chargesheet issued against him or enquiry by an enquiry officer. Disciplinary against employees are always to be taken to misconducts in accordance with the procedir down in the certified standing orders of the pany. In the instant case there is no such to orders. It is well settled that in absence of standing orders it must be done according of natural justice. In the present case edly there was no formal charge sheet issued the workman. Shri Pritiranjan Das was not nent accountant of the Company as alleged by non in paragraph 10 of the written statement. was appointed in 1958 for part-time work. admitted this fact in his letter, dated 19th 961 [Ext. 1(e)] addressed to the Partner er of the firm. He has further admitted that d to do work for four hours a day. Subsehowever, he was asked to work for six hours He did never work the usual working hours ed in the book-selling shop. So, he was not e-time employee of the Company. Be that as the Company ought to have followed the procedure before discharging him from It has, however, been contended on behalf Company that although there was no formal sheet issued against him, he was fully aware charges and accusations levelled against him. se will appear from the correspondence that between the employer and the workman. D is the Company's letter to the workman on 17th May 1961. By this letter the Comand to impress upon the workman the urgency lessity of making the accounts up to date and we the arrears work as early as possible. The an immediately retorted and gave a long reply 1 May 1961 [vide Ext. 1(e)]. The Company. appear from the correspondence, was very , for making the accounts up to date and in a meeting of the partners of the firm, the workas asked to be present in order to devise avs and means to cope with the huge arrears unts work. In the earlier correspondence b)] the Partner Manager of the firm suggested workman Shri Das should take the assistance other assistants Shri Sukumar Sen Gupta rı Radha Madhab Chakravarti in order to e arrear work. But Shri Das for some reason r turned down the proposal. It will further that the Company was very anxious to make ounts up to date and so the partner went so inthorise Shri Das to engage one extra hand wn selection and choice in order to remove ars with speed. But Shri Das again was not e and he pleaded non-availability of suitable Inc thing is clear fom all these facts that the by was really earnest to have the accounts p to date. But the attitude of Shri Das was of very helpful. It was at that point of time ership firm. So, the partners wanted to hear is at a special meeting of the partners conon the purpose. It appears from the sub-correspondence Ext. 1(f) and 1(g) that the at last suggested that Shri Das would work arrears under supervision and guidance of mil Biswas of Messrs. Biswas & Co., the s of the Company. That suggestion has en turned down by Shri Das who also refused more than six hours a day. Therefore, the y had no other alternative than to get rid of hatever suggestion and proposal came from tagement Shri Das flatly turned down and ttle attempt to clear up the arrear work in un's and to prepare the trial balance-sheet. te, the Company got fed up with the work-lo was entrusted with the important works ints of the business but without having helpstance from him in the completion of that important work of the buusiness. The workman, of course, promptly replied to the Company's letter, dated 30th May 1961 [Ext. 1(f)]. After receipt of that letter the company forthwith decided to discharge the workman and accordingly acted on 31st May 1961 (vide Ext. 2). Undoubtedly, therefore, the charges and accusations against the workman were timely made known to him and the workman also promptly replied thereto. It may be true that the company found the workman absolutely unhelpful and it would not be possible to have the works completed by him in view of the attitude he had taken. But in all fairness the company should have given him a charge sheet and opportunity to explain his conduct. If the explanations would not have been satisfactory the Company could have held an enquiry after giving him full and fair opportunity to examine his witness, if any, and cross-examine witnesses of the Company. There should have been a finding recorded by the Enquiry Officer on the basis of the evidence adduced before him. In the present case admittedly there was nothing of the kind. Therefore, it is difficult to justify the action taken by the company against the workman although it does not appear to be wholly unjustified in the circumstances disclosed in the admitted correspondence between the management and the workman concerned. Not only there was no enquiry but there was no charge-sheet issued against the workman. Therefore, in absence of any charge-sheet against the workman it will not be possible to go into the merits and to see for itself if the charges have been made well-established or not. There being no justification for the drastic action taken in a hasty manner against the workman without observing the proper procedure according to the rules of natural justice, the workman in such a case is ordinarily entitled to reinstatement. But regard being had to the unsual circumstances disclosed in the correspondence between the management and the workman Exts. 1(d), 1(e), 1(f) and I(g), I am of the view that it will not be conducive to industrial peace and harmonious relationship to order reinstatement. Therefore, I direct that the workman Shri Pritiranjan Das should be financially compensated by the company in the following manner:

- (1) One month's wages in lieu of notice.
- (2) Six months' wages which he was drawing at the time of his discharge as compensation for loss of employment.

The Company should make the aforesaid payment to the workman within two months of the publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette."

AWARD

This application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act has evolved out of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Shalimar Paint, Colour & Varnish Co. Ltd. and their workmen covered by order of reference No. 4055-1.R./1R/111.-184(A)/63, dated 27th September 1963. In the application the applicant Shri Joggeshwar Das has prayed for restoring due increment to the applicant with effect from the date on which it falls due.

I find it a great pleasure to note that at present the aforesaid application is no more opposed by Messrs. Shalimar Paint, Colour & Varnish Co. Ltd. It would transpire from the order, dated 29th January 1965, that the Company's lawyer Shri B. B. Ghosh has no more any objection if the application concerned is allowed in favour of the applicant provided however the rate of increment is allowed at Rs. 12 per month with effect from 1st January 1964. The learned lawyer (for the workman) Shri Jiten Banerjee also has no objection regarding the aforesaid proviso. In the result, the application succeeds without contest but with limitation that the rate of increment is hereby allowed at the rate of only Rs. 12 per month with effect from 1st January 1964. The applicant will get no other relief. This is my award.

Shri RENUPADA MUKHERJEE, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal

This application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act was filed by one Shri Surendra Singh for setting aside an order of dismissal passed against him by the Opposite Party Company and for reinstatement with full back wages. The contention of the petitioner was that in violation of the provision of section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act the petitioner was dismissed from service by the Company by a letter, dated 4th April 1964. This application was opposed by the Company.

This case was fixed for hearing today. Shri K. D. Sen, Labour Officer of the Company, is present. On the last occasion Shri M. Saha, Advocate, had informed me that nobody was instructing him on behalf of the workman. However, an adjournment was granted on the last occasion for the purpose of seeing whether the workman appears today. The workman is not present in Court and Shri Jagabandhu Banerjee, Secretary of the Union, informs me that the workman is not taking any interest in the proceedings. I am fully satisfied that this case will not be prosecuted by the workman. In the circumstances I dismiss the application under section 33A.

also asserts that the management has always employed full complement of normal staff and there is no cause for complaint regarding this matter. Attendance both immediately preceding and succeeding holidays and Sundays is a condition of service and so the workmen are not entitled to dispute the legality of this practice. Sarbasri Hrishikesh Ghosh and Bodi Thakur were dismissed after an impartial domestic enquiry in which they were allowed full opportunity to detend themselves. The charges levelled against them were true and not false or mala fide.

AWARD

Issue No. 1: Whether there has been any fall in the carnings of the workmen as a result of the changes in the machinery introduced by the Company? What relief, if any, are the workmen entitled to?

This reference was made on 25th September 1963. There were conciliation proceedings which ended without any fruitful result. Before the present reference there was an agreement between the management and the Union on 26th September 1962. This agreement took place at the intervention of the Subdivisional Officer of Serampore. The immediate occasion for this agreement was the discharge of 49 temporary or casual workers of the Company. This discharge was made by a notice, dated 31st August 1962 (vide Ext. K). The discharge took place with effect from 1st September 1962.

The agreement marked Ext. 19 would show that the Union insisted that these 49 discharged workmen should all be absorbed against permanent vacancies. The management contended that it was wholly impossible to absorb all these 49 casual workers but in order to establish a better relation with labour they were willing to absorb five casual workmen in permanent vacancies with due regard to seniority in service and also merit. At the intervention of the S.D.O., both parties agreed that five workers from amongst the discharged workers would be made permanent with effect from 1st November 1962.

The contention of the Union in the present reference is that after being forced to absorb five of the discharged workmen the Company wanted to teach a lesson to the workmen by reducing the quantum of their production bonus by manipulation of the machinery. The positive case of the Union in paragraph 5 of its written statement is that after the agreement, dated 26th September 1962, the main pulley was substituted by a pulley of larger diameter and the sub-pulleys were substituted by pulleys of smaller diameter. In the case of the main pulley the increase was by 4" and in the case of sub-pulley the decrease was by 1". During hearing the Union made a case that the increase of the main pulley was by 6" and through a typing mistake the increase was shown as 4". It is further the case of the Union that the increase in the size of the main pulley and the decrease in the size of the subpulleys resulted in diminution of speed of the looms or machines thereby adversely affecting the average daily production. The case of the Company, on the other hand, is that there has been no such manipulation with machinery by change of pulleys and the fall in production was due to a policy of go-slow adopted by the workmen after the discharge of some temporary workers.

Both parties adduced oral and documentary evidence in support of their respective cases. On behalf of the Union Hrishikesh Ghosh (P.W. 1) a weaver of the mill and previous Secretary of the Union deposed that there was the alleged change of pulleys after the agreement of September 1962 which had the effect of diminishing production. In cross examination he stated that this change took place in October 1962. Sujan Kumar Baidya (P.W. 5) who is a jobber of the Weaving Department also deposed to the same effect. Dasarathi Das (P.W. 6) who is head mistry of the mill stated that under his supervision these changes were effected. As against this evidence the Company examined Subodh Kumar Chatterjee Supervisor-in-charge of the Weaving Section. His evidence is to the effect that there was no substitution of the pulleys as alleged by the Union. Four out of 37 machines or looms went out of order in 1961 and they were repaired at that time. The shaft pulleys of those four looms might have been changed at that time. He denies that the shaft pulleys of the looms or the main shafting pulleys were changed at any time after September 1962. This oral evidence of Subodh Chatterjee appears to be substantiated and corroborated by the production registers themselves.

The Company has filed a chart of production bonus of the weaving department for several months beginning from July 1962 up to July 1963. This chart is marked Ext. T. The figures have been compiled from attendance and production registers of the relevant period. They would show at a glance that the amount of production bonus did not immediately fall after September or October 1962. In September 1962 the amount was Rs. 23.92. The agreement in question took place on 26th September 1962. At that time disputes were going on between the management and the workmen regarding discharge of temporary workers. Apparently the amount of production bonus for September 1962 was very low for this reason. In October 1962 the amount was Rs. 31.67. For the four following months namely, November and December 1962 and January and February 1963, the amount of production bonus was respectively Rs. 234.47, Rs. 406.78, Rs. 390.30 and Rs. 309.71. If the management had interferred with the machines by attaching new pulleys with the object of reducing the quantum of production bonus then the amount of production bonus would not certainly have increased for the four following months after October 1962. Then again, if the management had itself interferred with the machinery for reducing the quantum of production bonus then it is expected that the workmen would have forthwith brought this matter to the totice of the Labour Department. This was not lone. Furthermore, increase in production is not only beneficial to the workmen in the production bonus but it also brings larger the management. It can hardly be believed management would expressly bring about in production for the sake of teaching a the workmen.

The case of the management is that the tion in production is expressly referable to charge of some temporary workmen and men of this Company have got a peculiar going slow whenever a temporary worker charged. It will appear from Ext. J that charged. It will appear from Ext. I that rary workman, namely, Ashutosh Mor discharged on 28th February 1963. The ar production bonus was 309.71 in February 1964. After the discharge of Shri Mondal this at once went down to Rs. 17.50 in March the figure was nil in the next month. To temporary workers Chandra Bahadur as narayan Chowdhury were discharged on 22 1963 on the strength of their agreement Exts. J(1) and J(2)]. After their discharged on July 1963 respectively dwindled to Rs Rs. 21.37 and Rs. 10.52. It is thus clear amount of production bonus which did n any decrease for four months following 1962 which is said to be the month of sub of old pulleys by new pulleys showed decline after the discharge of Ashutosh Mc 28th February 1963 and the discharge of tw workmen on 22nd April 1963. In the circum the only conclusion which can be legitimatel is that the reduction in the quantum of pr bonus is referable to the discharge of the te workmen and not to alleged manipular machinery. In the above connection I may out that it was only on 20th May 1963 Union in its letter to the Assistant Labou missioner of Chandannagore alleged th Company brought about a diminution in t ductive power of machines. Even then it w stated in what way this diminution in propower had been brought about (vide E Before the above letter the Union had wn letter to the management on 24th April 196 Ext. 20). In that letter no allegation of ma changes was made but the ellegation made Union was that diminution in production v to the fact that the Company never engage full complement of normal staff. In consic of all these facts and circumstances I am of that the fall in earnings of the workmen is! to any changes in the machinery introduced Company and so the workmen are not entiany relief on such a ground. This is my a tion on issue No. 1.

Issue No. 2: What should be the full composition of normal staff as envisaged in the agree dated 26th September 1962?

It was contended by Shri Das Gupta on of the Company that the Tribunal is not con to adjudicate on this issue in view of the agridated 26th September 1962. He submitted before that agreement a dispute had arisen be the two parties regarding the discharge of the porary or casual workmen. Under the terms agreement the Company agreed to absorb for against permanent vacancies. As a matter company has absorbed five such men in n with the Union as would appear from the ten by the Company to the President of (vide Ext. K1). Shri Das Gupta subtraction dispute about the strength or comthe normal staff subsists any longer and ibunal is not competent to give any n on this issue.

satisfied with the above preliminary of Shri Das Gupta. The relevant portion which is the agreement, dated 26th Sepi2, is as follows:

nanagement brought it to the notice that ng the period of dispute, the production abour fell far below the workers shall be bound to give normal auction with immediate effect and the no leader assured that it would be done.

inagement also assured that full complet of normal staff will be there as usual."

appear from the above quotation from nent, dated 26th September 1962, that a dispute between the parties regarding ment of normal staff. The management the complement would be as usual. It din the agreement what the strength of staff would be. The Union has every hen reised a dispute that the Company ges the required number of men for the the looms. In fact I have already found wer there is a reduction of the temporary forkmen resorts to go-slow tactics. It is should be the normal complement of per loom.

Il has got 37 looms all of which are not m at a time. For various reasons several iain idle or out of operation. The comworkmen should be assessed with referne looms which are actually operating to the Union 4.5 man-power is necessary oom and according to the Company the .5. In this connection the Company has fidavit sworn by the Manager of the Mill d Kumar Bagchi Ext. T(2). This affidavit wo annexures, one of which comes from Lahiri, Manager of Serampore Belting d. and the other from Asia Belting and Mills (P) Limited. In the first annexure th of workers per loom is given as 3.21 e other the figure is 3.2 to 3.3. Neither wit nor the annexures can be treated as because neither the person who swore the or the persons who supplied the annexures amined. Then again it is not known the average strength of workers given in ures relates to all the looms of the mills or only to looms which are actually in In this connection the Company itself a chart showing workers' strength with to looms excluding supervisors. This at. T(1). It shows that the average manloom is almost always 4.25 or near about e. Having regard to this chart of the itself I determine that the average man-quire for working each loom is 4.25. As this is the man-power which has more or less been employed after the agreement, dated 26th September 1962, I am of opinion that it was envisaged in that agreement that the Company should engage this man-power as far as practicable. On emergent occasions, such as, more than normal absence of workmen, pressure of work etc., the figure may be a little less. But under normal circumstances 4.25 should be the full complement of normal staff per loom. This is my adjudication on issue No. 2.

issue No. 3: Is the management justified in requiring attendance on both the preceding and the following days to make payment for holidays including Sundays? To what relief, if any, are the workers entitled?

The dispute regarding this issue has arisen in the following way. At present the management requires the attendance of the workmen on the following days both preceding and following a Sunday other holidays. If there is absence at either end then the wages of the workmen for the Sunday or other holidays is deducted. On behalf of the Union it was contended that this practice is unjust and unfair and it should be abolished. Shri Das Gupta contended on behalf of the . Company that this practice is nothing but a condition of service of the workmen and it should be allowed to continue. He further argued that production would suffer if this practice is done away with. A copy of the Standing Orders was filed by the Union which is marked Ext. 26. On a perusal of the relevant portion of the Standing Orders I do not find that they embody any such rule as is relied on by the Company. It is highly unfair and unreasonable that the wages of a workman should be deducted if he remains absent either immediately before or after a public holiday including Sunday. This practice has no foundation in the Standing Orders and it should be abolished. I direct that in future if a workman remains absent either immediately before or after a public holiday including Sunday, then his wages for the holiday should not be deducted if his absence on the day immediately preceding or following a holiday is covered by an appropriate leave application. To this extent the present practice is modified. This is my adjudication on issue No. 3.

Issue No. 4: Is the dismissal of Sarvasri Hrishikesh Ghosh and Bodi Thakur justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

This issue relates to the dismissal of two workmen of the Company—Hrishikesh Ghosh and Bodi Thakur. These two workmen were dismissed from service by a letter, dated 28th/29th May 1963, after a domestic enquiry. The enquiry was held by Shri Subodh Chandra Ganguly (O.P.W. 2), Labour Welfare Officer of the Company. It is the case of the Union that Hrishikesh is the Secretary of the Union and Bodi Thakur is a member of the Executive Committee and these two workmen have been dismissed after a sham enquiry on false and unfounded charges on account of their Trade Union activities. The case of the Company, on the other hand, is that the charges brought against them were well founded and true and the workmen were dismissed from service after a fair and impartial enquiry in which full opportunity was given to them to defend themselves. No principles of natural justice were violated by the enquiry officer and these two workmen are not entitled to get any relief.

It is an admitted fact that charge-sheets were duly delivered to these workmen by the Company. Both the charge-sheets are dated 30th April 1963 and they are of a very similar nature. Exhibit 6 is the charge-sheet concerning workmen Hrishikesh. The gravamen of the charge against him was that he was unjustly and illegally slowing down production since 23rd April 1963 and also inciting other workmen to slow down production. It was alleged against Bodi Thakur that since 23rd April 1963 he was neglecting his own duties and inciting others to resort to slow down tactics. It was also alleged against both that they were frequently seen leaving their duty point and roaming inside and outside the factory in defiance of the order of their superior. Both the workmen denied these charges. The reply of Hrishikesh is marked Ext. 7 and that of Bodi Thakur Ext. 16. Both these replies are dated 7th May 1963. Thereafter notice of enquiry was duly given and Shri Ganguly, the Labour Welfare Officer, held a joint enquiry. Both the workmen partici-pated in the enquiry. The enquiry proceedings are marked Ext. Q and the report is marked Ext. Q(1). The enquiry officer held that the charges levelled against the workmen had been substantiated and he recommended their dismissal. Accordingly the Company issued a joint letter of dismissal which has been marked Ext. E on behalf of the Company and Ext. 4 on behalf of the workmen.

Shri Roy submitted on behalf of the Union that the dismissal of these two workmen was illegal inasmuch as the enquiry officer violated some of the principles of natural justice. He submitted that the enquiry officer did not examine all the witnesses cited on behalf of the workmen and he also did not allow the application of the workmen for further cross examination of Company's witnesses. Exhibits 11 and 14 would respectfully show that six witnesses were cited on behalf of Bodi Thakur and six witnesses were also cited on behalf of Hrishikesh. Out of the six witnesses cited by Bodi only three, namely, Dusharathi Das, Nityanandan Sircar and Bholanath Sil were examined and out of the six witnesses cited by Hrishikesh only Sujan Kumar Baidya and Ranjit Kumar Ghosh were examined. Shri Roy submitted that the workmen suffered prejudice for non-examination of the remaining witnesses.

The enquiry was conducted for two days, namely, 13th May 1963 and 14th May 1963. On 14th May 1963 an application was filed by the workmen for further cross examination of Company's witnesses. This was disallowed by the enquiry officer on the ground that the evidence of the witnesses for the workmen had already been taken. Shri Roy submitted that as the enquiry proceedings suffer from the above two infirmities no reliance should be placed on the report of the enquiry officer. Shri Das Gupta contended on behalf of the Company that it was the duty of the workmen to produce all their witnesses before the enquiry officer and no duty was cast upon the latter for securing the attendance of all the witnesses for the workmen. In the present case it is not necessary for me to say whether the report of the enquiry office set aside on the ground urged by Shri I the whole matter has come before me I reference and independently of the fine enquiry officer I should determine when missal of these two workmen was illeg;

It has already been pointed out th charge against Hrishikesh was that he hu down production and also incited other same since 23rd April 1963. Hrishik weaver of the Weaving Department of the main charge against the other wor Thakur was that he incited others to go was a workman in the smithy. Accord case of the Company two temporary Chandra Bahadur and Ram Narayan were discharged on 22nd April 1963 at the immediate cause which led to the slow down tactics. In this connection to two notices of the Company. They Exts. K(2) and K(3). The first of these is dated 23rd April 1963 and the secon 26th April 1963. In both these notices i ment was complaining that the workmen fully slowed down production to such a extent that production had become pra In the first notice it is further stated that ing down of production was presumably sympathy unreasonably shown to two whose services had just been terminated to agreement. That the production in was nil on 23rd April 1963 and very small on 25rd April 1963 and succeeding days has been amply borne or production records filed by the Compar Tribunal. It can reasonably be inferred marked diminution in production was not but was referable to deliberate slow do The question is how far such tactics at able to the activities of Hrishikesh and B

The evidence of Subodh Kumar Chatte supervisor-in-charge of the weaving depreterant in this connection. In his exam chief he stated that Hrishikesh and Bodi to the Weaving Shed and incite other w to work. When he protested Hrishikest he need not interfere and they would ( pleased. The other workers were witheir work but Hrishikesh and Bodi aska to do their work. In his cross exami stated that he requested the workmen 1 not to go-slow but Hrishikesh and Bodi they would do as they pleased and he s look on. This witness wrote the producters of relevant period. He has been we this mill for the last 23 years. It is not not be the producters of relevant period. that he bears any grudge or ill will to workmen concerned. I accept his cvi hold that on account of the discharge of porary men Hrishikesh and Bodi deliberal the workmen to slow-down. The result incitement was almost total stoppage of for a few days. In this connection I may that there had been a settlement of the disputes between the Company and the 26th September 1962 at the intervent their settlements of the contract of the contract of their settlements. S.D.O. of Serampore. It is not likely such settlement the management wor trouble in the mill by issuing false no bringing false accusations against Hristi hakur. These two workmen of course denied riges and they examined two witnesses Sujan (PW. 5) and Dasharathi Das (P.W. 6) in to their case that there was no deliberate down of production. After a careful to the evidence adduced by both parties I since that the charge of go-slow has been home to these two workmen and that the being a very scrious one, the punishment of al 15 a just and proper punishment.

Roy submitted in the above connection that case the previous permission of the conciliaficer before whom a connected matter was at the time of dismissal was not obtained the order of dismissal should not be upheld. intention of Shri Roy is not acceptable. It admitted fact that after the dismissal of these orkmen an application under section 33(2)(b) ade for the approval of the conciliation officer was dealing with the dispute between the any and the Union. According to the view conciliation officer that application should been filed under section 33(1)(b) of the Indus-Disputes Act for his previous permission. The ement held a different view and so the was referred to the Deputy Labour Commiswho disagreed with the view of the conciliaofficer. The outcome is the present reference overnment. It is not understood under what dure a reference was made to the Deputy ir Commissioner for his view. Be that as it the whole matter concerning the dismissal of two workmen has come up before me in the of a reference. I have already held that there good grounds for dismissing these two workand so there will be no interference by this nal. But the failure of the Company to obtain revious permission of the conciliation officer these two workmen in suspense for some time.
way of compensation I direct that these two nen will get four months' wages from the any in addition to all other amounts which due to them at the time of their dismissal. vages for these four months will be the wages to these workmen in the month immediately ling their dismissal. J uphold the dismissal ward the above amount as compensation in secial circumstances of the case. This is my reation on issue No. 4.

Whether the refusal of employment to Shri Balaram Pandey is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act made by the Government of West Bengal, in their Labour Department, for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. India Plywood Company, 33 S. K. Deb Road, Calcutta-48

(hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by India Plywood Workers' Union, 152 S. K. Deb Road, Calcutta-48 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

As usual, immediately after receipt of the reference, notice was given to both the parties, who entered appearances and filed written statements of their cases.

The short case of the Union is that the Company is a prosperous timber and plywood manufacturing concern employing about 35 workmen in its factory. The service conditions of the workmen are far from satisfactory. The Company was very much indifferent to offer proper benefits and amenities to the workmen. So, the workmen had to organise themselves for collective bargaining and formed the present Union on 20th August 1962. But since the formation of the Union, the Company was very much annoyed with the workmen who took leading part in the organisation of the Union. The workman Balaram Pandey who was a cash collecting durwan of the Company, took leading part to form the union and became a member of the Executive Committee. Because of his Trade Union activities he was not in the good book of the management, otherwise his service record was clean and satisfactory. On 30th October 1962 he received a telegram from his village home about his mother's serious illness. He immediately on 1st November 1962 applied for one month's leave. The leave was granted and he proceeded home. On the expiry of the leave he returned to Calcutta and reported to the factory on 3rd December 1962 for duty. But he was refused employment by the company. The matter was taken up to the Labour Directorate. The Labour Officer of the Government of West Bengal, convened a series of conferences but the company did not attend any of them. Hence the present reference for adjudication of the dispute.

The Company's case in the written statement is that it is not a very big and solvent concern. It was started in 1952 and at present there are 32 workmen in its employ. The union, since its existence in 1962, tried to paralyse the production of the Company by adopting deliberate go-slow tactics and hereby causing financial loss to the Company. The matter came to such a pass that in December 1963 the Company had to declare a lock-out. The general conduct of the durwan Balaram Pandey of late deteriorated to a certain extent. On 1st November 1962 he applied for one month's leave on ground of his mother's illness but the leave was refused for exigency of work. But in spite of refusal of the leave he left his work and absented for about a month and returned on 3rd December 1962 when he was not allowed to join as his service had already been terminated on 19th November 1962 for 15 days' absence without leave. So, the termination of his service is justified. The alleged victimisation and unfair labour practice are denied.

Decision

The point for decision is: Whether the refusal of employment to Shri Balaram Pandey is justified? To what relief, if any, he is entitled?

That is the issue framed and formulated in the order of reference. There is evidence to show that the union raised the dispute and reported to the Labour Directorate with a view to come u ment if possible, amicably with the ma There are documents on the record to show Labour Officer made several attempts in this but the company did not properly respon matter of fact, the Company attended  $_{00}$  conferences convened by the Labour  $_{00}$ Company insisted on being furnished with of the officials of the union who would rep case of the workman, as a condition preced attending the conference. But the Labor informed the management that he cannot such a normal procedure being adopted for tion proceedings under the Industrial Disp He, therefore, again requested the manage attend the conference adjourned to anot [Vide Ext. 2(g).] The documents Exts. 2(t will undoubtedly show that the conciliation convened several joint conferences but the ment completely avoided attendance. The admitted by the proprietor as well as by the of the firm. The proprietor has further adm he did not even comply with the Labour request for a comment. Therefore, get response from the management after repeated the conciliation officer recommended for a of the dispute for adjudication by an Tribunal. The Company's case before this is that it is a case of termination of service or of 15 days' absence from duty without permission. It is well settled that absen workman without any application for the amounts to gross violation of discipline entails missal from service (vide A.I.R. 1959 Supren 529). Now, it is to be seen if the above dec any bearing on the facts of the present case instant case it is admitted that the works Balaram Pandey applied for one month's le effect from 2nd November 1962 on groun mother's illness. The Company has produce application Ext. A. It is dated the 1st N 1962. The Company's Manager also acknowledge. receipt of this application on 1st Noveml (vide Ext. 3). There is no endorsement management either on this application Ext. Ext. 3. The evidence of the workman is received a telegram on 30th October 196 carried the news of the mother's illness. A to the workman he produced this telegram along with his application for leave Ext. A Manager. He was given to understand the was granted. The telegram was, however, to him. This appears to be a genuine received at Shyambazar, Calcutta, on 30th 1962 (vide Postal date seal). Therefore, it is to discredit the workman's evidence that he p the telegram Ext. 4 along with his leave app to the Manager. It was, however, returned by the Manager who gave him the impression leave had been granted. So, the workman his native village and absented from 2nd No 1962. This is borne out by the company's att register, Ext. B). The Company's case is leave was granted. D.W. 2 Shri Kamal Kumi is the Manager of the factory. His evidence leave was refused to the workman. As to the dure followed by this concern in the matter of ing or refusing leave, there is no clear evidence this tribunal. The Manager has stated the

B the workman was marked om 2nd to 19th November 1962 and then r there is an endorsement "left" against his If the workman's service was really terminated November 1962 it would have been quite for the company to inform the workman But no information was given It may noted that the ground for refusing the leave the the workman, as stated by the proprietor Shri H K Roy, was that the workman could pared as he was doing important and respon-If that is so, how the proprietor could his work without a substitute in his place for months as admitted by him in the evidence. was no good ground for refusing the leave or by the workman. The workman was as a cash collecting durwan and the evidence regrictor is that no substitute was appointed months. The company's business is not a one About 32 workmen are employed in blishment No doubt there is a Manager that there is no clerk. The Manager main-endance register and the wage register. The or himself beeps the cash book. Exhibit C to be the cash book. I have looked into this but it is difficult for me to hold that it is a eash book. It is difficult for me to follow the day accounts. I am unable to hold it to be a and regular cash book. Regard being had to of the business and also the other circumstated above I hold that there was no good for refusing leave to the workman. The pproached the Labour Directorate for interferthe matter. Thereupon the Labour Officer in forwarding a copy of the Union's complaint invited the employer's comment thereon but I have already found that not only no comment was submitted but also avoided to attend joint conference convened by the Labour Officer. Several opportunities were given by the conciliation officer but the company scrupulously avoided. There was no earlier disclosure of the fact that the workman's service had been terminated on 19th November 1962. It is disclosed for the first time in the written statement. The workman returned from his village on 3rd December 1962 in order to resume his duties when the proprietor refused to give him employment. If there was termination of his employment on 19th November 1962 why the Company did not communicate that fact to the workman to his village address which must have been with the Company and the workman was a permanent employee and had served the company for several years from 1956. The Company came into existence in 1952. I have already observed that there is nothing in writing to show the alleged termination of service of the workman on 19th November 1962. It is only the oral evidence of the proprietor that his service was terminated on account of 15 days' unauthorised absence. There was an application for leave with grounds and supported by a telegram. If in the circumstances, the workman went home to see his ailing mother in spite of refusal of the leave by the employer he should have been given an opportunity to explain his conduct but without any such opportunity his service is said to have been terminated But there is no standing after 15 days' absence order or rules to regulate the conduct of the workmen. That being so, how there could be automatic termination of service without following proper procedure in accordance with the rules of natural justice.

The Union's case is that since the formation of the Union in which the concerned workman took active part the company was very much against the workman and the present action against the workman is by way of victimisation because of his Trade Union activities. The union was formed in September 1962 and this workman is one of the applicants. He was also a member of the Executive Committee of the Union. Exhibit 1 is copy of the application for registration of a Trade Union which will support this fact. It is also in the evidence of this workman that he not only organised the union but he also used to take active part to organise meetings of the workmen and to place grievance of the workmen to the proprietor. This evidence of the worl man has not been challenged in the cross-examination or denied by the proprietor or the Manager. It appears from the Company's written statement that of late the proprietor was annoyed at the conduct of the workman. The reason clearly appears from his conduct in taking prominent part in the formation of the Union and to organise meetings and to place the grievance of the workmen to the management. Therefore, the Union's contention is found to be correct. The Company's action in refusing to give him employment to the workman Shri Balaram Pandey is mala fide and motivated. It is an instance of unfair labour practice. Therefore, I direct his reinstatement by the Company. There is no evidence of the workman's employment since he was terminated by the Company. Therefore, I further direct that he will be entitled to 50 per cent. of his wages for the period of his forced unemployment. The Company has since appointed a substitute but that fact does not stand in the way of reinstatement of the workman. That fact I have taken into consideration in awarding wages for the period of forced unemployment.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, by Order No. 2343-I.R./IR/15L-9/63, dated the 12th June 1963, had referred to this Tribunal for adjudication the following issue regarding the dispute between Messrs. India Trading Co. and their workmen, represented by Automobile Engineering Workers' Union:

Issue

Grades and scales of pay.

After the service of notice, the General Secretary, Automobile Engineering Workers' Union, and also Messrs. India Trading Co., had submitted their written statements. In the written statement filed on behalf of the Union, it has been stated that the Company is a distributor of petroleum products and dealers of auto-spare parts and accessories having various petrol service stations at 236 Lower Circular Road, 69 Park Street, and 1 Ultadanga Road, and that the workmen of different categories are working in the Head Office and also in the service stations of the Company which is earning huge profit every year due to the hard labour put in by the workmen. The workmen are, however, paid very low wages and have to work for the same wages for years together without any increment. There are no grades and scales of pay for the workmen who are not also getting economic benefits in the form of bonus, gratuity, provident fund, medical benefit, etc. In the schedule of the written statement filed by the Workers' Union, two grades, named A and B, and also the scales of pay of different classes of employees have been mentioned. It has been prayed that the grades and scales of pay as suggested in the schedule may be introduced and that each workman may be fitted in the grades and scales of pay according to the length of service. In the grade A, the pump manager, the accountant, clerks, drive-way salesman, bill collector and sweeper had been mentioned. In grade B, service-in-charge, mechanic mistry and electric mistry, drivers, mechanic mistry's helper and electric mistry's helper, and serviceman and coolie have been mentioned.

In the written statement on behalf of Messrs. India Trading Co., it has been denied that the Company is dealer of auto-spare parts and accessories and it is stated that the Company is an agent of the petroleum products 'and has got a few service stations as mentioned in the order of reference and has also got a head office at 99 Grey Street, Calcutta-6. With regard to the workmen employed in the head office, it is stated that excepting the account skill is not needed in the head office far as the service stations are concerne that not much skill is at all require, denies that it has been making hage ruthlessiy exploiting the workanen stated that the wages of the works increased recently, and various benbonus, provident fund, etc., are gava h It is also stated that the existing wage are quite adequate and are not unidiou parison to similar petrol dealing conce the introduction of grades and scales be burden-some upon the financial pu Company. In the written statement, it different classes of workers had been the schedule, and there is another state the stationwise strength of the en summary of monthly and yearly nage be paid at present by the Company. said that excepting in a few cases the as suggested by the Union for respect of workmen are almost the same and cases the wages are even more, and in cannot demand any increase in status would appear from the schedule that workers in the different establishments total monthly wages is Rs. 8,005.

Finding

The learned lawyer appearing to a had referred me to the rulings to make L.L.J., 766 (Union Drug Co. Ltd. v. the 1954 (I) L.L.J., 651 (workmen of Bi. 1 and Iron Co. I do not this discuss these rulings in details. It was to say that it is well settled that the man of the industry is undoubtedly a te war tion, that the capacity to pay is to be c an industry-cum-region basis after cross-section of the industry and after account the elasticity of the demand to the possibility of tightening up the co that the industry could pay high a withculty and the possibility of memory of the lowest paid workers realistic production and the possibility of the nee draving the employer out of business settled that the financial condition of must be such that it will be able to jo ments year by year for an approach years, for wage scales, when setti d. . ? be long term scheme. The same p been laid down also in the ruling was (I) L.L.J., 431=16 F.J.R., 54 (Lipton L employees). The learned laws for the workmen, as I understand h dispute the principles which I had ment refore, the first question which is to be decided uestion of financial stability of the Company, the capacity to pay. The learned lawyering for the Company had strenuously urged he evidence shows that the Company had to manage about the manageral ability, nor the capacity to payings as demanded on behalf of the worker had next contended that the wages as paid to mean do not compare unfavourable with an increase of the first their urged that there is no evidence my any real comparable unit, and therefore, not possible to say that the wages as paid by ompany to the different employees are lower ne wages paid in comparable concerns. It was however urged that repair works 132 in the three establishments of the firm at 1 Creular Road, at Park Street and at anga. It appears to me that there is no reliable nce on this point. As mentioned earlier V. 2 has denied that any repair work is done.

P.W. I had stated at the time of cross-examination that at the service stations, there are number of servicemen, that there is no machine in any of the man his which is run by power for repairing of more, cars, that none of the stations has any lathe maturne, or any other electrical apparatus for the i pair of motor cars and parts, but in the matter of servicing, there are some power appliances for vashing the car with water or spray by kerosene, and that an all the petrol stations of the Company in Calculta, there are arrangements for servicing. vocad appear from the cross-examination of P.W. 1 may he had made personal inspection to find out what jobs the workmen were doing, that the stations or the Company are usually service stations and mere is no regular workshop in the sense that no regular repairs of motor vehicles are done there, that some repairs are made; for example, dismounting the machines, etc., that he has got no idea that any cat on ici had his car repaired in any of the stations octonging to the parties and that the Company's bills and you here, it produced, would show that the Company toade heavy charges for the repair of motor ven caes. The evidence of P.W. 1 taken as a whose a pears to me to show that no repair work is work and only servicing work is done at the three p to distances in Calcutta. P.W. 2, who is shown as a me have attached to I Ultadanga Road estaba him of had stated in his evidence, that in the The state that Road Branch and Ultadanga Branch, The warrant done regularly, but in the Park 5 of figure there is no system of regular repairs to the first and the days and Circular Road heavy par who are done, such as bringing down the cross the major repairs, adjusting, repairing and who is the area other works and that the Company the strength in a series of repairs of private cars and to a said here are also vouchers maintained by any h further appears from the evidence of the ac Ultadanga and Lower Circular and the control of the control o  $\cdot 1 \cdot 1$ ell me a reces and implements for heavy repairs of via a see four and kept, and that all the bills of many to says by vehicles are sent from the head one and that the Company purchases motor parts it an actifict to effecting repairs of cars, but this Complex a control sell pairs of motor vehicles. The had the aloged heavy repairs have not been called iter, who is of the evidence of P.W. 1, who is copyright the three establishments of The Col P.W. 2 regarding the heavy vehicles or cars, cannot be accepted. we have selected or ears, cannot be accepted. the conferminor repairs are done at the Road depot, that at the Ultadanga of the Company are repaired, a out ide vehicle was repaired which and the name of the doctor and that there is and present for reboring of engine in any of the the doctor whose car is alleged to have the state and had also not been examined. In view here which I discussed above, I agreed with the bouned lawyer for the Company that there is really no cogent evidence that repair work, besides servicing work, is done in any of the three depots or establishments of the employer. I would point out also that according to the cross-examination of

P.W. 2, the tuning of engine and cleaning of carborator are minor works of repair, that for the purpose of reboring, the engines are sent to the specialists and the Company has no lathe machine, but the engines have got to be taken to those firms who have got the lathe machines. In this connection, I think, reference should be made to the agreement (Ext. A) between Messrs. Caltex (India) Ltd. and Messrs. India Trading Co., by which Messrs. India Trading Co. was appointed as the distributor of the petroleum product on behalf of Messrs. Caltex (India) Ltd. Messis. India Trading Co. was appointed the distributor for selling the products of Messrs. Caltex (India) Ltd. on payment of certain licence fee per month. It is, inter alia, provided that the dealers agreed and undertook not to carry on any other business in the service station except with the express permission in writing from the Company for selling tyres, batteries, motor accessories and such other kindred items. Therefore, under the agreement, Messrs. India Trading Co. was not entitled to undertake any heavy repair work at any of the petroleum stations. I have therefore come to the conclusion that Messrs. India Trading Co. only deals in petroleum products and carries on servicing work and does not undertake repair work at all.

The next question is whether the other Companies are really comparable units, and whether they carry on the same kind of business. In the written statement filed on behalf of the workmen, it has not been stated that there are really comparable units in or near Calcutta. But at the time of evidence, P.W. 1 had stated in cross-examination that Russa Service Station, United Service Station of Lower Circular Road and Auto Cais, etc., do the same kind of job as is done by India Trading Co. Relevant papers, however, of the petrol service stations have not been called for and filed on behalf of the workmen. The learned Advocate for the Company, however, drew my attention to Exts. B and B-1 which are letters from the United Service Station and A.S. Service Station and which show the wages of the pump attendants and service boys of those stations. The learned lawyer appearing for the workmen, however, had submitted that those documents had not been regularly proved and cannot therefore be looked into. Those documents were exhibited on 20th March 1964 without any objection. Presumably, they were marked dispensing with formal proof. The only thing that appears is that O.P.W. 1 Shri Krishna Chandra Dutta who has proved Ext. A had stated that Kebal Ram of United Service Station and Mr. Mansatta of A. S Service Station are also the agents under the Caltex (India) Ltd. Presumably at that time the documents Exts B and B-l were marked after dispensing with formal proof, but it appears to me that Exts. B and B-l cannot show different kinds of work carried on by United Service Station and A.S. Service Station. The agreement of these Service Stations should have been called for and filed in order to show the actual business carried on by them. The documents of Russa Service Station and Auto Cars, etc., should also have been called for in order to show the businesses which they respectively carry on. As this has not been done, I think that simply because some of the service stations are the agents of Messrs. Caltex (India) Ltd. it can be regarded that those units are comparable units. have, therefore, come to the conclusion that there is no reliable evidence of the existence comparable units, and that therefore it is not to say that the wages which are paid by India Trading Co. are really lower than the which are paid by the other service stations.

I shall now turn to discuss the question real the financial capacity to pay and the financial capacity to pay and the financial trading Co discuss this question, I would point out that not accept the submission of the learned Ad appearing for the Company that in the about comparable units, the grades and scales of pay be fixed. If the financial capacity to pay is and if it is also proved that the Compani has financial stability, certainly grades and scales decan be fixed. I would further point out that as the grades are concerned, two grades mentioned in the schedule of the written state filed on behalf of the workmen, and that the its Advocate for the Company did not submit that should not be two grades as shown in the in statement on behalf of the workmen His argument was that the scales of pay should no allowed as they would impose an intolerable in on the Company, and that the existing wages be regarded to be at least fair wages. Before on to the question of fixation of the scales of m shall consider the evidence regarding the has capacity to pay, because if the Company has financial capacity to pay the increased scale scales should be fixed. On the question of his capacity to pay there is very little evidence on h of the workmen. My attention has been draw the learned Advocate for the Company to the audited balance-sheet and the profit and Account (Ext. C to C-2 and Ext. D respects It was urged by the learned lawyer for the worl that unrudited Profit and Loss Account and ba sheet cannot be taken into consideration. So: this point is concerned, O.P.W. 2 has stated these were prepared by the clerk of the Com and that the entries therein are correct, t knowledge. It would have been certainly bet audited balance-sheet and Profit and Loss At have been filed, but in the absence of such ments, one has to proceed on the basis of Ev C-2 and Ext. D. There is no cogent reason to that incorrect figures have been submitted  $\kappa$ Tribunal. It would appear that for the vest Fasli, corresponding to 1959-60, there is a net to the tune of Rs. 2,463.87 nP. (Ext. D), that it year 1368 Fash, corresponding to 1960-61, there is not profit of Rs. 33,794.63 nP., and that for the 1369 Fash, corresponding to 1961-62, there is profit of Rs. 26,653.21 nP. The net profits, ther had varied in the different years. The le Advocate for the workmen, however, pointed that the cars are on the increase in Calculta therefore, it is very unlikely that the sale ? petroleum products and the charges for set work can go down or diminish. It is of con well known fact that the cars are on the incre Calcutta resulting in increase in the sale of petr products. It was, however, urged by the k Advocate for the Company that Messrs Trading Co. only gets commission from the (India) Ltd. which has not been increased for last 10 years. In this connexion he had refern to the evidence of O.P.W. 2. It is true the of O.P.W. 2 would show that there has ncrease in commission allowed to them by ndia) Ltd. during the last 10 years, but if increase, the commission earned by ndia Trading Co would correspondingly While this is true, the sales themselves to fluctuation and might decrease also. In ngures mentioned above would show that been very wide fluctuations regarding the s earned by the Company in the three years d above. The evidence of O.P.W. 2 would that if the scales of pay as claimed in the demands mentioned in the written stategiven effect to, there would have been a to the tune of Rs. 16,000. I have no reason that the figure mentioned by O.P.W. 2 is t. It also appears that some amount is to each year for repayment of the loan due to ex (India) Ltd. I have therefore, come to plusion that it has not been proved satisby cogent evidence that Messrs. India Company has the financial capacity to pay. inpears to me that incremental scales should allowed unless it appears from the evidence re is a fair chance of the employer meeting of the incremental scales of pay over fairly ned The learned Advocate appearing for npany had also urged that the agreement Messis India Trading Company and Messis. India) Ltd. is liable to be terminated in terms preement. In this connection he has referred baragraph 15 of the agreement wherein it has loyided that the agreement might be terming giving 30 days' previous notice in writing. I however, agree with the learned Advocate Company that because there is the agreement might be termniated by notice, the workers not be given incremental scales of pay providare otherwise entitled to the same. It further to me that there is also no reliable evidence lessry. India Trading Company has acquired ancial stability. In view of these conclusions, nnecessary for me to discuss the remaining n as to whether the wages as paid by Messrs. rading Company are more or less the same e wages claimed in the charter of demands. nly mention a few instances in order to show tere is no gross disparity. The drivers, 10 to the charter of demands, should get the Rs. 125-5-225. In the supplementary statement which has been accepted by me, scale has been mentioned (Rs. 150-5-250). E would show that the drivers get Rs. 125 1th It was pointed out that even according N 2 there have been some increments after rence has been made by the Government of ingal for adjudication. This might be so. In he evidence of O.P.W. 2 would show that there en increases from time to time in the wages workmen. I do not, however, agree with the lawyer appearing for the workmen that e some increments had been granted after the ce, the Company must be regarded to have ancial capacity to pay the scales of wages. the wages of coolie as mentioned in the of demands are at Rs. 60-2-70. In the nal written statement this has been mentioned Rs. 75-2-85. The coolies get Rs. 60 per I do not think it can be said that the wages bare minimum wages even considering three consumption units as laid down by Dr. Akroyd. The servicemen, according to the charter of demands, should get Rs. 75—3—100. It would appear that they are paid different sums varying from Rs. 50 to Rs. 75. It is necessary to mention the other classes of employees. The conclusion on this point is that there is no great disparity between the wages actually paid to the different classes of employees by Messrs. India Trading Company and the wages as mentioned in the charter of demands. There is no doubt about some disparity but I do not regard the disparity of the wages to be very material. However, in view of my above conclusion I do not think that it would be just and proper in the facts and circumstances of the present case that there should be incremental scales of wages for the different classes of the employees.

I therefore come to the conclusion that the grades and scales of pay cannot be introduced in the facts and circumstances of the present case. This is my award.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, by Order No. 1900-I.R./IR/11L-200/62, dated the 19th May 1964, had referred to this Tribunal the dispute between Messrs. Shree Biswanath Ayurved Bhawan (P) Ltd., 34 Canal East Road, Calcutta-11, and their workmen represented by Shree Biswanath Ayurved Bhawan Limited Employees' Union, 28/6 Dum Dum Road, Calcutta-2, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the workers are entitled to wages for the lock-out period from 14th May 1963 to 22nd May 1963? If so, what should be the amount of their wages?

After the service of notice, the Union on behalf of the workmen had submitted a written statement, and the Company also had filed writen statement. In the written statement filed on behalf of the workmen, it has been alleged that one Shamdhani Ram had worked under the Company for more than seven years with clean record, that he went home on one and half months' leave on medical grounds from 11th December 1962, and that thereafter he had prayed for extension of leave for four times as he had been still suffering. Shamdhani reported for duty on 13th May 1963 and produced medical certificate of fitness from the Employees' State Insurance Corporation authority, but he was not allowed to resume. Thereafter, some officers of the Union approached the management and requested that Shamdhani might be allowed to resume his duty, but the management refused to do anything. Thereafter, after the duty hours, the workers assembled in a meeting outside the factory premises to discuss the position of Shamdhani. The meeting was conducted peacefully and after the meeting workers left the place. When the workers reported for duty on 14th May 1963, they found a notice at the gate declaring lock-out of the factory. This dispute was referred to the Labour Commissioner and during joint conciliation proceedings a tripartite agreement was made. It was agreed that the lock-out be lifted and the factory opened from 23rd May 1963, and that the dispute concerning the dismissal of Shamdhani and the wages for the lock-out period would be taken up for further conciliation. The further conciliation, however, failed to achieve any object and as Shamdhani died in the meanwhile, the dispute regarding his dismissal automatically came to an a prayed that the workmen are entitled by for the period of lock-out from 14th May 22nd May 1963.

in the written statement submitted to the Company, it is stated that the Company small factory engaged in the manufacture vedic medicines and engaging about 20 %. that Shamdhani was dismissed by the letter, dated 29th April 1963, and a cop up on the notice board and that in spile missal, Shamdhani came to the factory 9 a.m. on 13th May 1963 and started forei in the factory, though he was asked no After the close of the work of the fact p.m. on 13th May 1963, all the worke at the gate and at the bidding of the workers Shamdhani went to the factory and demanded of him to mark him present day and to give the attendance card for When the factory-in-charge Shri Ram Abata expressed his inability to mark Shamdham and to give him the attendance card, S Santi Charan Chakraborty, Priyatosh Bhan Ramchandra Mishra, Roopnarayan Mishra Jha and others surrounded the factory-in-da threatened that none would be allowed to factory unless the demands made by Shamdi fulfilled. On account of the threat, the is charge and loyal workmen were kept confine 7-45 p.m. or so on that day. It is further so this is not the solitary instance of pressure on behalf of the workmen and that they his previously indulged in similar pressure too that it appeared to the management that as to men were planning further mischiefs for on and harrassing the management, it was de lock-out the factory sine die with effect from on 14th May 1963 for the safety of the lo sonnel and peace and discipline. According out notice was hung up. Subsequently on l 1963, charge-sheets were issued to six works Satish Chandra Chakraborty, Priyotosh Bhat. Ramchandra Mishra, Tarani Jha, Bijay Bahate and Roopnarayan Mishra. Charge-sheet w given to ten other workmen, viz., Sarat Chan Raideo Jha, Muneswar Yadav, Harinaram Jogi Thakur, Chotu Guala, Lala Chaudhur. nath Iha, Ramkishore Jha and Tribeni Iha May 1963, as these persons had also surround factory-in-charge at the instigation of San u Chakraborty and the other persons mentional Subsequently, there was an enquiry, and it found that Sasti and others coerced the issue charge to mark a dismissed worker present him attendance card on 13th May 1963, the had surrounded the factory-in-charge and the him that he would not be allowed to go home he conceded to the demand, and that they is fined the factory-in-charge from 5-30 p.m. p.m. on 13th May 1963, but in the meanwhile was conciliation before the Assistant Labou missioner where a settlement was arrived at inter alia, agreed that the workmen wouk diately submit a letter to the management ing their regret for this incident of 13th N that on receipt of this letter, the manages lift the lock-out and reopen the factory on 1963, that Shamdhani will not enter the fa nissal will be taken up for conciliation and matter for wages for the lock-out period be taken up for conciliation. It has been in behalf of the Company that in the facts and tances of the present case, the workmen are sited to any wages for the lockout period from ay 1963 to 22nd May 1963.

Findings

e I proceed to discuss the question referred Tribunal for adjudication on merits, I shall r the preliminary objection which has been on behalf of the Company's learned repree Shri T. K. Jagadeesh and by the learned stative Shri Panchanan Bhattacharjee on of the workmen. At the time of opening Shri harjee on behalf of the workmen submitted ; lock-out must be regarded to be illegal and led, as the lock-out was declared during the of operation of an agreement. At the time ment after the close of evidence, Shri Bhattasubmitted that through mistake the agreesettlement between the workmen and the ly had not been put in and marked as exhiwas not told what that agreement or settleas about. Under section 23 of the Industrial s Act, it has been provided, inter alia, that lover shall declare a lock-out during n which a settlement or award is in operation, ect of any of the matters covered by the ent or award. As the alleged settlement or ent had not been put in and it is also not hether the declaring of the lock-out is coverthe alleged settlement, I cannot hold that ection 24 of the Industrial Disputes Act the declared by the Company is illegal. As I and the learned representative of the work-: ultimately did not urge that apart from the the lock-out must be found to be illegal. arned representative appearing for the Comas, however, urged that the question whether k-out was justified had not been referred to ibunal for adjudication, and therefore this d cannot decide the question as to whether k-out was justified or unjustified. I don't his contention can be accepted. It is well that if the lock-out is justified, the workmen entitled to wages for the lock-out period. I refer to the rulings reported in 1954 (II) 717 (Itakhoolie Tea Estate, Tinsukia vs. their en), 1958 (I) L.L.J., 260-A.I.R./1958 S.C. 130 Iron & Steel Co. vs. their workmen). In the se, it has been held that the workmen are to wages for an unjust lock-out and in the ase, it has been held that for a lock-out for ale grounds, no wages can be demanded. The representative for the Company had drawn ention particularly to the rulings reported in L.L.J., 122-A.I.R. 63, S.C., 528 [Indian Marine (P) Ltd vs. their workmen] and 1958(I) L.L.J., W.N., 59-A I.R., 1958 Cal, 445 (Ram Naresh te of West Bengal). In the first case, it has eld by their Lordships of the Supreme Court tere a strike is unjustified and is followed by t which, because of its long duration, became fed, it is not proper for the Industrial Tribunal r payment of wages for the whole period of it and their wages are to be awarded to the en on the basis of apportionment of the blame.

It has also been held that where strike is unjustified and the lock-out is justified, the workmen are not entitled to get wages for the period of strike and lock-out, that where strike is justified and lock-out is unjustified, the workmen are entitled to wage for the whole period of strike and lock-out, and that in the facts and circumstances of that case, half the wages should be allowed for the period of lock-out. In the present case, if it is found that both the management and the workmen are to blame, then on the basis of the decision of their Lordships of the Supreme Court, the workmen can only get half the wages for the period of lock-out. In the other case, it has been held that any suspension of workers pending permission from the Industrial Tribunal under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act does not amount to lock-out. This ruling has no application in the facts and circumstances of the present case. I think reference might be made to the ruling, reported in 1953 (II) L.L.J., 684 (Hanuman Jute Mills vs. their workmen). In that case, it was held that where the evidence shows that the facts leading to the lock-out were sufficient to raise reasonable apprehension in the mind of the management that untoward incidents endangering life and property may happen at any moment, the lock-out would be justified in security measure, and the workmen would not be entitled to any wages for the period of lock-out. Therefore, if it is found on evidence that the lockout was justified the workmen are entitled to get the full wages for the entire period of lock-out. If, however, it is found on evidence that both the management and the workmen are to blame, then tho workmen are only entitled to half the wages for the period of lock-out.

I shall now turn to discuss the question whether the lock-out for the period from 14th May 1963 to 22nd May 1963 is justified or not in the facts and circumstances of the present case. It is undisputed that Shamdhani was an employee under the Company and that Shamdhani did come on 13th May 1963 and did work in the factory. Whether Shamdhani was dismissed before 13th May 1963 as alleged on behalf of the management cannot be decided in this reference. As mentioned earlier Shamdhani's dismissal was to be the subject-matter of the subsequent conciliation proceedings before the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Shri Roy Chowdhury. The matter probably was not pursued as Shamdhani died in the meanwhile. This is presumably the reason why out of the two disputes, only the dispute regarding the wages for the lock-out period had been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication. The learned representative appearing for the Company, however, urged that there are some facts and circumstances indicating that Shamdhani had been dismissed by the management for his illegal and unauthorised absence after the expiry of the period of his leave granted to him. I do not think it would be proper for me in this reference to come to a definite conclusion regarding this point. There are, however, certain facts which indicate that Shamdhani at least was not regarded to be a workman of the factory on 13th May 1963. Exhibit A is the lock-out notice in which it has been quite clearly stated that the factory-in-charge did not allow Shamdhani to be marked present on 13th May 1963 and did not give him the attendance card on that day, though requested by several persons including Privotosh Bhattacharjee. The evidence of P. W. 1 Shri, Prioytosh Bhattacharjee is that Shamdhani came back from his country home sometime in May, and had waited throughout the day inside the factory premises, It may be mentioned here that P. W. I does not say that Shamdhani had produced medical certificate of fitness from the Employees' State Insurance Corporation authority on 13th May 1963. It also appears from the cross-examination that P. W. 1 has admitted his signature in Ext. G. In Ext. G, it has been stated that Shamdhani was not allowed to resume his duty though he had produced the medical certificate of fitness. P. W. 1 had also admitted that a meeting was held. This meeting related to the refusal of the management to allow Shamdhani to resume his duty. It further appears that P. W. la had admitted that just at 5-30 p.m. on that day, he and others had gone to the Manager and told him to mark Shamdhani present and give him the attendance card for that day, as he was there throughout the day, and that the Manager said that he could not do anything. It also appears that one of the terms of settlement (Ext. D) is that the workmen will immediately submit a letter to the management expressing their regret of this incident of 13th May 1963. Arguments had been advanced before me as to the meaning of the word "this incident" referred to in Ext. D, Ext. 2. I shall presently discuss this question but I would point out that there is another term of the settlement that Shamdhani will not enter the factory and his dismissal will be taken up for conciliation. Therefore, even during the time of conciliation proceedings it appeared that Shamdhani had been dismissed. Whether the alleged dismissal of Shamdhani is legal and valid and really terminated his services under the Comrany is a question which does not fall for consideration in this case. But the very term that Shamdhani was not to enter the factory indicates that at least there must have been some basis for allegation that Shamdhani had been dismissed from service before 13th May 1963 and was therefore not entitled to work any further in the factory. It also appears from the evidence of O. P. W. 2 Shri Shew Kumar Sharma who is a Secretary of the Company that he got a telephone call from the factory in the morning of 13th May 1963 that one dismissed factory worker named Shamdhani had entered into the factory and that he gave instruction over the telephone that Shamdhani should not be allowed to enter. Subsequently, he had a talk with Shamdhani and asked him to go out of the factory as he had been dismissed and that Shamdhani told him that as he had worked for many years in the factory, he cannot leave the factory. It further appears from the evidence that he came subsequently to the factory and found Shamdhani working in Bhatighar (furnace room). O. P. W. 2 had a talk with Shamdhani and told him that if he did not go out of the factory, he would have to seek for help of the police. The cross-examination would show that no question has been put either regarding the telephone talk with the factory durwan or with regard to talk with Shamdhani in the factory premises itself. The learned representative of the workmen, however, had pointed out that the factory-in-charge and the factory durwan had not been examined in this case. So far as the factory-in-charge Shri Ram Abatar Sharma is concerned, it would appear from the evidence of O. P. W. 2 that he is no longer in service. At this stage it may be pointed out affidavit of Ram Abatar Sharma was sough put in and that as I was not satisfied the Abatar Sharma is not available at all, tan might not be in service of the Company, accept that affidavit. I also think that the cannot be used as evidence unless a person ing an affidavit is produced examination and the facts alleged in the tested. The learned representative for the pany conceded in the end that the affidava go in. It is true that Ram Abatur Sharma factory durwan had not been produced but think this is the sufficient reason for dishelien evidence of O. P. W. 2 who is the responsible of the Company. The evidence of O. P. Wi some corroboration from the facts and circums which I indicated above. It is therefore clear that so far as the management was come Shamdhani was regarded to be a dismissed emi

I shall now turn to discuss as to what happened after the duty hours on 13th Mar Regarding this, the most material evidence have been the evidence of the factory during the factory-in-charge. The arguments of the representative for the workmen that in fact was no occurrence as alleged on behalt a management cannot, however, be accepted evidence of O. P. W. 2 shows that he had t telephone calls at the fag end of the day to the latest position and that he learnt that e 6-30 p.m., there was no change in the positi the factory, and the factory Manager was kn fined by the factory workers. The crosser tion of P. W. I would show that some of their had gone to the factory Manager requesting mark Shamdhani present and to give him the ance card for that day. It appears to met factory Manager or factory-in-charge was kept confined by the workers and was notto go home on account of the refusal to Shamdhani present for the day and give attendance card for 13th May 1963. There evidence also that a police officer had come time in the evening. It was argued by the representative on behalf of the workmen t police officer himself had not been examine the diary at the thana had also not been p true that the police not been examined and the diary of the th not been produced; P. W. 1, however, adn the police officer did come. It also appear that the evidence of O. P.W. 2 is corrobo the lock-out notice (Ext. A) which was given following day. It is further corroborated regret letter which was admittedly given workmen in accordance with the terms of the ment (Ext. E). P.W. I also admits that the letter was given. He had, however, stated regret letter was given because Shamdhani come back from his country home was n work, though he was in service for over 20 do not think the evidence of O. P. W 1 point can be accepted. In the context of stated above, it appears to me that the rec was only given as the factory-in-charge was fined by some workmen for some time factory hours and was not allowed to go b the dismissal of Shamdhani was to be the st conciliation proceedings, there was no the workmen expressing regret as Shamnot allowed to resume his duties. The presentative for the Company had also attention to the portion of the lock-out re it has been stated that the workmen usly also indulged in pressure tactics. He referred to the evidence of O. P. W. 2, has stated that in 1961 holiday was not the day of birthday of Mahatma Gandhi t the time of payment in the following e was a demand of payment of wage of ular day. O. P. W. 2 had further stated the non-payment of the wage for that tay, the cashier and others were kept conthat at about 12 mid-night he and others e factory with the police and thereafter en went away. The evidence of P. W. 1 does not remember whether that occur-happened in 1961. Therefore, no denial he occurrence of 1961 was stated by . It also appears that the lock-out notice ontroverted on behalf of the workmen. there are two incidents of pressure tactics by the workmen, but I do not think the as completely justified. The persons who ly responsible for preventing the factory-from going home and for keeping him or about two hours could easily have been by the management. I do not see that and circumstances which I found above flustifies the lock-out which was only wing the agreement before the Assistant mmissioner (Ext. D). It does not appear 1 the evidence of O. P. W. 2, or from the otice signed by him, that there was really tension of damage to the properties of the to the life of the loval workmen includtory-in-charge. The action of the Manageeclaring the lockout cannot be said to be ied by the occurrence of 1961 and by the of 13th May 1963. In my opinion, sixmen mentioned above are entitled to get ages for the lock-out period and the other are entitled to full wages for the lock-out they did not do anything at all on 13th This issue is decided accordingly.

iore direct that the Company should pay wages to the sixteen workmen mentioned the period of lockout from 14th May 1963 day 1963 and to pay the full wages for the rkmen of the Company for that period month of the publication of this award in 1 gazette. This is my award.

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

This reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act arises out of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 6619-I.R./IR/10L-195/65, dated the 27th November 1962, over an industrial dispute between Messrs. Kusumika Iron Works (Private) Ltd., Salkia, Howrah, and their workmen represented by (1) Kusumika Iron Employees' Union, c/o Anadi Das, M.L.A., Dasnagar, Howrah, and (2) Kusumika Iron Workers' Union, c/o Anadi Das, M.L.A., Dasnagar, Howrah. The issue relates to bonus payable in 1962.

Parties entered appearance in this case and filed their respective written statements. During the pendency of the case, the parties made an endeavour to come to a settlement but the attempt failed. The case was, therefore, fixed for hearing on 24th March 1965. In the meantime, however, the parties affected a compromise and vesterday a joint petition of compromise was filed by both the sides. I have considered the petition and the circumstances of this case and I am satisfied that the settlement is voluntary, legal and reasonable. As prayed for by the parties, I pass an award in terms of the settlement

And

In the matter of an industrial dispute r ferred for adjudication under Government Order No. 6619-I.R./IR/10L-195/62, dated 21st November 1962.

The joint petition on behalt of the Company and their workmen represented by the Union--

Most respectfully sheweth--

- 1. That the dispute for bonus for the year 1368 B.S. payable in 1369 B.S. has been referred for adjudication under the above order of reference.
- 2. That for the year 1369 B.S. the Company did not pay any bonus on account of unfavourable trading results but at the instance of the Labour Department, Government of West Bengal, gave an advance of 7 weeks basic wages subject to adjustment in terms of the award of the tribunal on the issue of bonus for the relevant year, i.e., 1368 B.S.
- 3. That the workmen made several representations to the Company that any deduction in terms of the award from the advance would cause hardship to the workmen and the Company would therefore treat the advance as an ex-gratia payment.
- 4. That the Company and the workmen represented by the Union have now after several representations from the workmen come to an amicable settlement on the issue referred for adjudication on the following terms:
  - (a) That the Company is a gesture to avoid hardship and in expectation of better production and industrial peace agrees to treat the advance of seven weeks basic wages as an ex-gratia payment without comating any precedent for future years.
  - (b) That the workmen represented by the Union in view of the gesture stated above have no other or further dispute in regard to the issue referred for adjudication.

In the circumstances stated above it is jointly prayed that an award in terms of the above settlement may please be made by the Tribunal.

K. K. Mitra, the then Judge of the Tribunal, an award deciding the issues. Against that Messrs. Hindusthan Lace Manufacturing tion Private Ltd. (hereinafter described as inpany) moved the Hon'ble High Court of the Constitution a The Hon'ble Court after hearing the directed that the issues Nos. 1, 5 and 6 should eard by this Tribunal and decided afresh lowing the parties to file additional written ats on these issues and upon hearing them. But of the records, the parties were all wed additional written statement, if any, and, in the submitted additional statements. The were also allowed to lead additional evidence issued. At the time of hearing certain docuwere exhibited but the parties declined to any further oral evidence.

Basic wages

Unskilled Mazdoors Rs. 34.17 nP. per month.
Winders Rs. 38.17 nP. per month.
Drawers - Rs. 44.17 nP. per month.
Reachers Rs. 38.17 nP. per month.
Weavers Rs. 50.17 nP. per month.
Darwans Rs. 44.67 2-66.67.
Clerks Rs. 70 5-105-7½--150--E.B.—10—200--12½—250.

Dearness allowance

Rs. 40.00 per month and .18 nP. per point rise and fall with the cost of living index over 372 points (i.e. average cost of living index for first six months of 1959).

Regarding issue No. 5, the Union claimed in the original written statement casual leave with wages for 1958 and 1959 in the line of the Cotton Textile Award, 1958. The Union stated that the workmen of all textile mids in West Bengal were being paid six cass far wages in lieu of casual leave wages payable 15 days note a Durga Puja every year. As regards Annual leave, the issue No. 6, the Union wanted annual leave with wages in the line of other textile mide a West Bengal. They wanted annual leave to all workin in calculated at the rate of one days for every twenty days work, cumulative for three years, subject to a minimum of fourteen days since 1958. In the adoptional written statement filed on 7th December 1963, the Union has stated that in view of the present circumstances and the rise in the cost of essential commodities, the basic wages claimed in 1960 or 1961 should be raised by further adding Rs. 8 and the dearness allowance should also be raised to .20 nP, from .18 nP.

The Company, in short, wants to say that the wages and the dearness allowance paid to the workmen are reasonable and they should not be enhanced. It has been further stated that the workmen are enjoying leave according to the Indian Factories Act and, as such, they should not be limited in the workmen are provisions of the Indian Factories Act and, as such, they should not get any special leave either casual or annual. Practically speaking, the Company has denied the material allegations made by the Union.

The Union has examined two witnesses. Company has also examined two witnesses on its cide P.W 1, Shri Gour Goswami, is the Vice-President of the Union. He says that the minimum wase of a workman of the Keshoram Cotton Mills Ltd. is Rs. 85. He wants to say that in other mills in West Bengal the total emoluments come to Rs 75 He says that in the Keshoram Cotton Mills Ltd. there are 1,900 looms, and works are done there in three shifts. He admits that the said mill is old and that the Hindusthan Lace Manufacturing Corporation Private Ltd. is of recent origin. Admittedly, the Keshmam Cotton Mills Ltd. is the biggest mill in West Bengal. P.W. I has admitted that he has no documentary evidence to show that the minimum pay of a worker in the Keshoram Cotton Mills Ltd. is Rs. 85. He has no papers admittedly to show that the total emoluments received by a worker in other mills come to Rs. 75.

The other witness of the Union is Shri Khemlal Bhandari. He was working in the Company as a Durdwan. He was a dismissed workman mentioned in the issue No. 4. He mainly gave his evidence regarding the order of dismissal passed against him.

The Manager of the Company has been examnied as O.P.W. 1. His evidence is that the manufacturing work of the Company started in 1957. He has stated that the Company is not a flourishing concern and that the Company is not in a position to pay more wages according to the financial position. He has further said that the Drawers and the Reachers are the employees of the contractors engaged by the Company. From this witness we gather that there are two other power-loom factories, namely, Janata and Asoka Textile within the area called Jain Kunj. O.P.W. 2 was the enquiring officer. He does not say anything about the issues Nos. 1, 5 and 6.

The first objection raised from the side of the Company is that the Drawers, Reachers, Durwans and Clerks are not parties to this dispute because Drawers and Reachers are not employees of the Company, and Durwans and Clerks are not interested in this dispute. O.P.W. 1, the Manager of the Company, has clearly stated that Drawers and Reachers are not employees of the Company but they are the employees of the contractors. As against this evidence, there is no reliable material to say that Drawers and Reachers are employees of the Company. None of the Drawers and Reachers have been examined before this Tribunal. I hold that they are not the employees of the Company. Next my attention has been drawn to Ext. Q, which is a letter written to this Tribunal by Clerks, Durwans and a Supervisor of the Company stating that they have no industrial dispute with their employer and that the Union has not been authorised to raise any dispute on their behalf. In order to rebut this evidence, the Union has not adduced any reliable evidence. I therefore hold that the Clerks and the Durwans have no personal grievance regarding their terms and conditions of service. In these circumstances, I will consider the issues in the light of Ext. Q, and shall adjudicate the issues in respect of other workmen and shall make an award, if necessary, regarding the issues involving general principles touching the workmen in question. I shall not, therefore, consider the question of wages of the Clerks and the Durwans which are their personal matters. Matters like dearness allowance and leave being matters of general interest shall be decided by me and my decision shall govern all the workmen in question.

With regard to issue No. 1, it is admitted by both the parties that the Tribunal should consider the item on the principles of industry-cum-region, if it is possible. On the side of the Union no evidence worth the name has been adduced before this Tribunal regarding the rates of wages and dearness allowance which are being paid by other similar industry of the locality. Admittedly, the Keshoram Cotton Mills Ltd. is not a comparable unit. It is a big mill. P.W. 1 has not given any reliable evidence to show that the wages paid by the Company are unreasonable. On the other hand, the Company has submitted two charts showing how wages are being paid to the workmen by other local mills. They are Ext. AA/1 and AA/2. Admittedly, the Hindusthan

Lace Manufacturing Corporation and those tile mills are located in the same locality pany has also filed a chart of existing ware the workmen. That chart is Ext. A/A. T has not adduced any evidence as against il On consideration of the materials before n that the Asoka Textile Mills and the Ajani Mills are comparable units for the purpose mining the wages of the Company. It app after the present reference the wages of the have been increased and on comparison and application of my anxious consideration, I opinion that the wages paid by the Company workmen including Weavers, Winders, labourers and others are very reasonable cannot be described as below the minimum that the Company ways described. appears that the Company pays dearness a at the rate of Rs. 32.50 paise. The other k cerns, viz., the Asoka Textile Mills and the Textile Mills pay dearness allowance at trate. With regard to the dearness allowan ever, I am inclined to increase the rate in the rising of the present day price level, increase in the cost of living. I fix therefore at Rs. 36 in place of Rs. 32.50 paise. At Company suffered loss for some years. Il pany is just trying to improve and it has si make profits. This industry requires encour and, therefore, I do not think to put finding sure upon it. I have considered certain awain this case but those awards are not built in this case but those awards are not bindi the Company because it was not a part relevant proceedings. I have also consider report of the Central Wage Board for the Cot tile Industry, the minimum wage and allowance in the Cotton Textile Mills ment page 240 of the Indian Labour Law Journal other papers filed. On consideration all the rials placed before me, I find that there is no sity in revising the rates of wages prevalent Company but I direct that the rate of the allowance to be paid to the workmen she Rs. 36 in place of Rs. 32.50 paise. The Com paying heavy duty for the industry and It | started making profit and, therefore, the wages and the dearness allowance should fixed on the basis of those prevalent in of companies.

The issue No. 5 relates to casual leave. I of granting casual leave is to give some tele! workmen in the matter of obtaining leave in unforeseen events or circumstances. I am not if of making a lump payment to the workmen of granting casual leave. Casual leave is a m and a privilege in the form of casual leave shi be abused. In the present structure of the soc absence of casual leave is unthinkable. Casu as I have already indicated should not be granted and at the same time the leave must benefit. I direct that all permanent workers Company should get 10 days' casual leave in with pay. The permanent employees who are ing on piece-rates should be paid wages at the age rate at which the workers were paid in the ceding month. The temporary workers will ever, get 10 days' casual leave in a year but' any pay.

The issue No. 6 relates to annual leave, been referred by the Union to the award, E

AWARD

This industrial dispute between Shri B. Roy Chowdhury and his workmen employed in the Toonbarie Tea Estate, represented by Dooars Tea Garden Indian Employees' Association, was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by G. O. No. 3069-I.R./IR/9L-32/63, dated 1st August 1963, and the only issue referred for adjudication was as follows:—

Whether the termination of service and subsequent re-employment on reduced salary and other amenities of Sarbasree B. D. Dutta, B. N. Das Gupta, A. B. Gurung and Jitendra Chandra Bhowmick are justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

The parties appeared in response to notices issued by the Tribunal and filed their respective written statements in due course. After necessary preliminary proceedings and some adjournments, the case was finally fixed for hearing on 9th February 1965. On that date, the representatives of the parties appeared before me with Shri B. Roy Chowdhury, the employer, and Shri Biraj Majumder, the Secretary of the concerned Union, and stated that a talk of compromise was going on. After some discussions held in my presence, the parties finally settled the terms of compromise and later, they filed a joint petition of compromise embodying the settled terms and praying for a compromise award accordingly.

I have considered the terms of compromise. These appear to be quite fair and lawful. I am satisfied, after hearing the representatives of the parties and the employer himself and the Union Secretary, that there has been a bona fide settlement of the dispute in terms of the joint petition. Accordingly the case is to be disposed of by a compromise award, as prayed for.

In the result, I make a compromise award in terms of the joint petition of compromise filed by the parties, a copy whereof is made part of the award as an annexure.

By Order No. 771-I.R./IR/11L-197/63, dated Calcutta, the 22nd February 1964, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Sree Durga Cinema, Kanchrapara, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, 126A Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13, regarding the matters specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11tn March 1957, for adjudication.

Issues

(1) Is the refusal of employment to Shri Nani Gopal Gupta, Chief Operator, justified? To what relief, if any, is Shri Gupta entitled?

(2) Whether the strike by the workmen from 23rd October 1963 is justified? What relief, if any, are the workmen entitled to?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Sree Durga Cinema, Kanchrapara, 24-Parganas (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, 126A Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

As usual immediately after the receipt of the reference from the Government issued notices to the parties calling upon them to appear and present their cases. They appeared in time and duly complied. Subsequently however they started negotiation for settlement and I am glad to record that they successfully settled one of the two items of dispute and agreed to have the other dispute settled at the intervention of the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Barrackpore.

Both parties have accordingly filed a joint petition of compromise before this Tribunal on the 12th day of February 1965. The first issue was relating to refusal of Nani Gopal Gupta, Chief Operator. The said workman Shri Nani Gopal Gupta has accepted Rs. 360 from the Company in tull and final settlement of his claim. The said workman on acceptance of the aforesaid amount from the Company has granted a stamped receipt which has been made an annexure to the joint petition. I have ascertained from both parties that they have agreed to have the other dispute which is the subject matter of issue No. 2 settled at the intervention of the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Barrackpore, and they have therefore agreed not to press issue No. 2 before this Tribunal. That dispute accordingly stands waived by the Union. The terms of agreement as embodied in the joint petition of compromise appear to be fair and reasonable. I therefore accept the terms and make an award on compromise in terms of the joint petition filed before this Tribunal on 12th February 1965 which along with the money receipt do form part of the compromise award.

RE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

rı RENUPADA MUKHERJEE, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

s industrial dispute was referred to this nal for adjudication under section 10 of the trial Disputes Act by the Government of West it by its Labour Department Order No. 1192-R 111-84-64, dated Calcutta, the 18th March One party to the reference is Messrs. Bengal Mill Co. Ltd., Raniganj (hereinafter to be ibed as the Company), and the other party their nen represented by the Bengal Paper Mill ur Union, Ballavpur, Raniganj (hereinafter to scribed as the Union). The only issue referred ljudication is the following:

On receipt of this reference usual notices were issued to both parties. The Union filed its written statement on 29th April 1964 and the Company filed its written statement on 9th June 1964.

According to the case of the Union the clerical and supervisory staff of the Company were Union paid production bonus on the basis of a scheme contained in an agreement, dated 24th October 1959. The term of that scheme expired on 31st November 1962 and it would take sometime before a new scheme is worked out and put into effect for payment of production bonus for the year 1963. For the last mentioned year the company has paid production bonus equivalent to three months' basic wages which has been accepted by the employees concerned without prejudice to their right to get a higher quantum of bonus. Under the scheme contained in the agreement of 1959 these employees were given production bonus at the rate of Rs. 50 per ton over and above 1,400 tons per month subject to the maximum target of 1,650 tons per month. During the year of claim the total production exceeded this maximum target and the Union contends that production bonus should be calculated at the rate mentioned in the agreement of 1959 after lifting the maximum target.

The Company contended in its written statement that the claim of the Union is not tenable. scheme of incentive bonus or production bonus which was introduced by the agreement of 1939 came to an end after the expiry of December 1962. In the meantime the Company spent a huge amount of money on major renovation and expansion programme, higher output during the bonus year in comparison with that of preceding years is due to this programme. No new scheme for payment of incentive bonu; can be framed before the completion of renovation and expansion programme undertaken by th Company. In spite of these facts the Company paid incentive bonus to these employees on the basis of the agreement of 1959 for the purpose of ensuring harmonious relation between the Company and its workmen. Any additional claim by the Union is unreasonable and unjustified.

For the Union—Shri Patit Paban Pathak, assisted by Sarbashri Biswanath Chatterjee and Anil Mukherjee.

I have already stated that the only issue involved in this reference is whether the clerical and supervisory staff are entitled to any additional production bonus for 1963. The trading year of the Company is from the month of October up to the month of September of the following year. It is an admitted fact that there was a short-term agreement between the company and the Bengal Paper Mill Mazdoor Union regarding payment of incentive bonus or production bonus to the staff. This agreement is dated 24th October 1959. The scheme for incentive bonus was a short-term one and was to remain in force only up to 31st December 1962. A dispute asose between the parties as to the persons to whom the agreement would be applicable. According to the case of the Union this agreement was to apply only to such members of the staff excluding watch and ward staff who were in the rolls of the Company on 1st September 1959 as permanent and confirmed members of the staff. According to the case of the Company the agreement would also apply to such members of the staff as would become confirmed during the period of operation of the scheme. In the present reference I am not concerned with this part of the dispute which is the subject matter of a separate reference based on an arbitration agreement.

It is an admitted fact that the Company has offered production bonus to the staff in accordance with the terms of the agreement of 1959 and it is also admitted that the staff have accepted the production bonus so offered by the Company under protest. This reference has been made by Government with the consent of both parties.

On behalf of the Union Shri Pathak submitted that production for the bonus year was much in excess of the production of previous years and the staff should be given adequate production bonus commensurate with increased production. In this connection, sub-paragraphs (c) and (d) of paragraph 3 of the agreement of 1959 are relevant for our consideration. They are quoted below:

- "(c) .....The Company will pay a sum of Rs. 50 per ton of net finished paper over any production of 1,400 tons net finished paper in any month. This money shall be put into a pool and shall be disbursed on a pro rata basis according to the basic salary of the staff concerned."
- (d) .....The maximum payment in any month shall be for production up to 1,650 tons, i.e., for 250 tons only over 1,400 tons."

Shri Mukherjee submitted on behalf of the Company that although the term of the scheme for payment of production bonus expired with the month of December 1962 the Company, out of fairness, paid incentive bonus to the workmen according to the terms of the agreement quoted above. He contended that until a new scheme is framed it is not open to the Union to claim any production bonus over and above what has been stipulated to be paid under the agreement of 1959.

Shri Pathak submitted on behalf of the Union that under the agreement of 1959 the minimum target of production was fixed at 1,400 tons per month and the maximum target was fixed at 1,650 tons. The scheme provided that a sum of Rs. 50 per ton of net finished paper over and above the minimum of 1,400 tons would be paid subject to the maximum limit set by the scheme. He further submitted that the quantum of production for the bonus year has been much higher than the maximum limit put by the scheme. Such higher production has been attained on account of the efforts of the members of the staff and it is only desirable that after the expiry of the term of the scheme the maximum target limit should be ignored and production bonus should be paid for the entire quantity in excess of the minimum target of 1,400 tons per month at the rate of Rs. 50 per ton.

The Company has produced a production and finished paper for several years from 19 1962-63. The total tonnage for the bonus 22676.361 which was in excess of the annual limit of 19,800 fixed by the agreement Shri Pathak submitted that production bonus be paid after taking into account the actual of production and not the maximum limit under the agreement.

Shri Mookerjee submitted on behalf of the pany that this increased production has been principally, if not solely, by reason of prenovation and expansion programme under the Company and also by introduction of rotal under which machines work throughout the of the week without any stoppage of we employment of extra labour. Shri Badni Majumdar, production-in-charge of the mill, the in support of this contention of the Companis cross-examination he denies the suggestion if a machine is set to work at a higher speak the man operating the machine will have to with greater efficiency.

Shri Pathak submitted that the excess power the maximum target set by the agreens 1959 has been mainly attained through more efforts on the part of the staff and they show adequately remunerated for this. This contents Shri Pathak cannot be accepted in view of following facts and circumstances. The agree relied on by Shri Pathak expressly provides the graph 3(a) that after the expiry of the scheme 1959 a new scheme would have to be constanted to be constanted by the scheme would have the scheme would have the scheme wo

"The proposed scheme is a short-term si and will remain in force only until 31st bath ber 1962. By this date, the Company planning to complete a major renovated expansion scheme whereby the production the mill may increase to 100 tons per day, new scheme will have to be considered at this date."

No new scheme has as yet been framed be the expansion scheme has not yet been completed until a new scheme is framed it is not possed give an additional bonus to the workmen by all one of the material portions of the agreeme 1959 at the instance of one party, namely, the little and the instance of one party, namely, the little and the instance of the expension of the agreement of the alteration asked for it is removal of maximum limit of production. It would be until able to hold that increased production is attributionally to the efforts of the employees concerned Company filed some charts for the purper proving that large amounts were spent for regard renovating various equipments of mathematical that the assistance of expert evidence it is imputed to determine what part of increased production been achieved by renovation and replacement equipments and what portion is attributincreased efforts on the part of the employees.

In the above connection Shri Pathak dri attention to the revision of the scheme of in bonus paid to manual workers. The schen cerning such workers was admittedly revised

62. It is an admitted fact that after the of that scheme manual workers got it increased production bonus for 1963 over the the amount which they had got in the year. Shri Pathak contended that in the herical staff an increase by 7 per cent. may ed over and above the maximum incentive hyable under the agreement of 1959 if the is disinclined to remove the maximum production contained in that scheme. I am p accept this contention of Shri Pathak the scheme for incentive bonus payable to workers is completely different from the applicable to members of the staff as d in the agreement of 1959. So long as a eme of production bonus is not framed g the members of the staff the Union is not to claim any production bonus on the basis greement of 1959 by altering one of its clauses to its advantage. I think the comacted fairly and squarely by giving produchas already expired. The Union is not to claim any additional production bonus and that claim. This is my adjudication and this case.

Whether the closure of the factory from 28th October 1963 is real and bona fide? Whether the closure is beyond the control of the management and in the circumstances justified? To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled?

AWARD

After receipt of the reference on 7th March 1964. notices were issued to both the parties. The represntative of the workmen was duly served with the notice, while in the case of the Company the notice could not be served upon it through regular course. The notice sent by post for service on the Company was returned by the Postal Department without proper service. Thereafter an order was passed for deputing a special messenger to serve the notice both at the Head Office address and the factory address of the Company. The notice was accordingly sent through Shri Harendra Chandra Pal, an Orderly Peon of this Tribunal. The Company refused to accept the notice which was hung up at the Company's gate, and service was effected thereby. The service return of the Peon shows that the notice was hung up on 5th February 1965. In the notice the Company was directed to appear on 9th February 1965. The Company, however, failed to appear on that date. Union also failed to make any appearance at all subsequent stages after service of notice upon it. From the aforesaid circumstances, it may be safely concluded that there is no dispute between the parties at present. Accordingly a "no dispute" award is made in this case.

s industrial dispute between Messrs. India Jute 27. and their workmen was referred to this nal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes

Act, 1947, by Government Order No. 572-I.R./IR/8L-5(B)/64, dated the 12th February 1964, for adjudication upon the issue, viz.—

Is the supersession of the claim of Shri Sudarsan for the post of Slyman justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

After receipt of the reference from Government on 14th December 1964 usual notices were issued to the parties concerned fixing 5th March 1964 for their appearance and filing of the written statement by the Union. The parties entered appearance on 5th March 1964, and on the prayer of the Union time was allowed till 24th March 1964 for filing its written statement. No written statement was tiled by the Union on 24th March 1964, and time was again allowed till 4th April 1964 for filing written statement by the Union. The Union filed its written statement on 31st March 1964, and the Company filed its written statement on 9th May 1964. After several adjournments, on the prayers of the parties, the case was fixed for hearing on 11th February 1965.

The case of the Union is that this workman, who was working as the Head Doffer, should have been, in the normal course, appointed as a Slyman when there was a permanent vacancy of a Slyman in June 1963. His claim was ignored by the Company, and another workman was appointed to that post. The supersession of the claim of Sudarsan is said to be wholly unjustified, illegal and arbitrary, and the Union has prayed for directing the Company to appoint Sudarsan to the post of a Slyman.

The Company filed a written statement in reply to the written statement filed by the Union, and the case of the Company, shortly put, is that Sudarsan was not found suitable for appointment as a Slyman, and the Company bona fide appointed one Baldev Singh as a Slyman, as he was found efficient and suitable for the post of Slyman. It is alleged that the action of the Company in not appointing Sudarsan for the job of a Slyman is bona fide, and he is, therefore, not entitled to any relief whatsoever.

The workman Sudarsan has examined himself, and it is stated by him that he has been working as three-side piecer for about last five months, and he does not like to press his claim for appointment as a Slyman if he is allowed to continue in his present job as a three-side piecer, subject to this condition that in case of reduction of any number of threeside piecers in future, the principle of seniority amongst the then three-side piecers shall be observed. The learned lawyer appearing on behalf of the Company submits that the Company is prepared to accept the offer and Shri Kamal Bhattacharya, Secretary of the Union, also submits that the workman would be satisfied if he is allowed to continue in his present post, subject to the conditions stated by him. The Company does not adduce any evidence, and P.W. I has also not been cross-examined. In view of the statement of the workman made before me, I hold that he has given up his claim for appointment as a Slyman, and would be satisfied if he is allowed to continue in his present position as a three-side piecer. The Company is, accordingly, directed to allow this workman to continue in his present position as a three-side piecer, and in case any occasion arises for reducing the number of three-side piecers in future, the principle of seniority amongst the existing three-side piecers shall be observed in the matter.

This is my award.

Decision

parties adduced evidence—oral and docu-The Union examined five witnesses and pany examined three.

I enter into the merits of the case I proconsider the preliminary objection, raised by pany, that the present reference was incomas much as the dispute referred for adjudicaan individual dispute and not an industrial It has been urged on behalf of the Company cause of the concerned workmen was not by the majority of the workmen of the The Company is fairly a big concern and tted in para. 3 of the written statement that the Company serves as Managing Agents etaries and Treasurers of a large number of ompanies by also it carries on business as builders, contractors and also trades in s commodities. Obviously there are various nts and well-defined sections of workmen. may be more than one Union and actually P W. 1 Shri Biswanath Mitra is the Secrethe Martin Burn Indian Employees' Union rding to him there are about 1,000 employees working in the Head Office of the Company who, almost all, are members of his Union. He admits the existence of the present Union formed by Concrete Mixture Machine Drivers and Helpers who do not work in the Head Office but who are engaged by the Company at the work-sites. So, it appears that the members of the present Union are a distinct class of workmen employed by the Company, but not in the Company's Head Office. P. W. 2 Santi Ranjan Kar is the Secretary of the present Union. He himsell was a Mixture Machine Driver and worked in that capacity for 10 years without any break. According to him at the time of formation of the present Union there were 35 workmen of this particular category (Mixture Machine Drivers and Helpers), and they combined without exception to form the present Union. It may be that at the present moment all of them are not continuing their services. The allegation is that the Company has since dispensed with the services of many workers and recruited new men. At present there are about 18 workers of this category, out of which nine are new recruits and the newly recruited men are not members of the present Union. But that does not affect the position. If it was an industrial dispute at the date of the reference it does not cease to be so merely because some of the members of the Union have since been removed from services by the Company. It was the contention of the Company that in order to be an industrial dispute the cause of the concerned workmen must be sponsored by majority of the workmen of the Company. I have already observed that the present Union was formed by a particular section of workmen employed in the establishment, and it has been held by a Division Bench of the Madras High Court in the case of Buckingham & Carnatic Co. Ltd. (reported in 1959 II L.L.]. 781), that "there is no provision of law which precludes there being more than one Union of workmen employed in an establishment. There is nothing to prevent each section of workmen having a Union or association of their own to safeguard the interest of the workmen employed in that section. Section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act contemplates workmen being employed to do manual, supervisory, technical or clerical work. The interests and grievances of persons employed to do clerical work may not concern workmen employed in the technical work in the establishment. There may be peculiar demands from workmen employed in the different sections of an establishment." By this decision the Division Bench confirmed the decision of the Single Bench of the High Court in the same case which is reported at page 358 of the same volume in which it was observed by His Lordship as follows: scheme of the Industrial Disputes Act seems to be inconsistent with the contention that the dispute between a management and its workmen in order to be an industrial dispute must have the backing of a majority of the workmen under the particular management. The words of sections 2(m) and 18 seem to imply that there could be an industrial dispute between the management and a part of the establishment." It was further observed that "further organisation of workers on the basis of crafts is a well recognised form of organisation. In other words, Unions based on crafts are a common feature of the modern industrial State, and when a genuine Union is based on a craft exists and that Union is a majority of the employees engaged in that craft and belonging to that establishment, it would not be ordinarily proper to say that a dispute backed by such a Union is not an industrial dispute unless it is backed by a substantial number of workmen employed in that establishment as a whole." It goes on to say "as the Act stands" it will be impossible to insist that before a dispute between a management and its employees can be called an industrial dispute. that dispute must have the backing of a majority of the employees under that management. The decisions do not go further than saying that before a dispute can be called an industrial dispute, it must have the backing of a substantial number of the employees. A substantial number need not be a majority. "Lastly, it may be noted that the majority rule does not find favour with the Hon'ble Supreme Court and it has been held in cases more than one (1960 I L.L.J. 491; and 1962 I L.L.J. 634) that it is open to a minority of workmen or a minority Union to terminate the award by which they along with other employees are bound just as it is open to them to raise an industrial dispute under the Act." Therefore, even a minority group of workmen can make a demand and thereby raise an industrial dispute.

Therefore, in the light of the decisions referred to above and in the facts and circumstances of the present case I hold that it is an industrial dispute and the present reference is valid and competent one. The Company's preliminary objection is thus overruled.

I take up this issue first in preference to the others in consideration of the fact that the findings on the other issue is more or less dependent on the findings of this all important issue.

It has already been pointed out from the Company's written statement that it is a very big concern dealing with various types of business. One of them is construction of building and structures as Building Contractors. The workmen concerned in the present dispute claim to have worked under the Building Department of the Company. The Company admits engagement of this particular category of workmen for construction of buildings. The Building Department of the Company undertakes construction of buildings and structures on the basis of contracts secured from the Government, public and quasipublic bodies. As Building Contractor the Company requires services of the Mixture Machine Drivers and their helpers just as they require masons, carpenters, vystys, majdoors, rod-binders, roof beaters, etc. These workmen ere usually known as job-site workers. They are engaged for a particular con-struction job at the work-site. This fact is admitted by P. W. 3 Shri Ajit Kumar Ghosh the President of the Union. They are not permanent workmen. Their services terminated automatically with the completion of a particular work of construction for which they are engaged. It may so happen that they remain idle for some period before they are engaged in another work. This happens when the business is dull and there is not much work in the hand of the Company. It may also be possible that they remain employed from work to work throughout the year and for years together excepting Sundays and the two National holidays when there is work in abundance in the hand of the Company. There is, however, hardly any certainty :s to the constant flow of work into the hands of the Company, and mo categories of workmen are not required to the time during the period of construction ings. The different categories of workmen different stages. Mixture Machine Drivers helpers are to work only when concrete n required for the floor, roof, pillars and line fore, it may not serve any useful purpos contrary, it may become un-economic to he manent body of such workmen on the esta without having work for them. There is n tory evidence to show that such workmen permanently employed to any other firm tractors in the region. The Secretary of says that some workmen are permanently in some other concern which fact has be denied by the Company's Officer D. W. 3 Si Bhattacharji who is the Resident Engineer is hardly any reliable and dependable evithis point. The number of such workmen by the Company frequently varies depend the volume of work to be executed. It ap at one time the number of such workmen w it has since come down to 18 as admitted h Shri Santi Kar, the Secretary of the Un fact of frequent fluctuation of the numbe workmen to be employed by the Company admitted by P.W. 3 Shri Ajit Ghosh, the Pi the Union, who himself is one of the works employ of the Company. Therefore, there any certainty as to the number of such wo quired to be employed at different times depend upon the volume of work and also t size and urgency of the building to be co The Company has produced a chart Ext I what number of such workmen were employed in different years. It appears chart that disproportionately large number were employed. The number of drivers paratively small. This has not been explain Company. Ordinarily one Mixture Mach is to require one helper or at best two number of hel-ers appears four times or m number of drivers. There is evidence of l show that there are 40 to 45 mixture mach it seems to me that some helpers also do driver. The driving of concrete mixture n not a very difficult job. Therefore, the he gaining some experience may easily or mixing machine. The helpers, therefore, de motion as drivers provided they have sh aptitude, skill and efficiency.

It is admitted by the Company that to drivers. Shri Ajit Kumar Ghosh and Shri Pa Singh have been made permanent. They piven all the benefits and amenities admother employees (Para. 14 of the written 5 They are paid on monthly basis. Shri A: Ghose gets Rs. 100 per month and Shri Pt Singh gets Rs. 102 per month (vide Ext. F

Admittedly, the Company is a well-estable well-reputed firm of engineers and had appears from the evidence on record that takes construction of important buildings and structures in places near and very far Machine Driver Shri Ajit Kumar Ghosh to Delhi for construction of Railway Stating at Shahdara. During the period of his

anial outstation allowance of Rs. 30 per addition to be normal salary [vide Ext. 3 addition to any seldem sits idle. This fact om the evidence of D.W. 3 Shri Madan in the Resident Engineer of the Company. pears that some of these workmen have ontinuous services for a long number of W. 2 Shri Santt Ranjan Kar served as a et the company for 10 years. P. W. 3 kumar Ghosh has similarly been serving n and P. W. 4 Shri Tarapada Paul has acity served from 8 to 10 years. This fact radicted. It also finds corroboration from ment of the Company's officer on the Ext. 4(a). So, it is abundantly clear that nber of these workmen have been serving is for a long period without break. These aving faithfully served for years together eak should have some incentive and otherwise the result will be frustration mean discontent and unrest in the lam glad to find that the management ppreciated this aspect of the business and taken a move in that direction by making m permanent. But after careful scrutiny ence and the facts and circumstances disalso the chart of employment of such n different years, I am of the view that tilication for making four of the concrete ivers permanent instead of two as has in done by the Company. There is no erial before this Tribunal for selection of her Mixture Machine Drivers for being ment. So, I leave it to the decision of the t In the matter of selection for inclusion ianent cadre the management should take eration the length of service rendered by driver, his efficiency, service conduct and ant factors. Length of service by itself the sole criterion but it will be a main nsideration.

Shri Madan Mohan Bhattacharji the Resieer of the company has described these sunskilled workmen. I do not agree with simself is an engineer. He has compared f a machine driver with that of a motor-It is well-known that a car driver has got ular training and to stand a practical test granted licence to drive a car and to take ad Therefore, I cannot call a Machine unskilled workman. He will be a workst in the semi-skilled group. There is show that they not only operate the Conre Machine but also handle the vibrator, and do some electric work (vide Ext 4 idence of D. W. 3). Therefore, in my of the Concrete Mixture Machine Drivers de permanent and they will be treated as 1 the semi-skilled group.

Concrete Mixture Machine Drivers who de permanent will be entitled to get the Anges of Rs. 55 per month together with as admissible to other unskilled group in the employ of the Company. As minimum wages for the other Concrete lachine Drivers and Helpers I find from of demands submitted on behalf of the workmen to the Company (Ext. C and C/12) that the Union claimed minimum daily wage at the rate of Rs. 3 for the helpers and at the rate of Rs. 4 for the drivers. It is in the evidence of D. W. 3 Shri Anil Kumar Sen that the drivers are now being paid at Rs. 3.50nP. per day and helpers at the rate of Rs. 2 to Rs. 3 per day. Taking into consdieration the price index of essential commodities and the high cost of living I direct that the minimum wage of the Concrete Mixture Machine Drivers should be Rs. 4 per day and that of the helpers should be Rs. 3 per day. Regard being had to the issue as framed I do not propose to consider any other point in this connection.

Issue Nos. 2 and 3.

I take up these two issues together for consideration as these relate to workmen of permanent cadre. I have already found that four of the Concrete Mixture Machine Drivers are entitled to be made per-manent by the company. They will be treated as semi-skilled workmen. I have already prescribed their minimum wages. They will also be entitled to D. A. and other benefits and amenities eligible to the aforesaid category of workmen in the employ of the Company. These four permanent concrete mixture machine drivers will be entitled to the benefits claimed under these two issues provided benefits are admissible to other permanent workmen of the semi-skilled group of men working in the establishment. No evidence has been adduced on this point. Therefore, I do not propose to disturb the uniformity in the service conditions of the same category of workmen serving in the same establishment. Accordingly I dispose of these two issues.

As regards other Concrete Mixture Machine Drivers and Helpers, who are, as I have already observed, job-site workers of temporary group but still they be entitled to enjoy the two National holidays on 26th of January and 15th of August every year as paid holidays.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by Shri Prafulla Kumar Chakravarty, Tax Collector of Budge Budge Municipality, complaining that the Chairman of the Municipality, illegally, unjustly and unfairly suspended him without any wages or subsistence allowance by an order, dated 18th July 1963, and that the said action of the Chairman of the Municipality amounted to punishment and in any case alteration of his conditions of service without the sanction of any legally operative rules or Standing Orders of the Municipality in that behalf. It is further contended that the Chairman, in so suspending has contravention of the relevant provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act, do pendency of the adjudication proceedings of dispute between the Municipality and its referred to this Tribunal by Governme No. 3623-I.R., dated 19th July 1960, and is entitled to lodge the present complaint tion 33A. He has claimed reinstatement with full back wages.

The Municipality contests the workman tion. The relevant contentions raised by defence are briefly as follows:

There was no contravention of any pro section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Ac nection with the suspension of this worl hence this application is not maintainable case, this workman was not a "concerned" in the dispute pending adjudication be Tribunal under Government Order No dated 19th July 1960, and as such the c suspension could not fall under any reli vision of section 33 on account of the pe the said adjudication proceedings and co this application under section 33A is not able by him. There was audit rem defalcation of Municipal funds by this wo after getting the matter enquired through tary of the Municipality and on the ba enquiry report that the workman had ad guilt and promised to return the misar money, and further on the basis of a let by the workman to the Chairman, mío that he would pay back the money by a the Chairman suspended him by his ke 18th July 1963, pending final enquiry an in the matter and he was also asked to explanation within three days. The wor, mitted his explanation on 22nd July 15 consideration of this reply, the suspension firmed at a meeting of the Commission 10th August 1963. Subsequently, the is was informed about the defalcation of me Municipal fund by this workman and took up the case and it is still under pol gation. The Chairman has every right a workman according to the Model Ru under the Bengal Municipal Act which times, applicable to this Municipality necessary Service Rules regarding susp other relevant matters have also been tra section 75 of the Bengal Municipal Act have been approved. The suspension of man was ordered as a security measur intended to be effective till the enquire was completed. The Chairman acted quand within his legal authority in suspe workman and so, the workman is not t any relicf.

Long after the aforesaid written state filed by the Municipality, a petition. I January 1965, was submitted by the Municipality this Tribunal stating, inter alia, that the sioners after causing proper enquiries into conduct of this workman, dismissed is service by resolution, dated 6th October referred the resolution to the Government Bengal for the approval as required by sections.

Bengal Municipal Act, and the matter is now g disposal by the Government. Upon this g disposal it was contended that the workman's mar product the dismissed and no further proshould be taken by this Tribunal in the i case

junicipality against the maintainability of the t complaint under section 33A of the rial Disputes Act. One of the preliminary ions raised by the Municipality rests upon the lat this complaint under section 33A, Industrial les Act, on the basis of alleged contravention ne provisions of section 33 of the Industrial les Act, in connection with his suspension, the at all because there could be no contra-n of any provision of section 33 of the rial Disputes Act in the matter of his ision, as he was not a "concerned workman" dispute pending adjudication before this adjuder Government Order No. 3623-I.R., 19th July 1960, at the time of his suspension. n admitted position that in the reference under nment Order No. 3623-I.R., dated 19th July the issue referred for adjudication was adjudication of conservancy and other staff, ig on "no work, no pay" basis and the benefits ich they we e entitled by way of leave, holi-provident tunds, etc. It is contended on of the Municipality that the previous dispute concerned the conservancy workers and arriv it did not concern any worker of the or staff belonging to the category of clerks and assistants and necessarily this workman sed as a Tax Collector and cashier was not concerned in the said previous dispute. On of the workman it is contended that such a mterpretation of the expression "concerned ken" is not permissible under the law and the spression is to be deemed to include all workhe were parties to the dispute and had taken reasing the dispute. I have seen the Order erence in connection with which the present ant has been made. I find that the dispute he issue of decasualisation of conservancy and staff employed on "no work no pay" te benefits admissible to them, was raised by workmen of this Municipality through the Bengal Municipal Employees' Federation ctive of the categories to which they belonged. ling to the Order of Reference, all workmen Municipality irrespective of their different nes had raised the dispute and were parties Necessarily the present complainant be deemed to have been a party to that dispute hstanding that the precise dispute related to cular category of workmen. The matter now en set at rest by the clear decision of the ne Court in the case reported in AIR 1960, in this case that the expression "workman ned" does not mean any workman directly mediately concerned with the dispute in in even as a matter of construction and the con includes all workmen on whose behalf irute has been raised, as well as those who be bound by the award which may be made Said dispute As the category of Municipal ees to which the present workman belonged cording to my finding recorded above, a to the dispute and had raised that dispute such category must necessarily be bound by the award made in respect of the dispute under section 18(3)(a) of the industrial Disputes Act. It does not matter that such category of employees was not directly or immediately concerned in the precise dispute as indicated in the issue referred for decision. in the above view, of the matter, I reject the Company's contention and hold that the present workman was a workman concerned in the previous dispute and as such he is entitled to maintain the present application under section 33A on the ground that there was contravention of some relevant provision of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act in the matter of his suspension from service. This part of the Company's preliminary objection is therefore, rejected.

The next contention raised by the Municipality by way of another preliminary objection against the maintainability of the present application is that as this workman was simply suspended and not dis-charged or dismissed, there could not be any violation of any relevant provision of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act in his case though at that time, the adjudication proceedings of the pre-vious dispute between the Municipality and its workmen regarding the conservancy staff were pending before this Tribunal. In my view this contention is not also tenable. It appears that according to the contentions raised by the workman, the case would fall under section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Even assuming that the suspension was not a case of dismissal or discharge, it cannot but be held that it was a substantial alteration in his service conditions inasmuch as he was forbidden to work and was not paid his wages and under section 33(2), the employer can make such alteration only in accordance with the Standing Orders or legally operative rules applicable to the workman. This workman has clearly and definitely contended that at the time of his suspension, there was no such rule authorising the Chairman to suspend him without wages. I will consider this aspect of the matter in details when I go to the merits of the case. For the purpose of disposal of the preliminary objection I need only say here that it has not been established to my satisfaction that there was any legally operative service rule of the Municipality, authorising the suspension of this workman without wages at the time of his suspension. It is now well settled that an employer has no power to suspend a workman except in accordance with authorised and legally operative Standing Orders or service rules or contract of employment and if any worker is suspended without the sanction of such Standing Orders or rules or contract of employment, that would certainly be illegal and without jurisdiction and would amount to unauthorised alteration of service conditions. Apart from this position, there is also another aspect of the case which is thisordinarily suspension is not a punishment but if it is found that there is suspension for any indefinite period without wages or without enquiry, it may quite legally amount to punishment. In view of the provisions of section 33(2), no employer can punish any workman whether by dismissal or otherwise for any n is conduct not connected with the dispute except in accordance with the Standing Orders or service rules applicable to such workman. In the present case, the workman has definitely contended that he was suspended without wages and was kept suspended for an indefinite period without enquiry and this amounted to a vindictive punishment against him. Prima facie the fact remains that the workman was suspended without wages on 18th July 1963 and there is no evidence to prove that any enquiry was held before the present application was filed on 18th December 1963, about five months fater or at any time thereafter up till now. No evidence of any such enquiry has been produced. Even assuming that the Municipality legally adopted the Model Rules framed by the Government under the Bengal Municipal Act and had it confirmed by the Government before this workman was suspended, though there is no evidence to that effect before this Tribunal, the fact remains that according to the Model Rules (Rule No. 2 of Ext. D), if a Chairman suspends any Municipal employee, whose salary exceeds Rs. 20 per month, the matter shall be laid before the Commissioners at their next ordinary meeting. But in the present case, there is absolutely no evidence to prove that this provision of the Rule regarding suspension was ever complied with and the matter of his suspension was placed before the Commissioners at the next ordinary meeting held after the order of suspension. In this view of the matter, it may also be said that even assuming the Municipality's contention to be correct, the supension was not in accordance with the Standing Rules of the Municipality upon which reliance is now placed and as such, the suspension was in contravention of the Standing Rules. In this view of the matter it may quite reasonably be held that the suspension of this workman was clearly in contravention of the relevant provisions of section 33(2) and upon such contravention the workman is competent to maintain the present application under section 33A. All the preliminary objections raised by the Company are therefore rejected.

I now come to the merits of the case. It is to be noted that this being a case under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, the Tribunal, in making its decision on the complaint raised before it, is required to go into the merits of the dispute as if it were a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The complaint in the present case is precisely against the suspencion of the workman wihout wages by the Chairman of the Municipality, with effect from 18th July 1963. As already indicated above in stating the respective cases of the parties, the complainant's case is that the Chairman had no legal authority to suspend him in that manner because there was no legally operative service rules or standing orders nor any stipulation in the contract of employment itself to authorise such suspension and the suspension itself was imposed by way of runishment. Exhibit B is the Chairman's letter dated 18th July 1963, whereby this workman was suspended. There was no mention of wages or supension allowance in this letter but it is an undisputed position that this workman was suspended without wages or suspension allowance and he has not been paid any wages or suspension allowance since his suspension. The suspension was effected on the ground that it appeared that this workman had not remitted monthly collection to the Treasury or to the State Bank of India. By this letter of suspension, the workman was also asked to submit his explanation within three days. The workman submitted his explanation on 22nd July 1963. His explanation was that due to ill luck he had lost the money and he expected to ig money by instalments within 31st August (Ext. C). Thereafter the workman st another lefter to the Municipality, dated 10th 1963. In this letter he submitted some terms of the submitted some repayment of the money (Ext. C<sup>4</sup>). Then clear evidence before this Tribunal whethe terms were accepted by the Chairma suspension of the workman, however, or There is no evidence before this Tribunal 1 that any steps were taken for holding an into the charge of defalcation of Municipal this workman at least till the present and under section 33A was filed on 18th Decemb it is claimed on behalf of the Municipal subsequently there was an enquiry into the against this workman and the enquiring office him guilty of the charge and thereupon the pality passed a resolution for his dismu accordingly dismissed him by letter, day October 1964, and submitted the dismissal firmation of the Government and the matter under consideration of the Government copies of papers to support the above cor were filed by the Municipality on 9th Janua the date on which this case was taken up ! ing. Even assuming the above contention Municipality to be correct, it cannot be that no enquiry was instituted till after the application under section 33A was filed in of his suspension without wages only. In the proceeding, this Tribunal cannot go into the of his alleged dismissal after enquiry long. present complaint under section 33A was n the scope of the present enquiry would be whether the suspension of this workman wages was justified or not and what relief this workman is entitled to against this su The alleged dismissal of the workman v absolutely oustide the purview of the preceeding. I proceed to deal with the prewithin the scope defined above.

It has not been proved before this Tribi there was any legally operative service standing orders whereunder the workman suspended without wages simply upon being with a misconduct. It has not also been that there is any provision in the collemployment of this workman for such su I have already indicated above the general of law that an employer has no right to s workman unless it is sanctioned by an rules or standing orders or by any provisic contract of employment. These general i constitute the ordinary law governing the ship between master and servant and it made applicable to industrial employment In a number of cases, the Supreme Court in view of the extensive power of the Tribunals and in the peculiar circumstance have been arisen on account of the enac section 33, it is but just and fair that Tribunals should imply such a term in the of employment [vide WIA Association | Bombay, 1949 LLI, 245; Lotus Industries Li Brij Nandan Pandev. LLJ, 1956 (II). 444] other cases, the Supreme Court had occ consider the cases of suspension and it the consistent view that in some cises should be implied giving power to the 1 suspend the contract of employment after conclusion on a proper enquiry that should be dismissed and has to apply should be dishissed and has to apply unal for permission under section 33 levi Sugar Mills vs. Pt. Ram Sarup, J. 17; Raniganj Colliery vs. Bhaban hers, 1959 (II), LLJ., 231; Sasha Musha der Sanup, Ltd. vs. Shohrati Khan 1950 (II) (P) Ltd. vs. Shobrati Khan, 1959 (II), Phul Bari Tea Estate vs. its workmen, LJ., 663]. In the case of Hotel Imperial, vs. Hotel Workers' Union, 1959 (II), ut was definitely held that in a case of without the authority of any legally tunding orders or service rules or any n the contract of employment, the right kman to receive wages remained and the called suspension though the suspension to this that the employer was not pretake work from the workman. In my orrect position arising out of the facts the law applicable thereto would be ie time of this workman's suspension on 1963 without wages or any subsistence there was no legally operative service iding orders of the Municipality authorison of the workman. The Government dated 28th August 1963 (Ext. D), he rules made by the Municipality under of the Bengal Municipal Act, including garding suspension (Rule 2), must be have taken effect from the date of the and not retrospectively in view of the sion in section 506 under which the con-was made that rules and bye-laws made mmissioners under the Municipal Act ike effect "unless and until they have been to, and confirmed by the State Governrule of suspension as contained in the (Ext D), had effect only from 28th 33 But this workman was suspended 18th July 1963 (Ext. B). There is no prove that the order of the thentor of the Municipality, dated 18th 955, adopting the Government Model application to the Municipal employees, ne rule of suspension, was ever submitted med by the Government. So, it cannot ided that the suspension of this workman orised under the rules adopted by the rator. The present suspension cannot my view of the case, be held to be legally ler the rule of suspension as contained in mment Notification, dated 28th August ause the rule provides that in every case the Officer's salary exceeds Rs. 20 per le natter shall be laid before the Commistheir next ordinary meeting, but there is o show that this suspension was placed e Commissioners at the next ordinary held after 18th July 1963, the date of h. Even if the Chairman of the Municiconsidered to have had the implied power an employee, he has certainly no suspend him without wages. In the case, the suspension was ordered without steps for holding any enquiry; only his on was called for and upon his submitting on in the manner as already indicated the matter was left without any decision and ension without wages continued. No doubt ist explanation, dated 22nd July 1963, the admitted that he had lost the money and he wanted to repay it by instalments and subsequently he submitted certain terms for repayment of the money. It has to be noted that he did not admit dishonest defalcation of the money, but he put forward the explanation that he had lost the mioney and the Commissioners did not at once reject his explanation and punish him. In the facts and circumstances of the case, it cannot but be said that his suspension without wages was not justified and that it was irregular and illegal.

In the above view of the facts and the law applicable thereto, I hold that the Chairman acted illegally and without jurisdiction in not paying him wages for the period of suspension and so the workman would be entitled to get his full wages for the period of suspension. In view of the strict scope of the present enquiry as already indicated above. I do not go into the question of the alleged subsequent dismissal of this workman after a proper enquiry and the submission of his dismissal for confirmation by the Government. The basic position is that the Municipality must pay him his full wages for the period during which he was kept suspended. This, in my view, would be the only relief admissible to the workman. There can be no question of reinstatement in connection with the present disputed suspension and payment of wages for the whole period of suspension will aford him quite sufficient and substantial relief.

On the findings and for the reasons recorded above, I allow the workman's application under section 33A in part and award that in spite of his suspension he is entitled to get his wages from the Municipality during the whole period of suspension and the Municipality shall pay him such wages within a month from the publication of the award.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, by Order No. 1976-I.R./IR/15L-7/64, dated the 29th May 1964, had referred the following issue in the industrial dispute between Messrs. C. K. Sen & Company Limited and their workmen represented by C. K. Sen & Co. (P) Limited Workers' Union for adjudication to this Tribunal.

Issue

Is the dismissal of Shri Dharam Nath justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

After the service of the notice, the Secretary of the Workers' Union and the Company had filed their written statements. It has been stated in the written statement filed on behalf of the workmen, that the Company is the manufacturer of the well known hair oil "Jabakusum" and other Ayurvedic products and that the Company has its head office at Jabakusum House at 34 Chittaranjan Avenue. Calcutta, and it got a factory at Behala and that the business of the factory is growing in volume and this has necessitated the setting up of a new factory at Sir Debaprasad Road in 1962. It is further stated that the Company had its booking section at the head office from which the consignments are sent to the different railway stations, steamer ghats and road transport agencies and air agencies to different destinations. The increase in the volume of business of the Company has entailed the increase with the volume of work in the booking section, but the Company did not increase the number of the workers in that section and as a result the workload of the employees had increased considerably. It is further stated that the Union was formed on the 9th August 1961 and the workers had presented a charter of demands to the Company on 29th September 1961, that thereafter the Company began to retrench the workers, had chargesheeted some of them and had suspended five Union leaders, and that therefore the Union had to resort to 25th January 1962 which continued to properly 1962. Even thereafter the Company the workers. So far as the to victimise the workers. So far as Dia is concerned it is said that he had be under the Company for the last 11 year founder member of the Union and was w the booking section as an unskilled work porter, but had to do jobs which are he duties of a porter. On 21st June 1963 July 1963, the Managing Director of the had served on Dharam Nath two memos, to explain his alleged negligence in not certain C/Notes in due course and time, and Nath had duly given his replies to those his letter, dated 28th June 1963 and 18th | these matters were ner Thereafter presumably because the explanation of the was found to be satisfactory. In the me fresh dispute regarding the festival holi other issues had cropped up between the and the Union and Dharam Nath also had the Company regarding the system of w department by his letter, dated 24th luh the Company replied by its letter, dated 1963, refusing to consider the just grievan workman. Subsequently on 13th August chargesheet No. 992/FA/19/1963 1:51 same allegations as contained in the two r also regarding two alleged prior incident was issued. It was stated that the wor guilty of habitual negligence and conduct of discipline. The workman had repla chargesheet on 22nd August 1963, and there was the enquiry regarding the alleg against the workman. The workman a letter, dated 3rd September 1965, aske examination of certain workmen, but portion of the demand was not acceded it is said that the findings of the Enqui is biased and the Enquiring Officer failed! account the important evidence in favworkman, and that by the letter, dated b ber 1963, signed by the Factory Manager a copy of the order of the Managu dismissing Dharam Nath from servi Company, was served on the workman attempts at conciliation but it failed unreasonable attitude of the Compan enquiry is biased and as the findings a and as a result the proceedings against the were mala fide and inconsistent with the of the certified Standing Orders of the Co action of the Company in dismissing the unjustified, illegal, mala fide and amoun misation. It is prayed that the dismissi held to be illegal and unjustified and th might be ordered to be reinstated with I sation for the period since the date of d

The Company in the written stateme denied that a new factory had been starte Debaprasad Road but has said that the started due to the competition in business increase in the volume of business. It is fut that the volume of business in the bool of the Company had not increased, that the work was usually high, there were employees in the booking section, to relevant time the work was much less have been done by one employee, and the has no occasion to employ other workers and legation of increase in the workload is not It is further stated that some employees sorted to illegal and unjustified strike causing loss to the Company, that the Company never used any workman and there was no retrenchthat for the commission of gross misconduct bi icdsons of security some workmen were ided and that similarly for gross misconduct were dismissals, but there was no victimisation workman. Regarding Dharam Nath, it is hat he was employed as unskilled labour and her placed at the booking section as a porter duty is to book the packed goods according he instruction of the booking clerk and badnig and unloading is always done by nie coolies. Dharam Nath was responsible for ng the goods at various railway stations, ier ghats, road transport agencies and air nes, for collecting the booking documents with nce and to deposit the same to the Company pily and diligently for dealing with those nents by the booking section clerk, and that m Nath was paid an additional allowance of ever and above the wages. In case of neglect wik the Company suffers loss by way of trage and there is also loss of reputation to astituents for delay in receiving the goods. Company say that it is not aware if Dharam is the founder member of the Union. Regardme memos, it is said that the explanation atted by Dharam Nath was not found to be actory and therefore the chargesheet was d in which the misconducts of 1961 were also red to. There has been a fair and proper iry regarding the misconduct and the ng is not biased as alleged. With regard to the ed letter of Dharam Nath, dated 24th July 1963, said that it has been issued as a counter-blast he memos, and is absolutely irrelevant. With rd to the alleged increase in the workload it is that the other worker Deo Naravan who was attached to the booking section was on leave from 29th April 1963 to 4th May 1963 with the ent of Dharam Nath and that the leave was led as there was less work at the relevant time. ly it is said that Dharam Nath was present at time of examination of witnesses on behalf of management and had also examined certain esses on his behalf, that after the statements of witnesses were recorded they were read over explained to Dharam Nath, that Dharam Nath given every opportunity to defend himself and as it was found that there had been neglect of and or habitual negligence of deliberate e amounting to gross misconduct, the Enquiring er recommended the dismissal, and that the using Director on behalf of the Company dered the charges as per chargesheet, explanaevidence recorded and produced at the enquiry had independently come to the conclusion that am Nath should be dismissed and accordingly letter, dated 14th December 1963, was issued issing Dharam Nath. As Dharam Nath is of gross misconduct, the Company is justified smissing him from service. There has been no nisation or mala fides as alleged or at all. am Nath is therefore not entitled to get the s prayed for.

Findings

Before I proceed to consider the evidence, I would 1 fer certain rulings to which my attention has been drawn by the learned lawyer appearing for the Company. The principle of law is well settled and has not been disputed by the learned lawyer appearing for the Union. It would appear from the ruling reported in 1958 (I) L.L.J., 260 (Indian Iron & Steel Co. vs. their workmen), 1959 (1) L.L.]., 285 (G. Mackenjie Co. Ltd. vs. their workmen), 1965 (10) F.L.R. 10 (Victoria lute Co. Ltd. vs. the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal), 1960 (II), L.L.J., 56 (Doom Dooma Tea Co. vs. Assam Cha Karmachari Sangha) that in cases of dismissal for misconduct the Tribunal does not act as a Court of appeal and will not substitute its own judgment for that of the management and that in case of dismissal after by the domestic tribunal, the Industrial Tribunal can interfere with such an action of the management only on the following grounds:

- (i) where there has been want of good faith,
- (ii) where there is victimisation or unfair labour practice,
- (iii) where the management i, guilty of basic error or violation of the principles of natural justice.
- (iv) when on the materials the finding is completely baseless and perverse.

I think reference should also be made to the ruling reported in 1963 (II) L.L.J., 78 (Tata Oil Co. Ltd. vs. its workmen). Regarding the question as to the finding being perverse, reference may be made to the ruling reported in 1962 (II) L.I.J., 772 (Hamdard Dawakhana Wakaf vs. its workinen. It has been laid down that perverse finding is a finding which is not supported by evidence or is entirely opposed to the whole of the evidence adduced. Regarding victimisation, it has been laid down in the ruling reported in 1962 (II) L.L.J., 644 (Bharat Sugar Mills Ltd. vs. Jai Singh) that before there can be a finding by the Tribunal of victimisation by the employer, there must be reason to think that the employer intended to punish workmen for their Union activities while purporting to take action ostensively for some other activity. My attention has also been drawn by the learned lawyer of the Company to the ruling reported in A.I.R. 1964 S.C. 486 = 1963 (I) L.L.J., 291 (Bengal Bhatdee Coal Co. Ltd. vs. Ram Prabesh). In that case, 13 workmen were dismissed by the appellant company as a result of an enquiry into their misconduct after obtaining permission of the Industrial Tribunal under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The misconduct alleged was that during the course of illegal strike by the workmen these workmen physically obstructed other workmen who were willing to do their work by sitting down between the tramlines and the Regional Labour Commissioner found this mis-conduct proved. When the dispute was referred to the Industrial Tribunal under section 10 of the Act, the Tribunal had set aside the order of dismissal on the ground that it was a case of victimisation and ordered their reinstatement but without back wages. In those circumstances, it was held that though in a case of proved misconduct normally the imposition of a penalty may be within the discretion of the management, there may be cases where the punishment for dismissal for misconduct proved may be so unconscionable or so grossly out of proportion to the nature of the offence that the tribunal may be able to draw an inference of victimisation merely from the punishment inflicted. In this connection, their Lordships had referred to the ruling reported in A.I.R. 1960 Calcutta, 249 = 1960 (II) L.L.J., 175 (National Tobacco Co. of India Limited vs. 4th Industrial Tribunal). In the facts of that case, their Lordships came to the conclusion that there should be no inference regarding victimisation and also held that the facts that the relations between the employer and the Union were not happy and that the workmen concerned were office bearers or active workers of the Union would by itself be no evidence to prove victimisation. In view of what has been stated above, it appears to me that the Tribunal has only to be satisfied that the management was justified in coming to the conclusion that the charge against the workman was well founded (10 F.J.R., 203 Belipara Tea Estate vs. its workmen), and that there had been no want of good faith, that there had been no victimisation or unfair labour practice, that the management is not guilty of basic error or violation of the principles of natural justice and that the finding is not completely baseless and perverse.

The learned lawyer appearing for the Union had first referred me to the standing orders of the Company and had submitted that apart from the questions referred to above, the order of dismissal itself by the Managing Director of the Company must be regarded to be illegal as being contrary to the standing orders of the Company. This question precisely in this form had not been raised in the written statement filed on behalf of the Union of workers. In paragraph 21 of the written statement, it has been stated that the whole of the proceedings against the workman is mala fide and inconsistent with the provisions of the certified standing orders of the Company. The learned lawyer for the Union, as I understand him, did not dispute that the question precisely in this form has been raised in the written statement of the Union of the workers. He, however, submitted that the certified standing orders of the Company had been contravened by the Managing Director who passed the order of dismissal.

I shall now refer to the certified standing orders (Ext. W). The learned lawyer appearing for the Company had referred to clause 9(a), sub-clause (ix) which is as follows:

"Habitual negligence,-a neglect of work".

Clause 9, however, provides for "Suspension or dismissal for misconduct" and says, inter alia, that proper enquiry will be instituted as to the nature and gravity of the act as a result of which the workman concerned will be either reinstated or discharged. In clause 9(b), however, provides that excepting in cases specified below all workmen who will be discharged will be given a month's clear notice in writing. Clause 9(b)(ii) lays down that a workman guilty of gross misconduct shall be discharged with immediate effect on the production of a certificate by the Manager after proper in tion to the effect that he deserves instant d The workman so discharged shall have his! appeal to the Managing Director and a omissions mentioned in sub-clauses (1) to 11 clause 9(a) shall be treated as misconduct 9(c) provides that no order of dismissal, made unless the workman is informed in wi the alleged misconduct and is given an uppx to explain the circumstances alleged 4841 and that the approval of the Managing Dir. required in every case of dismissal and, circumstances appear to warrant it, the M Director may institute independent enquity dealing with charges against a workman 9(e) provides that in awarding punishment un standing orders, the Managing Director will u account the gravity of the misconduct, the record, if any, of the workman and an extenuating or aggravating circumstances the exist and that a copy of the order passed Managing Director shall be supplied to the man concerned. The learned lawyer for the had submitted that inasmuch as a month's clear in writing had not been given in the prese and the workman had been instantly dismin also inasmuch as there has been no gro conduct on the part of the workman, the ordismissal passed by the Managing Director need to be illegal and in contravention a standing orders themselves. At this stage, it possible to say either way whether there h. gross misconduct or not, because this questi have to be decided on the basis of e provided of course in the domestic enqu conclusion had been arrived at on this poin learned lawyer for the Company argued that was misconduct on the part of the working had been found guilty in the domestic enu the charges of negligence and habitual neg and therefore the management is entitled to the workman under clause 9(a)(ix) of the c standing orders. As I understand the lawyer, he did not urge that the charges against the workman amounted to gross miss for which he was liable to instant dismiss course, the question whether a particular miss is a grave misconduct or not would depend facts and circumstances of the particular ca this stage, it is necessary to refer to the order Managing Director, dated 14th December 196 C-1). It has been stated, inter alia, th Managing Director agrees with the findings Enquiring Officer that the charges of net work and habitual negligence in the past ha proved and that such misconduct is not cor with discipline and that the workman Dhara is guilty of the charges. It is further stated that in view of the past instances of mist involving habitual negligence which has been the Managing Director took this as an aggr factor in support of the punishment of dism recommended by the Enquiring Officer. This was communicated to Dharam Nath by Fat the Factory Manager, Behala. It would th appear that the Managing Director did not! to dismiss Dharam Nath on the ground that I Nath was guilty of gross misconduct. It apr me that the order of dismissal passed l rector is in clear violation of the certifor the Company had argued that the lor une company man argued that the torders cannot be regarded to be exhaustive is connection had referred me to the ruling in 1961 (II) L.L.J., 644 (Bharat Sugar Milis a Singh). In that case, their Lordships of Jai Singn). In that case, their Lordships of the Court had held--"Go-slow" is a serious misconduct, though this has not been speciade a misconduct under the standing orders. see that the ruling referred to above is in the facts and circumstances of the both for misconduct and for gross misand there is the provision in this regard in ined standing orders of the Company. It and down there that it gross misconduct is availed a workman, and if a certificate is after proper investigation by the Manage: Feet that the workman deserves instant dishe might be discharged with immediate at where there is only misconduct, the n is liable to be discharged after giving one that notice in writing. In the context of ovisions it cannot be urged that the provithe standing orders is not exhaustive in the ase The order was passed on 14th Decem-and took effect from 16th December 1963 is also no requisite certificate by the Therefore, at best there could be dis-Therefore, it appears to me that the Jumissal of Dharam Nath is illegal, as it stravesed the provisions of the certified gorders of the Company.

searned lawyer appearing for the Union had and that there was no charge that the o Dharam Nath is subversive of discipline. it there was no evidence at the domestic of the alleged conduct which is said to be we of discipline. It was contended that nothing to show that the Managing Director have passed the order of dismissal if only brence and the habitual negligence had been 't was further contended that under the anders the workman had a right of appeal Monoging Director and that he has been the right of appeal, because the order tool was passed not by the Manager, but oy Tarpho Director. Regarding the first conthe charge-sheet (Ext. R) which was given Factory Manager (O.P.W. 3) says that Nath is in the habit of neglect of duty and fore charged with habitual negligence and subversive of discipline which constitute misconduct. The charge-sheet therefore hat the habitual negligence is said to amount conduct subversive of discipline. It appears hat there is no separate charge regarding iduct subversive of discipline and that the hibitual negligence had been regarded to be subversive of discipline. The evidence has given before the domestic enquiry, which discuss later, is with regard to the alleged of work and alleged habitual negligence. te is no specific evidence of any separate which can be said to be conduct subversive pline The learned lawyer for the Company, derstand him, did not urge that there was my charge for separate misconduct which was regarded to be subversive of discipline, but even though there is no separate charge for any alleged separate conduct which is said to be subversive of discipline, I do not agree with the learned lawyer appearing for the Union that any separate order might have been passed by the Managing Director if it became clear to him that there is no separate charge for any separate misconduct which can be said to be subversive of discipline. The first contention therefore is overruled.

With regard to the next contention, I do not think that the Managing Director who is the highest authority in the Company cannot pass the order for dismissal. It is true that there is the provision of right or appeal to the Managing Director, but such right only exists where some other authority who is below in rank to the Managing Director passes the order of dismissal. The provision of the standing orders does not apply whether the highest authority of the Company passes the order of dismissal The learned lawyer for the Company had submitted that there could be an appeal to the Board of Directors against the order passed by the Managing Director dismissing a particular workman. I do not agree with this contention of the learned lawyer for the Company. The right of appeal must be provided quite clearly. The standing orders do not provide any right of appeal to the Board of Directors where the initial order of dismissal is passed by the Managing Director himself, who, according to the evidence of the Factory Manager, is the highest authority of the Company I have therefore come to the conclusion that the order of dismissal cannot be challenged on the two grounds which I have mentioned above.

It was next contended by the learned lawyer for the workman that there have been no fair enquiry, inasmuch as the principles of natural justice have been violated, that the findings of the Enquiring Officer are perverse and that the punishment is grossly out of proportion to the nature of the offence Unless of course these contentions are upheld, the Tribunal would not be entitled to consider the question whether the misconduct alleged against the workman had really been proved by reliable evidence.

I shall first of all discuss the question whether there has been a fair enquiry or whether the principles of natural justice had been violated at the domestic enquiry. The learned lawyer for the Union had areued that the charges which had ocen preferred are too vague for the workman to answer. I do not think that this contention of the learned lawyer for the workman can be accepted. In the written statement filed by the Union there is no allegation that the charges preferred are vague, and that the workman had been prejudiced by the enquiry. Apart from this, the charge-sheet (Ext. R) contains full details regarding the alleged misconducts of the workman Dharam Nath. It has been stated that the workman had booked on 30th April 1963 the consignment C/Note R2743, dated 30th April 1963, of Air Assam Ex-Calcutta to Jorehat, and had not collected the C/Note from the above Company till 10th July 1963, and that one B/L, dated 29th May 1963, of Karimganj and B/Ls, dated 31st May 1963, of Agartolla were lying undelivered since 29th May 1963 and 31st May 1963 at R.S.N. Co.'s office and the workman had only collected the bills of lading on 18th June 1963. Pausing here for a moment, the charges mean that the workman had delayed the collection of relevant bills of lading from R.S.N. Co.'s office and from Air Assam. It is also stated in the charge that the workman was found guilty of the same nature of charges on previous occasions and loss in the shape of demurrage had also been recovered from his wages. Thereafter, details of the previous misconducts had been given and it is said that on 2nd August 1901, an order was issued for recovery of Rs. 7.40 aP. from his wages for not deliberately taking delivery of a refused consignment from Howrah and that there was delay in collecting R/R No. 329337, dated 12th July 1961, in respect of goods booked to Asansol and R R No. 863814, dated 28th June 1961, and that the demurrage charges of Rs. 3.78 nP. and .75 nP. had been recovered from his wages. Lastly, it is said that the workman is in the habit of neglecting his duty and therefore he is charged with habitual negligence and conduct subversive of discipline which constitute major misconduct. The reply (Ext. S) shows, inter alia, that the workman stated that he only knows his mother tongue Hindi and can hardly understand other languages, that he has to collect challan from his memories in most of the cases, that the business of the Company requires the collection of 25 to 40 challans by the challan collector and that previously four persons were employed for this work, but at present there are only two persons employed, and that even out of these two persons one of them was on leave at the relevant point of time. It is further stated in the reply that between 2nd August 1961 and 29th May 1963, i.e., for about two years, he had to deal few hundreds of challans and the Company has been able to find out only four alleged lapses, that is hardly fair to link up the alleged two earlier lapses with the alleged present lapses to make out a charge of habitual negligence, that it is also not fair that after punishment regarding the alleged two previous lapses, there could be again any charge, that the workman had disobeyed any order and therefore there was conduct subversive of discipline and that before the charge-sheet, his attention was not drawn to the alleged lapses on 30th April 1963 and 29th May 1963 and if that have been done, he would have certainly rectified the lapse. Regarding the two present lapses, the workman further states that he had received the memos of the Managing Director, dated 21st June 1963 and 15th July 1963. and had given his replies on 28th June 1963 and 18th July 1963, and that there was no further communication by the Company giving rise to the presumption that the explanations submitted were deemed to be satisfactory by the Company. I do not think it can be said having regard to the reply of the workman which I have mentioned above that the charges were vague. The learned lawyer for the workman submitted that in the charge itself, it is not stated when the workman should have collected the bills of lading from Air Assam and from R.S.N. Co.'s office. Some evidence has been given before me on this point that is to say the point when normally the bills of lading are to be collected by the worker, but I do not think at this stage I can refer to them. I shall only refer to them if it is found that the enquiry proceedings and the findings vitiated on the grounds alleged. At this stage, I would only shortly refer to the preliminary enquiry reierred to in the reply by the charge-sheet. Exhibits G and G-1 are memos, dated 15th July 1963 and 2-1st memos, dated 15th july 1705 and 21st july which the relevant particulars which at mentioned above had been mentioned a Managing Director, and the workman is asked to explain the reason for delay in a the bills of lading. The reply of the work those memos had been marked Exts. J and far as the consumment booked with Andrews the consumment belong the consumment belong the consumment belong the consum far as the consignment booked with Air Ai concerned, the workman stated that he h to collect the bill of lading due to heavy of work in due time through mistake, and other workman-Deo Narayan was on that time. The bill of lading from An An been collected on 10th July 1963, though it signment was booked on 30th April 1963 as the other bills of lading are concerned to be taken delivery of from R.S.N. Co so workman stated that he had gone to the 4th June 1963 and 10th June 1963 and know that the bills had not yet reached and from which they are taken delivery at 18th June 1963 the workman again enquire the bills of lading and got them and had a these bills of lading at the head office in what I have stated above, I do not think: said that the workman did not underst purport or the charges against him which said to be vague, and that therefore, the had been prejudicated. This contention learned lawyer therefore is overruled.

I shall now turn to discuss the question the finding of the enquiring officer can be to be perverse. Before I discuss this quest necessary to refer to the findings of the officer and also the evidence which had bee ed by him. On behalf of the managen Samarendra Nath Sen who is the Factor at Behala and Shri Sumanta Kumar Bish examined on 6th September 1963 and 14th ber 1963. Shri Sen had been cross-exam Shri Biswas was not cross-examined at all Pattyanayak who admittedly appeared on the workman at the time of the domestic Shri Sen had, inter alia, stated that some t years previously, four persons used to we booking section as there were booking it at that time and they were sometimes surplus durwan in the matter of collection. He had further stated that besides Dhar only Deonarayan was the other workman from 30th April 1963 to 10th July 1963, narayan was granted leave for 10 days after from Dharam Nath if he would be able to with the work alone and after he agreed and that there were two previous lapses Nath in 1961. Lastly it is said by him th the negligence and default of Dharam Company had suffered loss inasmuch as been loss of reputation and also loss of busi the time of cross-examination by Shri Pa Shri Sen had said about the duties of Dha and Deonarayan, about the extra payments made to Dharam Nath, about the persons been previously employed in the booking q about the checking after the submission of Dharam Nath and Deonarayan regarding appear that there has been no cross-examithe question of leave for a short period to Deonarayan and also about the loss of and reputation due to the alleged neglect ence of Dharam Nath. Shri Biswas had quiries at Jagannath Ghat regarding the obtaining the bills of lading. His evidence the goods are left for booking, a Ghat such and the bills of lading are delivered out or tive days afterwards on showing the Ss. His further evidence is that only the nemo or Ghat pass appears to have been on 22nd July 1963 by Deonarayan. As earlier, there has been no cross-examina-Snri Biswas In fact, the cross-examination erred but the right of cross-examination to was not exercised at all at the time of proceedings. On behalf of the workman, bit Khan, Lakhan Mondal, Deonarayan, Hare ign and Dharam Nath himself had been The evidence of these persons chiefty the nature of work, to the number of who were previously employed and to the the workload. Incidentally it may be that Deonarayan had said that the bills s are usually obtained after 8 or 10 or 15 the time of booking of the goods. The n did not examine Jatin Das and Hare igh who appear to be cited as witnesses on the workman Now the finding of the is officer is that the plea of Dharam Nath to overloading of work he sometimes railed I to ms duties properly, cannot be accepted. tow is the principal question which the dea of overloading of work cannot be I I do not think it can be said that there intely no evidence at all from which the og officer could have come to the conclusion e plea of Dharam. Nath cannot be accepted. tally I would point out that Dharam Nath h working for at least two years and presumid collected the bills of lading from the it places of booking within reasonable time. I further point out that so far as the consignooked by Air Assam is concerned, the pleav pressure of work and the absence of leave tarayan can hardly be accepted. Deonarayan on leave for about 6/7 days towards the April 1963 and beginning of May 1963. The ment was booked on 30th April 1963 and the lading was not collected earlier than 10th 363 So far as the bills of lading of Karimad Agartolla are concerned there is of course idence of Dharam Nath himself that he had n 4th June 1963 and 10th/11th June 1963 and stually collected the bill on 18th June 1963. ing the consignment booked to Karimgunj. the evidence of Sumanta Biswas that on at Jaggernath Ghat he had found that n Nath did not at all go for the purpose of ing the bills. The learned lawyer for the lan had pointed out that at the time of domesquiry, the counter clerk of the R.S.N. & Co. ot examined before the enquiring officer. This course true. But it appears to me that the ing officer was satisfied on the basis of evid-Sumanta Biswas who was not cross-exathat the allegation of Dharam Nath going * purpose of collecting the bills at the office of the R.S.N. Co. cannot be accepted. It is not for me to say whether that conclusion is correct or not. It was pointed out to me that the enquiring officer had relied on the letter issued by R.S.N. Co's office which has been marked Ext. B-1 in this case. It is quite true that the letter contains the statements of some officer of R.S.N. Co. that the bills of lading very often lie undelivered and are not collected by the C. K. Sen Co. Pvt. Ltd. till several reminders are issued. This piece of evidence, however, appears to corroborate the evidence of Sumanta Biswas and is not the sole basis for finding that Dharam Nath did not go on 4th June 1963 and 10th/11th June 1963 for collecting the bills. It appears to me that the andings cannot be challenged on the grounds now alleged. The learned lawyer appearing for the workman next argued that there could be any unding regarding habitual negligence, even assuming that there had been delay in collecting the bills of lading by Dharam Nath as stated by the Company. in this connection the learned lawyer had referred me to the ruling reported in 1961 (II), L.L.J., 117 (Andhra Scientific Co. Ltd., vs. Shesha Giri Rac). in that case, it was held by their Lordships of the Surreme Court that before a person could be said to be guilty of habitual negligence, it has to be snown that he has been guilty of negligence on several occasions so as to show that this is his habit and that the negligence on one occasion is not properly arranging and labelling of stores cannot be considered to be habitual negligence, even though this continued for several months. There it was found that the officer neglected to properly arrange and label the stores and only offered to do so and did part of the work after being reminded more than once. The negligence resulted in loss of some goods, even then it was held that the officer was not habitual negligent. It appears to me that there must be a course of conduct extending for a reasonable long period in order to show that the workman is habitual negligent in discharging his duties. I do not think that the two instances of alleged neglect in taking delivery in time of the bills of lading from the Air Assam and the R.S.N. Co.'s office can read to a reasonable inference of habitual negligence on the part of the workman Dharam Nath. The learned lawyer for the Company had submitted that there were at least three instances in 1963 showing the negligence of Dharam Nath in collecting the bills of lading. These instances have been found by the enquiring officer and as I had said above, it is not for me to decide for myself whether there were really these three instances of default or negligence, but even assuming that there had been some delay m collecting the bills of lading, I do not think it may reasonably be inferred that those instances show the habitual negligence on the part of the workman. The learned lawyer for the Company next urged that even if it be regarded that those instances are not sufficient for the purpose of inferiing habitual neglect on the part of the workman, there were the two previous instances in 1961. I shall presently discuss those two previous alleged instances, but before I do so, I would point out that there was a time gap of about two years between those two previous alleged instances, and the present instances of default or negligence. I do not see how it can be said that with the time gap of about two years, the previous instances and the present instances of negligence can be regarded to be due to the habit on the part of the workman. It may also be stated here that this fairly long time gap has been overlooked by the enquiring officer (O.P.W. 2). These alleged previous instances have not been very seriously disputed by the workman himself at the time of enquiry, or by the learned lawyer for the workman before me. The learned lawyer for the workman, however, submitted that those two alleged previous instances cannot be regarded to be delay in collecting the bills of lading for which there was a domestic enquiry. Now, the tirst item relates to the delay in collecting certain R/R, dated 12th July 1961, in respect of goods booked to Asansol. The extent of delay, however, does not appear from the evidence adduced. What I have said above regarding the first item also applies to the other R/R, dated 28th June 1961. It would appear, however, that certain demurrage charges which I have mentioned above had been recovered from the wages of the workman Dharam Nath, as Dharam Nath does not appear to have made any complaint regarding the deduction from his wages. I do not think it is necessary to find out to the extent of delay in collecting the two R/Rs. I will assume that there had been some delay in collecting the RIRs. Incidentally, it may be pointed out that I do not accept the argument of the learned lawyer for the workman that the delay in collecting the R Rs is not the same kind of delay as the delay in collecting the bills of lading. But I do not see how the deduction could really have been made from the wages of the workman. The learned lawyer for the Company had referred me to section 7(2)(c) of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. It is provided therein that there could be deduction from the wages for damage to or loss of goods expressly entrusted to the employed person for custody, or for loss of money for which he is required to account, where such damage or loss is directly attributable to his neglect or default. The learned lawyer at first submitted that deductions could be made under the first half of section 7(2)(c) of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936. When I pointed out that the goods made over to the work-man for the purpose of booking cannot be regarded to be goods expressly entrusted to the employed person for custody, the Jearned lawyer for the Company gave up that contention. He, however, relied on the second part of that section. It appears to me that second part of that section is also not applicable, because it says that there must be loss of money which the workman is required to account. I do not think it could be said that the workman was accountable for loss of money. I also do not think that the loss of money in the shape of domurrage charges can be said to be directly attributable to the alleged neglect or default. In this connection, reference may be made to section 10 of the Payment of Wages Act. It has been provided therein that the deductions under that section shall not exceed the amount of damage or loss caused to the employer by the neglect or default of the employed person and shall not be made until the employed person has been given an opportunity of showing cause against the deduction, or otherwise than in accordance with such procedure as may be precipited for the making of such deductions. It is further provided that all such deductions and realisations shall be recorded in a register to be kept by the person responsible for the payment of wages under section 3 in such form as may be pa The register has not been put in and the rule cribed in the procedure has also not be before me. The rules were presumably under section 26(3)(f) of the Act. In the case, it is not necessary for me to pursue the any further. It would be sufficient to state am not satisfied from the evidence before those deductions were lawfully made, by assuming there was some default or neglige the part of the workman in collecting to mentioned above, I do not see how these is instances can be tacked on to the three instances so as to lead to a reasonable in that the workman is guilty of habitual nog As a have mentioned above, there is the in for about two years. At best, these instan isolated instances of alleged negligence on a of the workman. It appears to me therein the finding of the enquiring officer that the man is guilty of habitual negligence is a p finding. I shall later on discuss the o whether the evidence adduced before me in cient for the purpose of concluding habitua, gence on the part of the workman. At this I would only point out that there is some dif between the model standing orders printed B K. Mukherjee's book on Laws of Industri. ployment, 1964-Edition and the certified st orders of the Company. In the model storders, it has been provided, inter alia, at p. that negligence or habitual neglect of work 1 conduct, and it has been, inter alia, provide page 52 that no order of dismissal shall be unless the workman concerned is informed in ing of the alleged misconduct and given at tunity to explain the circumstances alleged? him and to adduce evidence, if any, in his a at an enquiry to be held for this purpose, at the workman shall have the option of has fellow workman of the same establishme represent him at the enquiry. In the certified ing orders of the Company as I have ment above, it has been, inter alia, provided that he negligence a neglect of work is a misconda which the workman is liable to be dismised vided of course the misconduct is proved enquiry. The learned lawyer for the U." submitted that though there was some diffibetween the model standing orders and the at standing orders, the words used meaning plant the same thing. As a matter of gramatics struction, I do not think that the words us two orders can be regarded to be identical. not, however, pursue this point, because the man himself was charged with habitual next I have already discussed the question was ' constitute habitual negligence and I need with the same. In the evidence adduced being has been said that usually bill of lading bill made over to the office within 10/15 days of booking (vide evidence of O.P.W. 3). OPW given evidence before the enquiring officer. M not say then what is the usual time for making the bill of lading after collection to the char the time of cross-examination O.P.W. 3 hat 4 that there are two clerks whose duty is to had whether the bills of lading are received withm or not and those clerks demand the bills of b from the workman, if they are not received lis turther evidence is that the volume of of the Company had increased somewhat m what it was in 1959, 1960 and 1961, and m what volume of business had increased and 1964. It is also stated by him that no as submitted to him by any clerk regarding made by Dharam Nath in giving the bills g, that there is nothing in writing regarding une for getting the bills of lading, but of lading are received in about twelve days at the maximum number of days is 15 from he of booking. O.P.W. 4 had only mentioned the procedure regarding booking and regardobtaining of bill of lading. He has added ormally the bills of lading are obtained 5/7 days from the date of preparation, that bills of lading are sent after some delay, the complain to them regarding the delay in ng the goods and that then they had to pay rage charges which are payable by the parties, delay has occurred due to the delay in g the bills of lading. O.P.W. 4 had admitted is-examination that he had no direct knowegarding what had happened in the Ghat on occasions mentioned in the Charge-sheet, that is of lading are prepared within 3/1 Jays he time of booking and are available imme-after the preparation of the bills of lading, at there is no written order either of the mg Director, or the Factory Manager to pay age charges which are paid by the parties, re are verbal orders. He had added that if valetter from any party intimating the delay iving the bill of lading, the letter is taken to maging Director who passes a written order ment of demurrage charges by them. These orders of the different letters by the Managector had not been produced. O.P.W. 4 'nad ited that without consulting the office record, not say if in these three cases relating to the luct of Dharam Nath, the Managing Director sed written order for payment of the deniurarges by them. To my question this witness that the dates when the bills of lading are late entered in a khata by himself and netimes he gets the bills of lading within a sending the invoices to the factory for the 1 of goods, and sometimes he gets the bills g after about a month. O.P.W. 5 has given regarding the making over the bill of the Ghat. I do not think, excepting regardprocedure for making over the oill of lading That, his evidence throws with the light on stion of delay. Admittedly, there are two clerks including O.P.W. 5. O.P.W. 5 does when Dharam Nath actually went to him amed the delivery of bill of lading. I would nt out that the letter (Ext. B-1) only relates Karımgunj consignment, and not the other nent to Agartolla. There is also no evidtarding the consignment booked by Air Now, if bills of lading are received someter a month, then there is practically no far as the consignments to Karımgunj and d are concerned. So far as Air Assam cont is concerned, there no doubt appears to delay but there is the evidence to show some days, Dharam Nath had to work alone the volume of business had increased in i 1964 from the volume of business in the previous years. There might at best be some delay in collecting the bills of lading from Air Assam, but I do not think the charge of resligence, so far as the bills of lading of the other consignment are concerned, had been proved by any cogent evidence. But even supposing there was some regligence on the part of Dharam Nath in collecting the bills of lading, I do not think it can be said that there is really any cogent evidence regarding habitual negligence on the part of the workman. The charge of habitual negligence therefore has not been substantiated. One cannot possibly know what would have been the order of the Managing Director if the report showed that there was no cogent evidence regarding habitual negligence. It also appears to me that the Managing Director and also the enquiring officer had overlooked that Dharam Nath had to collect various bills of lading in course of his work and is not conversant with the English language. It is, of course, true that he appears to have discharged his duties satisfactorily so far as the other consignments are concerned. At best, there had been only occasional detaults on his part in collecting the bills of lading early. With regard to the Karimgunj and Agartolla consignments, there is, of course, no corroborative evidence to the evidence of P.W. 3 Dharam Nath that he had tried to collect the bills of lading on 4th June 1963 and 10th/11th June 1963. But even then the tailure to collect may be due to the lapse of memory and partly due to the increase in volume of work. The conclusion therefore is that the charge of habitual negligence has also not been proved before me.

With regard to the contention whether the punishment is so unconscionable or so grossly out of proportion to the nature of onence that the Iribunal may be able to draw an interence of victimisation merely from the punishment inflicted, it appears to me that in the facts and circumstances of the present case, the punishment of dismissal must be regarded to be so unconscionable or so grossly out of proportion to the nature of the offence that the inference of victimisation may be legitimately drawn. I have already pointed out that the charge of habitual negligence had not been proved either before the enquiring officer or before me. At list, there were some isolated instances of neglect or delay in collecting the bills of lading. According to the standing orders of the Company the workman could be instantly dismissed for gross misconduct. The Company did not seek to terminate the services of the employee after giving a month's clear notice in writing as provided under the standing orders. There is also some evidence that Dharam Nath had participated in Union activity and is a founder member of the Union of workmen and that a charter of demands was given to the Company sometime in 1961 (vide evidence of P.W. 1 and the evidence of P.W. 3). The learned lawyer appearing for the Company submitted that the application to the Registrar of Trade Unions for the purpose of registration which is alleged to have signed by Dharam Nath had not been proved. This is true, but there is no cogent reason for not accepting the evidence of P.W.s. I and 3. There is no dispute that there was some strike for about three months in 1962. In the circumstances, it appears to me that the conclusion regarding victimisation legitimately be drawn.

I have therefore come to the conclusion that the dismissal of Shri Dharam Nath is not justified and that he is entitled to be reinstated from 16th December 1963, i.e., to say from the date of dismissal with full wages for the period of forced unemployment till the date of his reinstatement. The Company is directed to reinstate the workman Shri Dharam Nath Mahato in service and to pay him tull back wages for the period of his forced unemployment, i.e., from 18th December 1963 till the date he is reinstated in service within a month of the publication of the award in the Official Gazette. There would be continuity of service of Shri Dharam Nath under the Company. This is my award.

The Government of West Bengal by Order No. 2250-I.R./IR/10L-20/64, dated the 18th June 1964, had referred the following issue regarding the industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., Kulti Works, and their workmen represented by the United Iron and Steel Workers' Union, Kendwa Road, P.O. Kulti, to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the termination of employment of Shri Radhamohon, T. No. ZE/50, Light Castings Department, is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

AWARD

After service of notice, the Joint Secretary, United Iron and Steel Workers' Union, P.O. Kulti, on behalf of the workmen had filed a written statement, and the employer had also filed its written statement. In the written statement submitted on behalf of the workman, it has been stated that Radhamohon, whose former Ticket No. was ZE/47 and whose latter Ticket No. was ZE/50, was appointed by the Company on 23rd March 1934, that there is a system of recording the age at the time of appointment on the basis of recognised certificates and that at the time of appointment Radhamohon had proved his age by producing two certificates of the Department of Public Instructions, United Provinces, one of May 1928 and the other of July 1929. It is further stated that the birthday mentioned in those certificates is lst of February 1912 and that as the retiring age of the Company is 60 years, Radhamohon was to retire only after February 1972. After coming to know that the Company was going to retire him forcibly by the end of 1961 Radhamohon who was an active worker of the Union had written a letter to the Company on 21st February 1961 to inform him regarding the actual age recorded in the Company's Register, but no reply was given to that letter. Later on, the Company was told by other letters that Radhamohon had not completed the age of 60 years, but the Company did not take any notice of the letters sent in September and November 1961. The copies of those letters were also sent to the Assistant Labour Commission, Asansol, and the Union also wrote the letter, dated 6th November 1961, to him. Subsequently on 17th November 1961, the Company wrote to Radhamohon saying that his age has been determined by the Medical Board, Burnpur, on 5th December 1950 and that in the circumstances Radhamohon could not be sent to another Medical Board for determination of his age. Subsequently, the matter was taken up by the Assistant Labour Com-missioner, Asansol, and Shri N. Chatterjee, Labour Officer, Asansol, wrote a letter on 13th October 1961 to the Company directing it to explain the position regarding the certificates issued by the Department of Public Instructions, United Province, and the Company on 4th December 1961 gave an evasive reply. Thereafter, by the letter, date 1 22nd May 1962, the Labour Officer, Asansol, advised the Union to send Radhamohon with the original certificates which were actually produced on 28th May 1962. Both the Labour Officer, Asansol, and the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Asansol, were satisfied as to the authenticity of the certificates and the age recorded therein, and accordingly, Radhamohon on 12th June 1962 wrote a letter to the Deputy General Manager of the Company according to the instruction of the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Asansol, for reconsideration of the matter of reinstatement. The Company then on 3rd August 1962 wrote a letter to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Asansol, stating that Radhamohon had failed to produce his educational certificates in time and offering three years' more service, provided he is considered fit by the Medical Officer-in-Charge (Kulti)) to work for the said period. Without prejudice to the contentions of Radhamohon and the limited in said the limited in motion was medically examined in San and was found fit for work, and accome Company had allowed Radhamohon to duty on 2nd September 1962. The Come ever, in utter disregard of their own in ultimately terminated the services of with effect from 3rd September 1963 one year's service, and without any non declaration by the Medical Officer that he was unfit for work. Thereafter, the the matter with the Assistant Labour (a Asansol, and wrote the letter, dated 1963, and reopened the whole matte reinstatement from 5th December 1961, wages and also challenged the terminality on 3rd September 1963. Thereafter, on were issued by the Labour Officer, Addition Company without withdrawing the ordenation of service, by its letter, dated 1963, stated that the Medical Officer nugation to examine again Radhamohon. As the that the Company will prevail upon the Officer to have an adverse report against R and as there was nothing against Radi warrant tresh medical test, the Union adv mohon not to submit himself for further: Thereafter the letters, dated 27th Octob 24th November 1963, were written by the the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Asansa conciliation had failed. Thereafter, the rest made by the Government to the Tribunation tion. It is prayed that the termination of a Radhamohon with effect from 5th Decembel well as with effect from 3rd September 1961; held to be unjustified, mala fide, illegal and victimisation and/or unfair labour practical Radhamohon might be reinstated with hill be including bonus and all allowances since 5th hi 1961, less what has been paid and Radhamoia be granted continuity of service.

The employer in the written statement by that it employs about 9,071 employees and has the reasonable degree of stability, that at the appointment of Radhamohon there was not recording the age of the workmen in the sem cards and no evidence of age was called it produced by Radhamohon and that Radham actually appointed under the Company on 3 1964. It is not disputed that the retiring. workmen of the Company is 60 years, but it that Radhamohon's service was terminated reached the age of 60 years on the bass of the Medical Board which found Ra thums aged 49 years on 5th December 1950. 1ht further admits that it received several let Radhamohon and alleges that by its letter. November 1961, written to Radhaniohon Company had intimated that the age of Ra had been determined by the Medical Board on 5th December 1950 and Radhamohor retire with effect from 5th December 1 position was also explained by the letter. December 1961, to the Assistant Labour sioner, Asansol. It is further alleged that pany by its letter, dated 3rd August 1961 to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Aus stated that as per the standing orders of the pany (as consented to by the Union). Radhamohon had duly determined by the on 5th December 1950 and he did not demur on the age so determined by production of the certificates, and it was not possible for the ny to send Radhamohon for Medical examinany to sent age over again. By tter, the Company offered, as a special case, ppointment to Radhamohon for a period of ears, provided he was considered fit by the Officer-in-Charge (Kulti) to work for the riod. This offer was accepted by the Union, workmen submitted himself to medical exam on 30th August 1962 and the Medical had found him fit for employment for one only and directed that Radhamohon r for further medical examination after one After the lapse of one year, Radhamohon was ed to appear for further medical examination tters were written in this regard on 8th August to the Works Manager and 31st August 1963 Light Casting Manager, but Radhamohon did preat for the medical examination. Radhan actually left the services of the Company, vent home of his own accord without following astructions of the Company. The Company, ver, at the request of the Labour Officer, ol, was still prepared to consider the case, led Radhamohon reported on 31st October and was found medically fit. But Radhamohon turned up. It is said that as Radhamohon has oned his service from 3rd September 1963, he entitled to any relief under the terms of the lation, and that Radhamohon cannot claim any natement from 5th December 1961.

Findings

is admitted on both sides that Radhamohon was loyed by the Company on 23rd March 1934 and Joken No. then was ZE/47, and that then rus the end of the period of his first service, hamohon was occupying the quarters and was paid he daily rate of Rs. 2.31 nP. It is further not uted that after the retirement on 5th December by the Company on the plea that Radhamohon reached the age of 60 years, he was given a fresh untment for a period of three years, provided he lund medically fit and that Radhamohon had ally worked at the daily rate of Rs. 1.87 nP. for year from 3rd September 1962 till 2nd September lt would be convenient to discuss the ence as to what had happened at three different namely, up to 5th December 1961, when hamohon was retired from service from 5th ember 1961 to 3rd December 1962, Radhaon began to work in terms of the fresh antment, and the period after 3rd September egarding the period up to 5th December 1961, I do think that it is necessary for me to discuss the ence in great detail. There are certain reasons why question of the alleged unlawful and unjustified lination of service of Radhamohon cannot be addred by this Tribunal. In the first place, there by reference by the Government of West Bengal rding the alleged dispute over the alleged illegal forcible termination of Radhamohon's service on December 1961. The jurisdiction of the Tribunal ally immed to the reference, and the Tribunal is linly not entitled to consider any question which has not actually been referred by the Government of West Bengal to the Tribunal. In the next place, it is admitted that there was some conciliation after the termination of service on the alleged attainment of 60 years by Radhamohon, and that as a result of conciliation there was an agreement to give tresh appointment to Radhamohon for a period of three years, provided he is found medically fit. The concerned workman had also worked admittedly for one year in terms of the fresh appointment. In view of the provisions of section 18(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the terms of the settlement are binding on both the Company and the workman, and also the Union representing the workman. The learned lawyer appearing for the workman, as I understand him, did not dispute that there was a binding conciliation agreement regar industrial dispute after the alleged agreement regarding the wrongful termination on 5th December 1961. He, sought to argue that the Company had broken the conciliation agreement and therefore the dispute including the previous dispute regarding the alleged unlawful termination of service on 5th December 1961 had revived. I do not think this argument can be accepted. If it is actually found that the Company had broken the conciliation agreement, as a result of which Radhamohon was given a fresh appointment by the Company, then the workman would be entitled to such relief as he may be entitled to under the law. The learned lawyer appearing for the workman was unable to refer any ruling which shows that in these circumstances, the whole dispute including the previous dispute which was settled by conciliation agreement revives. Apart from this question, as I have mentioned above, there is no reference for adjudication to this Tribunal regarding the alleged previous dispute for the alleged wrongful termination of service on 5th December 1961. In the circumstances, I do not think it is necessary for me to consider the question as to whether the service of Radhamohon under the Company from 23rd March 1934 had been lawfully terminated or not. However, as the question had been discussed both by the learned Advocate appearing for the workman, and also by the learned Counsel Shri M. M. Sen appearing for the Company, I shall only shortly discuss the evidence. On this point, reliance has been placed on behalf of the Union to the two certificates (Exts. 5 and 6), and also to certain other Radhamohon himself. Regarding Exts. 5 and 6, the learned lawyer was unable to point out to any provision or any statute which requires the date of birth to be noted in the certificates. Presumably the date of birth has been mentioned from the admission register of Radhamohon. Therefore, if there was any mistake or mis-statement on the admission register, the mistake or mis-statement would be carried over to the certificates. The authorities empowered to grant those certificates certainly could not have knowledge regarding the time of birth of Radhamohon. Incidentally I would point out that Radhamohon (P.W. 2) himself does not mention the time of his birth in the evidence. The evidence of Radhamohon also does not show that his father got him admitted in the school from which he passed the examination and had mentioned the time of his birth at the time of admission. It would appear from the ruling reported in A.I.R. 1932, Nagpur, 117 that the entry as to the age in the school register based on the statement of the deceased father is admissible.

In view of what I have stated above. I do not think much reliance can be placed on those two certificates (Exts. 5 and 6). The learned Counsel for the Company had, however, pointed out that those certificates were not produced by Radhamohon at the time of appointment, and hence several years later Radhamohon had to be examined medically for the purpose of determination of his age. Radhamohon has said that he had produced these certificates to Mr. Roose. and then was employed by the Company. Barring the solitary statement of Radhamohon, there is no other evidence. I do not think, in view of the subsequent medical examination on 5th December 1950, the evidence of Radhamohon that he had produced the certificates, can be accepted. It would appear from the evidence of O.P.W. 1 Dr. Banerjee, who was one of the members of the Medical Board, that three doctors constituted the Medical Board and had medically examined various persons for the purpose of determination as to whether those persons had completed 60 years of age or not, and also as to what the ages of the other persons are. Exhibit C is the Group Standing Orders and report of the Medical Board. The learned lawyer for the workman had pointed out containing the important findings had not been produced, and O.P.W. I had said that all the members of the Medical Board did not submit the report jointly or separately. It would appear that Dr. Khanna was the Chairman of the Medical Board and had submitted the report to the Company in terms of Ext. C. I do not think the evidence of O.P.W. 1 and the documentary evidence in Ext. C can be discarded. It is quite clear that no record of age was made so far as Radhamohon was concerned, and hence some 16 years after his appointment, he was medically examined by the Medical Board for the purpose of determination of his age. If really he had those certificates, he could have certainly produced and would have objected to medical examination in 1950. Of course, Radhamohon says that he was not medically examined in 1950, but I do not think his evidence can be accepted. Apart from this, there is no reference to the certificates in the letter of Radhamohon, dated 21st February 1961 (Ext. 7). This letter was written by Radhamohon after he came to know that in the official record, his age has been shown much more than the actual age. Strangely enough, even then he does not mention the certificates from which his correct age would appear. Of course, in the letters, dated 4th November 1961 and 2nd November 1961 (Exts. 7A and 7B), there is a reference to these alleged certificates, but these letters had been written after the receipt of the letter from the Company dated 9th October 1961, presumably regarding the retirement of Radhamohon with effect from 5th December 1961. So far as this period is concerned, it is only necessary to refer to Ext. I wherein the Works Manager had clearly stated that the age has already been determined by the Medical Board, Burnpur, on 5th December 1950, and therefore, there was no question of sending Radhamohon again to Medical Board for examination. I do not see why Radhamohon had offered for fresh medical examination by the Medical Board regarding his age, if he was relying solely on his certificates. It is quite true that the evidence of O.P.W. 1 itself shows that there could have been only very approximate determination of age by the Medical Board. At best, it can be said that there would have been no determination of real age by the Medical Board and therefore it could not be accepted that R mohon was aged 49 years on 5th December But in view of the fact that the question of alleged wrongful dismissal or discharge of R mohan on 5th December 1961 does not fall consideration. I do not think it is necessal pursue the matter any further.

I shall now turn to discuss the evidence rea what had happened between 5th December 1% 3rd September 1962, when Radhamohon had the fresh appointment. The earliest letter is 4 of the Company to the Assistant Labour missioner, Asansol, dated 3rd August 1962 has been marked Ext. I for the Company and I for the Union. The letter is very important therefore it is necessary to quote the reportion of the letter. After referring to the dated 4th December 1961, the subsequent me of the Assistant Labour Commissioner with Deputy General Manager on 9th May 1962 in 1 of Memo No. 860ASL, dated 27th April 1962, w by the Labour Officer, Asansol, it is stated the July 1950 a standing instruction was a directing all employees to produce certain certain where the workmen disputed the correct state of age, that the details of those standing instru have already been mentioned in the letter, 4th December 1961, that at that time Radham did not represent his case by producing his pa certificates and accordingly his age was detem by the Medical Board in December 1950 like 1 others and that according to that determina Radhamohon was retired from service with a from 5th December 1961. It is further stated it is not the practice to send the employees h the Medical Board for verification of the age to second time and it is not intended to do so regard to this case lest there might be complice and that the difficulties regarding accepting belated certificates might be appreciated. it is stated that at his request and as a special case management is prepared to consider giving Ra mohon a fresh appointment for a period of t years, provided he is considered fit by the Ma Officer-in-Charge (Kulti) to work for the said period of the said period o and that if he is agreeable to this suggestion, Re mohon might be advised to draw his outstand dues after which he should report to the De Labour and Welfare Superintendent (kultiwould do the needful for his fresh appointment would have occasion to refer again to this while discussing the question whether there had termination of employment with effect hom September 1963, and if so whether the terminant legal and valid. Of course, there are the preventers, dated 7th May 1962 (Ext. 4A), 22nd | 1962 (Ext. 11), and 12th June 1962 (Ext. 12). those letters only turn on the question whether education certificates could have been accepted proof of age. The next letter is dated 22nd An 1962; this has been marked Ext. 4B and also Ext. Objection has been raised regarding drawing of outstanding dues before the case of Radhamd could be considered. It was pointed out the Radhamohon drew his outstanding dues, he we have to leave the quarters occupied by him. 25 is stated that if the manufacture of the state is stated that if the management decided to en the service with a clean mind, then the obstacle should not stand in the way. The letter is dated 30th August 1962 (Ext. G).

is an engagement form and has to be taken h another document which is marked hese two documents will have to be referred r on. In Ext. G, there is the endorsement akrabotty (O.P.W. 4) that Radhamohon for engagement for one year and should medical examination after one year again. two thumb impressions, one on the front he other on the reverse side, and there was ute as to whether these thumb impressions a by Radhamohon. It was submitted by I lawyer appearing for the workman that impressions were not given by Radhado not think this submission can be Admittedly Radhamohon was examined Chakraborty on 30-8-62 for the purpose of pp.intment, and therefore, the thumb ions could have been only by Radhamohon. kraborty (O.P.W. 4) also says that the thumb ions were by Radhamohon. It was pointed the learned lawyer for the workman that akrahorty had not been able to identify johon and that the letter to Dr. Chakraborty then produced. The letter, of course, had n produced, but Ext. J contains the reference to the letter which was sent to the at Labour Commissioner, Asansol and which 1 3rd August 1962. Regarding the endorse-Dr Chakrab orty has said in his cross-examinait there is a custom regarding the superd persons that the man is examined for the of finding out whether he is fit for one year Incre is no reference to such a custom in the statement filed by the Company and also no reference to the alleged custom in the of OPW. 2 Shri K. D. Biswas and O.P.W. 3 lasgupta who is the present Manager, it was also pointed out by the learned that it is certainly not possible for O.P.W. 4 whether Radhamohon was really fit for one ervice only. I think that it is not certainly to say that the person examined is fit for r one year only. He can certainly say that or is fit for one year. My attention has not awn to the standing orders of the Company requires that so far as the superannuated are concerned, medical examination is held the purpose of finding out whether that is nt for employment for one year only. I hink this part of evidence of Dr. Chakraborty exepted. It was, of course, suggested by the lawter to O.P.Ws. 3 and 4 that the doctor was declare Radhamohon to be fit for one year accordingly he had made that endorsement This suggestion has been denied. Whatit might be, I am unable to accept the of O.P.W. 4 that he had found Radhamohon for employment for one year only. It is not e of the Company that Radhamohon fell ill not regularly attend to his work after the ippointment Of course, in the report it is stated by Dr. Chakraborty that he is fit gement for one year only and that he should or medical examination after one year again. un to me that even if that was the opinion Medical Officer there is no reliable evidence that Radhamohon was informed that he had

I shall now turn to discuss the evidence as to what had happened after 3rd September 1962 when Radhamohon joined his tresh appointment. The ments Ext. H and H-l have been tendered showing the alleged intimation to Radhamohon for the purpose of fresh medical examination in August 1963. Exhibit II is dated 8th August 1963 and Ext. H-1 is dated 29th August 1963. O.P.W. 2 K. D. Biswas does not appear to have received Ext. H. His evidence is that he had only received the letter, dated 29th August 1963, and threafter he had sent his Supervisor Arun Ghosh to call in Radhamohon and after Radhamohon came, told him that he had to submit himself for medical examination. His further evidence is that Radhamohon refused to submit himself for medical examination, and on the following day, he had written the letter (Ext. E). The learned lawyer aappearing for the workman had pointed out that though Arun Ghosh is still in service, he had not been examined by the Company. This is true, but I do not think there is sufficient reason for not accepting the evidence of O.P.W. 2, specially as he had written the letter Ext. E, dated 31st August 1963, saying that Radhamohon, chipper ZE/50 had expressed his unwillingness to report to the Doctor and taken his extension for another year. It was pointed out that in the written statement, there is the allegation that Radhamohan was sent for twice in August 1963 and the evidence as adduced in this Tribunal shows that he was sent for only once. There is no doubt this discrepancy between the case made out in the written statement and the evidence as adduced before this Tribunal, but I do not think this shows that Radhamohon was not called at all for medical examination and that Radhamohon did not refuse to submit himself for medical examination. Of course, Radhamohon himself says that he was not told by the Company that he should submit himself for fresh medical examination. But even though Radhamohon might have refused to submit himself to medical examination again in 1963, I do not think the Company have terminated his service for the alleged refusal to submit to further medical examination in 1963. Disobedience to lawful order of the Company would certainly amount to misconduct on the part of the workman. The Company, however, did not seek to terminate his service after domestic enquiry into the alleged misconduct of Radhamohon. At this stage I would also point out that in the letter Ext. I, there was no condition that Radhamohon should be examined medically at the end of each year. The only condition there is that Radhamohon would be appointed for a period of three years, provided he is found medically fit at the time of entry into new service. P.W. 1 who is the Loint Secretary of the Union had also said that there is a provision in the standing orders for medical examination at the time of entry into service. There has been no cross-examination on this point by the learned Counsel appearing for the Company. Admittedly Radhamohon had been medically examined at the time of entry into service on 3rd September 1962. There is also the evidence of O.P.W. 2 that the officers are subjected to medical examination each year and that the labourers are medically examined at the time of entering the service and are medically examined subsequently if any dispute arises. It is his further evidence that in case of disobedience of any order, warning is given twice or thrice and thereafter the charge-sheet is issued, and that there is a provision for giving 10 days' notice if a man has worked for one year. Of course, he had stated that he could not allow Radhamohon to work unless he got the instruction on that behalf from the Personnel Office regarding the medical fitness of Radhamohon. But he had admitted that there was no letter giving clear direction to him that Radhamohon should not be allowed to work on 3rd September 1963 without the medical certificate showing fitness for work. O.P.W. 3 had said that he cannot remember if it is provided in the standing orders that the doctor has to examine at the time of entry into service. He has further stated that there is nothing in the standing orders or the Works Instructions for the medical examination of workers after the lapse of a year and that he had not found any paper showing that Radhamohon was intimated that he had been made medically fit for one year and that if he did not submit himself for medical examination after the lapse of the year, he cannot continue in the service. It appears to me that so far as the workmen are concerned, they are only examined medically at the time of entering into the service and that there is no provision for yearly examination of workmen to find out if the workmen concerned are still fit for service. Therefore, even if Radhamohon had refused to submit to second medical examination in 1963, he did not contravene any lawful order of the Company. The learned Counsel at first submitted that the question of termination of service of Radhamohon by the Company does not arise, as Radhamohon had himself abandoned the service of the Company at the close of the first year. In this connection the learned Counsel had referred me to the ruling reported in A.I.R. 62, Calcutta, 285 (Bhaskar vs. Nilmoni Nath). It was held in that case that where a servant wilfully absented himself from duty for a long period without giving notice to the employer, he cannot get his pay for that period specially if this absence is referrable to some act of disobedience, that such abstention from duty operates as a voluntary termination of the service of the servant under the master and that no formal order on the part of the master is necessary. In that case, the truck driver refused to drive the truck to Orissa and had absented himself for a period of 6 months. Therefore there was refusal to carry out the lawful order of the master and there was abstention for a fairly lengthy period. In my opinion, this ruling has no application in the facts and circumstances of the present case. Here the evidence shows that though Radhamohon was not allowed to work from 3rd September 1963, he was at Kulti in September 1963 and part of October 1963.

I shall now discuss as to what had happened on 3rd September 1963 when Radhamohon is said to have been not allowed to work. The evidence on this point is the evidence of P.W. 2 Radhamohon. He says that he was called from his work and was told that his services had been terminated, that he enquired as to how he would go out and that when he was given a gate pass for the purpose of going out of the factory premises. He has further that someone had made an endorsement of the total some the total pass, and thereafter he had gone the line and met P.W. 1 Nitish Babu, and that had something not then began to write something PW. corroborated the evidence of P.W. 2 the September 1963 Radhamohon reported to he was called from his work and was told had been discharged from service. The substantial reason for not accepting this P.Ws. 1 and 2. Apart from this evidence also the letter (Ext. 4C or Ext. 13A) where the letter is that letter, it has been stated that Radi reported for duty on 3rd September 1963. then summarily discharged and that some written on the time card the words was longer required." My attention is also draw learned lawyer for the workman to the gate time card (Ext. 2), and also to the pus Tuesday which corresponds to 3-9-63. This once shows that on 3rd September 1963 Rad had reported for duty. Regarding the ends the learned Counsel at first disputed that the ment was given by someone on behalf of pany, but at the end o fthe argument her conceded that it must have been made by sai on behalf of the Company. I do not think the circumstances mentioned above, g accepted that Radhamohon did not report at all on 3rd September 1963 as contended learned Counsel. On the other hand, it appe me that Radhamohon did report for duti a September 1963 and then was asked to a factory premises at about 9-30 a.m. In the cura ces, I do not think that the argument of the Counsel that Radhamohan had abandoned the from 3rd September 1963 can be accepted. The lawyer appearing for the workman had also me to the ruling reported in 1963 (II), L.L.]. page 642 (Buckingham and Carnatic Co.1 Venkatayya). It was held by their Lordship Supreme Court in that case that under the a. law, an inference that the employee has and or relinquished service is not easily drawn units the length of absence and from other summer circumstances an inference to that effect or mately be drawn and it can be assumed in employee intended to abandon the sense abandonment or relinquishment is alway and of intention, and normally, such an intention be attributed to an employee without evidence in that behalf. In my opinion. In really no evidence of an intention of Radia to abandon the employment. He had got the appointment after the lapse of nearly one was there is absolutely no cogent reason who he's abandon the fresh employment after serving of one year. In fact, the letters (Ext. 4D or dated 21st September 1963), (Ext. 4E or 13C1 27th October 1963) and (Ext. 4F or 13D, date November 1963) show that Radhamohon 1 intended to give up his fresh employment l next contended by the learned Counsel for the Company that eevn if there was no all ment of service by Radhamohon, Radhamohol himself terminated the service by remaining 1 from 3rd September 1963. I do not think argument also can be accepted. There is #

vidence to show that Radhamohon had at did to terminate his service by remaining on the other hand, there is the evidence that he was present on 3rd September 1963. ar from the evidence that Radhamohon to serve for the whole period of three d has been prevented from serving by somebehall of the Company, sometime on 3rd or 1963. The learned Counsel had drawn tion to section 39 of the Indian Contract had submitted that the refusal of Radhato submit to fresh medical examination in ist be regarded to amount to breach of the ion agreement, and therefore the services deemed to have been terminated on the one year from 3rd September 1962. Section ic Indian Contract Act provides that when to contract had refused to perform or himself from performing his promise in its he promise may put an end to the contract, ie has signified, by word or conduct his ene in his continuance. Section 39 speaks ig an end to the contract but it is not case ate definitely that the Company had put an a contract of service of Radhamohon. As ed earlier, the argument was that the of service itself came to an end by the g Radhamohon to submit to fresh medical 110% in 1963. In the circumstances, I do how the learned Counsel can seek the of the provision of section 39 of the Indian Act. Furthermore, the term regarding the edical examination must be shown to be antil and this depends on the proof of n of parties at the time of contract. As I mounted earlier, there is no reliable evidence that there was really any term for medical tion each year. It must also be shown that endant refused to perform the fundamental the contract, the proof of this or the intention at the time of default. I think the Company has succeded in showing : fresh medical examination in the second s a fundamental term of contract of service, 1 Radhamohon had intentionally committed in performing that term of the contract. It to me also that Radhamohon had been ed from doing his work on 3rd September id was told that his service was no longer ! This termination of service of Radha-14 certainly illegal and unjustified. If he had med any lawful order given by his superior he could have certainly been dismissed from proper domestic enquiry. This ilv, had not been done. The provithe standing orders regarding ten days' has also not been complied with. I have e come to the conclusion that Radhamohon ed to be reinstated in his service and he is to tull wages and allowances for the period ed unemployment till his reinstatement.

I direct the Company to reinstate Radhamohon in service to which he was freshly appointed from 3rd September 1962 with continuity of service, and to pay him all wages due within a month of the publication of the award in the official gazette. This is my award.

Issue

Is the termination of service of Shri Ram Chandra Singh justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

As usual, immediately after receipt of the reference, notices were issued to the parties for appearance. They appeared and filed their respective written statements.

The short case of the Union is that the Company is a Silk Manufacturing concern. It is owned and managed by Messrs. Hastings Mills Ltd. The concerned workman Shri Ram Chandra Singh is one of the 300 workmen employed by the Concern. That the workmen was an active organiser of the Union and was also the treasurer of the Union. Because of his Trade Unon activities he incurred the displeasure of the Company and in spite of his six years' work, his services were suddenly terminated by the Company on the alleged ground of his absence for more than 10 days without leave or permission. This is a mala fide action on the part of the Company. Hence redress has been sought for.

The Company in its written statement has denied the allegation of mala fide action and unfair labour practice. The Company's case is that it was not known to the Company that Shri Ram Chandra Singh was an active member of the Union. His service was terminated automatically in accordance with the provisions of the Standing Orders as he absented from duty for more than 10 days without permission or authority or leave. He proceeded on one month's leave from 13th May to 12th June 1963 but without taking any further extension of leave he reported for resumption for duty on 1st of July 1963. Therefore, his service was terminated for 10 days' unauthorised absence in accordance with the provisions of the Standing Orders. All other allegations have been denied by the Company.

Decision

One witness was examined on either side side of the Union the concerned workman Chandra Singh has given evidence and on of the Company Shri V. S. Maloo, the Manager of the Factory, has deposed. Bo also relied on some documents. Admits workman Shri Ram Chandra Singh was in the Company from 15th September 1958 till of termination of his service by letter, do of June 1963, Ext. A. Exhibit D is the service of the workman. The said workman, on h was granted leave from 13th May 1963 to 1963 on account of his sister's man accordingly a leave-pass. Ext. 1, was 1550k worker by the Manager of the Factory. Ad the workman did not resume his duty on ti of that leave. His case is that after his marriage, the wall of his dwelling hut fell d to heavy rains. So he sent a telegram Company on 12th June 1963 asking for exit the leave by six days. Thereafter he had to further extension of the leave by 10 days ing another telegram on the 21st of lu Company does not admit to have tever telegram from him. Therefore, for his una absence from duty for 10 days from 13th [u the Company terminated his services by dated 24th of June 1963, Ext. F. This is sent to the workman by registered no acknowledgment due but it was not delive want of correct and full address. Exhibit addressed envelope. It appears that thermention of any Post Office. The Service the workman, Ext. D shows that the Post the same as his village Brahmpore. There incomplete and incorrect address, the latermination did not reach the workman whowever, informed about the termination service when he returned from his villa reported for duty in the 1st week of July 19 his service was actually termniated when the was communicated to him for the first tm about 1st of July 1963. It is well settle relationship of employer and employee coul tively be terminated in such a case not me decision of the employer to termina employee's services but by the communica the said decision to the employee, (1962 L.L.J., 498).

Be that as it may, the termination, so effects based on the provisions in the Standing Ext. H. It is provided in clause 9(2) of the ing Orders—leave desires an extension thereof he apply to the Manager who shall written reply either granting or refus extension of leave to the workman address is available and if such reply to reach him before the erpiry of the originally granted to him.

In the instant case, the leave originally taken workman was due to expire on 12th of June According to the workman, he applied for ear of the leave on 12th of June 1963 and not the first extension was asked for six days on ba of leave, even if granted, would have the 18th of June 1963. The workman's that he applied for second extension on It is also provided in clause 9(3) of the ders that if the workman remains absent period of leave originally granted or extended, he shall lose his lien on his unless he (a) returns within eight days of the leave and (b) explains to the of the Manager his inability to return expiry of his leave. In case the workis lien on his appointment he shall be be kept on the "badli" list. In clause ten provided the acts and omissions be treated as misconduot. Habitual hout leave or absence without leave for 10 days is a misconduct under clause it is provided in clause 14(e) that no smissal shall be made unless the workned is informed in writing of the alleged and is given an opportunity to explain tances alleged against him. The Standtances alleged against him. further provide for an enquiry after an being given to the workman to explain t In the present case, the Company the services of the workman concerned handra Singh for his over-stayal and for any step as required under clause 9(3) of g Orders, Ext. H. It is also mentioned er of termination of his service that for rised absence for more than 10 days he imself liable for dismissal. In any way, ian was not given any opportunity to conduct. The Company, in all fairness, given the workman such an opportunity case, it was not done. The service of the as hurriedly terminated almost immeer 10 days on the expiry of the leave ranted to him. Not only the workman ed of an opportunity of explaining his t also no consideration was given to the es that might have necessitated his Principles of natural justice require that nity should have been given to the workplaining his conduct. If that explanation have been satisfactory, then there should an enquiry and on the result, of the e Company could have taken action, and proper. Therefore, there was some principles of natural justice. In such a well settled that the whole matter will before the Tribunal and it would have Tribunal to go into the merits of the frer due consideration of the evidence both the parties, it should come to the ing as to the merits of the case. Leave d to the workman from 13th May 1963 une 1963 on account of his sister's ride Ext. 1). That leave expired on 12th According to the workman on 12th he applied for extension of the leave by v sending a telegram. He has produced Fxt. 2) to show despatch of a telegram affarpur D.T.S. on 12th June 1963 but the and the contents of the telegram are not e and except in the oral testimony of the His evidence is that the mud wall of his own due to heavy rains. So he applied extension of the leave. Then again, applied for further extension of the leave by sending another telegram on 21st of June 1963 from the said Post Office. Exhibit 2(a) is the receipt to show the despatch of a telegram but it does not show, to whom it was addressed and what the contents were. The workman says that his mother was involved in an accident. So he had to ask for second extension of the leave. The Company does not admit to have received any of the telegrams. There is no attempt on the part of the Union to show the delivery of the two telegrams to the Company. There is nothing to show that the two telegrams were adressed to the Manager of the Company. The workman took one month's leave on account of his sister's marriage. Ordinarily it is expected that he would repair his dwelling hut before the marriage takes place but instead, after spending one month on the ground of his sister's marriage, which according to him took three days' time only, he found that another six days' extension of the leave would be necessary to repair the mud hut. Then again on the 21st of June 1963 he said to have despatched another telegram to the Company asking for 10 days' extension of the leave on the ground that his mother was involved in an accident and she had to be taken to Muzzaffarpur Hospital for treatment. But not a scrap of paper is forthcoming to support the alleged story of his mother being admitted into the Muzzaffarpur Hospital. In absence of any corroborating evidence, it is difficult to give credence to the uncorroborated oral testimony of the interested workman. There is no evidence of any attending Doctor; no medical certificate; no Hospital Ticket to show her admission into Hospital or no outdoor ticket to show that she was given medical aid in the outdoor department. Therefore, I cannot believe the alleged physical injuries sustained by his mother by the fall of a wall of the house. The story that his mother was taken to Muzzaffarpur Hospital for treatment was introduced for the first time in his evidence before this Tribunal on 4th September 1964. His earlier application to the Manager of the Company made on 4th July 1963 (Ext. 3) does not contain such a story. If the two telegrams were really addressed to the Manager of the Factory, then he ought to have stated what the contents were. He has simply said that he asked for six days' extension of the leave in order to rebuild his house, which, in all probability, he should have completed before his sister's marriage took place. In his petition, dated 4th July 1963, to the Manager (Ext. 3), he submitted that he could not complete the construction of his house and his mother also could not completely recover. But there is hardly any evdience to corroborate him on these points. Therefore, in absence of any satisfactory evidence, I am unable to believe the alleged ground for overstayal for more than 10 days after the expiry of the authorised leave. After the expiry of the leave that was granted to him, he said to have asked for extension of the leave by a telegram but when he got no reply from the Company, he could have sent at the second time, either a reply paid telegram or a post-letter confirming his telegram. Nothing of the kind was done. It appears from his service record (Ext. D) and other papers connected with previous proceedings against him, Exts. A to A(11), B, C, E, E(1) and I that the service record of this workman is unclean. During the five years of his service he received several warnings for careless work and also for his frequent absence from duty without leave or permission from the authority. It will be very clear from his service record that the Company warned him as many as on six occasions for his absence from duty without leave or permission. Lastly, on 28th of February 1963 he offered a writetn apology and assured the Management that he would not repeat in future. The Company on that written apology, Ext. E, awarded lighter punishment as will appear from Ext. I, but the repeated warnings and leniency shown by the employer could not correct the workman. There was no change in his attitude. He almost became a habitual absentee without permission or leave of the authority. Therefore, such habitual absenteeism can hardly be rewarded or encouraged. There was no good ground for his absence for more than 10 days after the expiry of the authorised leave. The Company was therefore fully justified to terminate his service in accordance with the provisions of the Standing Orders. He however, according to the Standing Orders, Ext. H, was entitled to inclusion of his name in the list of "badli" workers. On his prayer the Company should comply with such provisions as contained in the Standing Orders, Ext. H. The workman is entitled to no other relief.

At the relative was the Presiding Officer of the said Fith Tribunal. The evidence adduced by the F recorded and the arguments of advocate sentatives of the parties were also heard and finally on 8th July 1963. But shortly and ing of the case I was transferred to join at and Sessions Judge at Cooch Behar. Soll over charge before making the award and

e for a period before actually taking over as the District and Sessions Judge, Cooch Thereafter Government of West Bengal by Labour Department Order No. 1478-I.R.|IR|7L-3. dated the 15th April 1964, constituted a Special strial Tribunal for completion of the said indusdispute and with the concurrence of the Judicial priment of the Government of West Bengal and the Hon'ble High Court at Calcutta appointed me he Presiding Officer of the said Special Industrial unal in addition to my duties as District and ion Judge, Cooch Behar, and directed transfer of pending proceedings of the said industrial dispute te Special Industrial Tribunal for disposal thereof. for some reason, not known to me, the copy of order did not actually reach me in usual course re the 17th August 1964. Being away at Cooch ar and far away from Calcutta (775 K.M.) I completely in the darkness about this appointment the 18th July 1964 on which date a registered r of the General Secretary of National Union of Workers' enquiring from me how I should eed with the matter actually reached my office. at an immediate reply on that very date informing that I was not aware till then of any such appointt in the absence of any Government Order reaching Sometime after this letter, Labour Department r No 3519-I.R. IR 7L-47 63, dated the 13th ust 1964, together with a copy of the Government r appointing me as the Presiding Officer of the Special Industrial Tribunal reached me at Cooch ar on 17th August 1964. On that very day, i.e., 17th August 1964 I sent a requisition for the rd of the pending proceedings but the record was ever actually received by me by an insured postal el on 12th September 1964. After receipt of this rd and on perusal thereof, I decided, in the interest ustice and proper adjudication, to hear fresh ments in the matter before passing an Award as I ht have forgotten many things in respect of the ter in the mean time and as I was out of touch with Labour Laws for pretty long time. So by letter No. 1140-E, dated the 9th September 1964, ught permission of the Hon'ble High Court for g over to Calcutta and hearing further arguments The permission of the Government of West gal. Judicial Department, with the concurrence of Hon'ble High Court in this connection was evenly granted as per Judicial Department Memo. Cooch Behar, was on long leave with effect 1 2nd January 1965 I could not promptly proceed ear fresh arguments till the 1st week of February Hence this unfortunate delay in passing the rd and the chequered career also of this reference.

he issues referred to the Tribunal for adjudication as follows:

- (1) Are the permanent workmen of Budge Budge Jute Mills Co. Ltd. entitled to wages for the period from 6th August 1961 to 24th September 1961?
- (2) Are the permanent workmen of Cheviot Mills Co. L'd. entitled to wages for the period from 31st July 1961 to 24th September 1961?

(3) Are the permanent workmen of Caledonian

Jute Mills entitled to wages for the period

After service of usual notices on the parties by the Tribunal concerned both the parties entered appearance and all the three companies and all the three-Unions involved in this dispute filed separate written statement stating their respective cases in the matter of their dispute and the issues referred to above. For proper appreciation of the dispute and also the evidences adduced by the parties, I shall mention in brief what are the respective cases of the different parties as made out in their respective written statements.

The workmen represented by National Union of Jute Workers inter alia, alleged that Cheviot Mills Co. Ltd. illegally and unjustly locked out their Mills on and from 30th July 1961 simply on a false plca that a section of their workmen had stuck work. ly, it is alleged that Messrs. Caledonian Jute Mills Co. Ltd. and Messrs. Budge Budge Jute Mills Co. Ltd. also locked out their Mills on an identical false plea with effect from 1st August 1961 and 6th August 1961 respectively. But the fact is that no permanent workman even struck work as alleged in any one of these three Mills. The Companies on the other hand with ulterior motives and in violation of the direction of the Special Committee on Jute attempted to force some badli workers to operate "double fooms" which the badli workers lawfully and justly resented and declined to do. So the Companies locked out their Mills as a punitive measure only.

The dispute having been taken up by the Labour Department of Government of West Bengal, the Joint Secretary of the Department on 2nd August 1961 advised the Companies to reopen the Mills immediately. But the Companies did not think it fit to act according to the advice or settle the dispute. The matter was at last settled by the said Secretary and the work of the Mills concerned actually commenced again on and from 25th September 1961. As there was no justification for these lock-outs, the permanent workmen are entitled to their wages for the period of lock-out

Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union through its Secretary files a separate written statement and, inter alia, alleges that these three Mills concerned were originally under the Managing Agency of Messrs. Andrew Yule & Co. Ltd. The Calcdonian Jute Mill is, however, now under a different Management. Formerly Budge Budge Jute Mills had two Units-Mill No. 1 and Mill No. 2. Round about May 1958 the Mill No. 1 was closed down and the entire loom nours were transferred to the Mill No. 2. The three Mills concerned in the present dispute have undergone thorough modernisation and are now equipped with up-to-date machineries and as a consequence of this modernisation there has been curtailment of labour force and increase in workload in violation of the directives in this respect of the Special Committee on The badli workmen of these Mills became the first victim of these unfair labour practices. So the workmen in general and the badli workmen raised a voice of protest against this ugly design of the Management. Having failed to break the soliderity of the workmen, the Management retaliated by declaring a lock-out in each one of the concerned Mills one after another. The Union brought this matter to the notice of the Labour Directorate after the Cheviot Mills and Calendonian Mills closed their doors but before the third one fell in line. However the third one also soon fell in line with the other two. As a result series of negotiations went on and at last on intervention of the Labour Department, the matter was settled and the Mills resumed work on and from 25th September 1961 only. So the permanent workmen are entitled to their wages for the period of unjust lock-out

The written statement of the workmen representated by the Jute Workers' Federation, inter alia, alleges that in spite of the recommendation of the Chairman of the Special Committee on Jute in March 1960 that double loom operation in Jute Mills should not be introduced any further during the next three years without the consent of the workmen concerned and even though this recommendation was eventually accepted by the Government of West Bengal also; the Management of three concerned Mills insisted upon their workmen's operating double looms and as a result the badli workmen were not geeting employment and even the senior badli workers eligible for being treated as permanent workmen were not actually treated as such. Badli workers failed to get any redress in spite of representation. The Management was determined as ever to extend the double loom operations. So there ensued a dispute which however remained confined between badli workers and the Management. The permanent workmen of any one of these Mills did not participate in any such agitation. In fact there was no strike or stoppage of work and the Management simply on an apprehension of trouble from the side of the badli workers declared lock-out. So it is contended that the permanent workmen at least are entitled to their wages for the lock-out period.

On the other hand Messrs. Cheviot Mill Co. Ltd., inter alia, allege in their written statement that the present order of reference in respect of a single industrial dispute is bad in law in view of the several parties to the said order of reference. The reference is not maintainable also on the ground that there has been an overall settlement already in September 1961 on the intervention of the Joint Secretary, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department. All the pending disputes having been resolved by the said settlement and this settlement being acted upon also, the workmen cannot resile from the position any longer and reagitate the matter on the issues mentioned in the reference.

The Cheviot Jute Mills were opened after second block closure on 30th July 1961 and at about 7 a.m. on that day a weaver named Baijnath Mufti was asked by the Manager to see the Labour Officer in connection with a complaint against him that he had assaulted one Bhola Dosad for his operating double looms. Baijnath not only refused to comply with this direction but went round the departments instigating the workers for suspending work and joining a demonstration. As a result a number of workers responded to his call, struck work, surrounded the Labour Office, created chaotic condition and located the manufacturing process. The Manufacturing process. The Manufacturing process and incident the conclusion of the shift these unruly refused to leave the Mill premises and incident section of the "B" shift workers also to join the condition of the strike continued. The Management and the strike continued. and the strike continued. The Management keep notice at 2 p.m. requesting resumption of work pointing out the fact that continuance of the might lead to closure of the Mill. But the notice by to make any impression on the strikers and the continued bringing about a serious dislocation of manufacturing process. So at 11 p.m. a nough to be issued declaring that the Mills would rea closed until normal and peaceful resumption of was made possible. The strike was without justification and no workman was actually compa to operate double looms. At last an overall at ment was reached on the intervention of the Hor Labour Minister and the Joint Secretary of the Lin Department. No workmen however reported for h or expressed desire to do same before 25th Septem 1961 in response to Company's notice, dated the July 1961. The Mill has been partially modern up to spinning section only. So the workmen the selves being responsible for the unfortunate close they cannot claim the wages for the closure count or as of right.

Messrs. Budge Budge Jute Mills Co. Ltd., aise! Messrs. Cheviot Mills Co. Ltd., raise the content that only one single reference of one industrial day in respect of matters of different independ companies and their respective workmen is ballaw. It is further alleged that there has already ban an overall settlement in September 1961 in respect of all the pending disputes between the parties as the present reference is not maintainable allonger.

This Mill also was under block closure during week ending 29th July 1961 and reopened on M July 1961. But at 6 a.m. on 30th July 1961 a secon of "A" shift workers of the weaving department w on strike and at the instigation of these strikers so workers of "B" shift in a number of departed went on strike. The management tried their best persuade the workers to call off the strike but with any success. The Management put a notice also p.m. pointing out that continuance of strike m lead to closure of the entire Mill. But strikers w adamant and brought about serious dislocation of manufacturing process and it became impossible! the Management to keep the Mill running So 6th August 1961 the Management had to put # notice declaring closure of the Mill till restorated the normal condition allowing peaceful resumption work. In all other respects this mill also has come case with the Cheviot Mills and denies liability for ! wages of the closure period.

Messrs. Caledonian Jute Mills Co. Ltd., also he separate statement though their case also is also similar to that of the other two companies also challange the maintainability of this reference account of multiplicity of parties and overall previous settlement of all pending disputes between the main ment and the workmen.

1 re-opened on 31st July 1961 after ck closure and on that very day a large workers of Batching to Spinning Departed to strike without any reason or previous and brought about serious dislocation in the ing process. The Management issued uces intimating that continuance of such t lead to the closure of the entire Mill due ion of manufacturing process. Manageto persuade them to call off the strike and best to keep the Mill running and did it of 1st August 1961. The stock of yarn tally exhausted and there was serious as a result. So the Mill declared closure 1st August 1961 till restoration of normal or resumption of peaceful work. In all cts this Mill also has same case with the fills involved in the present dispute. This ilso denies liability to pay wages for the period as claimed by the permanent p all the three issues together for brevity ience of discussion alone. All these three we almost identical, similar, or common law and fact; and presumably on this single reference has been made in respect of ent companies and their workmen.

point at issue is whether the permanent f these three Jute Mills are entitled to for a certain period during which the ittedly remained closed. The workmen t the Management declared lock-out withthiable reason and hence they are entitled ges for the lock-out period. The Manage-e contrary alleges that in fact it is not a k-out at all but a temporary closure of reed upon it by an unjustifiable strike a section of the workmen to bring about cation of the whole manufacturing process; workmen cannot have their wages for the iod. The workmen, it is contended, have in their favour and the closure was infar the Management was concerned.

st moot point is whether it was really a case or closure. As the consequences of lock-baure are not always identical, I think I determine whether in the eye of law this osure was a temporary closure of business at pure and simple.

l lock-out has been defined in the Industrial ct, but closure has not been so defined in Lock-out means the closing of a place of t or the suspension of work or refusal by r to continue to employ any number of ployed by him.

Though the word closure has not been defined, judicial pronouncements have sufficiently clarified the distinction between lock-out and closure. Whereas lock-out means closure of place of business, closure means closure of business itself or discontinuance of Lock-out is usually temporary, while closure is normally permanent. While the former is a weapon of coercion in the hands of the employer, the closure is usually for trade reasons and not for coercion. Lock-out may be a temporary suspension of work during a dispute, while closure is not. While lock-out means refusal by the employer to continue to employ the persons employed by him, closure means refusal by the employer to carry on any longer his business. So one must not be confused by the user of the word "closing" in the definition of lock-out. In the case of a lock-out the industry as such is not closed down even temporarily. Closing a business even temporarily is distinct and different from a lock-out. A Company may declare a lockout when it has to face a strike just to prevent sabotage, etc., or when there is failure of raw materials. In a lock-out though there is refusal to employ the workmen are deemed to be in service; but closure implies termination of services of the workmen. Lock-out ordinarily involves an element of malice or ill will, but it is not so in closure. Judged by the principles laid down above, let me see whether in the present case the three Companies really intended a closure as alleged by them. Their contention is that due to a strike by a section of the workers the manufacturing process was dislocated and the Management was compelled to declare a closure. But this alone does not mean that the Companies wanted to close down the business or discontinue the business. They simply suspended the work pending restoration of peaceful condition for resumption of work. The identical case of the three Companies in this connection as stated in their respective written statements is that "they had no alternative but to close down the Mills and put up a notice stating that the Mills would remain closed until such time as the Management was assured by a representative group of workers of normal and peaceful resumption of work". This shows that closure or discontinuance of the business itself was never intended and services of the workmen also were not intended to be terminated. The place of business only was closed and the work only was suspended pending peaceful resumption thereof. Simply because there is an allegation that the manufacturing process was disclocated or paralysed by the strike of a section of workmen, and simply because it is contended that the suspension of work was forced upon the employers, it cannot be held that in fact and law, there was a closure-a temporary closure only, and not a lock-out in these cases. So I am unable to accept the contention of the learned advocate for the Companies in this connection. So my finding is that each one of these three Companies actually declared a lock-out of their Mills on account of an alleged strike by a section of the workers.

The permanent workmen alone of the three Mills are the suitors or the claimants for wages for the said lock-out period. There is no dispute as to the extent of the period of lock-out of the three Mills.

Their case is that there was really no strike in any one of these Mills and the Companies declared lock-out simply for retaliation or other extraneous reasons. Permanent workmen categorically state that none of them ever intended to strike work and that they or any section of them never joined in any such strike as alleged and so they cannot be legitimately deprived of their wages for the lock-out period. The permanent workmen deny that in fact and law there was any strike in true sense of the term by the badlis as well.

As I have mentioned above according to the pleadings of the Companies, a section of the workmen of the concerned Mills struck work without any justification and brought about serious dislocation of manufacturing process and thus compelled a closure. But at the time of hearing, the Companies modify their cases and allege that badli workers alone and not the permanent workmen launched the strike. Thus the Companies admit the contention of the permanent workmen that there was no strike really by any permanent workmen who claim their wages before this Tribunal for the lock-out period. The only allegation the Companies make against the permanent workmen or leaders thereof is that even though the Management sought the assistance of some permanent workmen in persuading the badlis to join their work; such permanent workmen took an indifferent or unsympathetic attitude. But this vague allegation is not of much assistance to the Management because Management cannot name any particular permanent workmen who was approached and there is nothing to 80 and there is nothing show that such workman acted maliciously. There is nothing to show that any Union leader was actually approached for the purpose and that the workmen, if any approached had any control, sway or influence over the striking badlis, if any. Permanent workmen owe no duty to the Management to assist it in resolving the strike or the dispute if any between the badlis who might have their legitimate grievance and the Management. So the locking out of the non-striking permanent workmen cannot be justified simply on the allegation that they also took indifferent attitude to the Management difficulties on account of their having sympathy with the badlis. Thus the Management of the three Companies has totally failed to prove or establish any misconduct or mala fides on the part of the permanent workmen to justify the lock-out in question. So the Companies seek further justification for the lock-out in question in the conduct of the badlis alone. Employer Companies' contention is that badli workers actually struck work and thus dislocated the manufacturing process and brought about a deadlock. On the other hand it is contended on behalf of the workmen that in fact there was no strike by the badlis also and there cannot be a strike by badlis as alleged in the circumstances of the case. It is urged on behalf of the workmen that badlis had long standing grievances against the different Companies for their extending double loom operation against the consent of the weavers concerned in violation of the directions or recommendation of the making badlis permanent though they were ligitimately entitled to such permanence. It is alleged that the Companies simply refused to employ the badlis at the relevant time because they refused to operate double looms and claimed lay-off compensation also in certain cases; and that they further declared a closure by way of retaliation to bring the their knees and force them to submission is moot point is whether badlis can be struck work really.

The present dispute being between workmen only on the one side and there on the other side no badli has been co either side before the Tribunal Akkas Ali (P.W. 3) who alleges that the Ma of Budge Budge Jute Mills refused to work as a badli weaver because he did m to operate double looms. Budge Budge h closed its doors last, i.e., on 6th August 1961 the trouble, if any, commenced on 30th li So it is not easy to say how far the alle Akkas Ali is true because on the other w three witnesses who deposed for Budge Mills (P.W. 1 Rabin Mukherji, P.W. 2 Jon and P.W. 5 Amiya Kumar Das) deny that the ment refused work to any body on any sai of non-operation of double looms. According Budge Budge Mill Management, badlis of departments, other than Weaving, in the in shift before recess on 30th July 1961 joined their work; but they did not join we other half or subsequent shifts. No ball work in "B" shift or other shifts. But deposition of O.P.W. 1 Rabin Mukherjee n clear that even at 6 a.m. on 30th July could learn that no badli weaver joined work day. Though they required large number for weaving department also very few of a actually present at or near the Mill premi the gate. It may be in the first half a commencement of "A" shift of other to some badlis initially took up work but the turn up for the next half or the other shifts. is clear that weaver badlis did not join a others followed suit from the next shift at of "A" shift. From the deposition of Toostupada Jati a permanent worker of the department of Budge Budge Mill, it is clerit badlis joined in the first half of "A" sh beaming department but they failed to the the next half or next shifts. But Toosia tries to say that on badli weavers refusing a double looms at the commencement of t they were actually refused work by the Ma This much is, however, clear that the Ma was interested in extending the operation ( looms by the weavers, though a section weavers at least were not in favour of it resenting introduction thereof. It is not at a that the Management was in favour of P those badli weavers only who would fall in the Management's wishes and thus aniago other section. This, I believe, led to the refusal of badlis to work as weavers which pa the non-co-operation by badlis of other department also from the next earliest opportunity. had other grievances also as I shall sho There is no dependable or authentic document me to show how many badlis actually of work at "A" shift on 30th July 1961. statement prepared by the Management ment is said to be based on some Kutch Book but not on the muster roll or the Par Book. Presumably even those who might hid not produce much or work seriously; and bently the Management also did not think it to note their attendance or work in any Book or muster roll. It is also clear from the ion of Shri Rabin Mukherjee that no proper e intimation or notice was given to any badlis endance on 30th July 1961 in accordance with or standing orders or Factories Act. It is contended that according to prevalent practice, are supposed to present themselves at the gate relevant time to see if any work awaits them. according to the workmen not only irregular hly objectionable too as a bad labour practice. his have no right to expect work on any day, the employers also are not bound to employ so the employers also have no right to insist ir service or presence on all days or compel o work on any day according to their option m For convenience of both badlis ers, Management has to maintain a register of and the badlis when required to be employed kmen are so to be employed in rotation so mances if any may be evenly distributed to all red badlis. To avoid unnecessary trouble and ment badlis are entitled to advance notice or tion also when their turn of employment comes heir services may be required. So equitably t of badli employment cannot be left entirely presentation at the gate or freak of the yer. The list of badlis has been frozen also e same reason. So if there be no prior intimar notice requiring badlis to attend, it cannot be that badlis have wrongfully refused to work ; because they fail to turn up at the gate or offer elves for employment on any particular day. , badli fails to turn up in spite of a regular he may lose his turn of employment and the : may go to the next man; and the defaulter's also may be struck out from the rigister but g more. Because the employer or the badlis no enforceable contractual employment right on ther for service more stringent penalties cannot vfully conceived also. The word "badli workhas been defined thus in the section 25C of the rial Disputes Act-"badli workmen means a an who is employed in an industrial establishn the place of another workman whose name is on the muster rolls of the establishment, but cease to be regarded as such for the purpose of section (section 25C of the Industrial Disputes if he has completed one year of continuous in the establishment." In substance this is the definition of badli workman in the Standing is for the Jute Mills concerned. Accordingly is a badli is not actually employed, he cannot be l a badli workman within the meaning of law.

Justy according to the above definition "badli" e deemed to be a workman when he is actually nted in the post of a permanent workman or tioner who is temporarily absent. A badli er is to be maintained and badlis are taken from registers when there is work for them. They are taken in rotation in accordance with the Standing is of the Companies. If any badli has completed ear of continuous service in the establishment, rtually ceases to be a badli within the meaning : Industrial Disputes Act. Thus a badli is merely ed or casual candidate for a temporary employif any, during temporary absence of any thent workman or probationer. So he has no right to claim employment and the employer also has no right to claim his services so long he is not actually employed or appointed to be a workman. So question arises if for any reason badlis or any one of them refuse to be employed, or if they refuse to accept employment individually or in concert; can it be said that they have launched a strike against the possible employers? In this connection the definition of the word 'strike' as given in the Act is important. Whatever we may mean by strike in a popular sense, for our purpose the definition given in the Act must be deemed exhaustive and complete. "Strike means a cessation of work by a body of persons employed in any industry acting on combination, or a concerted refusal, or a refusal under a common understanding of any number of persons who are or have been so employed to continue to work or to accept employ-ment." Thus the sine quo non of a strike is that the hands that strike must already be employed before they can be said to have struck work. The statutory definition makes it clear that refusal to work or to continue to work or to accept employment when such refusal takes place in combination may be a strike provided that the workman is "employed" in that industry. Ordinary meaning or dictionary meaning of the word strike cannot be relied on and the definition does not leave open the question of what other circumstances may constitute strike. So if badlis were not actually employed in the industry on the eve of the alleged strike, question of their strike does not arise at all. So I am unable to accept the contention of the learned advocate for the Companies that the badlis should be deemed to have launched strike if they concertedly refused to accept employment offered. Some badlis no doubt refused to join duties on the reopening day of the Mills after second block closure. If such badlis were not already appointed for any period after the second block closure there was no statutory strike on their part even if they actually gathered at the gate and yet refused in concert to work in spite of request or persuasion by the employers. Simply because they were offered employment, they cannot be said to have struck work. In this view of the matter the workmen-contention that their was no strike in law by such badlis has considerable force and substance. The learned advocate for the Companies urges that in fact before the dispute was raised the workmen admitted in different documents that there was strike by badli workers of the Companies and he refers me to several exhibits in this connection.

The learned Advocate first relies on Ext. A2(3)—proceedings of an emergent meeting of Budge Budge Jute Mills Works Committee. In that meeting a workman requested the Management to mention the words "badli workers" in place of "a large section of workers" mentioned in a notice issued earlier on the same day wherein it was mentioned that a large section of workers had resorted to strike [vide Ext. A2(4)].

Similarly the learned Advocate refers me to Exts. 4(a) and B two letters written by Shri Bhawani Roy Choudhuri, General Secretary of Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union. But I may simply point out that there is nothing about badli workers' resorting to strike in those letters. The former speaks of a protest only and the latter speaks of badli workers being forced to remain out of their duties. I have already shown that badlis remaining out of duties by itself does not constitute a strike in the true sense of the term. I have great doubt if by the word "badli workers" Bhawani Babu really meant badli workmen and not simple "badlis" not employed till then and thus not raised to the status of workmen proper, capable of resorting to a strike in true sense of the term.

Reliance is also placed on Ext. 1(a)(2) a letter from Joint Secretary, Labour Department, to the Secretary, Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union, wherein it was simply assured that no workman would be victimized for going on strike. But this letter of the Joint Secretary cannot be construed as an admission of strike by "badli workmen." It cannot be treated as a finding also by the Joint Secretary. Moreover the Ext. A2(3) and Ext 1(a)(2) referred to above may at best refer to those budlis, if any, who might have taken up work in the first half of "A" shift of the different Jute Mills concerned and yet gave up work shortly therafter. So from the abovementioned papers it cannot be held conclusively that in fact budli workmen resorted to strike as alleged the Management. Unfortunately there is by authentic or sufficiently reliable document show which budlis if any were actually no appointed or which of them joined their duties only to refuse to work subsequently. Companies should have produced documents to substantiate same. They have no paper to show that any badli was given any prior written. any badli was given any prior written or formal intimation of appointment or continuance of job. The Kutcha Hazira book is not clear enough to show who, if any, amongst them actually joined their duties or how many of them actually joined their duties. The statement with some bare figures only to show some thing of the kind are not shown to have been based on any authentic documents regularly kept or maintained. From the oral evidence however it appears that some budlis might have joined their duties first in some departments of the mills and some time later they also walked out for some reason or failed to ioin after recess break.

I have already discussed the evidences adduced in this connection by either parties in respect of Budge Budge Mill. I may also briefly discuss the evidences adduced in respect of the other two concerned Mills. The Management of the Cheviot Mill alleges that work of the Mill so far badlis were concered commenced alright at the opening of the first shift. But when one badli workman Baijnath Mufti by name was summoned to appear before the Labour Officer in connection with his alleged assault on another workman Bhola Dosad by name for latter's operating double looms, Shri Mufti not only failed to comply with summons but went round the different departments and instigated other badlis to give up work. As a result, it is alleged, many badli workmen gave up work and made violent demonstrations. Badlis of all the different shifts did not take up work thereafter and brought the manufacturing process to a stand still. The spinning frame of this mill was already modernised. The stock of yarn having run short the mill closed at 11 p.m. on 30th July 1961. The only material evidence adduced by workmen is that even at the time of closure there were sufficient number of loaded beams for carrying on work for 2|3 days more. But the workman cannot say how many such beams are actually required per diem.

But peculiarly enough there is no proper to prove that Baijnath Musti actually Bhola Dosad as alleged. Bhola is still in but the Company does not think it examine him. It is alleged that police informed, yet there is nothing to show that po up any action. Bhola did not think it worth take any other action against Mufit. nothing to show that any proceedings were against Mufti. The alleged complaint of B English and thus in a language not followed There is nothing to show that any danger to property was apprehended by the Management of alleged assult. There is no paper to share Mufti actually joined work on 30th July 1 It appears that the mill closed due to shortage of mainly though spinning frame was already model. So it is not difficult to imagine that there was m something wrong in the running of the speed of the spinning department also. It is really sun that nonavailability of services of some bades for a few hours only could bring about a deal in the whole manufacturing process entailing of the mill itself. If it was really so, it came be held that there was serious weakness or la somewhere in the manufacturing process efficiency also of the Management kannot be seriously questioned.

As regards Caledonian Mill also the situation not at all better. Though it is alleged that "A" and "general shift" commenced alright with but 31st July 1961. Badlis failed to join work from: recess or during other shifts. This mill also short of yarn at 3 p.m. on the following day closed its doors. From P.W. 6 Lakshmi Maha workman, it appears that in this mill some worked on 31st July 1961 and also 1st Augus! and yet the mill had to be closed. The trouble # mill did not arise for the first time on 31st July only. In fact there were partial strikes also at July 1961; 4th July 1961; 6th July 1961 and July 1961 also and a major crisis was pro averted then by a patch work of conciliation the management failed to take note of the real a or writings on the wall; and was satisfied temporary palliatives only. Modernisation d spinning frames was going on. Cadre of perm hands was never fixed. Work was somehow carried on with the help of badlis presumably wi giving them due benefits of independent employ or permanance. So much so 80 per cent d spinners were taken from badli register or unregi badlis and made to work with or without rotate many cases. Yet there is nothing to show that badlis were entered into the muster roll and gire status or benefits of proper workmen working! nuously for more than 240 days. Can an believe that in any department 80 per cent workers can remain temporarily absent at any cular time, requiring badlis in all their places. there is something seriously wrong somewhere administration? In all probability badlis were appointed by and large against permanent vac also and yet benefit of permanancy was not pin them creating widespread discontent among badlis. Modernisation of different sections sharing the benefits thereof with the workmen extension of operation of double looms inste limiting the scope for employment have also a labour discontent, especially in badli

e it may be rightly urged that modernisation be a taboo with the workers and in the rade and widespread international competibusiness no progressive country can afford the way of modernisation and labour ces for the purpose of reducing the cost of It is also a fact that workers should extension of double loom operation if same without sweating the labour and effecting Extra profit, if any, as a result must be workmen. In an welfare state of socialn it at times becomes necessary to slow raisation to avert the greater evil of widenployment. It is pointed out on behalf of n that the Chairman of the Special Comute recommended that there should not be ension of double loom operation without of the majority of the weavers of the But the learned Advocate for the draws my attention to the fact that the mustion was different in another part of the ort wherein it was simply opined that the om operation should not be extended in any out the consent of the weaver concerned. ent's case is that in no case Company did it or extend it without the consent of the oncerned. I think there is some truth that mendation was not very clear in all respects. s it may, the fact remains that the report of man is not certainly binding on the parties ernment also has not yet accepted the reation as such. It was simply under contill then. But nevertheless the fact remains is were not favouring the extension and they ating against double loom operation and also hose who had consented to operate double esult is that in view of those and other majority of the badlis refused employment them and a small section of badlis who took at the commencement of the relevant dates gave up work and joined the other group ght about dislocation in the manufacturing The management also failed to avert the ause it became too much dependent on the employment of badlis at least in certain ny considered opinion is that only a minor f badlis actually took up work but did not it and thus they should be deemed to have to strike. At the same time the larger section adlis simply refused to work or take up any tent and yet their action did not amount to But nevertheless the number of badlis normalyed by the mills concerned was so big at the time that the manufacturing process was id as soon as the badlis made them scarce reason or other. Result was lock-out by the nent of all the workmen, even though permaikmen did not resort to any strike. Lock-out led upon the permanent workmen also on the that the badlis by their action seriously nd the manufacturing process and there was of yarn in all the three mills.

It is neither party's case that the lock-out in question was illegal on account of violation of any provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is also not the case of the Companies that limited strike, if any, by certain badli workmen was actually illegal with reference to sections 22, 23, 24, of the Act. So I am to see if the strike and the lock-out in question were otherwise justified or not. Justiflability of a strike should be viewed from the standpoint of fairness and reasonableness of the demands made by the workmen, and not merely from the standpoint of their exhausting all other legitimate means open to them for getting the demands fulfilled. So it cannot be accepted that badlis were bound to give notice of strike to the employment. In fact the agitation was going on. I think, from before to the knowledge of the employers and yet proper notice was not taken of their grievances and no serious attempt was made to redress the grievances and render equities to them. The management was not giving their full benefits or full recognition in accordance with law and standing orders. If the strike was not illegal or unjustified, the lock-out cannot be justified on the plea of such strike only. If the strike was occasioned by an unfair labour practice, the responsibility for such strike and consequent lock-out must fall squarely on the management alone. In this case the badlis, if any, who resorted to strike are not claimants for wages before this Tribunal. Badlis have no contractual liability to render services or accept employment; so employer also are not bound to give them work. Badlis work on "no work no pay" basis when they are actually employed. Companies are now trying to justify the locking out of permanent workmen who never joined any strike simply on the allegation that the badlis paralysed the manufacturing process by their non-co-operation. It is alleged that lock-out was forced upon the management against its wishes by the badlis. But in fact badlis as such cannot conceivably create such a situation unless there was some unfair labour practice in respect of such badlis. Large number of badlis registered or unregistered-were being appointed against badli vacancies as well as permanent vacancies and yet badli workmen against permanent vacancies were being treated as badlis pure and simple, and were thus being deprived of some legitimate benefits due to them. Badlis as such have no right to claim that they should be made permanent. Yet they were claiming permanence; and time to time a few of them were being made permanent also by way of palliative only. The reason for this is not very far to seek. Presumably large number of badli workmen who were not really working as badlis were not getting their due benefit and hence most of them refused to accept further employment and a small section who accepted the employment stepped aside after joining the work. Otherwise such big jute mills like the concerned mills cannot be so easily paralysed by badlis alone. permanent workmen had no laches and the non-cooperation of badlis was occasioned by unfair labour practice mainly. So in this view of the matter the lock-out in question cannot be justified on the plea of strike by badlis or badli workmen. I am not satisfied that demands of badlis in respect of these mills were frivolous and altogether unjustified. No case of riotous conduct by the badlis has been proved or established. Under the Factories Act as well as the Standing Orders notices, if any, should be given in a language understood by the majority of workmen of any concern. Yet even the closure notices of two of the mills were only in English though majority of workmen were Bengali speaking. Companies did not try to procure other badlis or try to lay off surplus section only of the permanent workmen, to run the mill at least partly, by the permanent hands available. So the lock-out in question looks like a retaliatory measure to some extent due to some ill will or malice.

So it falls to be considered finally if the employers of this case are bound to pay wages for the lock-out periods in question as claimed by the permanent workmen who were not found to be guilty of any misconduct or going in strike. Apart from considerations on merit, two preliminary objections have been raised against these claims. The first objection of the employers is that there has been an overall settlement between the parties on all outstanding disputes including the question of wages for the lock-out period and so question of wages for the lock-out period cannot be agitated afresh before this Tribunal. But there is nothing on record to show that there was any proper conciliation on the point of wages for the lockout period and that there was any settlement on this point. Certain terms and conditions for resumption of work by 25th September 1961 were no doubt discussed and settled also but there is no reason to think that there was settlement on the issues raised in this dispute. Terms of settlement appear from the letter of the Joint Secretary to the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department. But there is no indication therein of any settlement on these issues. It appears the claim for wages was put forward at some stage of the conciliation meeting also, but no settlement was reached on the point. So it cannot be held that the so-called overall settlement covered this point as well to preclude a further reference. In fact there is no tripartite document also to show the terms of settlement agreed upon by all the parties concerned.

Next it is urged that no question of payment of wages or compensation can arise for the period after 3|4|5th September 1961 as the mills were actually opened on those dates on the advice of the Joint Secretary, to the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department. It is contended that hooters were blown to give notice to the workmen about the opening of the mills and notices also were issued to that effect and yet no workmen reported for duties. But the workmen deny issue of such notices or blowing of hooters as alleged. Exhibit A2(6) is a notice of this kind in English. But it is not strictly valid also on account of its being in English language alone not intelligible to the majority of the workmen. Blowing of hooter also is denied by the workmen.

I think the advice of the Joint Secretary was not considered in all quarters sufficient enough to alley all suspicion, or resolve all the difficulties. It also appears that the notice, if any, was not sufficient enough to convey the proper intention of the management to all concerned. So it cannot be said that the workmen are to be blamed for not runearlier or resumption of work earlier. In these cases was an act of the management proper notice of resumption of work is also a ment responsibility. In the absence of a sufficient notice before 25th September 1961 in view of rather incomplete settlement of the earlier occasion, the mills could not function to be sufficient as valid for the claim of the workmen.

Before I finally give my opinion on the missues referred to the Tribunal for adjudicated also consider some technical objections rand proceedings against this reference. It has to that it was not within the jurisdiction or of the State Government to make one single in respect of different disputes between different panies and their respective workmen. I have mentioned that the disputes are exactly respect of all the three concerned mills took place at such time and place and miscircumstances that the actions and course appear to be part of the same transation appear to be part of the same transation fact in respect of all the three mills though to different Companies.

It is also a fact that all these three mi formerly under the same management of Andrew Yule and Company Ltd. Though the mills has since gone out of the common 1 ment, two of them are still under the same a ment. Furthermore, though one single release been made in respect of three different i different Companies, the issue in respect of a of them has been separately framed and the be separately adjudicated also. There is no no confusion and prejudice of the either party was joint conciliation proceedings also. The overall settlement also was made in respect them taken together. Each Union also represe men of all the three mills. So the reference really inconvenience either party. So apan ! question of want of jurisdiction, if any, of a Government, the objection has no substance jurisdiction also I have not been shown any rule which precludes the Government from one single reference in respect of three milks Companies, when it is otherwise proper and that the matter should be looked into tog must also mention that the learned Advocate Companies in his fairness did not press this o at the time of argument or the hearing reference cannot be held to be invalid on this alone and the objection in that respect a accepted. The section 10(5) of the Industrial Act authorises appropriate Government in 1 common order of reference in respect of dispute of different establishments engaged in business.

In conclusion it may be stated that the query payment of wages for the period of lock-out governed by certain set principles which the I generally keep in view while adjudicating putes. Industrial Tribunals while deciding the payment of wages for the period of lock-out ation into account whether the lock-out was otherwise; or if it was justified or unjustified; ether the employer resorted to unfair labour while declaring lock-out.

c already shown that it was a case of lock-out he three mills concerned. I have also shown strike, if any, by a small section of badli n alone was not illegal or unjustified. Though s-out also cannot be said to be illegal, yet it be fully justified. Moreover the alleged strike as the lock-out were brought about by certain abour practices on the part of the management three mills at the relevant time. The permaorkmen not being at fault in any way are not for any reason from making a claim for or the lock-out period. So I find that the of the permanent workmen must be accepted I The last but not the least question that falls considered is whether the permanent workmen be allowed the full wages for the entire lockiod as claimed. It may be urged that if a layild be declared in the circumstances the workuld claim only 50 per cent. of wages as compenof course, if the lay-off would be involuntary. may also be pointed out that it is difficult to t the lock-out was completely involuntary or it in the present cases. To me it appears that of bona fides of the claim of the permanent in certain other matters also should be taken sideration. The financial aspect of the matter not be lost sight of and repercussion of such z of full wages on the business itself should taken into consideration. At the relevant ic jute industry was not running smoothly and rose the necessity of repeated block closures. ing to Shri Phani Ghosh representing one of te Unions the mills concerned were in financial ies at the time and they incurred losses year ear during the relevant period. During the it period the three mills failed to produce anyind thus failed to earn profits also.

three mills concerned employ a few thousands nanent workmen also and their monthly wages me up to a few lakhs of rupees. So the full al implication of the claim of the workmen on lustry should also be considered. It may also sumed that the workmen did something to their time usefully during the period of lock-1 is to the interest of the workmen also to see e hen that lays the golden egg for them should saved. Moreover employment, non-employer exploitation of badlis is not peculiar to these mills only and is rather a nasty or naughty problem of the jute industry itself. So I do not think it will be fair to allow the full wages claimed for the entire lock-out period.

In this view of the matter alone I direct that the permanent workmen be paid only 50 (fifty) per cent. of their wages for the entire lock-out period in two equal instalments within two months of the publication of this award.

This direction will apply to all the three issues and on all the three concerned mills. The issues are decided accordingly.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue given in the Order of Reference and reproduced below, was referred for adjudication to this Tribural by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 1549-1.R./IR/11L-4(A)/64, dated the 18th April 1964.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Netai Chandra Nayak is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The parties appeared before the Tribunal in response to the notices of the reference issued by the Tribunal and filed their respective written statements in due course. After necessary preliminary proceedings and some adjournments the case was finally fixed for hearing on 12th February 1965. On that date the parties filed a joint petition of compromise embodying the terms upon which the dispute had been amicably settled between them and praying for a compromise award accordingly.

The terms appear to be quite fair and lawful and I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the dispute on those terms. So the case is to be disposed of by a compromise award as prayed for.

In the result, I make a compromise award in terms of the joint petition of compromise filed by the parties, a copy whereof is made part of the award as an annexure.

Short recital of the case: The dispute arose over the alleged non-implementation of a settlement pertaining to leave wages. The workmen thereafter struck work and the management consequently declared a lock-out. The issue of such stoppage of work was referred for adjudication under Government of West Bengal (Labour Department) Order No. 6588-I.R., dated 12th December 1964, and is pending before the Third Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal. Meantime, the management charge-sheeted and suspended five workmen for alleged misconduct. On protracted negotiations between the parties, the entire disputes as on date has been settled on the terms hereunder.

Terms of settlement: 1. (a) It is hereby agreed to by and between the parties that the work in the establishment will be resumed on and from Sunday. 7th February 1965. All the workmen except Sarbashri Md. Hanif, Md. Zafir and Md. Illias will be allowed to resume duties. It is further agreed that those workman who are outstation will be allowed a period of seven days from 7th February 1965 to resume duties failing which it shall be decined that they being not desirous of working in this establishment have left the service of this establishment.

- (b) It is agreed that the following payments will be effected to workmen named hereunder in full and final settlement of all their claims including reinstatement or re-employment.
  - 1. Md. Zafir—Rs. 300 (rupees three hundred only).
  - Md. Hanif—Rs. 200 (rupees two hundred only).
  - Md. Illias -- Rs. 200 (rupees two hundred only).

- (c) It is agreed that in case the management needs fresh personnel after absorbing the workmen on rolls of the establishment, they will employ the personnel previously transferred to Mazidia Restaurant in preference over other new hands.
- 2. That it is agreed that the management shall effect the payments of the workmen's earned wages for the month of September 1964 by 10th February 1965.
- 3. That the workmen shall have no claim of wages or compensation or otherwise for the period of deadlock, i.e., from 3rd October 1964 to 6th February 1965.
- 4. That it is agreed to by and between the parties that the issue pending before the Third Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, under the aforesaid order of reference shall hereby be treated as compromised and a joint petition will be filed by the parties before the said Tribunal with the prayer that a "No Dispute" award be passed by the said Tribunal. A copy of this settlement will be filed as annexure to the said petition of No Dispute.

- 5. That it is agreed that in consider demand for alleged non-implementation settlement and in consideration of all traised by the workmen and pending bet. the Industrial Digustes Act 1947, filed by one Shri Madan, c/o India Jute Cotton Workers Union, 18 Dharmatola Lane, Serampore, Hooghly, an employee of India Jute Company Ltd. (Cotton Section), Serampore, Hooghly, against the aforesaid Company. (Case No. 131 of 1964.)

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri J. M. Dutta Gupta, Advocate of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

Present for the Union: Shri Patit Paban Pathak, an officer of the Union.

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Shri Madan, a workman, against his employer Messrs. India Jute Company Ltd. (Cotton Section), Serampore, Hooghly, alleging contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under G.O. No. 572-I.R./IR/81-5(B)/64, dated 12th February 1964.

The petitioner alleges that his services were terminated on the ground of an alleged misconduct during the pendency of an industrial dispute between the Company and its workmen. It is alleged that the termination of his services is illegal, mala fide and wrongful and he is entitled to reinstatement and also full compensation for the period of his forced unemployment.

The Company has submitted a written statement in reply to the petition filed by the petitioner workman. It is stated that the petitioner went on leave from 1st February 1964 to 29th February 1964, but he did not report for duty on the expiry of the leave granted to him, and overstayed his leave for more than eight days without applying for extension of leave. By reason of his overstay he lost his lien on his employment, and his name was accordingly struck off the roll under the provisions of the Standing Orders 9(c) of the Company. It is pleaded that there has been no contravention of the provisions to section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, and the application is not maintainable in law.

Decision

It is an undisputed fact that the petitioner went on leave from 1st February 1964 to 29th February 1964, but he did not report for duty on the expiry of the leave granted to him. Under the provisions of the certified Standing Orders of the Company, clause 9(c), an employee who absents himself for eight consecutive working days without leave shall be deemed to have left the Company's service without notice thereby terminating his contract of service. The certified Standing Orders represent the relevant terms and conditions of service in the atutory form, and they are binding on the parties, : least as much, if not more, as private contracts mbodying similar terms and conditions of service. 'he provision of Standing Orders 9(c) inevitably eads to the conclusion that if an employee absents imself for more than eight consecutive days without leave he should be deemed to have terminated nis contract of service and thus relinquished or ibandoned his employment. It has been contended on behalf of the Union that absence without leave for more than eight consecutive days is also treated as a misconduct under clause XIV of the Standing Orders, and the Company should have treated the absence of the petitioner as a misconduct on his part under clause XIV of the Standing Orders and an enquiry should have been made against him before imposing any punishment on him. This contention does not appear to be well founded and cannot be accepted. The position under the Standing Orders appears to be that absence without leave for more than eight consecutive days can give rise to the termination of the contract of service either under the Standing Order 9(c) or may lead to penalties awardable for misconduct after due enquiry is held, as required by the relevant Standing Order. The fact that the same conduct is dealt with in two different Standing Orders cannot affect the applicability of the Standing Order, clause 9(c) to the present case. The Company was, in my view, not bound to treat Madan's absence as constituting a misconduct under Standing Order XIV and proceed to hold an enquiry against him before terminating his services, when clause 9(c) of the Standing Orders is attracted by reason of Madan's absence without leave for more than eight consecutive days. There is another aspect of the matter which cannot be overlooked, and it is this: Section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act empowers the employer to discharge or punish whether by dismissal or otherwise any workman for any misconduct not connected with the dispute. This seems to suggest some positive act on the part of the employer such as an order passed by him either dismissing, discharging, reducing or an employee. Where termination of the services follows automatically either from to rirom Standing Orders by virtue of the absence without leave for the specific lent termination is not the result of any posite fault on the part of the employer, and not termination the provisions of section 33(2) be inapplicable. Termination of services automatically from the Standing Orders accontravention of the provisions to section industrial Disputes Act by the employer view of the matter, the present application be held as maintainable in law as there has contravention of the provisions of section industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the employer industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the employer is a service of the provisions of section in industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the employer

As regards merits of the case, the terminal the services of the workman also appear justified. His leave expired on 29th February but he failed to resume his duty on the emigr leave. His evidence is that he could not one on the expiry of his leave on account mother's illness, and that he sent a telegram February 1964 for extension of leave by one more, but he did not receive any rephi telegram. P. K. Banerji, O.P.W. 1, the Labour of the Company, has stated that he did not telegram from Madan in the record. The put has filed a telegram receipt, Ext. 4. But it is show that it was addressed to the Labour the Company, as stated by the workma date in the postal seal is also illegit, it is, therefore, difficult to say whete; telegram was sent to the Labour Office the Company by the workman on 28th Feb. 1964. The petitioner also has admitted that no evidence to prove that his mother was in on or about the end of the month of February. The action of the Company, in the circums appears to be bona fide, and the fact that a be was offered to the workman, when he came h the Company was not actuated by any delivering the company was not actuated by any delivering the company was not actuated by any delivering the company was not actuated by any delivering the company was not entitled to any delivering the company was not entitled to any delivering the company was not entitled to any delivering the company was not entitled to any delivering the company was not entitled to any delivering the company was not entitled to any delivering the company was not entitled to any delivering the company was not entitled to any delivering the company was not actuated by actuated by actuated by actuated by actu this case. #### AWARD roceeding arises out of an application under 13A of the Industrial Disputes Act, made Ganesh Chandra Das against the employer Messrs. Calcutta Silk Manufacturing Limited, complaining of his alleged illegal, d and vindictive dismissal in contravention relevant provisions of section 33 of the Disputes Act, during the pendency of the ion proceedings of another dispute between pany and its workmen, referred to this by G.O. No. 1662-I.R./IR/8L-16(B)/62, th May 1962.

ald not attend to his duties on and from rch 1962 on account of illness and he was treatment of the factory's Medical Officer. to resume his duties on 23rd May 1962 ag declared fit along with a fit certificate from his attending physician but the Company did not allow him to work. No charge-sheet or show-cause notice was served upon him and no opportunity was given him to explain his conduct and in this way, the principles of natural justice were grossly violated. The Company's refusal to allow him to work in factory amounted to wrongful dismissal. The Company did not also comply with the requirements of the provisions of section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act which governed the dismissal in view of the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by G.O. No. 1662-I.R./IR/8L-16(B)/62, dated 10th May 1962, and so there was contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. He claims reinstatement with back wages.

Notice of the application was duly served upon the Company and it appeared and filed its written statement. After necessary preliminary proceedings and some adjournments, the case was finally fixed for hearing on 10th February 1965. On that date, there was no appearance by or on behalf of the workmen but the Company produced an application made by the workman to the Company stating that he had remained unauthorizedly absent since 19th March 1962 and did not report for duty for a long time and so his name was struck off from the muster roll from 16th May 1962 and against this action of the Company, he had filed the present case under section 33A but he now wanted to resign from the Company's service and so he requests the Company to accept his resignation. As the applicant has not appeared to prosecute his application and the genuineness and bona fides of his application to the Company are not challenged, I accept the application as showing the correct position of the parties in regard to the present dispute and hold that the applicant has given up the dispute and does not want any relief in respect of his dismissal. The dispute has practically ceased to exist in view of the aforesaid conduct of the applicant and so, the case is to be disposed of by a "no dispute" award.

In the result, I make a "no dispute" award in the case on the footing that the dispute is not pursued and has been given up.

AWARD

This application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act was filed by Shri Bhagaloo, son of Ganga, Token No. 1953/58, Auto Shed, "C" Shift, against Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, during the pendency of an industrial dispute between the aforesaid parties covered by reference Nos. 4458-I.R., dated 1st October 1962 and 1884-I.R., dated 26th April 1960. The case of Shri Bhagaloo is that after the expiry of his sick leave he reported for duty on 6th April 1964 when he was told that his service was no longer required. In fact, he was not allowed to resume his duties on that date. Hence, the present application, under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act with a prayer for an award directing the Company to reinstate him to his job with full compensation.

The Company entered appearance and filed a written statement alleging inter alia that there was no contravention whatsoever of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

On the date of hearing of the case which fell on 15th February 1965 I was given to understand by the learned representative of both parties that there was no real dispute between the parties and that the dispute having been dissolved the worker was going to resume his duties on and from 16th February 1965. Today I have heard Shri K. P. Mukherjee, learned Advocate appearing for the Company. Shri Mukherjee says that the workman has since joined his duties. It is clear from what has been stated above that the dispute has ceased to exist. So, there is to be a "no dispute" award in the case. In the result, I make a "no dispute" award in award in the case.

This reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act arises out of Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 6147-I.R./IR/11L-357/64, dated 11th November 1964. The parties are Shri Gora Chand Bera of 17B Serpentine Lane, Calcutta-14, and his workmen represented by the Shop Assistant's Association of Bengal, B-73 College Street Market, Calcutta-12. The issue is as follows:

Is the termination of service of Shri Krishna Kinkar Chaudhury justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

The Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal filed a written statement in this case. Shri Gora Chand Bera also filed his written statement. The case was fixed for hearing on 19th February 1965. On the date fixed, however, none on behalf of the workmen or the Shop Assistants' Association appeared before this Tribunal for hearing. Shri Bera was present and gave evidence in this case. In short, the case of the Association was that one Krishna Kinkar Chaudhury became ill on 5th Vadra 1370 B.S. and he was granted leave till his cure. He, however, went to his native village and after being fit he came to his duty on 6th Kartick 1370 B.S. The management of the business, however, refused Shri Chaudhury to allow him to join his duties. The

The case of Shri Gora Chand Bera is that business of his was closed in December 19 from January 1963 Shri Krishna Kinkar Chawas not in his service. He has denied the Chaudhury was in his employ in Vadra 13; Shri Bera has further stated that after the of his business Shri Chaudhury was emplo the Swastika Fish Dealers on his recomme in January 1963. In support of his statem has produced the return of his business s that his business was not functioning from 1963. Nobody has appeared before this T on behalf of the workmen in support of the filed by the Shop Assistants' Association of On the evidence on record, I am satisfied the claim on behalf of the Association is untenat that from January 1963 Shri Chaudhury was the employ of Shri Bera in his fish business. is no evidence also to indicate that the prese pute is an industrial dispute. In the circums I hereby dispose of the matter in favour of Sh Chand Bera and no relief can be awarded in of the workman in question.

termination of service of Shri Dilip Kumar that and Shri Purna Chandra Paul justified? Lat relief, if any, are they entitled to?

AWARD

e of the Union in its written statement is Dilip Kumar Ghosh and Shri Purna Chandra appointed against permanent vacancies in any's factory at Garifa on 9th April 1962. It workmen were associated with the Union ras viewed with disfavour by the Companyaned an employment injury on 4th August had to undergo medical treatment till 5th 1962. Purna also sustained an employry on 1st September 1962 and was required pitalised from 1st September 1962 to 16th 1962. The management by its letter. September 1962, terminated the service he workmen on the allegation that they worary hands.

mpany filed a written statement denying of the workmen that they were permanent d were appointed against permanent. The Company contends that they were porary hands, and their services were on 27th September 1962 with effect from mber 1962.

Decision

dly, the service of Dilip and Purna, the the the concerned in this case, stood on 27th September 1962. The Union t they were appointed against permanent while the Company denies this allegation, ds that they were temporary hands. The there of the Company has been filed and it the workmen, into five groups. The permanent workman has been defined as a workman who had been appointed on a permanent basis. Temporary workman has been defined as a workman who has been engaged for work which is of a essentially temporary nature. On behalf of the Company, Shri N. C. Bhattacharya, Personnel Officer, was examined. He stated in his evidence that the two workmen were appointed against temporary The interview letters from the Employvacancies. ment Exchange are Exts. A and A/1 in respect of the two workmen. The workmen in their evidence attempted to disown these two letters, but the very nature of the documents bearing the seal of the Employment Exchange will show that they were in fact issued by the Employment Exchange to these two, workmen. Of course, the words "temporary vacancy" appearing in both the letters had been superimposed without any initial and are also written in a different ink quite distinct from the ink with which the rest of the letters had been written. The style of writing also apepars to be different. That being so, it would be unsafe to rely upon these two documents in support of the Company's contention that those letters bear the evidence of the fact that they came to be appointed against temporary vacancies. I must leave out these two documents from the evidence since they altogether are suspicious. There is no other documentary evidence. The entire evidence is oral. I have scrutinised the evidence of Dilip. First he wants to say that temporary hands get appointment letters. He concedes that he himself was appointed in 1961 and 1962, but he does not hold any appointment letter from the Company. His evidence bears out the fact that in 1961 and 1962 he occasionally served the Company as a temporary hand, and there had been interrup-tions in his service. The very fact of absence of continuity in the service is a pointer to the Company's contention that his appointment was not against a permanent vacancy. Dilip however wants to qualify his appointment on 9th April 1962 against permanent vacancy. I cannot accept his contention in this respect. There is no special reason why on 9th April 1962 he would be appointed against a permanent vacancy within a few months of his service being terminated. The fact that he suffered from an employment injury should have no bearing upon our issue. If he sustained the employment injury, he would be entitled to compensation according to appropriate statute. On the evidence on record, I therefore hold that Dilip was appointed against a temporary vacancy, and as such the termination of his service was justified.

Shri Purna Chandra Paul, the other workmen concerned in this dispute, also gave evidence to say that he was appointed against permanent vacancy. But he has nothing to show that his appointment was against permanent vacancy. His evidence that temporary hands used to get appointment letters is not also corroborated by any other evidence. He also served the Company previously against temporary vacancy, and this is clear from the fact that his service had been interrupted off and on.

In the circumstances, the claim of the two workmen Dilip and Purna that they were appointed against permanent vacancies should be negatived. That being so, the termination of their service should be held to be justified. The issue under the reference is accordingly answered in the affirmative, and the workmen concerned are not, therefore, entitled to any relief.

This is my award.

owe industrial dispute between Messrs. Hind lorks (P.) Ltd. and their workmen has been to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Disputes Act, 1947, by Government Order i.R. IR/11L-200/64, dated the 20th June adjudication upon the only issue, viz., receipt of the reference from Government June 1964, usual notices were issued to the oncerned, and they entered appearance on 1964. The Union filed its written state-that date, and the Company took time for itten statement, and filed the same on 26th 1964. The issue under the reference relates i for the workmen.

ase of the Union as made out in its written it, shortly put, is as follows:

s. Hind Plastic Works (P.) Ltd., hereinafter to as the Company, is engaged in the manuof plastic materials for domestic and compurposes, and also toys. The Company runs y at Bally and employs about 80 workmen. mpany is highly prosperous and earns huge very year. The workmen of the Company med a Union known as the Plastic Workers' and wages of the workmen were fixed from time through bipartite or tripartite agree-The last of such agreements was made on ptember 1957. Since then the cost of living as, considerably gone up, and the financial n of the Company has also gratly improved.
n account of material change of circumstances 157, but their expectation was belied as the y did not agree to give them any increment wages. The Union had, in the circumstances, alternative but to terminate the agreement, Ith September 1957, and it did so by a letter, 7th July 1961. Thereafter on 31st May 1962 on submitted a charter of demands to the ly, and the Company having refused to cone same sympathetically, the matter was taken hri S. K. Choudhuri, Labour Officer, who s best for an amicable settlement of the distween the parties. His attempts, were, howisuccessful, and hence the present reference. d that the Company pays consolidated wages orkmen. The Union has shown in paragraph he written statement the existing wages and pay of the workmen, and also the claim of kmen. The Union has prayed for the intro-of a wage structure for the workmen, as stated in paragraph 11, with retrospective effect from 1st June 1962.

The case of the Company, as set forth in its written statement, may shortly be stated as follows:

The Company is a small concern and it employs about 60 workmen. It is denied that the Company is highly prosperous and earns huge profits every year. It is pleaded that the financial condition of the Company is not satisfactory, and the Company is unable to bear burden of any upward revision of the existing wages. It is alleged that the Company made several settlements with the workmen through their Union, and under these agreements the workmen were given liberal increase in their wages. It is stated that even after the agreement of 1957 the Company voluntarily granted increase in the wages of the workmen from time to time, and the workmen are not low paid in comparison to the well established units of the same industry. It is lastly pleaded that there is no justification for any revision of the wage scales of the workmen, and the Company is not capable of bearing any additional financial burden on account of any increase of wages of the workmen.

Decision

The Company runs a factory at Bally, in the district of Howrah, where it manufactures plastic toys and other articles for commercial purposes. It employs about 80 workmen, as stated in paragraph 2 of the written statement of the Union and it is not denied by the Company in its statement in reply. There was an agreement between the Company and the workmen represented by the present Union on 13th September 1957, and the Company is paying wages to the workmen in terms of that agreement. It is an undisputed fact that the wages paid by the Company falls short of the living wage, and the Union has claimed for fixation of wages of the workmen after terminating the award by a notice, dated 17th July 1961, as stated by P.W. 1 Shri Patit Paban. Pathak, the President of the Union, and which is not denied by the Company. The claim of the Union has been given in paragraph 11 of the written statement, and the present wages paid to the workmen have also been shown there. The claim of the Union has been resisted by the Company on two grounds. It is said that the wages paid to the workmen as per the agreement, dated 13th September 1957, compares favourably with the wages paid to the workmen in similar industrial concerns in the region, and there is no justification for revising the wages and constructing a new wage structure for the workmen. It is next contended that the Company is not in a position to bear any additional financial burden of any increase of wages to the workmen. It is now well settled that in constructing a wage structure Industrial Tribunal has to take into account the overall financial position of the employer because a scheme of wage structure, including the scales of increment, is a long-term scheme and, before it is framed, the Tribunal must be satisfied that the burden imposed by the scheme would not be beyond the means of the employer. There cannot be any doubt that increase in wages can only be made after a consideration of the financial ability of the Company to bear the increase, and after the Tribunal had come to the conclusion, on the evidence before it, that the Company had the capacity to bear the increase. It is, therefore, necessary to consider in the first place, whether the Company will be in a position to bear any additional financial burden likely to be imposed on it in case of an upward revision of the wages of the workmen. The evidence of P.W. 1, the President of the Union, is that the Company is a profitable concern and earns huge profits every year, and it is financially stable. This has been denied by O.P.W. 1 Shri Kanai Lal Karar, the Manager of the Company. His evidence is that the business of the Company is falling down for want of a market for its products, and the financial condition of the Company is not sound. There is thus oath against oath, as regards the financial position of the Company. The best evidence on this point, however, is the audited balance-sheets and the profit and loss accounts of the Company which have been filed in this case. The balance-sheets for the years 1956 to 1964, Ext. A series, show the overall financial position of the Company. The balance-sheets for the years 1960 and 1961 show that the Company earned a net profit of over a lakh of rupees in those two years (vide Exts. 4-4 and 4-3). The amount of profit came down to Rs. 53,000 and odd in the year ending on the 30th June 1962 and in the Accounting year 1963 it further came down to Rs. 33,000 and odd (vide Exts. A-2 and A-1). In the Accounting year 1964, however, there was an increase in the amount of net profit earned by the Company to the extent of Rs. 46,000 and odd (vide Ext. A). On a careful scrutiny of the balance-sheets and the profit and loss accounts of the Company for the years 1960 to 1964, there is no doubt that the Company earned good profits every year during this period after making deductions for all necessary expenses, though the amount of profit earned varied each year. In none of the years the Company suffered any loss, and regard being had to the overall financial position of the Company, I am satisfied that the Company is in a position to bear the burden of a reasonable increase in the wages of the workmen, without any incremental wage scale for

The next question for consideration is, whether the Union has been able to make out a case for revision of the wages of the workmen employed under the Company. It is an undisputed fact that consolidated wages are paid to the workmen, and no separate D.A. is paid to them. The Company pays wages to the workmen as per the agreement, Ext. I. The existing wages of the workmen were revised by this agreement on 13th September 1957. It has been urged that as no change in the circumstances has been proved since the year 1957, revision of wage scale is not called for. This contention does not appear to have any substance in it. and cannot be accepted. There cannot be any doubt that since 1957 the cost of living index has considerably gone up. A case for revision becomes irresistible when one takes into consideration the further fact that there has been a revision of wages in a similar industry in the same region, and also the fact that the Company earned a substantial profit in the years 1960 and 1961. The workmen are paid, as I have said, consolidated wages, which includes D.A. and the workmen must be held entitled to some increase in their present wages in view of the fact that the cost of living index rose steeply since the agreement. Ext. 1, was made in 1957. At that time the average cost of living index was 366.7, and it was 495 in 1964. It is, therefore, clear that wages which were fixed by the agreement between the parties in 1957 can no longer be taken as fair wages, and the claim of the Union for

The settled position is that the basis for of wages and D.A. is "industry-cum-region" well settled that in applying the industry region" formula for fixing wages scales, the fishbould lay stress on the industry-part of the industry part of if there are a large number of concerns in region carrying on the same industry. The l support of its claim for wages, as shown in part of its written statement, has relied on duced an agreement entered into between Moulding Co. Ltd. and Plastic Workers regarding increment, introduction of grade scales of pay, bonus, etc. This agreement of the August 1964 and has been marked and According to P.W. 1, Shri Patit Paban Patit is the President of the Union, the National Market and the President of the Union, the National Market and the President of the Union, the National Market and the President of the Union, the National Market and the President of the Union, the National Market and the President of the Union, the National Market and the President of the Union, the National Market and the President of the Union, the National Market and the President of the Union, the National Market and the President of the Union, the National Market and the President of the Union, the National Market and the President of the Union, the National Market and the President of the Union, the National Market and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the President of the Union and the Union Co. is not a bigger concern than the present pany, and this fact has not been dead Shri Kanai Lal Karar, the Manager of the Can The tests which have been laid down for the concern as a comparable unit in the matter of of wages are absent in the instant case, and the bare statement of Shri Patit Paban Patha is no other evidence to take National Moulding Ltd. as a comparable concern for fixation of m this case. Moreover, this agreement only shout the Company agreed to pay an increment of per day over their existing basic wages to all nent daily-rated workmen, and also to pay an i ed D.A. of 7 per cent. to the workmen. This ment, however, clearly indicates that there he an upward revision of wages in a similar indu the same region. This fact, taken along wi other fact that there has been no increase in of the workmen since the agreement, dated littember 1957, in spite of the fact that the living index has considerably gone up, justification demand of the workmen for higher wage evidence of the workman Dilip Kumar Ghost 2, is that he is getting Rs. 2.50 P. per day a without any increment for the last six years evidence of P.W. 1 is that the average wages ing in other industries in the locality are high the minimum wages varies from Rs. 86 to Rs. month, and this rate of wages is liable to be in from 1st January 1965 on account of the rise cost of living index in 1964. He has further that by the agreement, Ext. 2, the wage lowest-paid workers were raised to Rs. 70.98 is not, denied O.P.W. 1. But the fact remains there has been an upward revision of war National Moulding Company Ltd., a similar in the locality. The wages paid to the works much less the wages paid to the workmen lines of industries, viz., jute, cotton, engineer, and on a consideration of all facts and circum I think that an ad hoc increase in the wage workmen should be given to the work follows:

- Workmen getting wages up to Rs. month will get an increment of Rs month.
- Workmen getting wages from Rs. 76 to per month will get an increment ( per month.

esent revision of the wages of the workmen effect from the date of publication of the the "Calcutta Gazette".

Present for the Company: Shri A. K. Sarkar, Advocate.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the workmen Shri Radharam Ghosh and others against their employers Messrs. Bhadrakali Oil Mill (P) Ltd., the opposite party, alleging contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, during the pendency of an industrial dispute between the opposite party and its workmen.

The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under G.O. No. 1206-I.R./IR/15L-3/64, dated the 19th March 1964.

After service of the notice the opposite party entered appearance and filed written statement on 6th June 1964. After several adjournments on the prayers of the parties the case was fixed for hearing on 30th January 1965. On that date a petition of compromise was filed by the parties stating therein that the dispute between them had been amicably settled out of Court and praying that an award-might be made in terms of the joint petition filed. The terms contained in the petition of compromise appear to be fair and proper, and I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the dispute between the parties. The petition of compromise is accepted, and I pass a "no dispute" award in terms of the joint petition of compromise as prayed for. The petition of compromise do form part of the award as Annexure

: Company examined Shri T. K. Ghosh, Secof the Company, who proved the declarations l-series) of the workmen of the Company not of Calcutta Establishment but of all the estabents of the Company. The settlement arrived the signatures of the workmen is embodied in 2-series. The Union examined two witnesses Dilip Kumar Chatterjee and Shri P. N. Banerjee are workmen of the Company. Their evidence it there had been no settlement, and that the nen had been coerced to give their signatures nake the declarations filed by the Company. dispute really is between the Company as the yer and its workmen. In the two references, vorkmen are represented by Superintendence any of India (P) Ltd. Employees' Union. The lispute is between the workmen and the lany and that dispute must exist when the nal proceeds to make the award. It is within ompetence of the workmen to arrive at a ment even without the aid of the Union, if so like. If such settlement is arrived at ten the employer and the workmen otherwise in course of conciliation proceeding, it shall nding upon the parties to the agreement. on 18(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act makes settlement binding upon the parties to the ment. In this connection I may refer to a ion of the Hon'ble Supreme Court reported in 1963 L.L.J. II page 647. Where such settlement is arrived at between the parties to a dispute before the Tribunal even after the award had been submitted to the Government but before its publication, there is in fact no dispute left to be resolved by the publication of the award. As to the manner of signing of the agreement, Rule 68 makes the provision. The settlement shall be in form J as in the present case. The settlement shall be signed by the employer or its authorised agent Ext. 2-series are the settlement duly signed on the side of the Company. In the case of the workmen, it is to be signed by the President or the Secretary of a Trade Union or by five representatives of the workmen duly authorised in writing in this behalf by a representative meeting of the workmen held for this purpose. There had been a representative meeting of the workmen as will appear from the affidavit of Shri Dilip Kumar Hazra. At the meeting five representatives were authorised in writing by the workmen in question, and those five representatives signed the agreement. This will appear from Ext. 2-series. On the side of the Union it is contended that the disputes before the Tribunal are not restricted to the Calcutta employees of the Company alone, and that there are employees of other branches spread over all parts of India, who did not similarly authorise the signing of the agreement. The references before me do not mention about the Calcutta Establishment. But since the references were made by the Government of West Bengal, it is argued on the side of the Company that they are limited to the case of employees employed in West Bengal including Calcutta. In this respect, section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act needs consideration. The appropriate Government is to make the reference if it is of opinion that industrial disputes exist. In the present case, the Government of West Bengal is the Government making the references. Section 10 sub-section (1A) provides as follows:

"Where the Central Government is of opinion that any industrial dispute exists or is apprehended and the dispute involves any question of national importance or is of such a nature that industrial establishments situated in more than one State are likely to be interested in, or affected by, such dispute and that the dispute should be adjudicated by a National Tribunal, then, the Central Government may, whether or not it is the appropriate Government in relation to that dispute, at any time, by order in writing, refer the dispute or any matter appearing to be connected with, or relevant to, the dispute, whether it relates to any matter specified in the Second Schedule or the Third Schedule, to a National Tribunal for adjudication."

On the side of the Company, it is argued that since the industrial establishments situated in more than one State are likely to be interested in the disputes, it was within the competence of the Central Government, to refer the disputes to a National Tribunal. Since the Central Government is not making the present references, but the references have been made by the State Government, it should be presumed that the disputes referred to the Tribunal are in respect of West Bengal amployees of the Company. This is the argument advanced on the side of the Company. On the side of the Union it is contended that the State Government is the appropriate Government to make a reference in case of a dispute between the Company and its workmen, though the workmen of the Company may be spread over throughout India. In the present case, the Union further argues the settlement had not been arrived at according to Rules 68 by all the employees of the Company working in all parts of India, and as such the settlement should not be given effect to. If I accept the construction that the present disputes are restricted to West Bengal employees only, the agreement has been duly arrived at by such employees as embodied in Ext. 2-series, and the evidence of the two witnesses, namely, Shri Dilip Kumar Chatteriee and Shri P. N. Banerjee will not nullify the same. They are only individual employees of the They by themselves cannot undo the settlement arrived at according to law. If the dispute had been settled by the other workmen in the manner laid down in Rule 68, that settlement should be accepted as a settler to the dispute. In that view of the matter the industrial disputes no more exist. In case I accept the Union's objection that the dispute is not limited to West Bengal employees alone, but it includes the employees of the Company spread over India, the Company places before me the declarations (Ext. 1-series) which are purported to be the declarations signed by the workmen of the Company employed in different units in India and argues on the strength of Ext. 1-series that all the workmen of the Company declare that they are not interested in the disputes, and the Union has no locus standi to represent their case before the Tribunal. They authorised Shri T. K. Ghosh, Secretary of the Company, to place their applications before the Tribunal. Shri Ghosh gave evidence before the Tribunal to that effect, and proved the declarations and authorisations (Ext. 1-series). Those declarations signed during the period from May to July 1964. One of the two references had been received earlier to that period, while the other reference was received in the month of July 1964. On the strength of those declarations. the argument advanced on the side of the Company is that all the workmen employed in the Company throughout India declared to the effect that there was no dispute pending, and the Union had no locus standi to represent the workmen in the references. The learned representative for the Company refers me to section 10 clause (1A), and wants to contend that where the nature of the dispute is such that industrial establishments situated in more than of State are likely to be interested in the dispute, the Central Government should constitute a National Tribunal. I do not accept the advanced on the side of the Company that absence of constitution of a National Tribe Tribunal has no jurisdiction to decide the under the present references. The dispa the references relates to the Company who Office is in Calcutta having Branches in parts of India. The references which has made by the State of West Bengal are qu petent. In the absence of any restriction, i be concluded that the present references respect of the workmen of the Company in various parts of India. The industri: lishment which is concerned in the disput and is of a single unit, though it may have throughout India. The question still remain whether any industrial dispute exists in , the declarations referred to above. In the rations signed by all the workers of the ( employed in various parts of India it is stated that there was no dispute pending Union had no locus standi. If all the wor the Company make a declaration that the no dispute, nothing remains to be adjudicat in the reference. The Union has no separa ence apart from the workmen. It is argued side of the Union that those declaration obtained by the Company under coerci duress, and the workmen did not sign the s of their free will. The Union cannot sub this allegation. No inference can be made the declarations themselves that the signed the same under coercion and dure evidence of one or two workmen to say t industrial disputes still exist, will be of If all the workmen of the Company come that they are not interested in the dispute. those declarations would tentamount to & of the dispute. In the aforesaid circumsti must hold that there is no dispute to be cated upon in respect of issues mentioned two references.

This is my award, and this will cover b references made under G.O. No. 772-I.F 24th February 1964, and No. 2863-I.R., da July 1964.

ndustrial dispute between Messrs. J. P. & Sons, 115 G. T. Road, Salkia, Howrah, workmen represented by the Iron & Steel 's Union, 172 Benaras Road, Salkia, has been referred to this Tribunal for lon under section 10 of the Industrial Act, by the Government of West Bengal, Department, Order No. 4566-I.R./IR/10L-lated the 30th September 1964.

rties appeared in this case and submitted ten statements. Briefly speaking, the case on & Steel Workmen's Union (hereinafter as the Union) is that Hafizur Rahaman, a of Messrs. J. P. Agarwalla & Sons (hereinled the Company), went to his native the month of January 1964 with the of his family on account of communal ces at Howrah. At his village Shri fell ill and, therefore, he could not come Howrah. After recovery from illness he, returned for duty towards the end of 1964 but he was now allowed to join his the ground that his name has been marked account of his long absence. During his s village Shri Rahaman prayed for earned also informed the management of the about his illness. The case of the Union is that the termination of service of Shri Rahaman was illegal, mala fide and against all principles of natural justice.

In short, the case of the Company is that Shri Rahaman started absenting himself from his duty from 11th January 1964 without any information. The Company thereafter asked him, in writing, to resume his duties but Shri Rahaman continued to absent himself. As a result, Shri Rahaman was marked "left" with effect from 13th February 1964. This fact was, however, intimated to him by the Company. The Company has stated that the action of the Company was justified and lawful.

In this case the issue for determination is as follows:

Several documents have been filed on both the sides. On the side of the Union only Shri Rahaman has been examined as P.W. 1, and the Company has examined the Factory Manager on its side.

It is admitted that on account of absence of Shri Rahaman from duty his service was terminated by the Company and he was marked "left". The main question is whether the action of the Company is justified and whether Shri Rahaman's service has been properly terminated. P.W. 1 has stated that he left for his village home in U.P. with his family members on or about 10th or 12th January 1964. He has frankly admitted that he does not remember when he left Howrah. That does not matter. He has stated that he went to his native village on account of the communal riot at Howrah. From the evidence on record I am satisfied that some of the Mahamodean workers of the Company left for their native village at or about the time when Shri Rahaman left for his own village. I have no manner of doubt in my mind that there was some sort of communal disturbances and tension and that due to the reasonable apprehension and for the safety of life Shri Rahaman went to his village home. There was no mala fide intention on his part. Exhibit H shows that the Company sent a letter to Shri Rahaman on 20th January 1964 asking him to join his duty at once. Shri Rahaman received that letter on 24th January 1964 and on the very next day he wrote out a reply and sent the same to the Company under registered post. The postal registration receipt is Ext. 3/a. In this letter Shri Rahaman stated that he had already prayed for earned leave for the years 1962 and 1963 due to him, but he had not received any reply thereto. He again repeated his prayer about the earned leave. In this connection Ext. I should be considered. This is the copy of the letter, dated the 15th January 1964, sent by Shri Rahaman to the Company. It has been stated in this letter that he had come to his native place on 13th January 1964 and that on account of "bad situation" he prayed for earned leave due to him for the years 1962 and 1963. The Company received this letter, dated the 15th January 1964, on 20th January 1964 and on the very day the Company asked Shri Rahaman to join his duty. Shri Rahaman on receipt of that letter immediately sent a reply by his letter, dated the 25th January 1964. The conduct of Shri Rahaman shows that he was acting with all his bona fides and that he had really apprehension about the risk of his life at Howrah at that time. The Company then wrote a letter to Shri Rahaman on 4th February 1964. In this letter the Company reminded Shri Rahaman that he was absenting himself without any sanctioned leave and if he did not join his duty within three days from the receipt of the letter, he would be marked "left". It was further stated that the question of earned leave would be considered after Shri Rahaman joined his duty. The next letter that was sent by Shri Rahaman to the Company is dated 10th February 1964. In this letter it was stated that he had been ill from 4th February 1964 and that he was unfit to move about. He prayed that leave might be granted to him till he could become fit to join his duty. This letter was posted on 12th February 1964. Exhibit 5/a, the postal registration receipt, will show that. Before this letter could reach the Company, the Manager of the Company sent a letter to Shri Rahaman on 13th February 1964. Shri Rahaman was informed that he had been absenting himself from duty without sanctioned leave from 11th January 1964, it was presumed that he was no more interested in the service under the Company and, therefore, he was marked "left" with effect from 13th February 1964. The important portion of the letter runs as follows:

"In the circumstances, it is presumed that you are no more interested in our employment and as such you are marked "left" with effect from 13th February 1964 according to your accord."

The letter is Ext. 6. P.W. 1 in his evidence has asserted that after being advised by his doctor he left his village on 22nd February 1964 and went to join his duties on 24th February 1964. He was not, however, allowed to work. He has also asserted that in his village he was attacked with typhoid and he handed over the fit certificate to the Company on his return. He has stated clearly that the Manager of the Company took the certificate from him on the 24th February 1964.

The Company has examined the Factory Manager. His evidence is that Shri Rahaman began absenting himself from 11th January 1964. He has admitted that for some days some of the Mahamodean workers were absent. He marked Shri Rahaman "left" on 13th February 1964. During cross-examination the Factory Manager has admitted that Shri Rahaman had to his credit earned leave for the years 1962 and 1963 amounting to about 25 days. It is to be noted that this witness has not denied the statement of P.W. 1 that he had handed over a fit certificate to the Manager. It is also admitted on the side of the Company that along with the letter, dated 10th February 1964, Shri Rahaman sent a medical certificate. The copy of the medical certificate is Ext. B, which shows that Shri Rahaman was suffering from typhoid and pneumonia from 4th February 1964. The date of the certificate is 10th February 1964. In the written statement of the Union the illness of Shri Rahaman was pleaded. In evidence Shri Rahaman asserted that he was attacked with typhoid during his stay at his village. The Company in its written statement did not say that Shri Rahaman was not ill or that the plea about illness was concocted or make witness of the Company did not state! Tribunal that the story about the illne Rahaman was not accepted by the Company However, from the evidence this made proved that Shri Rahaman had bona sha go to his village and that during his sha was attacked with typhoid on and from the later being his duty and duly advised by the docated his duty and duly advised by the docated his duty and duly advised by the docated his duty and the later had been he was not allow management to work there. There can be however, that his stay at his village during in question was bona fide and that prevented for just reason from coming the earlier.

The next question that I should the whether the way in which the servin Rahaman was terminated is legal and just Factory Manager of the Company has I the Company did not consider about the leave as prayed for by Shri Rahaman. The to say that the time extended up to 13th 1964 was included in the earned leave Rahaman. The last statement cannot be because the Company never informed Shi that he was granted earned leave. I Company informed the workman that has earned leave would be considered when come to join his duty. This attitude of the Company does appear to be a O.P.W. I has further stated that in case worker absents himeslf without leave, d is to be issued against him and thereafter) is to be terminated. He has clearly stated to my question that without chargehseet # of the workers is not terminated, and i chargesheet an enquiry is held. The with further stated that no chargesheet was I Shri Rahaman for showing cause and that was held in this case. In the present Company, according to the evidence of the Manager, should have issued chargeshe Shri Rahaman before terminating his sen this had not been done. No explanation submitted by the Company why no charge issued upon him. The action on the Company in this respect does not app reasonable and bona fide.

The Factory Manager has further state evidence that there are no certified Standar of the Company. It cannot be said that any continued leave without sanction a pube removed from service on the presumption has left the job. In the present case is letter dated 13th February 1964, says that Rahaman was absenting himself from 1th 1964 without any sanctioned leave, it was that he was no more interested in his On this ground Shri Rahaman was make that Shri Rahaman left Howrah on good put that he really fell ill at his village. It further proved that Shri Rahaman left Howrah on good put that he really fell ill at his village. It further proved that Shri Rahaman the eager all the time to join his duties and the management of the Company that on communal disturbances and his ill heads unable to come down to Howrah. In e prayed for earned leave to show his bona He produced a medical certificate along with ner. He also submitted a fit certificate from ctor when he went to join his duty. I fail to stand how the Company got the presumption his Rahaman was no more interested in his under the Company. This statement in Ext.

insupportable. It is rather a wild statement so I fail to understand how the Company could Shri Rahaman as a person who had left truce of his own accord. There is indication n. 6, the original letter sent by the Company, the management wanted to say that Shri man left the Company of his own accord. ray, the Company acted illegally in treating Shri man as left. The termination of his service in nmary way as has been done in this case was by unjust and shocking to good conscience. In the termination of Shri Rahaman's service was tified and improper. The Company was wrong esume that Shri Rahaman had left the service. action on the part of the Company was against rinciples of natural justice. The Company did care to ascertain whether the long stay of Shri man at his village was really justified or her it was frivolous. However, in my view, the is to be determiend against the Company and wour of the workman.

the question of relief, Shri Hafizur Rahaman mainly entitled to reinstatement in his former ion. In view of the forced unemployment Shri man is also entitled to one years' wages as pensation. The period of non-employment from February 1964 to the date of reinstatement shall be a part of his service period. This award I be implemented within a month from the date is publication in the "Calcutta Gazette."

The Government of West Bengal, by Order No. 309-I.R.|IR|11L-8|64, dated the 31st January 1964, and by Corrigendum No. 1026-I.R.|IR|11L-8|64, dated the 5th March 1964, had referred the industrial dispute between Messrs. N. F. Buckley and their workmen represented by National Union of Commercial Employees to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the termination of employment of Shri Rambali Singh is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

After the service of usual notice, written statements had been filed on behalf of the Union and also on behalf of the employer Mr. Buckley. In the written statement filed by the Union it has been stated that Rambali was employed as a Supervisor in the work of Salvaging and Survey and there were two other workmen named Mr. Halder and Mr. Bimal Ghosh. Rambali had been working for about 10 years and was drawing Rs. 200 per month as a salary and similarly Mr. Halder and Mr. Ghosh had put in service for about five years and two years respectively. By the letter, dated the 31st July 1963, which was received by Rambali on 3rd August 1963 his service was terminated from 31st August 1963 on the alleged ground of paucity or reduction in the volume of work. Though Rambali was retrenched, he was neither given adeuate and proper notice, nor the compensation payable under section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is further mentioned that the service of Rambali had been terminated services of Shri Halder and Shri Ghosh had retained in employment. There was a construction of the employer did not attend the join conference has been prayed that as there has been with termination of service of Rambali, he might be stated in service with full wages for the pension the Khoraki allowance of Rs. 40 and also leave wages for three months.

The employer in the written statement has mitted that there is at best an individual dispuse therefore this Tribunal has no jurisdiction further stated that there is no Trade Union of employees, that the Trade Union mentioned in Order of Reference is not competent in raise industrial dispute over the alleged non-employed of an individual employee, that the employer individual and renders professional services a qualified surveyor and insurance claims assessor that the employer for the due discharge of his fessional duties has to employ few employees not than five or six and those employees do not come bute any efforts independently for professional or incidental thereto. Therefore the employer in not constitute any industry as defined in section of the Industrial Disputes Act. The employe, fact, does not carry on any industry or business motive of earning profits. It is also stated that he bali was only a watchman and his duties were to be watch over the properties regarding Survey, that is an illiterate person, that Mr. Halder and Mr. Ga are educated and were members of the Clerical discharging outdoor duties and maintaining records notes dictated to them by the employer in the charge of his professional service, that Rambal he put in only eight years of service till the date of the charge of the cha charge and his last pay drawn amounted to Rs. per month and that Mr. Halder and Mr. Ghosh put in four years and six years service respecting Mr. Halder is no longer in service since 1st September 1963. It is also stated that Rambali was charged from service with effect from 1st September 1963 by the notice, dated the 31st July 1963, Rambali did not contribute his efforts for the product tion of any article, that the professional service of employer was subject to fluctuation of requirement of the clientele and that Rambali was not retrend as alleged or at all and the notice was legal and reto terminate his service. As the termination of service by way of discharge simplicitor on the basis of tract of service under the common law of masier servant and as the customery notice of one month been given, the termination of service is not ille Lastly it is said that Rambali had served out the period and accepted payment of his due wags had never made any other claim, that the employed had sent a letter to the conciliation officer stating he did not constitute any industry and was there not covered by the Industrial Disputes Act, that a conciliation officer appeared to be satisfied with comments made by the employer and did not put the matter and that in the circumstances Rambal not entitled to be reinstated with full wages for period of unemployment or to the payment of alleged Khoraki allowance or the leave pay.

g the pendency of this proceeding there was some by the Tribunal of the production of the registers by the analoyer and subsequence of the documents directed to be provere filed. There was also a talk of settlement of the settlement a cheque for a terms of the settlement a cheque for 00 has been issued to Rambali who had a receipt. I have considered the terms of the mise and i am of opinion that the terms are sonable and legal and that an award should di in terms of the compromise making the of compromise as an annexure to the Award, ore pass a "no dispute" award in terms of thion of compromise making the petition of mise as an annexure to the award. BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Shri P. R. Mukherjee.

For the Union: Shri Kalyan Roy.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The parties are Messrs. Mehta Press (hereinafter described as the Press), Imam Ali Lane, Asansol, and their workmen represented by Asansol Subdivisional Press Employees' Union (described hereinafter as the Union), Bari Smriti Bhawan, P.O. Burnpur, Burdwan. The issue is as follows:

Whether the termination of service of Shri Rhudeb Lal Gupta is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The parties filed their respective written statements. In short, the case of the Union is that Shri Bhudeb Lal Gupta was a leading member of the Union and, as such, the Press was annoyed with him. Shri Gupta was an amployee of the Press and he applied for leave in January 1964. The Press gladly granted leave from 22nd January 1964 to 7th February 1964. The workman came to resume his duty on the 8th February 1964 and did his work on that day. Before the close of the duty hours he was told by the management not to come to duty on the next date. Shri Gupta was compelled to hand over his attendance card to the employer by force. He was not served with any notice for termination of his service. No enquiry was held against him. This is a case of victimisation. Other workers of the Press approached the Union to espouse their cause. The Union therefore took up the case.

The Press has submitted its written statement and challenged the allegations made by the Union. It has been alleged that in January 1964 Shri Gupta asked for an advance of Rs. 100. A sum of Rs. 50 only was sanctioned and when it was officed to Shri Gupta he flared up and told the Office Assitsant that he would not work in the Press. Thereafter he left the service and on 10th February 1964 he came to the Press to obtain his dues after settlement. His dues were calculated and fully paid. The Press wants to say that the workman left the Press and terminated his own service voluntarily, and received all his dues. It has also been alleged by the Press that there is no industrial dispute, that the majority of the workers of the Press are not members of the Union and that other employees were not aggrieved at the termination of service of Shri Gupta.

Several documents have been exhibited in this case from both the sides. The Union has examined two witnesses while the Press has also examined the same number of the witnesses.

The main question in this case is whether Shri Gupta left his service voluntarily or whether the Press refused to employ him as alleged by the Union. Admittedly, P.W. I, the Vice-President of the Union, has no personal knowledge as to how the service of Shri Gupta was terminated. He has not adduced any evidence on this point. Shri Gupta has been examined as P.W. 2. His evidence is that from 10th February 1964 he was being refused employment by the Press. According to the case pleaded in the written statement of the Union, Shri Gupta resumed his duties after the alleged leave on the 8th February 1964, and on that very day he was told by the management not to come from the next day, and on that very day he was told by the management not to come from the next day, and on that very day also he was compelled to hand over his attendance card to the employer. The story given by Shri Gupta during the evidence is quite different and contradictory. He has stated that he came back on the 7th February, that on the 7th and the 8th of February 1964 he worked in the Press, that on the 10th when he came to his duty he was not allowed to work in the Press, and that he deposited his attendance card with the Press before going home on 12nd January 1964. He has stated that after 12nd January 1964 he did at the card. The witness does not say anythis card was forcibly taken away from his February 1964. It is to be noted further a Gunta has admitted that he did not wine Press that he had been illegally refused emit have also considered the evidence of the partners of the Press. He has at Shri Gunta did not work in the Press on the 8th February 1964. He has denied the methat Shri Gunta was refused employment is the assistant. He has also stated that said not work on the 7th or 8th February therefore hold that the story of refusal of ment is not true.

I am further to consider in this connection, Shri Gupta obtained leave from the Press from January 1964 to 7th February 1964 as stated written statement of the Union. Shri G stated that he made an application for leave. admitted that he possesses no copy of the and He has admitted to say that an application in was made a month before his leaving for his home on 23rd January 1964. According to the application was filed in December According to the written statement of the Shri Gupta applied for leave in January O.P.W. I has stated that after instructing the Assistant to pay a sum of Rs. 50 to Shri Gu left for Calcutta. On 23rd or 24th of January on return from Calcutta he learnt from Su Joshi, the office assistant, that Shri Gupta had h service and that he began absenting himself 22nd January 1964. He also heard from Sai that when the sum of Rs. 50 was paid to Shift the latter became annoyed and used offensive in giving out that he would not work in the O.P.W. 2 is the Office Assistant, Shri Lalit I Joshi. He is a very straightforward witness evidence is that on 21st January 1964 Shri came to take the advance. He paid him Rt. 3 at that Shri Gupta threw the money on the for became angry. After two minutes, however, & up the money and stated that he would not in the Press. This fact, O.P.W. 2 says, we municated to Q.P.W. 1 when he came back Calcutta. From the evidence I am satisfied the story about leave from 22nd January 1964 to February 1964 is a myth. It has been proved Shri Gupta wanted an advance of Rs. 100 but he was paid Rs. 50 on 21st January 1964, furious and left the service. From 22nd January he did not come to join his duty.

Another fact is very important. O.P.W. I stated that on the 10th February 1964 Shn 6 came to take his dues after full settlement received the said payment. Exhibit C/2 shows on 21st January 1964 Shri Gupta received the sa Rs. 50 and Ext. C/1 shows that on 10th February 1964 Shri Gupta received all his dues under says Shri Gupta has admitted Ext. C/1 and stated the gave his signature on receipt of dues. He does say anywhere that under compalision he had so his signature on receipt of all his dues of February 1964. It has been clearly proved the Press quite voluntarily and received all his from the Press on full satisfaction on 10th February 1964. As he voluntarily left the service, he is to make any representation to the Press say alleged unlawful action of the manage-say alleged unlawful action of the manage-say the union and the evidence adduced up by the union and the evidence adduced into are unreliable and unacceptable. The sam is a maia fide afterthought. There has alawful termination of service of Shri Gupta.

I part with the award, I mention another sed from the side of the Press. It has been that the present dispute is not an industrial and that the workmen are not interested in and mat the life has been further alleged that in has not been authorised to represent the of the Press. P.W. 1 has stated a good of employees of the Press are members of on and their names will appear in Ext. 1. her evidence is that the employees of the proached the Union for taking up the present shibit 1 is a small khata containing some leged to be the members of the Union. The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 2221-I.R./IR/11L 188/64; dated 17th June 1964, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Jenson & Nicholson (India) Ltd., P.O. Garifa, 24-Parganas (Registered Office at 2 Fairlie Place, Calcutta-1) (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Robbialac Works Employees' Union, P.O. Garifa, 24-Parganas (hereinafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Is the dismissal of Sarvasri Mahabir Ahir, Paresh Nath Ahir and Ramasray Ahir justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

AWARD

The case of the Union in its written statement is that Mahabir, Paresh and Ramasray had been serving the Company for several years. Mahabir was the Working President of the Union known as Robbialac Works Employees' Union which was formed in 1946. Paresh is a nephew of Mahabir and Ramasray is an Executive Member of the Union. A rival Union was formed among the workers of the Company, and Shri Tarak Saha became a member of this rival Union. Shri Saha started spreading false canards against Mahabir and he was warned on the complaint of Mahabir. On 10th October 1963 Tarak Saha made a false complaint of assault by Mahabir, Paresh, Ramasray and others. The incident was alleged to have taken place at the factory gate at 11-30 a.m. on 10th October 1963. Mahabir was not present on the spot at that time, because he was called to attend Head Office at Calcutta on that day. Paresh has an infirmity in the right hand, and the story that he took part in the assault should not be believed. All the three workmen were charge-sheeted. The Company held an enquiry, but it was not fair, and the dismissal of the three workmen concerned is not justified.

The Company filed a written statement alleging that the three workmen were charge-sheeted on the allegation of Tarak Saha that he had been assaulted by them within the factory premises. There had been a fair enquiry made into the said allegation, and the Enquiring Officer came to the conclusion that the three workmen were guilty of the charges, and they were accordingly dismissed.

Decision

The three workmen concerned had been chargesheeted and they had opportunities to file reply to the charges levelled against them. The chargesheet is Ext. A. The charge-sheet mentions that the three workmen dragged Tarak Saha and assaulted him inside the factory, and as such they were guilty of gross misconduct under clauses (vii) and (xviii) of Rule 14 of the Standing Orders of the Company. The date of enquiry was duly notified, and all the workmen admittedly attended the enquiry which was held by Mr. Gilroy, Production Manager of the Company. The enquiry was also attended by Shri N. C. Bhattacharya, Personnel Officer of the Company. Shri Bhattacharya stated in his evidence before the Tribunal that he attended the enquiry to help the Enquiring Officer and the witnesses by translating the questions in English put by the Enquiring Officer into the vernacular language in which the witnesses deposed .He also deposed that he translated the evidence given by the witnesses in their vernacular language into English for the Enquiring Officer. He further added that the recorded statement was explained in proper language to the witnesses. Several witnesses were examined at the enquiry. The enquiry is challenged on the side of the Union as unfair on the ground that the Enquiring Officer did not know Hindi, while the witnesses did not know English in which language the Enquiring Officer put questions. If I believe the evidence of Shri Bhattacharya, then this argument loses its force. I have no reason to disbelieve the evidence of Shri Bhattacharya in view of the fact that the recorded evidence of each witness bears his certificate and endorsement. The original record of proceedings (Ext. D-series) shows the endorsement of Shri Bhattacharya in the aforesaid manner. It is true that the learned representative of the Union showed me copies of the proceedings supplied to the Union where such endorsements do not appear, and those copies also do not go to show the signatures of the witnesses. It is only probable that the copies were given without all the relevant signatures at the bottom. This fact does not make the enquiry proceedings unbelieve-able. The enquiry was attended by the workmen themselves, among whom Mahabir was the Working

President of the ruling Union. It was also by a representative of the workmen-s Pandey. There is no evidence that S could not follow the proceedings, be Enquiring Officer was an Englishman circumstances, the enquiry must be be fair. The Enquiring Officer submitted is (Ext. D/1) which is supported by coges He believed the fact of assault on Shri T. by the charge-sheeted workmen on the record before him and concluded that guilty of the said offence. The enqui (Ext. D/1) mentions about the evidence of tor who examined the injuries on the Shri Tarak Saha. Dr. Banerjee was exam witness at the enquiry, and his evidence is at page 50 of the enquiry proceedings. T proved a written statement about injurie evidence at the enquiry, the doctor does ever read out those injuries. The Enqui cer in his report mentioned those injuries in the written statement. The learned n tive for the Union objects to the proceedi unfair, on the ground that the written sta injuries has been proved by the doct enquiry without furnishing a copy of beforehand to the accused persons, and all the Enquiring Officer in coming to his relied upon the injuries noted in that state is true that a copy of the statement of in not been supplied to the accused, but the his evidence stated that he examined the Shri Tarak Saha and advised for his hosp. The details of injuries may be left out of altogether. The Enquiring Officer did not the injuries alone in coming to his cond mentions the injuries in his report, and injuries he infers that Tarak Saha was Even if the written statement of injuries i there is evidence of Dr. Banerice that I the injuries on Tarak Saha. Along with dence before the Enquiring Officer, a can possibly be drawn that Tarak assaulted by these three persons. The Officer relied upon other evidences refer his report, and that being so there wa judice to the accused for non-supply statement of the injuries beforehand. enquiry, witnesses were examined in p the accused persons, and the evidence given witnesses, if believed, would lead to the that Tarak Saha had been assaulted with tory premises by the three accused person Enquiring Officer believed that evidence, nal is not competent to come to a contrar The conclusion of the Enquiring Officer said to be perverse, nor can it be said t not supported by any evidence. It is principle of law that the Tribunal may only in the following cases: instant case, the finding of the Emphiring anot be successfully challenged before me erse, because none of the Moremid four construction in the fulfilled.

- 1. want of good faith,
- 2. victimisation or unfair labout P<sup>1</sup>

sequiry report is challenged as perverse by med representative for the union on the that the plea of provocation raised by the had not been taken into consideration by had not been taken into consideration by quiring Officer while comiting to his conclusit is true that Mahabir took the plea that had been spreading false canards against the Enquiring Officer did not take that plea anderation. I am afraid, the Enquiring Officer did not take that plea and thing in not considering the plea of toon, because that was not a genuine plea of the before the Enquiring Officer. Mahabir did that he assaulted Tarak Saha but it was provocation. No plea of provocation has then by Mahabir before the Enquiring Offinot also before me, in view of the fact that r and others totally denied the allegation of next point argued by the learned representathe Union is that the Company was guilty rimination in dismissing Mahabir, Paresh masray, though in fact two other workmen—rij and Ram Ekbal—had been named as who assaulted Tarak Saha along with the workmen concerned in this dispute. The ridence that Ram Brij and Ram Ekbal were guilty of the same charge as against these orkmen. Simply because they were arrested Police and were co-accused, it cannot be assisted that the charge had been proved against them also. Further it is not proved that those two workmen along with these three had been guilty of the same offence, and the management singled out these three workmen for dismissal excluding the other two. So, the question of discrimination does not arise. Victimisation or unfair labour practice cannot be inferred merely from the fact that Mahabir was the Working President of the Union. The relevant rule of the standing order quoted in the charge-sheet shows that fighting among the workers or riotous or disorderly conduct or assaults within or outside the factory by a workman would come within the definition of gross misconduct. The guilt proved against the present three workmen falls within the rule quoted in the charge-sheet. According to the standing orders, the accused persons were guilty of gross misconduct, and the order of dismissal cannot be characterised as severe. My conclusion accordingly is that the dismissal of Mahabir, Paresh and Ramasray is justified, and they are not entitled to any relief.

This is my award.

AWARD

After several adjournments the case was taken up for hearing on 17th February 1965. On that date, the Union examined 5 witnesses and they were duly cross-examined on the side of the Company. A few documents were also marked as exhibits on both sides. Then the case was shifted to 11th March 1965 for further hearing, on which date the parties filed a petition for time on the ground that a talk of compromise was going on between them. The case was accordingly adjourned to 12th March 1965 for filing of a compromise petition by the parties. On 12th March 1965 the parties succeeded in coming to a settlement, and filed a petition settling their dispute amicably between them. The terms of settlement are embodied in the petition of compromise, and they are accepted as they are fair and reasonable. Accordingly, the case is disposed in terms of the petition of compromise which will form a part of the award as Annexure I.
